Buhl. — Entombed by the collapse of a mine drift 128 feet below the surface, Henry Meerland, a state engineer, and two miners slowly dug their way to safety through a six-foot wall of solid ore.

Duluth. — The United States Steel corporation, Minnesota's largest single taxpayer, has just paid the first half of the 1915 tax on its St. Louis county real estate holdings by checks totaling $2,290,614.06.

Winona. — F. J. Ross of Mankato, president of the Minnesota Rural Letter Carriers' association, was in Winona to make arrangements for the state convention to be held here July 7 and 8. The convention will attract 200 carriers.

Duluth. — This city's four largest hotels have been reserved for the 12th annual convention of the Minnesota State Elks' association, to be held here on June 14 and 15. In addition, about 100 rooms have been reserved at several of the smaller hotels.

Mankato. — Omaha Passenger Train No. 4, north bound, has been derailed near Kasota. The engine and entire train left the track and tipped over after rounding a curve. The cause of the accident is not known. The passengers were shaken up, but no one was injured seriously.

Hayfield. — Delbert E. Ingle, aged 23, was instantly killed when the new 50-ton automatic coal chute of the Great Western road collapsed, burying him under 50 tons of coal and debris. Two other men were slightly injured. The chute was being given its first capacity test.

St. Paul. — The Minnesota Old Settlers' association held its meeting in the rooms of the State Historical society as it has met on the first day of each June for more than half a century. It was perhaps the last meeting of the association, for there are now only four surviving members.

Thief River Falls. — With good prospects for the location of a mill to separate flax fiber from the straw and with the backward spring making it impossible to sow oats and barley on some lands in this and Marshall counties, it is forecast that the acreage of flax in these counties will be large.

St. Paul. — George A. Hedger, instructor in rhetoric at the University of Minnesota, was found in a semiconscious condition on the bank of the Mississippi river near the Washington avenue bridge. It was thought his spine was fractured. One hand was in the water. He was unable to explain connectedly what had occurred.

Northfield. — Northfield has added another year to its record of community uplift in the celebration of its third annual community picnic. All Rice county, with parts of Dakota and Goodhue counties, were represented by the twenty-three farmers' clubs, which sent delegations totaling 2,500 persons.

Detroit, Minn. — The joint summer meeting of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association, the State Livestock Breeders' association and the Red River Valley Livestock Breeders' association, will be held in Detroit on June 16 and 17. An interesting program, including speeches by Governor Burnquist and other state and local officials, has been prepared.

Crookston. — The advance registration for the summer school at the Crookston School of Agriculture is close to 100, the largest on record, with more coming in. Polk county leads with 24, with Marshall county a close second with 20, and good delegations from Norman, Roseau, Pennington, Beltrami, Clay, Wadena, Becker, Clearwater, Kittson and Red Lake counties.

Bemidji. — In an effort to decide a route that will be satisfactory to both the city of Bemidji and the Minnesota and International railway, to the proposed bridge across the Mississippi river on the road to Nymore, a committee consisting of a citizen from each ward of the city and a member at large, named by the president of the city council has been selected to arbitrate the question with the railroad company.

St. Paul. — The first annual meeting of the All Minnesota Development association at the State Capitol, St. Paul, June 14 and 15, is a meeting of great importance to every resident of Minnesota. This meeting will have a great deal to do with the future success of the organization. "The organization may," as the late James J. Hill said, "become either a valuable agency in promoting growth and prosperity of the state or simply one more wheel added to its already cumbrous machinery." The people of the state have it in their power to determine which of these things the association shall become.

Minneapolis. — Ninety-five young men and women received diplomas at the twelfth annual commencement of Minnesota college at Augustana Lutheran church. Rev. Adolph Hult, of Augustana college and Theological seminary, Rock Island, Ill., delivered the commencement address, speaking on "The Cry for True Men."

Red Wing. — Lloyd Bunn, 21 years old, of Pine Island, was arraigned in justice court for manslaughter. The complaint was sworn to by Winn Jewell, father of 3-year-old Leighton Jewell, who was run down and fatally hurt by Bunn's automobile.

BIG BALANCE IN TREASURY SHOWN

MORE THAN $2,000,000 MORE IN STATE'S STRONG BOX THAN A YEAR AGO

EVENTS AT STATE CAPITOL

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

Minnesota's strong box holds over $2,000,000 more than it did a year ago. When State Treasurer Gooding footed up all the cash balances to the credit of the several funds he found a total of $3,366,707.05. A year ago these balances totaled $1,119,394.88.

Current expenses of the state are met out of the revenue fund and one year ago this fund had a balance of only $1,950.06, while now it totals $1,950,949.90.

During the year intervening the state has done a volume of business amounting to over $36,000,000, which is an increase of about $1,000,000. At the same time its deposits in banks outside the Twin Cities increased approximately $1,000,000. All this State Treasurer Gooding says is in the face of a decreased tax rate and the retirement of over $500,000 in certificates of indebtedness. The indebtedness represented certificates issued to aid in the construction of the state capitol.

"U" Cadets In Camp.

Camp life, on a strictly military basis was the rule for the week of June 1 to 8 for the University of Minnesota Cadet corps. The entire corps, practically 1,000, carrying full military equipment assembled last Thursday afternoon, and marched to Seven Corners and there entrained on street cars for the Fort Snelling barracks for a week of military life.

Each cadet soldier was ordered to equip himself with a complete outfit, including clothing and uniform. Forenoons in camp were devoted to drill and camp policing as in the regular army. The afternoons were devoted to a study of field problems. Target practice, combat firing and entrenchment was studied and practical instruction in entrenchment given.

Twenty-four double targets, permitting a firing line of 48 men, were provided. Combat firing was under the direction of Capt. Charles H. Danforth, U. S. A. Entrenchment work was under Lieut. Col. Arthur Johnson, U. S. A., who has made a thorough study of field fortifications as they are now used in Europe.

Bureau On Paying Basis.

The state game and fish department is on a profitable basis this year for the first time. This statement was made by Commissioner Carlos Avery, following submission of the public examiner's report showing that the department cost the state $22,176 last year.

Disbursements of $107,110 for game and fish protection and propagation included $11,425 for permanent improvements. Earnings totaled $73,509. Although the examiner found records better kept than formerly, he says there is room for further improvement, but only at materially increased expense.

Mr. Avery added that his force is compelled to work overtime and twice the present space and employees are needed. All funds are accounted, except license fees claims for $692 from Dakota and $932.90 from Itasca counties, which are in the attorney general's hands for collection.

Board Inspects Hospital.

A new tuberculosis sanatorium, nearing completion at Granite Falls, will provide accommodations for 40 patients from Yellow Medicine, Chippewa, Renville and Lac qui Parle counties, which jointly bore the cost of its construction above the amount contributed in state aid.

Members of the state board of control informed on the building and equipment of hospitals, inspected the new institution informally recently and found much to commend in the way of modern design.

The board trip to Granite Falls was primarily to view two sites offered as locations for the proposed state reformatory for women, but no definite decision will be reached until other proffered sites are inspected.

The board visited the state hospital for inebriates at Willmar to obtain estimates for the budget to be presented to the next legislature.

Pay Tribute to Dead.

Business was laid aside in cites and towns of Minnesota while men, women and children united in paying tribute to the soldier dead. Cemeteries visited in the morning and graves decorated and exercises in the afternoon—this was the general program.

State Loses Fee Suit.

A foreign corporation, doing business in Minnesota cannot be compelled to pay fees on the proportion of increase of capital stock under the law, although such provision would be reasonable, according to a ruling of the supreme court just handed down in the case brought by the Tri-State Telephone company to compel Julius Schmahl, secretary of state, to accept fees on the increase in capital stock, and not to demand fees on the entire amount of capital stock employed in this state.

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

JUST THE CHILDREN MOURNED

None Came to Claim the Body of Old George, the Cornetist.

About us everywhere in the flotsam of the human tide are drifting mysteries we accept without inquiry. There are such people in Sacramento as "Old George the cornetist," who recently fell dead in New York city.

Day after day he appeared at the same corner, offered his familiar tunes to the admiring children and the sometimes abjuring adults, and collected the pennies wherewith to buy food, clothing and shelter.

No one ever asked him his right name, but the children loved him. Then one morning, as Old George raised his horn to his lips, it clattered to the pavement, and the song he was planning to give the crowd rattled in his throat as he toppled over—dead.

The children mourned him for several days. No one came to claim his body.

With money you can buy all the friends you want, but they are never worth the price.

Concentrated Satisfaction

A great many former users of tea and coffee have learned that there is a pure food beverage made from wheat, which has a delightful flavor.

It never exacts of its users the tribute of sleeplessness, heart-flutter, headache and other ills often caused by the drug, caffeine, in coffee and tea.

Instant Postum

suggests the snappy flavor of mild Java coffee, but is absolutely free from caffeine or any harmful ingredient. Instant Postum is in condensed, soluble form, and wonderfully convenient for the home—for the picnic—for travel—everywhere.

If tea or coffee interferes with comfort or success, as it does for many users, try a shift to Postum.

FARMER'S GREAT OPPORTUNITY

Demand for Canadian Cattle After the War.

The opportunities that Western Canada offers to the farmer have time and again been placed before the public through these columns. The cheap price at which the very best lands can be purchased, and the advantage that is to be had in securing one of the free homesteads of 160 acres has appealed to a great many, and they have embraced them. Many, in fact most of those who have done so are today giving testimony to the good fortune and the timely forethought that led them to go to Western Canada, and embark in an era of farming that has placed them away beyond the pinch of want and given them reason to look into the future with a hopefulness that they had not had the courage in the past to forecast.

Not only have they been able to secure good lands at low prices and on easy terms but if they desire they have been able to add to this 160 acres of land free, on conditions that are easy. A resident in the Lloydminster district in Saskatchewan who had been farming in the States for some time, took up a homestead in 1910, and commenced breaking with 4 oxen. Two years ago he bought an adjoining quarter section and now has over 100 acres under cultivation. He says, "As my circumstances improved, I sold the oxen and now have six head of horses, twelve head of cattle, and have always a bunch of hogs on hand.

"On an average I have had yields of 25 bushels of wheat, 65 bushels of oats, and 40 bushels of barley to the acre, and last season from a field of 28½ acres, I threshed 1,040 bushels of wheat. I have made a success of mixed farming and would have no hesitation in advising all who contemplate making a new home to come to this district. I sell cream to the Government Creamery here, and find at all times a good market for live stock and other produce."

This is but a modest statement of what a modest man can do in Western Canada, and could be repeated of hundreds of others.

Scores of cases could be recited where much more has been accomplished, and it is believed that with moderate investment at the present time, the cattle industry of Western Canada will pay large interest.

The Minister of Agriculture of Saskatchewan, in a recent address, ventured the prediction that the Saskatchewan farmer who developed his land along the lines of general stock breeding would make much more money and find a far bigger return for his efforts in ten years' time than the man who devoted his energies purely and primarily to grain raising. This was the coming golden age of opportunity for the stockman and it was up to the Saskatchewan man to get in on the ground floor and prepare himself for the coming demand.

The close of the war would undoubtedly see a great demand for live stock in Europe and it was only reasonable to suppose that this demand would have to be filled almost wholly by American stockmen, both in Canada and the United States. Europe was slowly draining its rural districts not only of its beef and dairy animals but was also using the finer breeding animals and the end of the war would see a condition of affairs which would render necessary almost the repopulation of the domestic animal kingdom in that continent.

The opportunity of Western Canadian stockmen, therefore, lay in being prepared for this demand when it arose. In view of these facts which must be patent to every student of economic conditions as related to the stock industry, he hoped to see within the next three years the stock raising industry in Saskatchewan given an immense impetus forward, which would put it in the forefront of the producing provinces of the Dominion.—Advertisement.

2 DREADNAUGHTS LOST BY TEUTONS; 5,000 BRITISH DIE

HUGE NEW FIGHTING CRAFT, HINDENBURG, AND BATTLESHIP WESTFALEN SAID TO HAVE BEEN SUNK.

ENGLISH ADMIRALS DIE ON ILL-FATED WARSHIPS

Rear Admiral Hood Goes Down On Cruiser Invincible—Great Britain Still Confident Grip of Blockade Is Unshaken—Two Zeppelins Are Destroyed.

Portsmouth, June 5.—More than 4,000 British officers and men, including two admirals, are admitted to have been lost in the great battle in the North sea. Rear Admiral Horace Hood, commander of the British battle cruiser Invincible, went down with his ship.

London, June 5.—At the British admiralty the following statement has just been made: We went out within enemy waters seeking a fight. Our inferior fleet engaged the entire German battle fleet, forced them to return to harbor and to give up any plan of action they may have contemplated." It was added that the latest reports received from Admiral Jellico and Vice Admiral Beatty had caused a feeling of elation among naval officers.

Britain Still Confident.

London, June 5.—Rallying from the "heaviest blow of the war," the destruction of at least 14 warships of the North sea fleet, news of which fell like a thunderbolt, Britain is still grimly confident that the grip of the blockade is unshaken. Loss of the 5,000 or more officers and sailors believed to have perished is regarded as the most serious result of the battle.

Germany's Loss Heavy.

Reports coming in from continental cities indicate the German battle fleet's losses were heavier than at first reported.

The huge superdreadnought Hindenburg, Germany's latest fighting giant, is declared to have been sunk, while wireless dispatches from Berlin say the German admiralty admits the destruction of the dreadnought Westfalen. The German cruiser Elbing and the torpedoboat V-28 also were sunk in the battle with the British squadron, according to reports from Holland and Copenhagen.

Two Zeppelins Lost.

Of the Zeppelin fleet which assisted the Teuton sea craft, two were destroyed. Danish fishermen returning to harbor report. On one airship all members of the crew are said to have perished.

Eight German warships have taken refuge in Danish waters, according to reliable advices received here. It is said they have been ordered to leave or intern, and that the British fleet is in waiting to engage them.

British List Grows.

British losses also have been more severe than the first announcement of the engagement admitted. The cruiser Warrior, at first reported disabled, later was abandoned. To the list of torpedoboat destroyers previously announced have been added the Shark, the Nomad and the Nestor, bringing the total known British losses to three battle cruisers, three cruisers and eight destroyers, with several other small vessels still unaccounted for.

All of Ship's Crew Lost.

The British admiralty states that the battleship Marlborough was hit by a torpedo, but was safely towed to port.

The admiralty received a report to the effect that Captain Prowse, commander of the Queen Mary, and the entire personnel of that battlecruiser were lost.

BATTLE FOR VERDUN RAGING

Violence of Attack Makes Conflict An Inferno.

London, June 5.—In the notable battle raging at Verdun the Germans are continuing their efforts to force the French lines northeast of the fortress.

Their latest effort was made on Fort Vaux, where they succeeded in penetrating a deep ditch to the north of the main French positions. The violence of attack has made the battle an inferno.

In the Southern Tyrol the Austrians are desperately attacking the Italian position south of the Assa valley, the struggle proceeding with intensity as far as Asiago.

One Death Results From Strike.

San Francisco, June 5.—One casualty has resulted from the strike of the Pacific Coast Longshoremen. T. C. Hughes of Los Angeles, a workman employed on the Milwaukee pier in Seattle, was shot and probably fatally wounded shortly after midnight when a group of armed strike sympathizers made a concerted attack on a warehouse in which several employees were sleeping. Another workman was clubbed. In Portland several fistfights occurred between strikers and nonunion workmen.

COYOTE FRIGHTENS THE TOWN

Savage Animal Finally Driven Away by School Children Unaware of Danger.

A gaunt gray coyote terrorized Portola, Cal. It was first noticed when it attacked two dogs at the residence of Thomas Dorithy.

Mrs. J. Hardy, who was passing at the time, narrowly escaped being bitten when the coyote broke away from the dogs and attempted to attack her. The dogs pulled it down again, however, before it reached her.

During the recess period it appeared at the schoolhouse, but the children chased it in a body and frightened it away. They were not aware of the real danger.

A number of hunters are scouring the hills close to town in an endeavor to locate and kill the coyote.

Great Relief.

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Three Hundred Million Bushel Crop in 1915

Farmers pay for their land with one year's crop and prosperity was never so great.

Regarding Western Canada as a grain producer, a prominent business man says: "Canada's position today is sounder than ever. There is more wheat, more oats, more grain for feed, 20% more cattle than last year and more hogs. The war market in Europe needs our surplus. As for the wheat crop, it is marvelous and a monument of strength for business confidence to build upon, exceeding the most optimistic predictions."

Wheat averaged in 1915 over 25 bushels per acre
Oats averaged in 1915 over 45 bushels per acre
Barley averaged in 1915 over 40 bushels per acre

Prices are high, markets convenient, excellent land, low in price either improved or otherwise, ranging from $12 to $30 per acre. Free homestead lands are plentiful and not far from railway lines and convenient to good schools and churches. The climate is healthful.

There is no war tax on land, nor is there any conscription. For complete information as to best locations for settlement, reduced railroad rates and descriptive illustrated pamphlet, address Superintendent Immigration, Ottawa, or

Value of Our Horses.

There are about one hundred and ninety-one million animals in the United States and they are worth, roughly, six billion dollars. Is it any wonder that science has become interested in animals. There are approximately twenty-one million horses in the country, representing an investment of two billion, three hundred million dollars. On reading and filing the petition of John Q. Cronkhite praying, among other things, for the judicial determination, by this Court, of who are the heirs of Ellen Cronkhite deceased homestead settler, and what are the respective rights and interests of such heirs in the homestead land of said deceased, and to assign said homestead to the parties legally entitled to the same,

It is Ordered, That said petition and said matter be heard and examined on Saturday the 24th day of June A. D. 1916, at 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, at the office of the Probate Court at Warren in said County and State.

It is Further Ordered, That notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing this order once in each week for three (3) successive weeks immediately prior to said date of hearing in The Holt Weekly News a weekly newspaper printed and published at Holt in said County and State.

Dated at Warren this 20th day of May A. D. 1916.

By the Court,
Peter H. Holm
Judge of Probate Court.

To The Voters

Of The 9th Congressional District

The undersigned Executive Committee of the Otter Tail County Anderson For Congress Club are taking an interest in his campaign and assisting him because we know Mr. Anderson to be one of our best citizens, a man of spotless character, a man who has the reputation of doing things, and a man who can be depended on.

Mr. Anderson has been endorsed by such men as United States Senator Knute Nelson, State Senators Ole Sageng, and F. H. Peterson. He has been endorsed by the Working men's Protective Association of Fergus Falls, as the friend of the laboring man. These are good endorsements.

We can honestly and conscientiously recommend Mr. Anderson to the voters and we trust that he will receive their support at the primaries on June 19th.

Yours respectfully,
George W. Frankberg, Chairman.

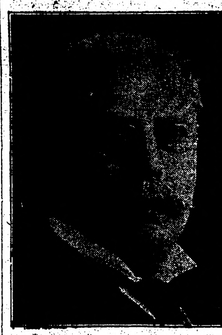
Steenerson Endorsed By The People

The strongest endorsement a man can get is the votes of his fellow-citizens.

Halvor Steenerson has been given that endorsement on fourteen occasions—at seven primaries and seven elections, and during the last eight years the endorsement has grown stronger at each voting.

His closest contest was in 1908, when he had 2,947 more than Sen. Sageng. At the last election his majority was 16,684.

Senators Peterson and Sageng, Mr. Bjorge and Mr. Brattland, his opponents on different occasions, are all big men, and three of them have been given endorsements since by majority votes in their counties for members of the legislature.



Like all other employers the voters recognize ability, faithfulness & good judgement. They like to have a man in congress who can stand up and hold his own with the best of the talent there, one who can give full value in service for the salary he receives.

That is why they have voted for Steenerson so long, and that is why they are going to continue voting for him. They know that the longer he stays there the better service he can give. They know that he has always stood for the interests of the common people, the farmer, the merchant and the laborer.

The opposition of the corporation-controlled Twin City dailies and the other outside interests who are trying to induce people of the district to defeat him only makes him stronger.—Thief River Falls Times.

Shower Party

One of the pleasant events of the season occurred last Friday evening when a large company of ladies, responding to invitations from Mrs. Arvid Carlson and Miss Thoraldson, gathered at the pleasant home of Mrs. T. Sollom to do honor to her daughter Miss Clara by giving her a miscellaneous shower. The evening was spent in music and games after which a delicious luncheon was served. After the repast, the lady of Honor was given the task of unfolding each mysterious package presented to her, which gave delight not only to the recipient but all her friends as well. At a late hour the company dispersed leaving good wishes for a happy and successful future.

HUGHES NAMED AS LEADER BY REPUBLICANS

Associate Justice Made the Unanimous Choice of the G. O. P. Convention.

FAIRBANKS IS RUNNING MATE

Roosevelt's Suggestion of Lodge as Compromise Candidate Is Ignored by Republicans — Progressives Choose Former President as Their Candidate With John M. Parker for Second Place.

Republican Ticket:

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES, for president.

CHARLES WARREN FAIRBANKS, for vice president.

Progressive Ticket:

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, for president.

JOHN M. PARKER, for vice president.

Chicago.—Charles Evans Hughes, associate justice of the United States Supreme court, is the nominee of the Republican party for president of the United States, and Charles Warren Fairbanks, vice president during the Roosevelt administration, is his running mate.

The nomination of Mr. Hughes came on the third ballot of the 1916 convention.

The vote was overwhelmingly Hughes from the moment the first state—Alabama—was called upon. He was given 949½; Roosevelt, 18½; DuPont, 5; Weeks, 3; Lodge, 7, and La Follette, 3.

The nomination of Hughes came after the Republicans had turned down the proposal of Col. Theodore Roosevelt that United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge be named as a compromise candidate.

It preceded by a few minutes the the nomination of Roosevelt by the Progressive party national convention in the Auditorium theater.

John M. Parker of Louisiana was named by the Progressives as their candidate for vice president.

By the time New Jersey was called on the roll of states, Hughes had polled a majority of the votes of the convention.

The nomination of the New York man was the signal for a wild outburst in the Coliseum—the scene of many wild outbursts in the last few days.

Choice Made Unanimous.

Chairman Harding announced the nomination of Hughes, and Alex. P. Moore of Pittsburgh and Senator Lodge, who voted for Theodore Roosevelt, moved to make it unanimous.

The nomination was made unanimous with a roaring chorus of "Ayes" and not a single "No."

Senator Lodge made an eloquent appeal for Hughes in seconding the motion for unanimity.

New Mexico nominated Fairbanks for vice president. Governor Willis of Ohio seconded Fairbanks.

Nebraska was the next state to respond and H. H. Baldridge nominated former Senator Burkett.

Charles Warren Fairbanks of Indiana was nominated on the first ballot as the vice presidential candidate of the Republican party.

The fact that Roosevelt had been nominated by the rival convention, in no wise dampened the ardor or the enthusiasm of the Republican delegates.

As soon as the presidential nomination was out of the way, conferences were begun to fix upon the running mate of the Supreme court justice.

Roosevelt Offers Lodge.

The Roosevelt proposal to select his friend, Henry Cabot Lodge, as a compromise candidate was never taken seriously by the Republicans.

Lodge's name was not even formally placed in nomination before the Republican convention.

The report of the "peace" conference committees showing that the Progressive "peace committee" had agreed to put the name of Hughes before that convention hardly caused a stir, nor did the news that came a few minutes later that the report had been tabled by the Progressives.

Meanwhile Hughes was in the air, on every tongue. Delegates were impatient to get to balloting. The feeling was everywhere that the third ballot of the convention for president would be the last—and it was.

Harding Is Chairman.

The Republican convention opened at the Coliseum at 11 a. m., June 7. Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio was elected temporary chairman, and he delivered a speech setting forth conservative Republican principles. Following this the regular committees were appointed and organized and routine convention business went forward. There was only moderate expression of enthusiasm at any time.

With the hope of agreeing an a presidential candidate whom both parties might support, the Progressives, in convention at the Auditorium, and the Republicans appointed a joint conference committee Thursday, and this committee met at the Chicago club. Shortly after midnight it was announced that no progress had been made toward fusion of the two parties.

The Republican members of this committee were Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, W. Murray Crane, ex-senator from Massachusetts; Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, Nicholas Murray Butler of New York, president of Columbia university; A. R. Johnson of Ohio, a former congressman. The Progressive members were Gov. Hiram Johnson of California, Horace S. Wilkinson of New York, Charles J. Bonaparte of Maryland, former attorney general, John M. Parker of Louisiana, George W. Perkins of New York.

Nominating speeches began in the Republican convention about three o'clock Friday afternoon, and nominations were closed before eight o'clock. Balloting began at once. Two ballots were taken before adjournment for the night.

Progressives in Session.

The Progressive convention opened at exactly the same time the Republicans started their meeting. Temporary Chairman Raymond Robins delivered the Progressive policy speech. Routine business followed—but it wasn't routine in the same way as the Republican session was. The Progressives, with such men as William Allen White, Victor Murdock and Hiram Johnson, were loudly enthusiastic. This convention was really an explosive affair—cheers, table pounding, radical talk and all that.

It is said that George W. Perkins and some others of the Progressive group had a hard time keeping the radical element from nominating Colonel Roosevelt shortly after the show started. The conservatives lived in the hope of a fusion with the Republicans. The radicals said they didn't care what the Republicans did. They wanted "Teddy," and they wanted him quick. There was no dickering spirit in these fellows.

Most of the entertainment during the week was furnished by favorite sons delegations and boomlets around the hotel lobbies and on the streets. Fairbanks, Burton, Weeks, Root, Sherman, La Follette, Cummins and one or two others were advertised by noisy supporters. Roosevelt men—Progressives and progressive Republicans—were at it early and late. They probably made the greatest racket. Mr. Hughes was unrepresented by merrymakers.

Career of Justice Hughes.

Charles Evans Hughes' fame rests principally on his conduct of the insurance investigation and his career as governor of New York state.

An iron will, incorruptible character and remarkable reasoning ability are characteristics commonly attributed to him.

Mr. Hughes was born at Glens Falls, N. Y., April 11, 1862, the son of a Welshman who had come to this country in 1855.

He graduated from Brown university in 1881.

In 1882 he entered Columbia Law school, New York city. He was graduated two years later at the head of his class and became a member of the New York bar.

In 1888 he entered the law firm of Carter, Hughes & Cravath, and about the same time married Miss Antoinette Carter, daughter of Walter S. Carter, senior member of the firm.

Charles Warren Fairbanks.

First Attracts Attention.

He first attracted newspaper attention in 1905, when he became counsel for the Stephens gas investigating committee. Mr. Hughes uncovered the ramifications of the gas and electric light monopoly of the metropolis and later assisted in framing several legislative bills to bring relief to bad conditions he had discovered.

In the same year started the famous life insurance investigation.

When asked to take up the work of counsel to the investigating committee Mr. Hughes declined, except on condition that he be given free rein and allowed to handle the probe thoroughly.

The investigation lasted four months and resulted in a revolution in insurance methods.

In the autumn of 1906 Mr. Hughes was elected governor of New York state by the Republicans. In 1910 President Taft appointed Mr. Hughes an associate justice of the Supreme court, and he took office on October 1 of that year.

HUGHES ACCEPTS AND RESIGNS OFFICE

Washington, June 10.—Justice Charles Evans Hughes accepted the Republican nomination for the presidency, and resigned from the Supreme court of the United States. He issued the following statement:

"To the President:

"I hereby resign the office of associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States.

"I am, sir, respectfully yours, CHARLES E. HUGHES."

Hughes' statement of the acceptance of the Republican nomination follows:

"Hon. Warren G. Harding, Chairman Republican National Committee, Chicago, Ill.

"Mr. Chairman and Delegates: I have not desired the nomination. I have wished to remain on the bench, but in this critical period of our national history I recognize that it is your right to summon and my paramount duty to respond. You speak at a time of national exigency, transcending merely partisan consideration.

"You voice the demand of the dominant, thoroughgoing Americanism, with firm, protective, upbuilding policies essential to our peace and security; and to that call in this crisis I cannot fail to answer with the pledge of all that is in me to the service of our country. Therefore I accept the nomination.

"I stand for the firm and unflinching maintenance of all the rights of American citizens on land and sea. I neither impugn motives nor underestimate difficulties.

"But it is more regrettably true that in our foreign relations we have suffered incalculably from the weak and vacillating course which has been taken as regards Mexico—a course lamentably wrong with regard to both our rights and our duties.

"We interfered without consistency and while seeking to dictate when we were not concerned, we utterly failed to appreciate and discharge our plain duty to our citizens.

"At the outset of the administration the high responsibilities of our diplomatic intercourse with foreign nations were subordinated to a conception of partisan requirements, and we presented the world a humiliating spectacle of ineptitude.

"The latest efforts have not availed to recover the influence and prestige so unfortunately sacrificed; and brave words have been stripped of their force by indecision.

"I desire to see our diplomacy restored to its best standards, and to have these advanced; to have no sacrifices of national interests to partisan expediency; to have the first ability of the country always at its command, here and abroad, in diplomatic intercourse; to maintain firmly our rights under our laws; insisting steadfastly upon our rights as neutrals and fully performing our international obligations; and by the clear correctness and justice of our position, and our manifest ability and disposition to sustain them, to dignify our place among the nations.

"I stand for an Americanism which knows no ulterior purpose, for a patriotism which is single and complete. Whether native or naturalized, of whatever race or creed, we have but one country, and we do not for an instant tolerate any divisions of allegiance.

"I believe in making prompt provision to assure absolutely our national security.

"I believe in preparedness, not only entirely adequate for our defense with respect to numbers and equipment in both army and navy, but with all thoroughness to the end that in each branch of the service there may be the utmost efficiency under the most competent administrative heads.

"We are devoted to the ideal of honorable peace. We wish to promote all wise and practicable measures for the just settlement of international disputes. In view of our abiding ideals, there is no danger of militarism in this country.

"We have no policy of aggressiveness; no lust for territory; no zeal for strife. It is in this spirit that we demand adequate provision for national defense and we condemn the inexcusable neglect that has been shown in this matter of first national importance.

"We must have the strength which self-respect demands, the strength of an efficient nation ready for every emergency."

He Had the Price.

Bill McCabe's Poughkeepsie team was playing the Kingston team one day years ago, in the Atlantic league, and a guy named Fogarty was umpire. In the ninth inning, with the score tied, two of McCabe's men played out, and as Billy had only one man extra, he had to rush the bleacher seats to find a man to fill in. He drew a big hick, who said he couldn't play, but for the fun could fill in. There were two out at the time and the fans were excited.

Our hero, the hick, came to bat. He drew three balls and the next one across he pickled over the left field fence for a homer. Instead of running, the fathead stood there while the crowd howled itself mad. McCabe ran out to him and yelled, "Run, you boob, run!"

The hick turned and faced Bill and in a slow voice drawled: "No, sir, I won't run. I'm no coward. I'll admit I lost your ball, but I got the money right here in my pocket to pay for it."

Novel English Church.

A novel church, in the parish of St. Paul, Southsea, England, was originally a stable, and the cross on the altar was used by Rev. H. W. Workman, vicar of the parish, when he was a naval chaplain in the Good Hope, the King Edward VII, and the Irresistible, all three of which have been lost during the war. The bell of the church is an old ship's bell.

Novelist—How are my novels going?

Bookseller—I can't imagine, sir, unless it's shoplifters.—Puck.

Two lovers can make a street car full of people awfully seasick.

New Absorbent in Surgery.

One medical outcome of the war is the discovery that sphagnum moss and fine sawdust are excellent substitutes for absorbent cotton as dressings for wounds. The moss is the long-fibered kind commonly found in swampy places in this country that florists and nurserymen use for protecting the roots of plants during shipment. It takes up moisture better than absorbent cotton and does not grow sodden so quickly. Of course both the moss and the sawdust are sterilized before they are used for dressings.—Youth's Companion.

Analogous Cases.

"One of the most persuasive men I have ever met," remarked Mr. Jagsby.

"Yes," replied his friend.

"I hadn't been with him two minutes before he persuaded me to take a drink."

"Umph!"

"Why the cynicism?"

"I was just thinking that it doesn't require much coaxing to make a hungry wolf pounce on a piece of raw meat."

Carnation Size.

A society debutante is bemoaning the loss of a perfectly eligible beau. She can't think why. A certain florist to whom she turned back $20 worth of orchids a couple of weeks ago on a refund of $10 might be able to throw a little light on the subject. You see he thought she looked like orchids, but she and her mamma knew she was only carnations. He knows it now, too.

Some men try to get ahead in this world by holding others back.

The Delight of Children

The self-developed, inner-flavour of New Post Toasties bear a unique attraction for the kiddies—they even like them dry from the package for their lunches. A box of Toasties provides "eats" that will delight the children.

New Post Toasties are usually served with cream and sugar, in which form the flavour is more pronounced and the flakes more delicious. These New Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package and they don't mush down in cream—both common defects of old-fashioned "corn flakes."

Then, too, notice the tiny bubbles on the flakes, produced by the quick, intense heat of a new patented process of making which imparts delightful crispness and a substantial body to the flakes.

New Post Toasties are a vast improvement over any old-style "corn flakes."

Big Sturgeon on Trot Line.

A 400-pound fish was caught in the Sacramento river by Eugene Barion, the "musical fisherman." Barion is called the "musical fisherman" because his 200-foot trot line stretched across tho Sacramento at Middle creek is equipped with a chime of twelve Swiss bells—one for each line dangling from the main line with spoon attached.

Barion's catch was a sturgeon, a big fish that measured seven feet without the head. When the sturgeon grabbed tho hook every one of the twelve bells rang a clatter that awakened him from his afternoon nap in his cabin ashore.

The "musical fisherman" was unable to land his big catch alone. He had to call in the assistance of two neighbors. Barion's catch netted him $63.—Redding (Cal.) Dispatch to San Francisco Call.

"There's a Reason"

NO PROTEST MADE BY PROGRESSIVES AS T. R. DECLINES

ROOSEVELT'S REFUSAL IS CONDITIONAL AND PLACED IN HANDS OF COMMITTEE UNTIL REPUBLICANS ISSUE STATEMENT.

PARKER IS NOMINATED FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

Southern Man Is Selected by Acclamation as Colonel's Running Mate—Johnson Refuses to Let Name Be Placed Before the Convention—Robins Honored.

Chicago, June 12.—The Progressive national convention, after four days of tumult with only one purpose in view, nominated Col. Theodore Roosevelt for President, and a few hours later listened without protest to a message from Oyster Bay that he would not "accept at this time." Colonel Roosevelt's declination was conditional and it was placed in the hands of the Progressive national committee, to be held until such time as statements to be made by Justice Hughes; the nominee of the Republican party, "shall satisfy the committee that it is for the interest of the country that he be elected."

Southern Man for Vice-President.

Colonel John H. Parker of Louisiana was nominated for Vice-President, the selection being by acclamation. Colonel Roosevelt's running mate of four years ago, Governor Johnson of California, refused to let his name be placed before the convention because of the information he had concerning the intentions of Colonel Roosevelt toward his nomination. Several other names and notably that of Raymond Robins, who was both temporary and permanent chairman of the convention were offered, but not seconded.

The conference report was made by Mr. Perkins. He cited Friday night's meeting with the Republican conferees, stating that the Progressives were again asked for their second choice candidate for president.

Divided On Hughes.

Mr. Perkins announced that the Republican conferees had offered the name of Justice Hughes as a compromise candidate, but were not unanimous for him, standing three for Hughes and two against him; that at Saturday morning's conference the Republicans were anxious for Hughes.

He said that the Progressives' position was the same—that the Progressives had presented a candidate and that the Republicans had not, and that the same arguments for Colonel Roosevelt were advanced.

Republicans Suggest Compromise

The Republicans, he said, suggested that Justice Hughes was an available candidate for a compromise.

He then recounted the conferences with the state chairman.

Mr. Perkins then read the reply of the Progressives, who said they would take pleasure in suggesting "Justice Hughes" name to the Progresive convention.

The decision of the convention, Mr. Perkins added, was of vital importance to the country.

RUSSIANS TAKE DUBNO; DRIVE BACK AUSTRIANS

Capture 108,000 Men in Week and Force Back Enemy to Roumanian Border.

London, June 12.—From the wooded region of Southwest Russia to the Roumanian frontier, Russians are keeping up their tremendous offensive against Austro-Hungarians, who have been re-enforced on several sectors by Germans. In the week that has elapsed since they first threw their attacks against the Austrians, the Russians report that they have captured approximately 108,000 officers and men and forced back the organized lines of their antagonists from the region of the Volhinian fortress triangle to Roumania.

Having previously captured Lutsk, Russians now have retaken Dubno, the second of the fortresses in the triangle held by the Austrians, and are pressing the retreating Austrians westward.

Switzerland Issues New Loan.

Berne, Switzerland, via Paris, June 12.—Switzerland is issuing a new loan of 100,000,000 francs in 4½ per cent bonds at the rate of 97. With this issue the Swiss loans covering the cost of mobilization and the frontier watch, and including the $15,000,000 contracted for in the United States, now amount to 462,200,000 francs, in normal times, approximately $92,440,000.

U. S. Refugees Hooted.

El Paso, June 12.—Uneasiness as to the results of anti-American agitation in Chihuahua was manifest here and in Juarez. Especial anxiety was expressed for the dozen Americans remaining in Chihuahua City, where a mass meeting of all male natives was held, ostensibly to protest against the American troops remaining in Mexico A number of American refugees arriving from Chihuahua City said they were hooted by Mexicans at most every station on the way to the border.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT ACCEPT

REJECTS PROGRESSIVE NOMINATION AT PRESENT TIME.

Awaits Statement of Republican Party's Attitude Toward the Vital Questions of the Day.

Chicago, June 12.—Following is Col Roosevelt's telegram to the Progressive national convention declining to accept the nomination:

"Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 10.—

"The Progressive Convention:

"I am very grateful for the honor you confer upon me by nominating me as president. I can not accept it at this time. I do not know the attitude of the Republican party toward the vital questions of the day. Therefore, if you desire an immediate decision, I must decline the nomination.

"But if you prefer it, I suggest that my conditional refusal to run be placed in the hands of the Progressive national committee. If Mr. Hughes' statements, when he makes them, shall satisfy the committee that it is for the interest of the country that he be elected, they can act accordingly, and treat my refusal as definitely accepted. If they are not satisfied, they can so notify the Progressive party and at the same time they can confer with me and then determine on whatever action we may severally deem appropriate to meet the needs of the country.

"Signed,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

OUT OF POLITICS—ROOSEVELT

Tells Newspaper Men He Has Nothing to Say.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 12.—Theodore Roosevelt has reiterated that he is "out of politics."

"I want to tell you newspaper men," he said, "that it's of no use for you to come up here to see me. I will have nothing to say. I will answer no questions, so please don't ask me to. I am out of politics."

If the former president has any plans for the immediate future other than to continue his literary work, he has not made them public.

San Antonio, Texas, June 12.—What is regarded by American army officers as official repudiation of the agreement entered into by Generals Pershing and Gavira was contained in a curt message from General Jacinto Trevino to General Pershing, informing him that General Gavira has no authority to discuss military subjects with him.

CARRANZISTAS CAPTURE FOUR BANDIT LEADERS

Laredo, Texas, June 12.—Carranza troops and Mexican bandits engaged in a battle at Sanches, Mexico, 20 miles south of Nuevo Laredo, which resulted in the capture of four bandit leaders. The outlaws were a part of Luis De La Rosa's band, according to accounts of the battle which reached the border.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. Where Mr. Anderson Stands.

The women of Fergus Falls are very much surprised and disappointed over the action of A. G. Anderson who is a delegate to the Chicago National convention, in voting for Sen. George H. Sullivan of Stillwater for Minnesota's member of the platform committee. The contest was between Sen. Sullivan and Hon. J. F. Jacobson of Lac qui Parle. A large delegation of women waited upon Mr. Anderson and secured his promise to support the cause of women suffrage in the Republican National Convention. The platform committee makes the platform for the party. Senator Sullivan was the leader in the opposition to Senator Sageng's bill giving women the right to vote in Minnesota.

He exhausted every resource at his command to defeat the bill. He also led the fight against county option and if there is any measure which the liquor interest want defeated in this state as well as in the nation it is to give women the right to vote.

Mr. Jacobson has always been a strong advocate of county option and Mr. Anderson's action in voting against him and voting for Senator Sullivan has caused very great disappointment.—Fergus Falls Journal.

A BIG MAN FOR A BIG JOB

A home grown product. A farmer boy who educated himself. Ability and hard work made him a national leader in the legal profession. As the people's lawyer in trust prosecutions, he won decisions from the U. S. Supreme Court which, if enforced by the government at the present time, would greatly help small business men and farmers and insure equality of opportunity for all. He is guaranteed to the voters by Minnesota's leading country newspapers.

He stands for PROTECTION of Uncle Sam, of agriculture, of labor, and of business. He is on the square and has the welfare of the people at heart

Let's send a real statesman to Washington.

What Makes a Congress-man Useful?

"A man must learn to be a Representative just as he must learn to be a blacksmith, a carpenter, a farmer, an engineer, a lawyer, a doctor.

"A poet is born, not made, says Horace, but congressman--that are useful and influential congressmen--are made largely by experience and practice.

The above is from an address recently delivered by Hon. Champ Clark, speaker of the House of Representatives, before the Washington Press Club.

Hon. Halvor Steenerson has represented this district during the past 14 years and has gained a position of influence and prominence in Washington. With each succeeding session his standing has been advanced until he is now generally recognized as the big, dependable man on the Minnesota delegation.

Will an untried and inexperienced man be in a better position to serve his constituency? No one for one moment believes that he will. Granted Mr. Steenerson's abilities and opportunities, he would still have to serve a similar length of time before he could possibly arrive at the station in which we now find Mr. Steenerson.

A. G. Anderson
For Congressman

I have filed as a candidate for the Republication nomination for Congress in the Ninth Minnesota District. Owing to my personal business interests I have been reluctant to take this action, but have been persuaded by the persistent demands of a large number of the Republicans in all parts of the District.

I have prepared to accept the responsibility which I ask the voters of the Ninth District to confer upon me by placing myself in a position to devote all my time and energy to the duties of the office.

My platform is brief; I stand first and foremost for genuine Americanism and strict and honorable neutrality.

I would insist on a "dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent."

I know that the government records show that we are spending more to maintain our army and navy than did Germany, England, France before the present war, and I would demand a "dollar's worth of preparedness for every dollar so spent."

I believe in preparedness which would protect, but not one which would inspire the spirit of invasion or impose the burdens of militarism.

I stand for business methods, economy and efficiency in National government.

Yours truly,
A. G. Anderson.

PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood

DEMOCRATS CHOOSE WILSON AND MARSHALL AS THEIR LEADERS

Ticket Named a Few Minutes Before Midnight on Thursday, Avoiding the Friday "Hoodoo"—Delegates Evince Intense Enthusiasm as the Result Is Announced—President at Once Notified.

St. Louis.—Woodrow Wilson and Thomas Riley Marshall were nominated just before midnight June 15. Both nominations were made by acclamation.

President Wilson's nomination came at 11:54 and that of Vice-President Marshall at 11:58.

Fred B. Lynch of Minnesota notified the White House by telephone at the instant of the nomination. A telephone wire that extended into the speaker's stand was connected direct with the White House with a megaphone attached to the receiver.

In a lightning sprint Mr. Marshall made a record. Senator Kern was due for a nominating speech. Sensing the approaching midnight he threw his eulogy on the floor and simply said: "I renomate Thomas Riley Marshall." Somebody seconded. Somebody moved to make it by acclamation. And it was done, the whole job of nominating a vice presidential candidate taking up just 180 seconds.

Friday Superstition Averted.

Thus the ancient superstition against Friday nominations was averted, although President Wilson had made it known that he regards Friday as his "lucky day."

Dramatic scenes attended the naming of the ticket. William Jennings Bryan in an impassioned panygeric placed his O. K. upon the president and his administration.

The Nebraskan, who resigned from the cabinet, was not a delegate to the convention, but he was called to the platform by unanimous consent. He lauded Wilson to the skies for keeping the nation out of war, lauded the Wilson Mexican policy and extolled the economic legislation from tariff to currency act.

Bryan at times spoke under the strain of emotion. It was the first convention in 20 years in which he has not been an active figure, but the ovation and the outbursts that punctuated his remarks indicated that he is still a powerful force behind the scenes of the party he once dominated.

Wescott Names Wilson.

The Nebraskan through with his speech, John W. Wescott of New Jersey placed Mr. Wilson in nomination. As the time grew short Wescott, cutting short his peroration, shouted:

"I nominate Woodrow Wilson."

Then followed a great demonstration that lasted 46 minutes. Delegates and galleries were roused to a high pitch of enthusiasm and emotionalism. They yelled and shouted and paraded and sang. Some of them wept in an ecstacy of feeling.

Harmon Seconds Wilson.

Former Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, who was a candidate for the presidential nomination at Baltimore four years ago, made the first seconding speech for President Wilson.

The next was by Gov. H. C. Stuart of Virginia.

Senator Hughes of New Jersey moved that the rules be suspended and the nomination made by acclamation. The motion was carried with a tremendous roar.

The only objection came from Robert E. Burke of Chicago, the only anti-Wilson delegate in the convention. He shouted "No."

Senator James declared President Wilson nominated at 11:52 p. m.

Kern Names Marshall.

Senator John W. Kern of Indiana then was recognized. He moved that the nomination of Vice President Marshall be made by acclamation. No nominating speech was made.

Vice President Marshall was declared nominated four minutes after the nomination of President Wilson.

Numerous seconding speeches which had been prepared were not made.

Lewis' Speech His Shortest.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois was invited to the platform to make an addess at 12:12 a. m. "I do not like to impose upon your time," said Senator Lewis. "I beg you will excuse me and I express my sincere thanks."

It was the shortest speech of his career.

Senator Hughes reported to the convention that the resolution committee had failed to complete its work on the platform. The convention then adjourned at 12:32 a. m. until eleven o'clock Friday morning.

Forty-six minutes of sheer enthusiasm and emotion followed the naming of President Wilson. The minute Mr. Westcott had yielded to the adjurations of his audience and had spoken the name "Woodrow Wilson," the galleries and the delegates were on their feet.

An immense oil painting of the president was dropped from the gallery back of the speakers' stand. It excited the gathering almost to the point of frenzy. Georgia bore down the aisle a banner—"Wilson: Dixie's gift to the nation."

The band blared and thumped out "America" and "Dixie" while the great pit, a crater of eruptive humanity, let out its collective lungs and throats to capacity.

Bryan Lauds Wilson.

Bryan in his laudation of Wilson and his policies dwelt on the possibilities of America as negotiator of peace in Europe.

"I stand with the Democrats of the nation to give Woodrow Wilson a chance to be that man," shouted Bryan, in conclusion, and the hall echoed with cheering.

Details of the Night Session.

St. Louis.—While the convention was assembling for the night session to nominate President Wilson it became known the Nebraska delegation planned to withdraw the vice presidency candidacy of Governor Morehead.

Before the convention was called to order the Coliseum was so full that the fire department took charge of the entrances and permitted no more to come in. William J. Bryan was stopped at the door. Senator James learned of the Nebraskan's plight and rescued him. Then the Nebraskan got his usual uproarious reception.

Chairman James rapped the convention to order.

Rev. W. J. Hardesty, chaplain of the Missouri senate, offered prayer.

Senator Thompson then moved a suspension of the rules to permit Mr. Bryan to speak. When the motion was put there were some "Noes," but the chairman ruled two-thirds had voted in favor.

Senator James introduced Mr. Bryan as "one of the leading citizens of the world and America's greatest Democrat."

In spite of the distracting influence of the mob at the doors and the laughs that rose occasionally when a bedraggled leader finally forced his way into the convention hall Mr. Bryan held his audience.

Applause was frequent and thunderous. He spoke for forty-five minutes, finishing at 10:07.

Glynn Is the Keynoter.

In a hall gay with flags and bunting and with pictures of party leaders, past and present, looking down upon them from medallions around the balcony, the delegates to the Democratic national convention assembled on scheduled time Wednesday. The proceedings were formally started when William F. McCombs, chairman of the national committee, ascended the platform and rapped for order. He incited the first burst of enthusiasm of the convention when, in a short address introducing the temporary chairman, he predicted victory for the party in the fall.

The keynote speech was delivered by former Gov. Martin H. Glynn of New York, the temporary chairman. He was frequently interrupted by applause when some point in his speech stirred the enthusiasm of the delegates. His eulogy of President Wilson started the biggest demonstration of the day. Following Governor Glynn's speech, committees on credentials, permanent organization, rules, and resolutions were announced, and that day's work was done.

James Permanent Chairman.

The delegates were a little slow in assembling for Thursday's session, and it was almost noon when Temporary Chairman Glynn called the convention to order. Permanent Chairman Ollie James was escorted to the chair and introduced. He immediately launched into his address. He lauded the president and defended his policies, particularly in regard to the controversy with Germany over the submarine warfare and our relations with Mexico. An enthusiastic demonstration greeted his praise of President Wilson, which lasted more than twenty minutes. At the close of Chairman James' speech the convention took a recess until nine o'clock in the evening.

Before the nominating speeches began at the evening session the Democrats indulged in a love feast in which the advent of harmony in their ranks was celebrated.

Wilson Praised by Bryan.

Mr. Bryan was cheered enthusiastically as he entered the press section with Mrs. Bryan shortly after nine o'clock. A few minutes later, upon the motion of Senator Thompson of Kansas, the convention suspended the rules amid tumultuous good feeling and invited Mr. Bryan to the rostrum. A committee conducted Mr. Bryan amid wild cheering to the side of Chairman James.

Thomas R. Marshall

Mr. Bryan launched into a speech lauding the administration of the president.

Following Mr. Bryan's address the convention got down to the real business for which it had been convened and the renomination of President Wilson and Vice President Marshall was quickly put through as related above. The convention took a recess until eleven o'clock Friday morning, when the report of the committee on resolutions was presented and the platform was adopted with little discussion and practically no opposition.

Bald-Headed Man Protests.

St. Louis.—National Democratic Chairman McCombs is the most nervous man in politics. When he isn't beating a tattoo, rubbing his hands, slapping his knee, walking around, scratching his chin or twiddling his thumbs, he's doing something else of the same sort. At the opening session of the convention he sat at the edge of the platform. A notch lower down sat Col. Robert Ewing, an exceedingly rotund and egg-pated gentleman from Louisiana. McCombs was busily engaged listening to Governor Glynn's keynote notes. As usual, he was expressing his nervousness with his fingers. Colonel Ewing leaped up and stage-whispered, "If you don't quit rattling your fingers on the top of my head I won't be able to hear a word that's said."

Not Dodging.

"I suppose you could manage the affairs of the nation in a way that would be universally satisfactory."

"I don't say that," replied Senator Sorghum. "I realize that everybody who undertakes great responsibility must expect censure from some source. But we will not shirk. My friends and I are determined to take our share of the criticism."

Solicitude.

"Of course, you admire the dove of peace?"

"Very much. But I don't know whether I care to see it flourishing under present perilous conditions and running the risk of becoming extinct."

WILSON REJECTS MEXICAN DEMAND; TROOPS MOBILIZE

ORDERS REPLY TO CARRANZA REFUSING TO WITHDRAW ARMY FORWARDED IMMEDIATELY.

YUCATAN DECLARES WAR ON AMERICA, IS REPORT

Mexican State Orders "Gringoes" Out Of Country According to Passengers From Progresso—"Ready" Is Governors' Reply To President's Call For Mobilization.

Galveston, Texas, June 20.—The Mexican government in Yucatan has issued a proclamation ordering all Americans out of Mexico and declaring a state of war existing between the two countries according to passengers arriving here on the Norwegian steamer Nils from Progreso. American and other foreigners are being taken on board an American gunboat at Progreso. Great excitement is said to preval.

To Mobilize in States.

San Antonio, Texas, June 20.—General Funston states that the national guard will be mobilized in its respective states and that its membership will be sent to the border only when he calls for the various state detachments. He added that it will probably be some time before any of these troops reach the border.

Rejects Carranza's Demands.

Washington, June 20.—While the whole country was astir wth the mobilzation of the national guard for border duty, President Wilson directed that his reply rejecting General Carranza's demand for the recall of American troops from Mexico go forward immediately.

In refusing to withdraw its troops, the United States reaffirms the friendly intentions of the United States toward the de facto government in Mexico and sharply rebukes General Carranza for unwarranted charges and insinuatons of bad faith contained in his communication.

Activity Throughout Nation.

President Wilson's firm resolve to keep the armed force of the United States in Mexco until such time as the Mexican government polices the border region so thoroughly that bandit raids into American territory are improbable is understood to be clearly stated in the note.

Whether the suggestion of the democratic platform plank that intervention might be undertaken as a last resort also was communicated is not known.

While these diplomatic steps were in process, a force of national guardsmen which will not be less than 100,000 strong and from 45 states were mobilizing for service along the border. There is greater military activity throughout the nation today than at any time since the war with Spain.

Responses from governors of the states to President Wilson's call on the national guard for service along the Mexican border reached the war department today in rapid succession. By the time Secretary of War Newton D. Baker was at his desk, 17 states had been heard from, announcing that mobilization was in progress, and more replies were arriving rapidly.

The messages were substantially identical and followed this general form:

"Mobilization in progress as directed."

U. S. CONSULS GET ORDERS TO RETURN FROM MEXICO

Silliman of Saltillo En Route to Border Hanna, Stationed at Monterey Reaches Laredo, Makes Report.

Washington, June 20.—Consul John R. Silliman of Saltillo is en route to the border under orders from the state department to quit his post. Consul Hanna at Monterey, who left his post and reached Laredo, advised the state department that Silliman is heading toward the border.

There are now no consuls in interior Mexico, though at coast points they still remain and probably will unless serious trouble develops.

Asks Austria To Apologize.

Washington, June 20.—A second note to Austria-Hungary regarding the attack by an Austrian submarine upon the American tank steamer Petrolite, has been coded at the state department for immediate transmission to Vienna. It is understood to demand an apology for the attack and reparation for the damage.

Offensive in Macedonia Expected.

Saloniki, June 20.—The allied offensive in Macedonia, originally scheduled for the middle of May and postponed on account of the condition of the Serbian army on its arrival in Corfu, is now confidently anticipated towards the end of June or, at the latest, early in July. An outbreak of cholera among the Serbians on their arrival in Corfu proved a mixed disadvantage. A great many more Serbs died than will ever be known, not simply of cholera, but from enterogastritis, malnutrition and sheer exhauston.

Hunting Trouble.

When a man just naturally wants trouble it is mighty easy to find an excuse for making it. According to Mike Hogan, Casey and O'Brien were having an argument of their own at Breckinridge street and Barrett avenue. It had progressed to the extent that each had forgotten what it was about originally and they were wholly oblivious of the gathering crowd until an urbane and genteel person in a frock coat put in.

"'Come, come, my man," he said, gently plucking Casey by the sleeve. "You don't want to fight; I can tell it by your looks. Your face is too benign."

"Two be nine! Two be nine, is ut, ye scut?" bellowed Casey. "Me face is two be nine, is ut?"

And there was where the real trouble began.—Louisville Times.

Its Risk.

"A kiss may often have deeper meaning than appears."

"Perhaps, but it is a thing you have to take on its face value."

But Not Unpardonable.

"Don't you bring that man here again. He's unspeakable!"

"Why, did he insult you?"

"No, but he's dumb and wants to talk with his fingers."

Particulars.

"Were any in that row wounded?"

"Well, not exactly."

"What do you mean by that?"

"[illegible] half shot."

NO SIGN OF HALT IN RUSSIAN DRIVE AGAINST TEUTONS

CZAR'S FORCES CONTINUE POWERFUL OFFENSIVE ALONG VOLHYNIAN FRONT—CAPTURE MORE THAN 170,000 MEN.

AUSTRIAN MOUNTAIN LINE IS WON BY LATINS

Positons in Trentino Region Carried by Storm by Italian Troops—Russian Cavalry Reported Beaten in Galicia—German Line in East Engaged.

Rome, June 19.—The Austrian mountain line in the Trentino region has been carried by storm by Italian troops, says an official statement.

Petrograd, June 19.—There are no signs of a halt in the powerful Russian offensive in Volhynian Galicia and Bukowina. Reports tell of a Russian check here and there, but the Russians remain on the aggressive, attacking all along the Volhnian front and pressing hard against the Austrian lines farther south.

The capture of approximately 170,000 men by the Russians since the inception of the offensive is claimed by Petrograd, which declares that steady advances are being scored against the Austrian armies.

Slavs Break Resistance.

The chief gain of ground announced during the last 24 hours was on the Austrian center, which up to now has held comparatively firm. The Russians claim to be breaking this resistance. The main contest has been on the front just north of Buczacz on the Stripa river. Here the Russians are declared to have overthrown the Austrian army and taken 6,000 prisoners.

For the time being the rapid movement on the wings and the cavalry dash in Volhynia toward the Kovel junction seem to have slackened somewhat.

Breach Continues to Widen.

A semiofficial commentary published here says:

"The absence from the official communications of names of places occupied or the directions taken by General Brussiloff's army do not mean any retardation in his advance. On the contrary his progress continues without intermission. The broad corridor formed by our break through in the direction of Lutsk continues to widen and is assuming an enveloping character in relation to the enemy's flank.

Russian Cavalry Beaten.

Berlin, June 19 (By Wireless to Sayville).—Austro-Hungarian troops south of the Dniester river in Galicia, have defeated a Russian cavalry force, according to an official statement given out by the Austro-Hungarian army headquarters under date of June 16.

The statement also announces that new battles have been started on the whole front in Volhynia.

On the Italian front enemy attacks on the southern part of the Doberdo plateau were repulsed, says the statement. Repeated Italian attacks against positions on the Dolomites likewise failed.

Austrians Occupy Peaks.

In the Ortler district, Austrian troops conquered the top of Takat and the summit of the hindmost Madatsh.

General von Linsingen's troops have engaged the Russians in battle in the Etokhod and Styr sectors, says the official statemetnt, issued by German army headquarters.

The statement adds that parts of the army of General Count von Bothmer are engaged in battle with the Russians to the north of Przewloka.

Teutons Resist Advance.

London, June 19.—The Austrians, driven back from their first line of entrenchments on the eastern front, have settled into new positions of strength and are stubbornly resisting the Russian advance.

This is the conclusion gained here from the fact that the Russian official report does not carry statements of tremendous territorial gains daily as in the first several days of the drive.

Capture Not Denied.

The capture of Czernowitz, capital of Bukowina, is not yet officially confirmed, although reported unofficially from several sources. Its capture has not been denied from Vienna.

From a few miles north of Tarnopol to Brody, the Austrians have held their ground steadily, due, says Petrograd, to the fact that the greatest violence of the Russian drive has been developed north and south of this sector.

Several attempts of the Russians to cross the river Styr failed, the Russians suffering heavily.

South Get Credit Men's Trophy.

Pittsburgh, June 19.—Charles D. Joyce of Philadelphia was elected president at the closing session of the twenty-second annual convention of the National Association of Credit Men. S. J. Whitlock of Chicago and Frank S. Flagg of New York were elected vice presidents. The association of credit men of Huntington, W. Va., was awarded the Minneapolis trophy for the greatest increase in membership. Resolutions were adopted. The next convention city will be selected by the executive committee.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Duluth. — The fraternal Order of Eagles, holding their annual state convention here, adjourned after choosing Faribault as the meeting place for 1917, and electing state officers.

Balaton. — John B. Shequin, 107 years old, is dead at the home of his son here. His widow is 98 years old. They were the oldest couple in Minnesota and were married seventy-eight years ago.

Duluth. — With the arrival of the St. Paul, Minneapolis, Brainerd and Bemidji delegations to the state convention of Elks, the city began to take on a gala appearance. The local club was on hand in full force to welcome the visitors.

Minneapolis. — Lieutenant Colonel William Gerlach, member of the United States army for more than sixty years and reputed to be the oldest regular soldier in the United States, is dead at his home here, at the age of 80 years.

Lake City. — Death soon will have lost its sting. James Scott of this city is planning a series of disk phonograph records for use at funerals in remote districts. The records will contain a funeral oration, a song by a quartet and a prayer.

Moorhead. — A hundred automobile parties left Moorhead for Detroit, Minn., to attend the annual combined meetings of the Minnesota Livestock association, the Red River Valley Live stock association, and the Red River Valley Development association.

St. Paul. — Mrs. Walter J. Smith has accepted a position from the state printing commission. Thrown upon her own resources soon after her husband was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the state prison for misuse of funds while state treasurer, she sought employment to provide a living for herself and her daughter.

Chisholm. — The election of M. B. Remley of Moorhead as second vice president of the State Firemen's association gave that city the 1919 convention of the organization, the officers being advanced so that each year the president is named from the city to entertain the convention.

Mankato. — The skeleton of a tall man has been unearthed close to the Minnesota river, above the mouth of the Blue Earth, by the washing of the river. It is thought to be that of one of the early French voyagers, who established a fort at the juncture of the two rivers more than two hundred years ago.

St. Paul. — Bank loans in St. Paul are at the highest point in their history and a continuation of the present prosperity in business is predicted by the leading bankers. It has taken the banks almost two years to overcome the big surplus released by the institution of the Federal Reserve banks.

St. Paul. — Governor Burnquist, Dean Woods of the agricultural college, Carlos Avery, executive agent of the state fish commission, E. V. Willard, acting state drainage engineer of the state highway commission, and John B. Irwin of Minneapolis compose the Twin City delegation to the development convention in Detroit, Minn.

Detroit. — Minnesota was foreseen as the greatest dairying district in the world, rivaling that which formerly was Belgium's and which now is Switzerland's, in the principal address of the conventions of the Minnesota Live Stock Breeders' association, the Red River Valley Live Stock Breeders' association and Red River Valley Development association, in joint session here, by John B. Irwin, Minneapolis.

St. Paul. — Rural credits, good roads, schools and drainage were the chief subjects of discussion at the first annual meeting of the All-Minnesota Development association, which opened at the House chamber of the Capitol Thursday.

Governor Burnquist discussed "All Minnesota" in his address of welcome. F. W. Murphy, president of the association, responded on "Community Co-operation."

Morton. — Despite frequent showers, members of the Renville County Pioneers' association gathered in a big tent just purchased by the association and heard addresses by Secretary of State Julius Schmahl, Frank B. Kellogg, who discussed national conditions; former State Auditor Samual G. Iverson, who praised the loyalty of foreign-born Americans, and Governor Burnquist, who made an address of reminiscences.

Virginia. — By unanimous vote Virginia miners have decided to strike for higher wages and better working conditions. W. D. Scarlit of Chicago is in charge of the strike. The demands are $3.50 in wet places, $3 for dry places and $2.75 on surface work. At a meeting attended by more than 1,000 citizens, the striking miners, who marched into the city from other towns, were given orders to leave the city and advised that officers would compel them to leave if they refused.

White Earth.—Sioux and Chippewa, or Ojibwa Indians, once foes, have buried the hatchet anew at a celebration marking the forty-eighth anniversary of the settlement of the Chippewas here. The reunion and council fire is an annual event on the reservation.

Fort Snelling. — Proposed plans for the location of a $20,000,000 nitrate plant by the United States government at Fort Snelling received encouragement when Congressman Van Dyke of St. Paul received a personal letter from President Wilson asking for data concerning the site.

SCHOOLS AGAIN ON HONOR ROLL

UNIVERSITY AND ST. THOMAS COLLEGE RANKED AMONG TEN BEST IN UNITED STATES.

EVENTS AT STATE CAPITOL

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

The University of Minnesota and the College of St. Thomas have both been honored by being named as among the 10 best military schools, in their respective classes, in the United States, according to advices received here by the heads of the two institutions.

The University cadets have been placed on the "distinguished" roll for the third successive year, and through this are entitled to three second lieutenantcies in the regular army.

The men to receive the commissions will be chosen from the list of honor cadet officers graduating in the classes of 1914, 1915 and 1916. Ten land grant colleges are placed on this list each year.

The St. Thomas lads have been placed for the second successive time on the honor roll of preparatory military schools of the nation, this entitling the school to the privilege of competing for one of five West Point appointments granted these 10 schools each year

Bumper Crops In Sight.

Minnesota crop prospects are good. Small grains are in excellent condition and coming fast. Excessive wet caused some backwardness and cut acreages to some extent, but general conditons are now very satisfactory. Prospects for fruit and berry crops are excellent. Pastures are fine and hay is abundant.

Prospects of a good corn crop in Minnesota are not bright this year, according to reports received by Fred D. Sherman from thirty-four counties of the state, and the acreage has been cut down in many of the counties this year from 10 to 35 per cent. Red Lake county is the one exception to this rule, the report on the crop in that county being that the corn acreage is increased 5 per cent this year as compared with last year.

The bright side of the report is that while corn is backward owing to the cold, wet spring, small grains show increased acreage everywhere and there is an abundance of pastures.

Re-decorate Capitol.

After more than twenty months of constant painting and plastering, the ground floor of the State Capitol and the basement have been put into good condition. The cost of the work has been between $5,000 and $6,000. Two painters have been employed constantly, and part of the time men were busy painting over the frescoed designs.

Fraternal Societies Gain

Fraternal beneficiary associations in Minnesota issued 2,739 more certificates in 1915 than in 1914, according to the annual report just issued by S. D. Works, commissioner of insurance. The total number of new certificates issued in 1915 was 27,147 and in 1914, 24,408.

Urges Vaccination.

Vaccination for typhoid fever immunity before taking a vacation is urged by Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, in a special bulletin "Vacationists can make sure the resorts they select are sanitary and supplied with pure milk and water," said Dr Bracken, "but the only method of obtaining absolute assurance against typhoid fever carriers is in vaccination." The bulletin adds that typhoid vaccine is made at the department laboratories on the University of Minnesota campus and issued free.

Bumper Grain Crops

Good Markets—High Prices

Prizes Awarded to Western Canada for Wheat, Oats, Barley, Alfalfa and Grasses

The winnings of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses, the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle fed and fattened on the grasses of that country. A recent shipment of cattle to Chicago topped the market in that city for quality and price.

Western Canada produced in 1915 one third as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer. In Western Canada you will find good markets, splendid schools, exceptional social conditions, perfect climate and other great attractions. There is no war tax on land and no conscription.

"Clean Up and Paint Up"

BY THE EDITOR

MONKEYS imitate. Sheep follow the leader. And most of us—men, women and children alike—are prone to do the same.

Imitation is bad for the monkey and bad for the sheep if the example followed is bad. But it is good for both if the leadership is safe. Just so with us mortals. Inspired by environment we can think great thoughts and do things worth while. Depressed by environment we can sink into the depths of despondency.

But thanks to human powers of initiative we can shape our environment—we can make it what we will, if we will. And so intimately are our own interests linked with those of our neighbors that when we improve our own surroundings, be it ever so little, we improve theirs.

Right there the monkey in man asserts itself.

Today your neighbor fixes up his yard, removes rubbish, plants flowers, trims his hedge, paints his house.

Tomorrow your own place looks sick. You never noticed before that a little cleaning up and painting up would accomplish so much in making home life happy and healthy through the long outdoor months of summer. So you get busy with the pruning shears, the rake, lawn-mower and garden hose. You start a painter working on your house and outbuildings. Forthwith you, your wife and the kiddies begin to realize more fully the "joy of living" in the good old summertime.

Day after tomorrow other neighbors will begin to perk up their premises and their persons. Then others will follow their example, and so the spirit of spring's regeneration will spread from house to house and block to block.

But let's not wait for this creeping regeneration of our town. Let's organize immediately a continuous "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign and make the refurbishing a thorough community movement. Our official community can help, and so can each civic organization and the business men, and the women, and the children.

Let's make "Clean Up and Paint Up and Keep It Up" our slogan and live up to it.

Ringbo Farmer Murdered
John Hanson Shot By Insane Son

John Hanson was shot, and probably instantly killed, Monday afternoon by his son, Ludwig, who has been insane for some time past. Mr. Hanson had delivered cream here Monday and got his monthly check cashed. The roads were bad and he got his auto muddy and was washing it when he was shot. Apparently he was in a stooping posture when the shot was fired. The bullet, which was a 22 short, entered at the back of the head and plowed its way thru the brain, lodging in the forehead, undoubtedly causing instant death. The crazy son then dragged his father about six rods, into some tall grass. When his brother George came in from the field he showed him the body of their father and claimed he found it lying there. The brother was suspicious of Ludwig's actions and sent for help from the neighbors and they came to Holt that night and telephoned the county attorney, who told them to call Dr. Walters, of Middle River, and that he would also send the sheriff there. As there were no marks on the body it was at first reported that Mr. Hanson died of heart failure.

Sheriff Hanson went out to the scene of the murder Tuesday morning and made a careful examination of the body with Dr. G. F. Walters. They found a small hole in the back of the head of the deceased and felt sure he was shot. By careful questioning Sheriff Hanson found out that Ludwig had a 22 rifle and he offered to buy it but wanted to see it first and it was found hid under the granary. Then the sheriff wanted some cartridges and Ludwig finally promised to get them if he would'ent tell. They were found several rods away hid in a hole in the grass and showed plainly they had been there only a short time. Then the sheriff asked Ludwig if his father had had any money and he answered "yes but it is mine now."

The money, about $30.00, was found on his person and the sheriff told him he would have to take him to Warren but he offered no resistance. Sheriff Hanson accompanied by Ole Davidson brot the young man here where they were met by the county attorney. They empanelled a jury as follows: R. L. Olson, C. W. Latta, S. S. Kolden, R. Reierson, C. H. Gunheim and P. A. Riesberg, and returned to the scene of the murder where they were met by Dr. Walters who acted as coroner.

Dr. Walters probed for the bullet and found it to be the same as those Ludwig had given the sheriff. The jury went over the ground carefully and found the facts substantially as we have given them.

Sheriff Hanson and Ole Davidson took Ludwig Hanson to Warren Monday night, where he is confined in the county jail awaiting his trial, when he will probably be sent to the asylum for the criminal insane, at St. Peter.

The funeral was held yesterday at the Ringbo Free church, of which the deceased was a faithful member, Rev. Brederson officiating and interment was made in the cemetery there. Mr. Hanson was highly respected by all and his tragic death is a great shock to the entire community.

John Hanson was about 50 years old. He was born in Sweden and married there before coming to this country about 30 years ago. His wife died two or three years ago, since which time he has lived on the farm with his sons, Ludwig and George, who are aged 26 and 22 years respectively. The elder son had shown signs of insanity but was apparently harmless and his father objected to sending him to the asylum, when it was suggested to him.

Olaus Rodahl and a force of his workmen are building a house for Fred Jarshaw.

The Sunshine Society will meet with Mrs. J. B. Alkenbrack, Saturday afternoon July 8th.

Olaf Johnson has been hauling out cement and lumber for a large barn which he will build on his farm north of town.

The Barber Shop will be closed July 4th, so please get your work done before that time and oblige, Ben Hoff, Holt, Minn.

The village hall is fast nearing completion and is now ready for the coat of stucco, with which it is to be finished on the outside. The new sidewalks, graded streets and village hall are all big improvements for our little village.

A card from Master Norman Newton says he is feeling good, that his mother came there after him and he expected to leave the Warren hospital for home on Wednesday. The many friends of Norman will be pleased to hear that he is improving and we all hope it will prove a permanent cure.

We learn from The Spooner News that E. T. Eide's hay shed at that place was recently damaged by fire to the amount of about $600.00 and about $800.00 worth of hay was burned. The building and contents were insured so Mr. Eide's loss will not be so great as it otherwise would have been. The fire probably started from a cigar stub, carelessly thrown down by some passerby.

The 'Progressive Farmer' Says:

"One trouble with us in the North is that we think too much about a bank as being a place to get money out of, instead of as a place to put money in."

We are here to serve our customers in both capacities. When you have money, your deposits are gratefully received. When you need money, a loan is granted just as cheerfully.

ROOSEVELT IS FOR HUGHES; FORMALLY DECLINES TO RUN

BULL MOOSE LEADER SAYS THIRD TICKET WOULD AID PRESIDENT WILSON'S CANDIDACY FOR RE-ELECTION.

WRITES LONG LETTER TO BULL MOOSE COMMITTEE

Former President Urges Progressives To Support Republican Nominee—Committee Divide When It Met—John M. Parker Vice Presidential Nominee Bolts.

Chicago, June 27.—John M. Parker of Louisiana, progressive nominee for vice president, and national committeemen from six states, bolted the meeting of the national committee after Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's letter supporting Charles E. Hughes was read.

Chicago, June 27.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has definitely refused the nomination of the progressives for president, and in a letter to the bull moose national committee urged their support of Charles Evans Hughes, the republican nominee.

In his letter, a lengthy denunciation of the democratic administration read by Oscar King Davis, secretary of the committee, Colonel Roosevelt declared he would actively support Hughes and gave detailed reasons, based largely on the necessity for patriotic Americanism.

Committee Divided.

The progressive committee was sharply divided when it met. One faction, led by Captain John M. Parker of Louisiana, the progressive vice presidential nominee, advocated continuance of the party organization regardless of the colonel's stand. Another, led by George W. Perkins, sought to win the committee to Roosevelt's views.

Colonel Roosevelt's letter in part follows:

"To the Progressive National Committee:

"Gentlemen: In accordance with the message I sent to the progressive national convention as soon as I had received the notification that it had nominated me for president, I now communicate to you my reasons for declining the honor which I so deeply appreciate. Since the adjournment of the convention, I have received between 2,000 and 3,000 letters and telegrams from men who had supported me for the nomination, the majority expressing the desire that I would refuse to run, while a minority urged that I should accept the nomination.

Praise for Progressives.

"Before speaking of anything else, I wish to express my heartiest and most unstinted admiration for the character and services of the men and women who made up the progressive national convention in 1916. I can give them no higher praise than to say that in all respects they stood level with the men and woman who in 1912 joined at Chicago to found the progressive party.

"The result of the terrible world war of the past two years have now made it evident to all who are willing to see, that in this country there must be spiritual and industrial preparedness, along the lines of efficiency, of loyal service to the nation, and of practical application of the precept that each man must be his brother's keeper.

Asks Support of Hughes.

"Mr. Hughes has shown in his career the instinct of efficiency which will guarantee that, under him, the government will once more work with vigor and force. He possesses that habit of straightforward thinking which means that his words will be correlated with his needs and translated into facts. His past career is the warrant for our belief that he will be the unfaltering opponent of that system of invisible government which finds expression in the domination of the party boss and the party machine. His past career is a guarantee that whatever he says before election will be made good by his acts after election. Morally, his public record shows him to be a man of unbending integrity; intellectually, it shows him to be a man of original and trained ability. We have the alternative of continuing in office an administration which has proved a lamentable failure, or of putting into office an administration which we have every reason to believe will function with efficiency for the interest and honor of all our people. I earnestly bespeak from my fellow progressives their ungrudging support of Mr. Hughes.

—"Theodore Roosevelt.

Sagamore Hill, June 22, 1916."

Negro Loses Nickel; Kills Four.

Osceola, Ark., June 27.—Enraged because he had lost a nickel in a dice game with two other negroes and inflamed with liquor, Henry Clark, 30 years old, seized a rifle and began shooting into a crowd of negroes gambling in a cabin on a farm near here. When he finished shooting, two negroes and two negresses were dead and four others were wounded, one of whom died later. Officers from Osceola surrounded Clark in a thicket near the scene of the shooting and he killed himself.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Duluth. — A series of store burglaries was solved here, when three boys, each 14 years old, were arrested and confessed, the police say. A fourth boy, 13 years old, is being sought.

Minneapolis.—Minneapolis has been chosen as the convention city in 1917 for the National Editorial association, now in session in New York city. For two years the Minnesota Editorial association has been attempting to obtain the national convention for Minneapolis.

Virginia. — President W. J. Olcott of the Oliver Iron Mining company, which operates a majority of the mines on the Mesaba range, has just announced that operations will be stopped in all underground properties if the strike of miners continues. He said the mines will not be reopened this year, if closed.

Cambridge. — Thirty thousand dollars is the toll of a fire which swept through the downtown district of Cambridge, when the fire department pump broke down, and fire fighters were forced to wait for aid from Isanti and Minneapolis. The cause of the fire is not known. The First National bank and the A. H. Borglund Furniture company's buildings were destroyed.

Winton. — Addie Nieme, 38 years old, a business man of Winton, was drowned and his wife and two small children narrowly escaped a similar death on Fall lake, when a motor boat in which the family was riding crashed into a partly sunken log, capsizing. Mrs. Nieme saved herself and 6 months' old baby, by turning on her back and swimming to shore with the baby held to her breast. The other child, a girl, only 6 years old, swam to shore unaided.

St. Paul. — The rapid development of manufacturing in Minnesota during the five-year period between 1909 and 1914 is shown in a bulletin issued by the bureau of census of the Department of Commerce. The figures were presented by William M. Stuart, chief statistician. The value of products was $493,354,000 in 1914, as compared to $409,420,000 in 1909, a gain of $83,934,000, or 20.5 per cent. The average for each plant was approximately $83,000 in 1914 and $74,000 in 1909.

Winona. — Clerk of Court Alvin Braley has learned that since October, 1914, Winona county has been exacting 20 cents too much from each couple licensed to marry. War revenue stamps of 10-cent denominations have been attached to certificates of marriage for both the bride and bridegroom, bringing the cost of a license to $2.45. Following a belated inquiry by the clerk, it was learned the stamps are not required under the provisions of the act. The government is about $200 ahead.

Detroit. — To better the breed of livestock and add impetus to the industry in Minnesota, was the keynote of the addresses made before members of the state and Red River Valley Live Stock Breeding association, who held their annual summer meeting here. Frank Jeffers of Red Lake Falls told of the conditions existing among farmers of Northern Minnesota and the changes that should be made. Members of the county associations told of the achievements of the past year.

Minneapolis.—P. J. Leeman of Minneapolis, in reporting for the executive council of the Minnesota Bankers' association, in session here, declared the organization was on a sound financial footing and had increased in membership until it is one of the largest state association of bankers in the country. The report of the secretary, G. H. Richards, was full of interest for the bankers, especially that part referring to the big strides taken by the association during the past year in the matter of business educational courses. He said the membership has reached 1,091, an increase of 120 since the last annual meeting.

Frank B. Kellogg has won the republican nomination for Senator. J. A. A. Burnquist will oppose Thomas P. Dwyer for Governor. Frankson is G. O. P. choice for Lieut. Governor. Daniel W. Lawler will oppose Kellogg. Justice Schaller apparently is beaten by W. B. Anderson and Judge Quinn. Lundeen wins over Smith for Congress in fifth district. Sidney Anderson is renominated in first Congressional district. Franklin P. Ellsworth of Mankato had no opposition in second district. C. R. Davis renominated in third Congressional district. E. J. Kelley, Jr., is the Democratic nominee. Reese, (rep.) and Van Dyke, (dem.) had no opposition in fourth district. Knutson wins in sixth. Volstad, (rep.) and Townsend, (dem.) had no opposition in seventh. Bitter fight in eighth district results in victory for Miller over C. B. Craig. Steenerson beats A. G. Anderson in ninth. Schall, (Progressive) to oppose N. M. Cronin, (Democrat) in tenth. Democrats nominate Thorson for Lieutenant Governor. Rines (Rep.) leads for state treasurer. Schmahl beats Sampson for Secretary of State.

Bemidji. — Communityism was the spirit prevailing at the Beltrami county fair grounds, when 1,000 men, women and children attended the annual picnic given by farmers for merchants of Bemidji. A dinner was served by the farm women at noon.

Winona. — George B. Stedman, prominent Democrat and former candidate for the state legislature in Winona county, crept from his bed while his wife slept, walked two miles to the town hall at Clyde, this county, removed a clothesline and hung himself in a shed in the rear of the structure.

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

Farmers and townspeople throughout Minnesota observed Good Roads day by doing their share in getting the bad spots in the roads in shape for hauling and pleasure travel

It is believed the immediate result of the movement will be the organization of a number of good roads' organizations which will continue work on the roads throughout the summer.

In several localities, last year, farmers gathered together four or five times in the year. The road work took on the nature of a picnic for women and children, the men joining for the picnic dinner.

Business in the towns of Elk River was suspended in the interest of good roads. Men were at work on the roads all day. Automobiles brought them to town for lunch and carried them back to the working places in the afternoon.

$100,000 For Guardsmen.

The state calamity board, a special board given this name on account of its function of meeting emergencies that are not foreseen, met in the Governor's room and arranged for the expenditure of not more than $100,000 to be placed at the disposal of Adjutant General Wood to mobilize, pay and equip the Minnesota national guards and provided authority for the expenditure of not more than $1,000 to exterminate the white pine blister rust, a fungus disease which has almost destroyed the white pine industry in parts of Europe and is now attacking Minnesota.

Both the necessity of mobilizing the state troops and the attacks of the white pine disease are characterized as calamities in the orders signed by the Governor, the state auditor and the state treasurer.

The expectation is that the sum of $100,000 will be much more than sufficient for the needs of the troops until such time as the Federal authorities muster in the national guard of Minnesota. Some of the money will be spent to provide water pipes at Fort Snelling and generally preparing the ground for encampment. Some of it will be used to move troops.

* * *

Tons of Food For Troops.

Ninety-five thousand pounds of fresh beef, 24,000 pounds of bacon and $150,000 pounds of flour will be purchased to feed for one month the 4,000 Minnesota militiamen, mobilized at Fort Snelling. Agents acting for Captain Joseph S. Hardin, commander at Fort Snelling, were at work in St. Paul purchasing the supplies. The government begins paying the food bills of the militiamen the minute they get on the Snelling reservation, and it is estimated that supplies can be purchased so that the rations per day per man will cost 28 cents.

* * *

Soldiers May Go to Range.

With serious trouble brewing at Virginia as a result of the iron miners' strike, and instructions having gone out to the strikers to arm themselves, plans are being considered by the Minnesota national guard to cope with an emergency. That developments on the range will not interfere with the preparations for Mexican border service, however, is indicated by the report a reserve guard probably will be organized here to meet the strike situation in the event of an emergency.

Preus May Resign.

J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, who is the captain of the quartermaster's department on the staff of Adjutant General Wood, may resign as state auditor if the guard is called to duty on the border. Auditor Preus said that he would regret to take the step, but that he thinks he will have to hand in his resignation if he goes with the guard to the Mexican border. It was suggested that a deputy could fill the place in the state office in case he went, but the auditor thought that would not be satisfactory.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. John A. Koenig, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

Confidence.

Why does this country tend always to belittle its wealth, its works, its men and its power to meet calamity? It does, and yet we are thought to be a people unembarrassed by modesty. Yankee boastfulness is a proverb in the world, but no Yankee ever told quite all the truth. He never dared, and, besides, he could not make himself believe the whole length and depth and breadth of it. Distrusting their own judgment, the American people lack confidence in their great estate. Their temperament is rich in daring, faith and optimism, but poor in confidence, which is a quality that comes with time. A young people perhaps should not have it. The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

"Sir," replied the indignant seeker after higher culture, "you misunderstand me. The interrogation I put to you was a mathematical problem which I thought might interest you."

"It does, it does," said the young man, as he twirled his light mustache, "but if it's a conundrum I give it up."

GRAPHIC STORY OF AMBUSHED TROOPS

Surviving Trooper Tells of Fight of Tenth Cavalry.

WERE OUTNUMBERED 5 TO 1

Caught by Mexican Machine Guns Which Opened Fire at Signal From Gomez—Horses Were Shot Down or Broke Away.

El Paso, Tex.—One of the most graphic stories in the history of the American army is that told by one of the four couriers sent by the commanding officer of the ambushed troops of the Tenth cavalry when he reached General Pershing's headquarters with his appeal for relief for his comrades. The following is the story he tells:

"We had been marching since early Wednesday morning when we reached the neighborhood of Carrizal. Capt. Charles T. Boyd was riding ahead of the column. Just behind him was Capt. Lewis S. Morey, Lieut. Henry R. Adair was further back with the column. There were 65 men in the troop.

Outnumbered 5 to 1.

"From our position we could see some Mexican soldiers in the village. Captain Boyd sent forward a messenger under a flag of truce to ask permission to enter the town in search of the bandits that we were hunting. Gen. Felix Gomez sent back word giving permission to enter.

"Gomez himself rode out to meet Captain Boyd. Captain Boyd gave the word for the column to advance. We were just starting forward when we noticed Mexican troops pouring out from behind different kinds of shelter—adobe houses and the like—and deploying to the right and left. It was battle formation. From the first glance we saw that they outnumbered us at least five to one.

"Captain Boyd noticed their movement. To any soldier that sort of thing can mean only that an attack is about to be made. I saw Captain Boyd motion to the Mexicans and make some remark about it to Gomez. Gomez wheeled his mount around and signaled with his hands. Then he made a dash for his own lines.

"At the same time a couple of machine guns, one at each end of the Mexican line, opened up on us. We were caught in our saddles in easy range, and we were good targets. I saw Captain Boyd fall. A moment later Captain Morey was wounded in the shoulder.

"Lieutenant Adair gave us the order to dismount. We got out of our saddles in a hurry. Then he told us to throw ourselves on our faces and return the fire. Someone got Gomez just as he was reaching his line. The next minute Lieutenant Adair was hit. Both he and Captain Boyd are dead, I believe.

Horses Going Down.

"The machine guns were still going. I could hear the bullets whizzing over us. Because of Lieutenant Adair's order we saved a lot of men. But the horses did not have the same luck. The bullets started to hit them, and they were going down as if their legs were suddenly cut out from under them.

"The others, stung by the bullets and kicked by the dying horses, began to rear and pluuge. The men in charge tried their best to hold them, but they broke away. Some of the men were killed trying to save their mounts.

"When the horses got away we were marooned. We fought back and prevented the Mexicans from advancing in spite of their advantage in numbers and the machine guns. We began to fall back toward the hills as well as we could.

"We recovered four horses and then the four of us were sent here to report. We left the rest of the troops in the hills. The retreat was slow because of the wounded. The Mexicans kept firing, but were kept away by the accurate rifle fire of our men."

Nervous Apprehension.

"They are not going to cut me up if I go to the hospital, are they?"

"Of course not, when you're going just for a rest. What makes you think they are?"

"Because when I called up the hospital a voice said 'Operator.'"

Little Nonsense Now and Then.

"I think it's very unkind the way some of those politicians make fun of the 'favorite sons,'" remarked Mrs. Twobble.

"Oh, I don't know about that," answered Mr. Twobble. "The average political convention is a nerve-racking affair and I presume the delegates feel that they are entitled to a certain amount of relaxation."

Germany and Her Waterways.

Although Germany has three times as many miles of railway in proportion to area as the United States, she has spent hundreds of millions of marks in the enlargement and improvement of her waterways. What the statesmen of Germany think of the importance of the waterways is shown by the fact that in the midst of the greatest war in all history, when the empire is fighting for its very life, they are not only maintaining and operating the waterways they already have, but are actually building more.

American Silo in Holland.

The first American ensilage tower in Holland, which was erected last year on the Johannahoeve farm at Oosterbeek by the Institute for Agricultural Improvements, has given such good results that two other towers are now to be built on the same farm, which will provide sufficient ensilage maize to keep the entire farm stock during next winter.

The head of the Johannahoeve project asserts that the American method is preferable to that hitherto in use there. An excellent fodder for all kinds of animals is thus produced, he says, while the losses by fermentation are considerably less. He comes to the conclusion that as many as 44 cows can be maintained on 37 acres by the new method, and that with exclusive stable feeding they might even be maintained on about 22½ acres, only an albuminous fodder needing to be added in the winter.

American Fur Heads Preferred.

A furrier at Kingston, Ont., states that the heads used for trimming furs are now imported from the United States, according to Consul Felix S. S. Johnson, who writes: "An effort was made to manufacture this class of goods in Canada, but the result was not a success. In the article received from the United States, the skin, which is moistened beforehand, is drawn over the head and dried and retains its form; that made in this country retains its moisture and the tongue and teeth in time drop out. There was also a great difference in the price, heads from the United States selling at $1.50 per gross and the Canadian at $2.50. With the duty and other charges the American article is higher in price than the domestic."

'Twas Better Thus.

WAS MYSTERY NO LONGER

Bridegroom's Admission Satisfied Small Boy as to the Disappearance of the Jelly.

It was a happy day for Algy when, after a courtship of many years, he sat at the wedding breakfast beside his wife.

Unfortunately, he was of a very shy temperament, but on this momentous occasion his nervousness was painful to behold. The long table was lined with the usual large number of admiring and criticizing friends, one of whom proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom.

But the climax came when the bridegroom rose to respond.

"On this—er—this—er—most suspicious — auspicious occasion," he jerked out, "I feel"—a long and embarrassing pause— "I feel too full for words." Having concluded this brilliant bit of oratory he sat down again.

"Great Caesar! I told you so," piped Algy's newly-acquired brother to his school chum, in a voice audible to all. "That's where all the jelly went to!"

Sorry for Husband.

A husband who says his wife chased him out of the house when he was clad in his night shirt and pursued him in the direction of an electric arc light admits that he spanked her with a fence picket. Considering the lack of distinction which marks the night shirt and the pitiless publicity which the arc light might have given the costume, it is easy to sympathize with the husband if his whole statement is true.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

United States Ahead Again.

While many of the most important electro-chemical and electro-metallurgical industries are of American origin, and have been developed chiefly in connection with the Niagara Falls power development, electric steel refining started originally in Europe, but at an early date all the noteworthy European electric steel furnaces were introduced into this country, and the work of the American steel man has left its mark on electric steel furnace designs, says the Electrical World. During the last year the increase in the number of American electric steel furnaces was 78 per cent, and as a result the United States is now leading all the countries in the world in the number of electric steel furnaces, while Germany held the leading place up to last year. On January 1, 1916, the United States had 73 electric steel furnaces in operation or under construction, compared with 53 in Germany and 46 in England.

Browning's Peculiar Eyes.

Browning's eyes were peculiar, one having a long focus, the other very short. He had the unusual accomplishment (try it and prove) of closing either eye without squinting and without any apparent effort, though sometimes on the street in strong sunshine his face would be a bit distorted. He did all his reading and writing with one eye, closing the long one as he sat down at his desk. He could see an immense distance. He never suffered with any pain in his eyes except once when as a boy he was trying to be a vegetarian in imitation of his youthful idol Shelley.—Boston Transcript.

They Stand Up—

Unlike common corn flakes, the New Post Toasties don't mush down when milk or cream is added.

And they have a charming new flavour—delicious, different, the true essence of the corn—not found in corn flakes heretofore.

The intense heat of the new process of manufacture raises tiny bubbles on each delicious brown flake and these little puffs are the identifying feature.

These new flakes are firmer, crisper, and don't crumble in the package—in comparison, ordinary corn flakes are as "chaff."

Surprised

Not since we received a surprise shower some weeks before we were married, have we experienced such an electric shock as we received Sunday afternoon, when a large company of friends scooped down upon us just as we were closing Sunday School and merrily sang out " a surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Young." They were all laden with something good to eat and we looked at each other in wonder and seemed rooted to the floor, for not in word or action had we received the least inkling what was in the air. After hearty handshakes and two gospel songs being sung, another surprise awaited us in the form of a substantial fund of $23.50 presented to us by Mrs. R. L. Olson in behalf of the donors in appreciation of the work we have tried to do.

Words seem to fail us now as then in expressing our heartfelt thanks for this fine gift and the kind and generous spirit in which it was given. May this brotherly feeling live on, each one trying to help his neighbor to a higher and better life.

A Pretty Home Wedding.

At 5 o'clock Monday afternoon July 3rd. 1916 at the home of the bride's mother Mrs. T. Sollom, her second daughter, Clara was united in marriage with A. L. Carlson. Just before the ceremony Miss Anna Thoraldson of Thief River Falls, very sweetly sang the solo "Oh Promise Me'," and as the strains of the Lohengren Wedding March, played by Miss Alexandra Thoraldson pealed forth, the bride and bridesmaid Miss Gunhild Sollom, decended the stairway and were met at the open doorway by the bridegroom and bestman, Bertil Sollom.

The beautiful and impressive ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church, that made this most worthy couple husband and wife, was spoken by Rev. G. O. Parish of Thief River Falls.

The bride wore a beautiful white satin with an over dress of silk Marquisette, trimmed with seeded pearls and carried a beautiful boquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was very prettily dressed in pink Crepe de chene.

After a delicious wedding supper, Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, accompanied by a few friends and relatives, departed that same day for Newfolden by auto where the bridal couple left on the flyer for Minneapolis to visit relatives. The bride has lived near and in Holt all her life and is a general favorite with all the young people. In her home she has been a loving and affectionate daughter and sister and has ever been faithful to all her duties. She will make an excellent house and home keeper and Mr. Carlson is to be congratulated on his choice. The groom has lived in Holt four or five years and is one of our up to date merchants. He is a fine gentleman and enjoys the confidence and respect of all.

The host of friends of this worthy couple wishes them the richest blessings that life affords. The wedding was a quiet and happy one, only the immediate family being present.

The People's Cash Store have decided to continue their special sale for another week. See their ad for the low prices they are giving.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to very much thank all who were so kind and helpful to me at the time of my fathers tragic death, at the time of the funeral and for the beautiful flowers for the casket.

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

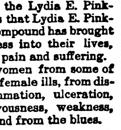
Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.



The average lazy man gets along so well in his old world that he encourages idleness in others.

Human Nature.

"Nobody—hod-durn him!—can stay in my hotel and sneer at our progressive little city!" snarled the landlord of the Petunia Tavern after he had kicked a guest out and hurled his gripsack after him—"He said that about all of the energy displayed by our citizens was in running for office!"

"But," we objected, "we have often heard you declare that this town was the habitat of more crooks, deadbeats, hypocrites, fools and gossips to the square inch than any other hamlet on the face of the earth."

"Yes, and it's so, too!" he returned. "But, by gosh, I live here and am privileged to find as much fault as I like with everything in town, but no stranger has a right to criticize anything!"—Kansas City Star.

Opossum Attends Church.

It is not often that a possum ventures on the pavement. He prefers earth. A real live opossum, however, has been caught in the heart of the downtown district beneath the steps of the Travis Park Methodist church.

How the possum ever found his way downtown without being discovered and shot no one knows. One of the bellboys took the possum to the hotel chef and the negro waiters indulged in a feast at which the piece de resistance was the possum flanked with yellow yam 'taters.—San Antonio (Tex.) ALLIED ASSAULTS TEAR GREAT GAPS IN GERMAN LINES

DRIVE BEGINS WITH BIGGEST ANGLO-FRENCH GAIN SINCE GERMAN RETREAT FROM GATES OF PARIS.

DEFENSES PENETRATED ON SIXTEEN MILE FRONT

Teuton First Line Positions Shattered by Furious Onslaughts—French Advance Simultaneously and Report "Equally Satisfactory" Gains —Still Advancing.

Berlin, July 3.—Repeated British and French attacks at many points on the German front were "everywhere repulsed," says an official statement from the war office.

London, July 3.—The supreme effort of the allies began with one of the greatest Anglo-French gains on the western front since the German retreat from the gates of Paris.

Two hours after British troops drove forward, they had captured 16 miles of German forward trenches north of the Somme, the war office announced in a brief bulletin.

French Co-Operate.

French troops, on the British right, struck at the same hour. The British war office announced that the French made "equally satisfactory" gains leaving to General Joffre the honor of announcing the full extent of the French successes.

At several points the Anglo-French troops are attacking the main second line, where the German troops shattered by the furious onslaught, are making a desperate stand.

Attack on 20-Mile Front.

The Anglo-French advance has reached its greatest depth along a 13-mile front extending from a point north of Albert to a point southeast of that village. The Anglo-French forces are driving eastward in the general direction of Cambral.

The British attack was made on a 20-mile front north of the Somme, after five days of one of the most terrific bombardments the world has ever known.

Allied Casualties Light.

With German advanced trenches firmly held, the British are pressing forward against the second line works. The latest dispatches to the war office said the battle was proceeding with the utmost violence on both the British and French fronts.

Many prisoners have been taken. Fragmentary dispatches from the front report the allied casualties have been light.

On the remainder of the British front raiding parties continue to harass the Germans, penetrating enemy defenses at many points, inflicting losses and taking prisoners.

Bombardment Concentrated.

The artillery bombardment of the last five days was concentrated with a degree of fury and a number of guns unprecedented in the region of Albert and the Somme, with the French cooperating to the south.

Reports received from the front five hours after the combined British and French offense was launched showed that the Allies had captured La Boiselle, Serre and Montauban, and Curul and Faviere woods.

The fighting has reached the main second line.

French Mortars Destructive.

These reports show that the French and British, at the points of their furthest advances, have broken through for more than five miles beyond the first German trenches. Montauban is 5½ miles east of the old British front, and Curlu wood is six miles southeast of Albert.

The British batteries now almost innumerable, took turns at smashing the German defenses, destroying communication trenches and blowing up ammunition depots. New trench mortars, particularly destructive, tore away wire entanglements, broke down parapets and opened the way for men with rifles and bayonets. Giant 15-inch guns prevented the Germans from bringing up supports, wrecking everything within range.

Strike Agitators Are Jailed

Hibbing, Minn., July 3.—Arrest of five strike leaders here on charges of assault and inciting riot marked the beginning of a new and vigorous policy by the authorities. The men under arrest, unable to furnish bail of $1,000 each, are in jail. Four hundred strikers gathered outside of the station in the night, but were kept moving by policemen, and there were no signs of disorder.

Munitions Burned; U. S. Investigates.

Seattle, Wash., July 3.—Officers of the coast artillery reserve corps and police have begun an investigation of the fire which destroyed the Oriental dock here with its $500,000 worth of goods. The principal loss was sustained by the United States government, which had huge quantities of ammunition and other military supplies in the dock warehouse. During the fire an eight inch shell exploded and a fragment struck and instantly killed an unidentified 11 year old boy standing in the crowd.

M'CUMBER'S LEAD OVER HANNA 2 TO 1, FRAZIER WINS OUT

ENTIRE STATE TICKET OF REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES ENDORSED BY FARMERS LEAGUE IS NOMINATED.

KRAABEL CHOICE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Thomas Hall Defeats J. L. Hjort for Secretary of State, William Langar Wins Over H. J. Linde for Attorney Generals, S. A. Olsness Beats Walter Taylor.

Fargo, N. D., July 1.—Every candidate on the republican state ticket bearing the indorsement of the Nonpartisan league won in Wednesday's primaries. Before the flood of nonpartisan votes such prominent figures in state official circles as Walter Taylor, insurance commissioner for six years; Carl Jorgenson, state auditor for four years; H. J. Linde, attorney general for two years, and Robert F. Flint, commissioner of agriculture and labor, were swept into private life.

Frazier 8,000 Ahead.

The floor crest carried to the front men heretofore almost unknown in the state. It placed Lynn Frazier of Hoople, a farmer who has had no political experience outside of his own township, in nomination for governor, with a plurality over U. L. Burdick of at least 8,000, and which may grow into a majority over both Burdick and J. H. Fraine, prominent for years in North Dakota politics.

Some Majorities Reach 10,000.

Other league candidates have even greater majorities than Frazier, in some instances 10,000. The republican ticket as nominated is:

United States senator, Porter J. McCumber; congress, first district, H. T. Helgesen; second district, George M. Young; third district, P. D. Norton; governor, Lynn J. Frazier, lieutenant governor, A. T. Kraabel; attorney general, William Langer; secretary of state, Thomas Hall; auditor, Carl Kositzky; commissioner of insurance, S. A. Olsness; commissioner of agriculture and labor, J. N. Hagen; railroad commissioners, M. P. Johnson, Charles W. Bleick and S. J. Aandahl.

WILLIAM LANGER,

William Langer, Morton County States Attorney, has defeated H. J. Linde for the Republican nomination for attorney general.

Justices in Doubt.

For justices of the supreme court, J. E. Robinson, L. E. Birdzell and R. H. Grace, indorsed by the nonpartisan league, have been nominated by a big margin over their rivals. Justice C. J. Fisk has been nominated also, but the other two members of the judiciary ticket are not yet definitely decided.

D. H. McArthur, of Fargo, seems definitely assured of the democratic nomination for governor. He has a comfortable lead over L. A. Platou, his nearest rival, who is running just ahead of H. L. Halvorson. The split in the Platou forces, caused by the entrance of Halvorson seems to have been the factor that brought about McArthur's success. For United States senator, John Burke has been nominated.

Pollock Leads Cole.

Judge Charles M. Pollock, of Fargo, known as the "father of prohibition" in North Dakota, leads A. T. Cole by only 300 votes for the judicial nomination to succeed himself. Cole's strength is the greatest single feature of the primaries.

Iowa "Slackers" Decide to Enlist.

Des Moines, July 1.—While the 3,500 infantrymen and artillerymen, at Camp Dodge, drilled and awaited orders, they were cheered by reports from North Liberty that the First Iowa cavalry squadron had had a change of heart and would enlist. Reports reaching the cavalrymen that "slackers" at Camp Dodge had yellow stripes of iodine painted on their backs, got up the dander of Maj. Ralph P. Howell's men and nearly all of them said they would take the federal oath.

SNAKE IN FIGHT WITH YOUNG MAN

Comes Off Victorious in Desperate Battle Near a Pennsylvania Town.

LOSER IS IN HOSPITAL

Youth Starts Fight and Finds Reptile Only Too Eager for Combat—Bitten in the Hand, Man Gives Up.

Harrisburg, Pa.—A young man engaged in a fight with a big snake near Penbrook. In the end the serpent was victorious, getting off without any harm, while the man was severely bitten. The loser in the fight, Albert Miller, nineteen years old, of Penbrook, went to the Harrisburg hospital, where efforts were made to prevent blood poisoning.

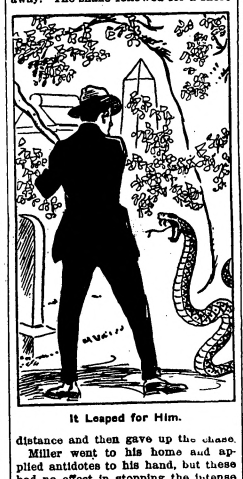
When Miller was walking through the Penbrook cemetery recently, passing a large tree he saw a snake about four or five feet in length, with its fangs protruding and evidently ready to make an attack on him.

The youth did not wait for the reptile to act, but, instead, picked up a club and made for it. He dealt it a blow, but that only had the effect of inciting the snake, and it leaped for him.

Snake Eager to Continue.

Then came the battle. Lunging its fangs to their full extent, the serpent tried time and again to sink them into the young man's body, but for a time the youth managed to get away. Miller, however, kept wielding the club, and while so doing the snake shot its poisoned prongs into the youth's hand.

The snake seemed eager to continue the battle, but Miller started running away. The snake followed for a short distance and then gave up the chase.



It Leaped for Him.

Miller went to his home and applied antidotes to his hand, but these had no effect in stopping the intense pain which he suffered. Later he called upon a physician and the latter treated the injured member.

In the course of time the hand and arm began swelling, and when they became almost twice their normal size, Miller decided to come to Harrisburg to the hospital. The doctors hope to get the poison out of his system.

FOOT IN FROG; FACES DEATH

Directed Work of Rescue After Twenty-Four Cars Mangled Him.

Altoona, Pa.—After preparing to make a coupling in the Pennsylvania yards here, Brakeman H. Ward Hall slipped from his car and the next instant his right foot was caught in a switch frog. He struggled to free himself, but could not.

Then he tried frantically to save himself by signaling the engineer, who was pushing a draft of 24 cars toward him, but the man on the locomotive could not see him.

When members of his crew found him later, his right arm and right leg had been severed and he was pinned under a big steel car, but still conscious. Every car had run over him.

He directed the work of the men who were rescuing him, and was rushed to the hospital, where he died four hours later.

OLD WOMAN SEES WONDERS

First View of Electric Car, Elevator and Moving Pictures on Visit to City.

Columbus, O.—Mrs. Emily Booker, seventy years of age, a former slave, in Columbus visiting relatives, for the first time saw an electric car, an elevator, a moving picture show, and a building more than two stories in height. Her relatives gave her the first knowledge she had that a war is in progress in Europe. Mrs. Booker's home is near Middletown, Ky., 30 miles from a railroad, and almost as far from a highway. Once, several years ago, she saw a party of tourists in an automobile which had strayed from the road through the wilderness in which she had lived all her life.

CANADA'S EXCELLENT FINANCIAL STANDING

Bank Clearings Increase—Agriculture Is a Paying Industry—Manufactures Doing Well.

"Business experts assert that Canada is on the threshold of perhaps the most prosperous era in her history. The unprecedented value of the farm products of 1915, together with the very large output of factories working on munitions of war has suddenly brought the country into a position, financially, scarcely hoped for as a nation for years to come. Export surplus of $50,000,000 a month is making Canada very strong in cash."—Extract from official bulletin of February 11, 1916.

The response by the farmers of Canada to the call for increased production in 1915 was a total net output exceeding one billion dollars, an increase over normal years of at least three hundred millions. The three Prairie Provinces contributed probably nearly one-half of the total product.

The wheat crop was worth $310,000,000, and accounted for about 30 per cent of the total agricultural product. Other things counted also. Look at dairying. In Ontario the dairy production was increased 20 per cent, and prices were over 10 per cent ahead of 1914. Other provinces shared in the increase, especially Alberta, Saskatchewan, Quebec and Nova Scotia. The dairy cow was "on the job" in 1915. So also were the beef cattle, the pigs and the hens.

It is not fair to the farmers of the Prairies to call the wheat crop of 1915 a "miracle" crop. The farmers cultivated more land and gave attention to their seed. Providence gave them favorable weather. Then they toiled early and late in the harvesting and threshing. Good cultivation gave bigger yields than careless work, 45 bushels as against 25.

The wealth of Western Canada is by no means all in its wheat crop. If the country had no wheat at all it would still be famous as a land of successful farmers on account of its stock production. From one shipping point (High River, Alberta) over $75,000.00 worth of horses have been sold in the last two months. The average price to the farmer has been about $175.00 per head. According to Government returns there are a million and a half horses in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, worth probably $150,000,000.

The investments which farmers of Western Canada are making in livestock and farm improvements are good evidence of the fact that they have money for these purposes. It is apparent, however, that they are also spending some of their profits on those things which will bring greater comfort and enjoyment to themselves, their wives and their families. The automobile trade all through the country is particularly active, and farmers are the biggest buyers. A recent report of the Saskatoon district shows that in two months a million dollars' worth of automobiles have been sold, largely to farmers. Nor are all of these cars of the cheaper makes; some high-priced machines are in demand.

Bank clearings throughout the Western Provinces show greater commercial activity than at the same season in 1915 or 1914, the increase for the last week of February being $8,000,000 and almost $9,000,000, respectively, for the first week of March $15,000,000 over 1915 and $18,000,000 over 1914. The same excellent story comes from Moose Jaw, Sask., where they showed from 40 to 100 per cent over the previous year. Calgary, Alta., bank clearings continue to reflect the greatly improved business conditions as compared with a year ago. Canada's bank clearings for the month of February, 1916, were the greatest for any February in the country's history. The totals amounted to $664,222,000.00, as compared with $487,296,000.00 for the same month a year ago. An increase of $177,000,000.00 in bank clearings for the month tells its own story of the country's prosperity.—Advertisement.

Good Job.

Farmer—Do you want a job digging potatoes?

Tired Tom—Yes, I do, if it's digging them out of gravy you mean.

But a man never has the same interest in life after he loses the principal he had in the bank.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from your druggist, and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

Achy Joints Give Warning

A creaky joint often predicts rain. It may also mean that the kidneys are not filtering the poisonous uric acid from the blood. Bad backs, rheumatic pains, sore, aching joints, headaches, dizziness and urinary disorders are all effects of weak kidneys and if nothing is done, there's danger of more serious trouble. STATE BREVITIES

Bemidji.—Chippewa Indians of this section have offered to organize a battalion of warriors for service in Mexico if a call for volunteers is made by the President. Twenty Indians at Red Lake reservation are in charge of the tentative recruiting.

Lewisville. — Henry Goblinske lies dead from a shot fired by his own hand and William Lupke, a farmer, is severely wounded, the result of an attempt upon his life by Goblinske, who was enraged over the refusal to allow him to call on Lupke's daughter.

Owatonna.—This city opened its gates and welcomed the Minnesota Music Teachers' association, which convened at Pillsbury academy. Harry Phillips of Macalester college, president, made the opening address. A committee of ten was appointed to plan increased membership.

Crookston.—The Polk County Old Settlers' association held a picnic near here last Thursday. David H. Turner, who was born in St. Paul in 1857, had charge of the program. A. L. Larpenteur of St. Paul was invited. George H. Hazzard of St. Paul, secretary of the Minnesota Territorial Pioneer association made an address.

Winona. — After the Minnesota camp of the order of Maccabees went on record in favor of extending the insurance benefits to all members who are national guardsmen, word was received the supreme tent has called a special review for August 7, in which the question will be considered.

St. Paul.—Recruiting the Minnesota naval militia was given a stimulus at a meeting at the state capitol when eight men, all of whom had seen service in the United States navy, volunteered, after an address by Lieutenant Joseph Carhart, commanding the second division, Duluth. Several others present said they probably would enlist later.

Minneapolis, Minn.— Early Friday Company A, Third regiment, Minnesota National guard came to company formation on the parade in front of the post headquarters at Camp Bobleter, Fort Snelling. The men faced the mustering in board of the United States army and the oath of federal service was administered by the regular army men.

St. Paul. — Letters will be sent to University of Minnesota students who, during the past five years, have had military training, urging them to join A battery, First Field artillery, which is being reorganized with Wallace Cole as captain. Fletcher Rockwood, who was senior first lieutenant of the university battery when he graduated a year ago, will be senior first lieutenant of the reorganized battery.

Minneapolis.—Directors of the industrial survey being taken in Minnesota as a portion of the program launched by the naval consulting board of the United States are aroused over the apparent apathy with which their agents are being met by manufacturers in the state. About 400 reports have been received from the field aides, of which there are 225, but the directors assert many more should have come in by this time.

Owatonna. — J. Austin Williams of Minneapolis was elected president of the Minnesota Music Teachers' association at the final session of the 1916 meeting here. Caroline B. Smith, Winona, was chosen first vice president; Rollin Pease, St. Paul, second vice president and editor of Minnesota Music; Carl Youngdahl, Minneapolis, secretary and treasurer, and Buchanan Morton, Duluth, auditor. Winona was selected as the 1917 meeting place.

Stillwater. — N. D. Smith, agent of the Omaha railroad at this place and formerly traveling freight agent for the Omaha, died suddenly shortly after going to work. He was seized with what he described as a peculiar choking sensation. He was removed to his home and died 20 minutes later. He was 50 years old. A widow and grown up son, also connected with the Omaha road at South Stillwater, survive him. Mr. Smith had been connected with the Omaha for over 30 years.

St. Paul. -- More than five hundred teachers, preachers, church officials, leaders in farmers' clubs and others interested in community work are planning to attend the third annual Minnesota Rural-Life Conference to be in session at University Farm, St. Paul, July 24 to 28. General discussions, addresses and conferences will make up the week's program. Talks on the community, agricultural conditions, the country church and the consolidated school will make up the general program.

Cass Lake. -- Upstate editors, their wives and invited friends from other section of Minnesota will visit the Chippewa Indians Aug. 5 and 6, auto through the Minnesota forest reserve and participate in an old fashioned basket picnic, when the annual outing of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association is held at Cass Lake. Secretary A. G. Rutledge will work out the details of the outing with the cooperation of Cass Lake newspaper men. Local subcommittees, including a delegation of women, will be appointed.

Virginia.—If any other striker on the Mesabi range is killed or injured by mine guards, reprisals will be exacted in the same proportion from those responsible. The old Mosiac law, in the form of an oath administered by Carlo Tresco, I. W. W. leader, was adopted at the grave side of John Alar by 2,000 strikers with their right hands raised aloft. "An eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth, a life for a life" were the words repeated solemnly by Tresco. The incident was a climax to one of the most remarkable funerals and parades ever held in the Northwest.

IRON MINES ON RANGE UNDER STATE LEASE SHIPPING LITTLE ORE, PREUS HEARS.

EVENTS AT STATE CAPITOL

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

State revenues of iron ore property operated under state lease will be materially cut, it is expected, as the result of the miners' strike on the iron range. This is the opinion of State Auditor Preus, who has received word from F. A. Wildes, state mine inspector, that not an underground mine on the range was in operation. Of 33 mines operated under state lease, 12 are underground property.

Mr. Wildes informed the state auditor that not a pound of ore has been shipped from these mines in a week, and that the strike was spreading. He regarded the situation as serious. Many underground mines which employed from 50 to 60 men, he said, now are using only two or three. The remainder have been driven away by intimidation.

It was expected that this would be the banner year on the iron range. State royalties alone, it was believed, would reach $750,000. Unless the strike is ended soon, the state revenues will fall far below that figure

Governor Visits Camp.

Governor Burnquist paid his first visit to Camp Bobleter, when he conferred with Brigadier General A. W. Wright, in command of the brigade camp.

There were no formalities in connection with the Governor's visit, and it was stated he called to inquire as to the condition of the troops and what steps, if any, should be taken to provide all their needs

The equipment problem, which caused many of the soldiers to sleep without blankets the first night, was solved in part when some new equipment was provided. Several carloads of equipment from Federal quartermaster depots arrived at the fort.

The Wheat Yield Tells the Story

of Western Canada's Rapid Progress

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

The heavy crops in Western Canada have caused new records to be made in the handling of grains by railroads. For, while the movement of these heavy shipments has been wonderfully rapid, the resources of the different roads, despite enlarged equipments and increased facilities, have been strained as never before, and previous records have thus been broken in all directions.

The largest Canadian wheat shipments through New York ever known are reported for the period up to October 15th, upwards of four and a quarter million bushels being exported in less than six weeks, and this was but the overflow of shipments to Montreal, through which point shipments were much larger than to New York.

Yields as high as 60 bushels of wheat per acre are reported from all parts of the country; while yields of 45 bushels per acre are common.

Thousands of American farmers have taken part in this wonderful production. Land prices are still low and free homestead lands are easily secured in good localities, convenient to churches, schools, markets, railways, etc.

There is no war tax on land and no conscription.

Typewriter Service in Rural Communities

The typewriter is coming into more extended use in rural communities because of the assistance it renders to all classes of people. Here are a few examples of the possibilities of service:

The Farmer: Think of the possibilities of selling produce by the means of typewritten letters sent out to customers? Typewritten letters give the sender a business standing with the people who receive them and also enable the keeping of carbon copies of the correspondence, which many times does away with misunderstandings and lawsuits.

The General Store Merchant: More prompt and courteous treatment is likely to be accorded his orders and correspondence with the City jobber and manufacturer if his letters are typewritten.

In The Home: The boy or girl who is intending to follow a business career can secure no better start than a knowledge of typewriter operating. Children who learn to use the typewriter learn spelling at the same time. The housewife finds it a great convenience in writing recipes and for general correspondence.

The Minister: No Clergyman should be without a typewriter. It is of great assistance in preparing sermons and writing the many letters that a pastor has to write.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP
To Remove "For Rent" Signs

By E. T. TOBEY
President Real Estate Bureau
Little Rock, Ark.

It is not surprising that houses which are for rent should be without tenants, because in most cases such houses are unpainted, the steps are rickety and the porches not in repair.

The number of vacant houses in any city is largely due to the negligence of the landlord himself. I recently took two ladies out, trying to find for them a desirable six or seven-room house to rent. I was unable to find anything to suit them, either on my own list or on the lists of other real estate firms, and these ladies were not exacting in their wants. They were shown a few houses of the desired size, but the houses were not in good condition. It is true that some of the landlords say they are willing to make certain repairs for a good tenant, but it has been my experience after years in the business, that it is best to put your house in attractive shape first and you will quickly get a tenant.

Houses that are kept repaired and painted not only rent better, but they greatly improve the looks of the city.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP

Let's Make Our Town Attractive, Sanitary and Safe.

An editorial by BRUCE BARTON in "Every Week."

I HAVE in mind two towns. Entering one, the railroad runs between two rows of dirty back yards filled with tin cans and rubbish. Entering the other, it passes houses neatly painted, back yards with flowers in them, and streets swept clean.

These two towns had the same population five years ago. But recently two new factories have moved to one of them; real estate values have advanced; new houses are being built; everybody is prosperous and happy.

And the residents of the other town cannot understand their "bad luck."

A real "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign would have taken the "bad luck" town out of its rut.

This year more than 6,000 cities and towns in the United States are conducting "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigns.

Many men and women go through life without ever doing anything for their community. "Clean Up and Paint Up" offers you your chance.

The greatest miracles of modern times have been performed with bonfires, drain pipes, soap and paint. The Philippines have been made a healthier place to live in than the average American town. Typhoid has been stamped out of Serbia. The Panama Canal zone has been transformed from a dismal unhealthy swamp to a wholesome place for homes.

Last year Cleveland, in its "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign, disposed of refuse sufficient to fill a train three and one-half miles long.

Another middle western town gathered its boys together, and, by offering a reward for each 100 tin cans, abolished its unsightly back yards in a single day.

"There is no better test of the civilization of a community than this: How much paint does it use?"

A wise man said that.

It is not given to you to found a religion or make a great invention or discover a new continent.

But you can make your town a cleaner, better place to live in. And by so doing you give a little push to the chariot of civilization.

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employes, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railways be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:

1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employes are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employes as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employes, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employes, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

S. Borsheim Seriously Injured.

About 4 o'clock Friday afternoon when Miss Olga Flister, a stepdaughter of H. Germenson went after their mail which is put in the same box with Mr. Borsheim's, she found the aged gentleman lying on the floor almost unconscious and his head covered with blood. Mr. Borsheim had been plowing during the forenoon and about 10 or 11 o'clock it is supposed a clevis broke on the whiffletree and he was drawn across the plow by the lines which were around him and was thrown on the front part of the plow cutting a deep gash to the bone in his forehead. In some way he managed to get the horses in the barn, but must must have fainted there as his hair was full of straw. He evidently went to the house to telephone for help when his strength failed him. Miss Flister immediately telephoned Mr. Boersheim's daughter, Mrs. Alfred Amderson and the nearest neighbor J. E. Erickson. Guy Anderson and Mr. Erickson's folks reached the house at about the same time. Dr. Mellby was called and the injured man was brot to the Alfred Anderson home where good nursing, with the doctor's care is making the patient comfortable and it is expected that Mr. Borsheim will soon be around again.

WESTERN CANADA AND THE LAND-HUNGRY

It Is Essentially an Agricultural Country.

Western Canada is the Mecca of the land-hungry man who wishes to earn a good living from the soil and save up money to take care of him in his old age without paying a fancy price for the privilege.

Western Canada is the great wheat producing section of the North American continent, with an average production of more than 30 bushels to the acre as compared with an average of 17 bushels to the acre in the States.

Wheat raising can hardly be made profitable on land that costs from $50 an acre up unless such land will produce a much higher than a 17 bushel average, or unless the price of the cereal reaches an excessive figure.

The initial investment of $50 an acre is more than the average man can afford to make if he expects to raise wheat and to make a success of it.

A good homestead of 160 acres can still be secured free in Western Canada and additional land admirably suited to the raising of wheat can be secured at so low a cost per acre that it can be made extremely profitable.

No other part of the world offers such tremendous opportunities at the present time to the ambitious young farmer as the three great provinces of Western Canada.

It is worth the while of the land-hungry man to cease his depressing search for local cheap land or for land that is not entirely worked out by long cropping and to look outside his own district. Western Canada is a country that should receive the consideration of all such men. The Western Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are essentially agricultural territory.

Out of 478 million acres there are 180 million acres of first-class agricultural land actually available for development—a block three and a half times as large as the total land area of Minnesota, and equal to the combined land areas of Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana.

But whereas the population of the five states mentioned is fifteen million people, the population of Western Canada is only about one and three-quarter millions.

It has been said that the average yield per acre of wheat in the United States last year was 17 bushels. This average does not, of course, represent the efficiency which may have been reached by individual farmers or by individual states. However, place against this figure the fact that the 1915 Western Canadian average—the average from nearly twelve million acres—was over 30 bushels. In the case of the Province of Alberta, the average reached 32.84 bushels per acre.

There are already a large number of American farmers in Western Canada, so that the newcomer could never—overlooking the fact that the same language is spoken—feel himself in an alien country. There seems, in fact, a tendency to establish little colonies composed of those coming from the same sections. The characteristics of the country, and the climate and season, are very much the same as in Minnesota or North Dakota. Social conditions bear a family resemblance. Education is free, and is good; its cost being defrayed partly by taxation, partly by grants from the Canadian Government, from the sales of school lands, of which, when the country was first surveyed, two sections in every township were allocated. Taxation in every rural district, in many towns and cities, is based practically on land values alone, improvements of all kinds being exempted.—Advertisement.

"Why, I hooted, of course."

For sores, apply Hanford's Balsam lightly. The older the case the longer it will take, but it will help the hard cases, even after other remedies fail. Adv.

FRENCH CONTINUE GREAT OFFENSIVE; TROOPS NEAR GOAL

TROOPS WITHIN ONE MILE OF PERONNE—IMPORTANT RAILWAY CENTER AT MERCY OF ANGLO-FRENCH GUNS.

FALL OF CITY IS BELIEVED QUESTION OF FEW HOURS

French Lines Drawn Close—Small Field Guns Now Within Easy Range of Historic Town—Berlin Claims Russians Checked in East And Town Taken in West.

Berlin, July 11.—The capture of Trones wood, La Maisonette farm and the village of Barleux by German troops was announced by the war office in its report on operations along the western front.

The Germans have checked the Russian forces, advancing in Volhynia in the direction of Kovel, the war office announced.

The Russian troops moving toward the Stokhod line were everywhere repulsed.

Within One Mile of Peronne.

Paris, July 11.—The French have advanced their line south of the Somme a mile and a half, capturing the German third line positions along a length of three and one-half miles, and are now within a mile of Peronne. French critics believe that the capture of Peronne now is a question almost of hours.

By advancing in the region of Barleux, the French brought up their right wing to within less than two miles of the Somme south of Peronne. The village of Blaches, captured in the night lunge, lies less than a mile northwest of Peronne on the Somme.

The French now threaten in their next burst on the south bank of the Somme to squeeze the Germans out of all their positions west of the river in the bend of the Somme. The Germans already have withdrawn their heavy guns to the east bank of the river.

The historic city of Peronne is at the mercy of French guns. French lines are now drawn so close that not only long range pieces, but small field guns are placed within easy range of the Peronne railway station.

Great Gain in Week.

During the first eight days of the great allied offensive the French have advanced on a 10 mile front to a depth of from three to five miles, it was stated. The greatest advance was made along the south bank of the Somme, where the capture of Blaches advanced the French front nearly six miles from its former position.

The war office reported a lull on the French front north of the Somme.

A new attack was launched in the Champagne by the French. The war office announced the capture of trenches over a front of 500 meters.

REFUSE TO JOIN VILLA; MEXICANS MUTILATED

Tops of Ears Cut Off, De Facto Leader Hears—Several Hundred Branded —General Mutiny Planned.

El Paso, Texas, July 11.—Cutting off the top of one ear, Villistas are branding Mexicans who refuse to join them against the de facto government, General Gonzales of Juarez has informed state department agents. Several hundred men in Southern Chihuahua have already been mutilated in this manner, Gonzales stated.

Reports of a large Villa force moving toward the Texas Big Bend country, rumors of revolt in the Carranzista ranks, indications of a Villista victory south of Jiminez and lifting of the embargo on foodstuffs and fuel to Mexico opened the day's Mexican developments here.

Former Villistas to the number of 5,000, now in the Carranza army, are reported to have laid plans to mutiny.

Tries to Kill Argentine Ruler.

Buenos Aires, July 11.—An attempt to assassinate President de la Plaza was made by a self-styled anarchist. The president was standing on a balcony of the government building, reviewing some troops, when a man in the crowd of spectators suddenly drew a revolver and fired at him. The shot went wild and the would-be assassin was arrested.

American Refugees Land.

San Francisco, July 11.—Thirty nine American refugees from Guadalajara, Mex., have arrived here aboard the Pacific mail steamer San Jose. The party was in charge of William B. Davis, American vice consul at Guadalajara.

70,000 U. S. Troops On Border.

San Antonio, July 11.—The United States now has more than 70,000 troops on the Mexican border. This army is being constantly increased by the arrival of militiamen. The recent raids in this Big Bend country, and the reports that a large band of Villistas is headed that way, has caused General Funston to plan the disposition of most of the national guardsmen in that region. The Big Bend country presents great difficulties to the maintenance of an army, as each town must be reached by motor trucks.

AUSTRIANS IN TRAP ON EASTERN FRONT; CZAR'S ARMY GAINS

TRY TO SQUEEZE ENEMY AGAINST CARPATHIANS

Russians Catch Austrians in Vise—Aeroplane Scouts Report Withdrawal of Heavy Artillery on Right Wing—Kaiser's Allies Prepare for General Retreat.

Petrograd, July 10.—An Austrian force estimated at between 20,000 and 30,000 has been cut off by the Russians southwest of Kolomea. The Austrians were massed east of the railway leading southward through Jablonitza pass.

The sudden dash of a Russian infantry body that seized the railway station of Mikluiczvn cut off their retreat to the south. The right wing of the same Russian army, advancing westward upon Nadovorna severed their connection with the Austrian forces to the north.

Scouts Report Retreat.

The latest reports to the war office said that Russian troops were attempting to squeeze the Austrians against the foothills of the Carpathians and effect their capture before they can escape through the mountain passes.

Russian aeroplane scouts report the withdrawal of enemy heavy artillery on the right wing of General von Bothmer's Austro-German army. There are other indications that Von Bothmer, hard pressed by the Russians, advancing on Nadovorna and Stanislau, is preparing to fall back on the whole Galician front.

Slavs Take Villages.

From the Volhynian battle ground northward, the Germans continue a most stubborn defense. Both on the Riga-Dvinsk front and in the fighting around Sokul, where the Russians have made further progress, the enemy is counterattacking with great vigor.

The Russian advance in the Czartorysk region in which the attacking German troops were thrown back yesterday, has been pushed further. The war office has announced the capture of villages of Dolzyca and Gruziatyn. The number of German and Austrian prisoners continue to increase.

Gruziatyn is 30 miles southwest of Kovel. Dolzyca is on the main road from Kolki to Maniewicze station on the Kovel-Sarney railway, the capture of which has been reported.

BANDITS REPORTED ON WAY TO RAID BORDER

Villistas Rushing Northward Toward Big Bend According to Information Received in El Paso.

El Paso, July 10.—Villistas are rushing toward the Big Bend to raid American towns, according to information received here.

Sweeping across the Chihuahua wastes from Falomir, toward La Mula pass, a band of Villistas of unknown strength is reported to be moving toward Ojinaga and the small American settlements in the Big Bend border country.

Villa's "Wounds" Healed.

It is said that Villa's wounds were caused by a bullet that passed through the back muscles of both thighs without striking a bone and that Villa has recovered sufficiently to walk with a limp and to ride with greater ease, the statement said.

The bandits are believed to be the same of whom Carranza warned Secretary Lansing.

NEW BLOCKADE REGULATIONS

Royal Order in Council Issued by King George of England.

London, July 10.—King George has issued a royal order in council withdrawing all previous orders in council under the declaration of London and announcing new principles under which the blockage of Germany will be conducted.

The new order-in-council stipulates that the hostile destination of any ship carrying contraband of war is presumed until contrary is shown. This stipulation permits British warships to hold up suspected neutral ships which must then offer proof that their cargoes are not ultimately destined for enemy countries to avoid seizure.

Austrian Retreat Cut Off.

Petrograd, July 10.—An Austrian force estimated at between 20,000 and 30,000 has been cut off by the Russians southwest of Kolomea. The Austrians were massed east of the railway leading southward through Jablonitza pass. The sudden dash of a Russian infantry body that seized the railway station of Mikluiczyn cut off their retreat to the south. The right wing of the same Russian army, advancing westward upon Nadvorna severed their connection with the Austrian forces to the north.

HEAT FLASHES, DIZZY, NERVOUS

Mrs. Wynn Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her During Change of Life.

Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. LENA WYNN, 2812 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness.

For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Lazy Sexton.

Here is the story of a gravedigger who, after hard toil at a grave, found all his labor in vain owing to the soil slipping and almost filling in the grave again.

After indulging in such language as a church sexton might reasonably use, he got a bright idea.

Placing his cap and jacket near the edge of the grave aond hiding his spade, he forthwith proceeded to hide himself.

In a few minutes up came a visitor to the graveyard. Seeing the fallen-in grave and the cap and jacket, he raised an alarm that the sexton was buried alive. Brawny arms and spades were soon forthcoming, and in a short time the grave was once more dug out, but no sexton was found.

Their perplexity gave way to indignation when the sexton emerged from a clump of trees with a pleased grin on his face and thanked them!

River Above Suspicion.

Count One for Small Boy.

A small boy astride of a donkey was taking some supplies to an army camp in Texas not long ago, and got there just as a detachment of soldiers, preceded by a band, was marching past.

The lad dismounted and held the bridle of the donkey tightly in his hand.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Washington, D. C. — A statement made public by the census bureau shows that there are 505,187 able-bodied men in Minnesota capable of performing military service.

Kellogg. — After sixty years' continuous residence on a farm near Kellogg, Minn., taken up as a homestead, Mrs. Margaret Toomey Keating died yesterday. She was 81 years old.

Duluth. — June proved to be the record ore month of the Great Lakes, with total shipments from the Lake Superior district of 9,507,576 tons. Shipments since opening of navigation are 19,615,567 tons.

Brainerd. — Teaching a friend how to swim cost the life of Ben Arnold of Brainerd at Clark lake, when both encountered deep water. His companion struggled to safety. Efforts to resuscitate Arnold with a pulmotor failed.

Minneapolis. — Dr. J. Frank Corbett, associate professor of surgery at the University of Minnesota, has left for Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, to take up his duties as a member of the regular army reserve medical corps.

Fairmont. — Judge J. H. Quinn has filed an order denying a new trial to Ole O. Solem, convicted recently of having poisoned his mother-in-law and given a life sentence at Stillwater. His attorneys will prepare an appeal to the supreme court.

Winona. — Clad in a pair of overalls and a blue jacket, Joseph Meyer, who was run out of Co. C, Second infantry, at Camp Bobleter, when he refused to take the Federal oath, arrived in Winona on the blind baggage of a local passenger train.

St. Paul. — A personal bond of $200,000 for Louis W. Hill, as administrator of the estate of his father, James J. Hill, has been filed with Clerk Fred Gosewisch of the Ramsey county probate court. Judge E. W. Bazille formally appointed Mr. Hill administrator.

Hibbing. — Raiding a shack in the Carson lake locality, near Hibbing, where is located the Leetonia mine, officers of the sheriff's force in the Hibbing district discovered one shotgun, two loaded rifles, two knives and a brickbat, marked with the letters I. W. W.

St. Paul. — At a meeting of Northern Minnesota Boosters, held at the Capitol, plans were discussed for a six days' tour of Southern Minnesota, in the interest of Constitutional amendment No. 1, which provides for a revolving fund for the reclamation of state lands and which will be voted on next fall.

Faribault. — William Alcock of Kenyon was killed near here while returning with a party of eight young people from a dance at one of the lakes. The party was in an automobile and the car went into a creek. Alcock was riding on the running board and was pinned under the car and drowned. The others escaped injury.

Camp Bobleter, Fort Snelling.—When the Minnesota guardsmen entrain for the south neither their destination nor route will be made public. This was the statement of Lieut. Col. Arthur Johnson, following instructions received from the war department. Fear of accident to troop trains has compelled this order, he said.

St. Paul. — If a rider now attached to the federal appropriation bill gets by the Senate the Minnesota state board of grain appeals will be practically put out of business. This is the opinion of O. P. B. Jacobson, who has returned from Washington, where he interviewed the Minnesota delegation regarding the Moss act.

Bena.—At the conclusion of a three days' celebration here the Mississippi river valley Chippewa Indians drafted a petition to be presented to the next congress calling for a government allotment of eighty acres more land for each member of the tribe. They ask that the land be taken from the national forest preserve in Cass county.

Camp Bobleter, Fort Snelling.—"Slackers"—men who refused to take the Federal oath of allegiance—will be dismissed from the camp and dealt with according to state law, it has just been announced. The number of these is too small to concern the war department with at this time and the state regulations will be utilized to cover these cases.

Duluth. — A score of police and sheriff's men are guarding the St. Louis county jail in this city, where are lodged seven I. W. W. members, charged with first degree murder in connection with the shooting of Deputy Sheriff James Myron and a bystander at Biwabik. Three of the men are leaders, being Carlo Tresca, F. H. Little and Joseph Gilday. They were not implicated in the actual shooting, but at the order of the county attorney, Warren Greene, were arrested. The sheriff had been warned a rescue might be attempted by the strikers.

Mankato. — A meeting of representatives of the commercial clubs of Mankato, Rochester, Albert Lea, Austin, Owatonna and other points in southern Minnesota was held in this city to consider ways and means for starting an action before the interstate commerce commission to have the arbitrary differential freight rate on goods from the east, in favor of the Twin Cities, done away with. This differential, which ranges from 20 cents a 100 pounds down, according to classification, has hampered the business interests of the smaller cities, it is said.

FEDERAL ACTION MAY SETTLE SUIT

SURVEY WOULD END OVERFLOW OF FARM LANDS—NORTH DAKOTA SUES FOR MILLION.

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

The drainage trouble between Minnesota and North Dakota, which has led the latter state to file a $1,000,000 damage suit for overflowed lands, may be settled by federal action which will result in reservoir control of the headwaters, both of the Red river and the Minnesota river, according to information received by Representative L. C. Spooner of Morris.

"I am advised by Senator Knute Nelson," said Mr. Spooner, "that there has been included in the pending rivers and harbors bill a paragraph providing for a federal survey of Big Stone and Traverse lakes and their basins, with a view to control of the floodwaters of territory adjacent to the lakes."

Twine to Cost More.

Indications are that the farmers of Minnesota will pay an increased price for their binding twine next year. This is forecast in raises in the price of sisal received by the state board of control. According to the members of the board, who are now preparing to buy raw material for next year's binding twine to be manufactured at the Stillwater prison, prices of Yucatan sisal have been boosted from 30 to 50 per cent.

The board was preparing to purchase 200 bales of sisal, but was compelled to withdraw its order because of the raise. This year the prison product is being sold to the farms at 8¾ cents a pound, but the chances are that the figure next year will be near 12 cents. This year's prices are now 2 cents in excess of a year ago.

Farmers' League To Expand.

The Nonpartisan Political league of North Dakota, which scored such a sweeping victory in the primaries in that state, is turning its eyes to Minnesota and to a group of midwest states situated similarly to North Dakota, for the purpose of launching a campaign to bring them under the control of the organization.

Officers of the North Dakota league are signing contracts with organizers to work in Minnesota. The first activities of the league in Minnesota are in Bygland township, in Polk County, just a few miles from East Grand Forks. The farmers are said to be paying their money to the organizers and signing up for a program similar in nature to that proposed for North Dakota.

To Assist Country Papers.

In the interest of a proposed bureau to handle national advertising for country newspapers, advocated by the Minnesota Editorial association, a comprehensive survey of the newspapers of the state will be made soon by the department of journalism of the University of Minnesota.

A questionnaire has been prepared and will be sent to the publishers soon. W. B. Kirkwood, department of journalism of the University, believes a central advertising agency can furnish live papers, with 1,000 or 2,000 subscribers, with $500 worth of national advertising each year, resulting in a profit to the publisher, the national advertiser, and the local advertiser.

Enthusiastic for Roads.

Enthusiasm in automobile road work is running high in Northern Minnesota, according to J. H. Mullen, deputy state highway engineer, who has returned from a 1,200-mile trip thru Minnesota in inspecting routes proposed for the Jefferson highway. The inspection party of six, which left St. Paul June 25, was accompanied by an escort of not less than ten cars for the whole length of the trip, and at several towns as many as eighty-five cars formed an escort.

Good roads meetings were held at practically every village and city of importance, and most of them got out the bands and celebrated.

Burnquist Signs Commission.

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist has signed the commission of Lieutenant Hugh McGee, United States cavalry, as lieutenant colonel of the First regiment to succeed Lieutenant Colonel F. B. Rowley, resigned. Lieutenant McGee is a Minneapolis man. He attended the University of Minnesota until he received an appointment to West Point in 1905, from which he was graduated in the class of 1909 and was assigned to the Second cavalry, with which he is still connected.

Hundred Seek Pardons.

Nearly 100 inmates of Stillwater prison and St. Cloud reformatory have applied for pardon or commutation of sentence, and these were considered by the state pardon board at its quarterly meeting. Conspicuous among the applicants are Henry Prolow, who was sent to Stillwater from Goodhue county August 6, 1906, for life for murder in the first degree. He was an old steamboat engineer. W. M. Hall, another lifer, who was sent up from Blue Earth county is an applicant.

Up-to-Date.

Captain Sparks had just been placed in charge of the country fire station and looked a very important personage as he conducted a visitor round the premises. This, notwithstanding the fact that the engine resembled nothing so much as a street roast potato oven joined to a village pump, and other uncanny-looking appliances which were neither useful nor ornamental.

The visitor was duly impressed, but one thing puzzled him.

"Why," he said, "you don't seem to have either a telegraph or telephone installation in the village. How do you summon your men when a fire breaks out?"

The captain was equal to the occasion.

"Oh, that's simple enough," he replied. "We sends 'em all a postcard."—London Tit-Bits.

Woud Help to Find Him.

A woman entered the police station in a Massachusetts town and in a confused, agitated manner implored the officer in charge to have a nearby river dragged.

"My husband has been threatening for some time to drown himself," she explained, "and he's been missing now for three days."

"Anything peculiar about him by which he can be recognized?" the officer questioned, preparing to fill out a description blank.

The woman meditated thoughtfully for a few moments, then her face brightened.

"Why, yes, he's deaf."

Surely Needed Aid.

One of the benevolent societies of Providence received this letter among several others in the morning mail recently:

"This unfortunate young man is the only son of a widow, who died childless, and his earnings maintained his aged father and two young sisters, whose sole support he is."

The secretary of the society wrote on the margin of the note:

"The circumstances of the case are evidently exaggerated."

Solomonlike Judgment

Two brothers inherited a farm and quarreled violently as to its division.

Now there lived in their village a certain shrewd and wise old man, noted for the soundness of his advice. Him the brothers determined to appoint arbitrator. Whatever he said they should abide by.

They laid the matter before him.

For a long while he thought, then delivered judgment.

"You," said he, pointing to the elder, "shall divide the farm as you think fair. And you," he continued, pointing to the younger, "shall have the first choice."

Sounded Ominous.

"He insists that he is not worthy of me."

USUALLY WORKS THAT WAY

Hopkins Senior Had an Experience That Falls to the Lot of the Majority of Married Men.

Young Hopkins had become a happy Benedict, and his father thought it advisable to administer to him a curtain lecture on how to make marriage a success.

"When you have any differences of opinion," he began, "if you are not able to persuade your wife that you are right—and you probably will not be able to do so—you must compromise."

"Yes, father," replied the son, respectfully.

"And in this connection I will give you a little experience of my own to illustrate my point. Well do I remember that your mother desired to spend one summer in Switzerland, while I was equally anxious to go to Brighton."

"And how did you arrange a compromise, father?"

"Well, we stayed from Friday to Monday at Brighton and spent the rest of the summer in Switzerland."

"My sympathy is enlisted in this movement against Mexico. Is yours?"

"Yes, and so am I."

England May Adopt Baseball.

Baseball has at last obtained a firm foothold in England and is being played to such an extent in and around London by Canadians whom the war has brought over that a league has been formed among teams drawn from the army pay office and other colonial units, the staffs of the various Canadian military hospitals and munition workers, the New York Times says.

With the football season extending from September 1 to April 30, and cricket occupying the summer months, baseball had never been considered seriously, but since the outbreak of the war, when county cricket was abandoned, the Canadians have succeeded in arousing such enthusiasm in baseball that its future seems assured.

Post Toasties
"DELICIOUS!"

A New Use For This Word

The New Post Toasties are truly entitled to the word "delicious."

They're distinguished by the tiny bubbles found on each flake and they carry the full, rich flavour of choice, white Indian corn — not found in corn flakes of the past.

And unlike common corn flakes they are not "chaffy" in the package and don't grow mushy in milk or cream.

Note carefully the tiny bubbles—then try a handful dry to test the flavour. In comparison, other corn flakes are as "chaff."

THERE'S WORK FOR ALL IN THIS CAMPAIGN

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP

Women Can Take a Leading Part in This Movement for Beautiful, Sanitary and Safe Home Towns.

By LOUISE KERPER, Chairman Civic Committee, Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

WOMEN are housekeepers. They are apt to see more clearly the need of municipal housecleaning than are men. Through our clubs we have an excellent opportunity to lead in "Clean Up and Paint Up" work. Here are some pointers for women who would help regenerate their community with a real "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign:

Each campaign involves the renovation of the interiors of buildings as well as yards, streets and alleys.

The removal of all rubbish and useless things is most important.

Some revenue can be derived from the sale of waste paper.

During the "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign is a good time to have rubbish cans placed upon street corners, for the deposit of paper.

Nothing will do more to improve the appearance of a town than the liberal use of paint.

Useless and unsightly outbuildings should be torn down.

Business houses need attention. Rubbish accumulates in cellars, under stairways, in storerooms, passageways, and in the rear of hotels and restaurants. Look out for RATS here.

A clean yard is not sufficient; it should be pleasing to the eye. Plant grass and flower seeds. Sod bare spots in lawns. Plant shrubs, vines and trees.

The thresholds of a town should be made inviting to the visitor.

This is a good time to find out about the sanitary ordinances of the town. How about the regulations in regard to garbage collection, the use of closed garbage cans, manure piles, spitting, toilets, etc.? Are they adequate? Are they enforced? Appoint a committee on this subject. Have the ordinance published and distributed widely.

It is very important that the "Clean Up and Paint Up" idea be impressed upon the minds of school children.

"GREATER THAN FIRE LOSS"

By PROF. H. H. KING, Kansas State Agricultural College.

LACK of paint causes a greater annual loss through deterioration than the aggregate Kansas fire loss for twelve months. Yes, there is much more reason for a real "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign than the average layman would at first recognize.

Paint, as has often been said, serves more than the mere purpose of decoration. Its principal value lies in the fact that it prolongs the life of the surfaces painted.

Wood and iron, on exposure to the air, undergo a slow process of oxidation, which just as surely destroys them as though they were set on fire, the difference being the speed at which the reaction occurs.

We take out insurance to cover loss by fire and should just as surely put on paint to cover loss by decay. It takes very little calculation to discover the apparently astounding fact that the loss through lack of painting is greater in Kansas than the loss by fire.

When the property owner comes to a full realization of the true reason for painting there will be no need for public-spirited people to back up a National Campaign for such a purpose.

Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office at Crookston, Minn., June 14, 1916. Notice is hereby given that Charles H. Rossman, of Germantown, Minn., who, on May 31st, 1912, made Homestead Entry Serial No. 03042, for SW1-4, Sec. 3, Township 155 N, Ran. 41, W. 5th P. M. has filed notice of intention to make Commutation Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Ruth C. Clark, U. S. Commissioner for the Dist. of Minn. at Grygla, Minn. on the 26th day of July, 1916.

Claimant names as witnesses:

John Warne, Rudolph Jensen, Ole Thoreldson and Adolph Jensen, all of Germantown, Minn.

CANADIAN CROPS EXCELLENT

Returning Tourists Speak Well of Their Treatment in Canada.

The Canadian Government, having made extensive preparations during the last few years to impart to the National Park system a degree of comfort and pleasure to the visitor, combining the best efforts of man with the very best gifts of creation, has now the satisfaction of seeing an appreciation of the efforts they have made. Tourists returning from a trip over the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern railways speak enthusiastically of the beauties that are revealed as these roads enter and pass through the mountains. The Government has spent enormous sums of money laying out roads, and developing easy means of access to glacier, hill, valley, lake and stream. For what purpose? That the wonders that Canada possesses in its natural parks may become more easily accessible and afterward talked about, that a tourist travel through Canada would result. Tourist travel means business, and it is business that Canada seeks. To make it even more easy for this travel, the Government has taken pains to make every step of the tourist's entry into Canada one that will give the very least degree of trouble. On crossing the border, there is only the ordinary examination of baggage, and the only precaution is that in the case of foreign aliens, and even in their case there is no difficulty when the officials are satisfied that they are not attempting entry as enemies.

Although officials of the Government have taken every means to bring to the attention of the tourist and others that no difficulty could be placed in the way of their admission, there still remained doubt in the minds of some. Only the other day the Government took action again, and authorized the statement that no measures taken for recruiting the forces either have been or will be applied to any persons who are not ordinarily resident in the Dominion. Nor is it the intention to ask for volunteers except from among British subjects, resident in Canada. Moreover, the Military Service Act, under which conscription is applied in Great Britain, affects only persons "ordinarily resident in Great Britain."

Americans and British subjects resident in the United States who desire to visit Canada will find no more trouble at the border than they have experienced in the past, and upon arriving they will be made as welcome as ever. War conditions of any kind will not inconvenience or interfere with them.

The immigration authorities suggest that, as a precaution against inconvenience, naturalized Americans whose country of origin was one of those at war with the British empire, should provide themselves with their certificates of naturalization.

Now that it is impossible to visit Europe, the planning of your vacation trip through Canada is one to give consideration to. The Government has taken an active interest in its National Parks in the heart of the Rocky mountains. These can be reached by any of the lines of railways, and the officials at these parks have been advised to render every attention to the visiting tourists, who in addition to seeing the most wonderful scenery in the world—nothing grander—nothing better—have excellent wagon and motor roads, taking them into the utter recesses of what was at one time considered practically inaccessible.

In addition to this the tourist will not be inactive to the practical possibilities that will be before him as he passes over the great plains of the Western Provinces. The immense wheat fields, bounded by the horizon, no matter how far you travel. The wide pasture lands, giving home and food to thousands of heads of horses and cattle. The future of a country that he before only heard of but knew so little about, will be revealed to him in the most wonderful panorama, and imprinted in the lens of his brain in such a way that he will bring back with him the story of the richness of Agricultural Western Canada. And he will also have had an enjoyable outing.—Advertisement.

Our Family History.

Why does the ordinary family keep so poor a record, not of its own doings—they are, for the most part, dull enough—but of its own personalities? much further than the probable lifetime of our own children, and we do not like to look even so far as that.

Surely it would give us a sense of space if we could see clearly a little further behind us.

Moreover, to those we are engaged in the bringing up of their own children, a history of the family might furnish many a hint.

RUSSIANS IN WEST FIGHT FOR ALLIES; REPULSE TEUTONS

FIRST NEWS OF ACTUAL PARTICIPATION IN CONFLICT IN FRANCE CONTAINED IN OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

MORE SLAVS ARE SENT TO FIGHT WITH FRENCH

First Contingent of Reinforcements Arrives—Soldiers Complete Journey of About 17,500 Miles—Czar Orders Additional Troops to Aid in Great Drive.

Paris, July 18.—Russian troops now are fighting side by side with the French in the trenches in the Champagne district. First official announcement that soldiers of the czar have actually participated in the allied offensive appears in Monday's communique.

Coincidentally comes the announcement that the czar is sending more Russian troops to the west front to help the great allied drive.

Many Slavs On Way.

The first contingent of the reinforcements has disembarked at Brest, France, it is officially announced. Many more are on their way, it is believed. The Russians will be sent to camp from Brest, and later to the front.

The contingent which has just arrived is the sixth arrival to be reported.

Travel 17,500 Miles.

Between April 20 and May 5 there arrived at Marseilles five bodies of Russian soldiers, after a land and sea journey of about 17,500 miles from Moscow, where they were assembled, to Port Dalny, Manchuria, and thence by water via the Suez canal.

The number of men in the first five contingents has not been given officially, but it is believed to be about 28,000. These troops were quartered at Camp De Mailly, near Troyes, for several weeks and then sent to the front.

Sent as Experiment.

It was said in Paris several weeks ago that the sending of the first contingent was largely in the nature of an experiment and that they might be followed by more substantial numbers. On the former occasion the Russians arrived without arms which were suppled by the French. The explanation was given that it was easier to send men out of Russia's surplus to the western front than to forward arms and ammunition to the east.

Slavs Beat Teutons.

The Russian troops in action on the French Champagne front, counterattacked successfully inflicting heavy losses on the Germans, the war office stated. There has been no important fighting in the region of the Somme.

The French continue to make progress west of Fleury, on the Verdun front, capturing three machine guns.

In Lorraine, two German attacks against a French position southeast of Nomeny were repulsed.

GOVERNMENT DECLARES ARMY RATION IS AMPLE

War Department Issues Order Prohibiting Solicitation of Funds by Officers to Augment Food Supplies.

Washington, July 18.—General orders have been issued by the War department prohibiting army officers from taking part in any movement for the solicitation of funds to augment rations issued by the government to national guardsmen in the federal service.

Such a movement, said in published reports to be on foot, was declared by department officials to be unnecessary and ill-timed.

"The army ration furnished these troops," says the order, "is ample for all purposes when properly used, and officers and enlisted men of the organized militia and national guard in the service of the United States are not to participate in obtaining funds for such a purpose."

SHARK MENACE TO REMAIN

Extermination Found Impossible by Treasury Department.

Washington, July 18.—Suggestions that a campaign of extermination against sharks along the Atlantic be undertaken by the coast guard service were abandoned by Treasury department officials after considering a report by Captain Carden of the cutter Mohawk, saying such a campaign would be impracticable and that the only sure means of protecting bathers was the extension of the steel wire net already in use at most resorts.

Convicts Cheer Prison Warden.

Ossining, N. Y., July 18.—Thomas Mott Osborne was welcomed by the convicts at Sing Sing upon his return. Mr. Osborne, who resigned six months ago, when he was indicted on charges growing out of his methods of conducting affairs at Sing Sing, made a brief address to the men who cheered him several minutes. Many persons from the village of Ossining joined with the convicts in welcoming Mr. Osborne after his vindication by the courts. Among the most enthusiastic at the reception were 41 former convicts.

ALLIES CAPTURE 10,000 GERMANS; MOVE ON THIRD LINE OF DEFENSE

BRITISH LEADER REPORTS ENEMY DRIVEN FOUR MILES BEHIND ORIGINAL FRONT ALONG SOMME.

FOUR TOWNS CAPTURED; SECOND DRIVE IS BEGUN

English Troops Sweep Steadily Thru Woods Beyond Longueval Effecting a Considerable Gain of Territory—Dead Crushed Beneath Ruins at Ovillers.

London, July 17.—Smashing British blows have forced the Germans back to their third line of defenses at one point, four miles behind their original front along the Somme, General Sir Douglas Haig reports.

With four towns, formerly formidable German positions, already in their grasp, the British troops have resumed their second heavy drive through the Teuton lines.

Sweep Steadily On.

The British regiments are sweeping steadily through the woods beyond Longueval, captured in the first rush and are attacking the fortifications crowning the ridge dominating the battlefield.

"All is well at the British front," General Haig reported. "We have pushed our rear from Fricourt to Mametz, capturing 2,000 prisoners in 24 hours. The total number of prisoners since the beginning of our offensive is now 10,000. In addition we have taken large quantities of material."

Hindered by Attacks.

Heavy German counterattacks have slowed up the momentum of the British advance. Fighting raged all night on the Ovillers-Longueval front.

The British encountered stubborn resistance after breaking through the German second line and were met by steady sheets of machine gun fire in the district north of Longueval. Notwithstanding this determined opposition, the British troops continued to consolidate their positions and break down small German positions in fighting that continued far into the night.

The newly conquered positions are being made ready for defense against even stronger enemy attacks.

Men Die to Gain Yard.

Correspondents at the British front report hundreds of British bodies lie burnied beneath the ruins of the town.

"The fighting for Ovillers has been hard and close," said one dispatch. "Many of our men died to gain a yard or two of the earthworks. There have been fights to the death between a handful of English or Irish soldiers and groups of German soldiers meeting each other in the darkness of deep cellars quarried out from the chalk subsoil.

FUNSTON PREPARES TO RESIST BORDER RAIDS

Starts Realignment of Troops for Protection of Big Bend Country—Surprise Assaults Are Feared.

Boquillas, Texas, July 17.—(Via army field telephone to Marathon, Texas.)—Realignment of troops for protection of the border against bandit raids in the Big Bend country was begun with the arrival here on a motor truck train from Marathon of one company of the Pennsylvania National guard and the dispatch from here of a troop of the Sixth cavalry to reinforce B troop at Glenn Springs. The remainder of the Pennsylvania battalion at Marathon will be transported to border points as rapidly as possible.

Troops also are being rushed from Alpine and Marfa to the border as a result of repeated warnings that bandits are advancing to the Rio Grande to raid this exposed part of Texas. With a strong national guard force at this point and two troops of the Sixth cavalry at Glenn Springs fear that bandits will attempt surprise attacks on these places has been removed.

MECCA, HOLY CITY, FALLS

Cairo, July 17.—The famous city of Mecca, holy city in the Mohammedan world, has surrendered to the Arabian rebels, according to dispatches received here. The Turkish garrison of 100 officers, 2,500 men and 150 civil officials, laid down their arms.

Missing Army Aviators Return.

Field Headquarters, Colonia Dublan, Mex., July 17.—Via Wireless to Columbus, N. M., July 17.—Aviators Rader and Brooks, who flew west from here two days ago and failed to return, have come into camp. Their engine stalled in the flight, forcing a hurried descent on ground so rought that it was impossible to reascend. They walked 59 miles, when an auto relief party picked them up. They reported seeing no bandits nor Mexican soldiers, but said a lone herder shot at them during their flight.

One of the members of a committee of inspection on its tour of a certain penitentiary found himself in conversation with one of the convicts. The latter was disposed to be confidential, and thus unburdened himself:

"It is a terrible thing to be known by a number instead of a name, and to feel that all my life I shall be an object of suspicion among the police."

"But you will not be alone, my friend," said the visitor, consolingly. "The same thing happens to people who own automobiles."

Wanted, an Elephant.

The Hasty Pudding club of Harvard was recently reported to be in some distress because of the lack of two sturdy actors capable of good team work in playing the part of an elephant in the club's annual spring show. The original selection for the front legs was dismissed from college on account of low marks, and the hind legs became discouraged and resigned. Probably a pecular combination of athletic skill and comic talent is required for the proper representation of a stage elephant, and it may be a thankless task that college amateurs in general are unwilling to tackle. An actor disguised as one-half of an elephant seems to lose much of his individuality. But the fore and aft portion of a quadruped offers a fine chance for an ambitious young actor to start a brilliant career. Henry E. Dixey began his stage life as the hind legs of the heifer in "Evangeline."—Providence Journal.

Thinks Fish Can Talk.

Stephen Decatur Bridges of Verona, Me., who is known as the "Salmon King" of the Penobscot, is positive not only that fish have brains, but that fish reason and form likes and dislikes, and tell their opinions to each other, the New York World states.

Bridges explains the disappearance of salmon from the Penobscot in two ways—either "salmon tell other salmons how dirty its waters are and how it is not fit for any respectable salmon to live in," or "the fish resent it because at the hatchway in East Orland they are taken from the water and stripped of their effs."

I OWE MY HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Washington Park, Ill.—"I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female trouble, backache, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and romping would make me so nervous I could just tear everything to pieces and I would ache all over and feel so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. ROBT. STOPIEL, Moore Avenue, Washington Park, Illinois.

We wish every woman who suffers from female troubles, nervousness, backache or the blues could see the letters written by women made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mosquitoes Put Out Light.

State News in Brief

Doings of Last Few Days Throughout Minnesota Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

St. Paul.—Deputy State Auditor C. S. Brown, St. Paul, has announced that he will resign his official position as soon as his plans for the future are made definite.

St. Paul.—"Black rust is not sufficiently prevalent to endanger crops," C. P. Bull, of the state agricultural college, said in commenting on reports of the disease in Minnesota.

Minneapolis.—The body of a young woman, taken from the river, has been identified as that of Miss Bertha Dirks, 21 years old, who was an employe and lived at the Golden West hotel. Murder is suspected.

Moorhead.—The Minnesota Farmers' Nonpartisan Political league will appeal to labor organizations for co-operation, according to information given out at the headquarters of the North Dakota league in Fargo.

Minneapolis.—A resolution recommending that the Board of Regents of the University place a new man at the head of the veterinary science division of the institution has been adopted by the Minnesota State Veterinary Medical association.

St. Paul.—Persons who have designs on State Auditor Preus' official position are likely to be disappointed. Mr. Preus is dividing his attention between the capitol and Camp Bobleter, where he is stationed as a captain in the quartermaster's corps.

Duluth.—Making good her declaration of speaking in behalf of the striking miners, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn visited Two Harbors by automobile with a party of local agitators. While there she was the guest of Mayor Ernest E. Strand, a Socialist. Miss Flynn collected $25 for the strikers.

Minneapolis.—Dan Patch, king of race horses, died at the M. W. Savage farm. The peerless racer was taken ill last week but to all appearances had entirely recovered. Again Monday afternoon the great horse was stricken and this time there was no saving him. Veterinary surgeons were with the great pacer all night.

St. Paul.—Rumors that a group of I. W. W. members were en route from Chicago to participate in the Mesaba range mine troubles, led St. Paul police to take special precautions to protect the life of Governor Burnquist from possible attempts at assassination. Special police were appointed to guard the state's executive.

St. Paul.—A payment of $50,000 toward general support of the university department of agriculture has been received by the state treasurer from the United States treasury department. It represents the state's share of appropriations under the Smith-Lever act, providing federal aid for agricultural and home economics extension in the various states.

St. Paul.—Tourists are already leaving $5,000,000 a year in Minnesota, although exploitation of the resort districts of the state is only fairly begun. With the foregoing assertion, Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, outlined plans for systematic aid by the state in helping Minnesota gain returns that he maintains should accrue from tourists.

St. Paul.—Development of a winter wheat that can be grown profitably in Minnesota is one of the big problems in which Minnesota farmers are interested, according to H. K. Hayes of the university department of agriculture, who addressed the interstate cereal conference at University farm. Mr. Hayes is plant breeder in the agronomy division of the institution.

Duluth.—Defying police, or other authorities, to stop their meetings, and assuming a firm stand against what they call unusual acts by officials in quieting agitation here, the Duluth branch of the Industrial Workers of the World has adopted resolutions, addressed to the mayor, city commissioners, police and the English press of Duluth, declaring that the workers will go ahead with the strike "of they are jailed by the thousands."

Warroad.—Industries valued at $500,000 annually have been wiped out at the Lake of the Woods, according to information that reached Carlos Avery of the state game and fish commission. Ten fishermen advised him they have taken out their nets and will retire from business, owing to the high water, which has washed away their buildings and the supply of ice, making it impossible to preserve the fish. The fishermen lose $2,500 in license fees alone.

Virginia.—Mons Hauge of Benson was elected president of the Minnesota, North and South Dakota lodge of the Sons of Norway at the closing business session of the order. The other officers elected for the coming year are: Vice president, Soren Baake, Minneapolis; secretary, H. Askeland, Minneapolis; treasurer, Julius Shool, Minneapolis; regent, F. E. Dramdahl, St. Paul; trustee, Julius Bauman, Carlson. Benson, Minn., was chosen for the 1917 convention.

Virginia.—General improvement in the strike situation on the Minnesota Iron Range was noted in reports from various affected sections. Hundreds of men were returning to work and the activities of the I. W. W. agitators continued only in a few districts. Deputies remained on guard at several mines.

Winona.—The Steamer Frontenac, a former rafter and more recently an excursion boat, will be sold at auction August 9, in order that the owners, J. Ralphew and F. D. Perkins may meet obligations. Order for the sale of the boat was issued by the federal court.

State Troops Need Aid.

Urging immediate contributions to the Minnesota Guard fund, Governor Burnquist has sent out an appeal to the people of the state. The governor spoke especially of the need of aiding families of men who are on their way or preparing for departure for the border.

"It has been urged that if any member of the guard must leave those dependent upon him without means of support his community devise means to care for them until future governmental action," Governor Burnquist said.

"Since the issuance of the proclamation the War department has issued orders that enlisted men with dependents may, under certain conditions, be discharged but only a few applications for discharge have been forwarded and none of these has yet been acted upon. A large number of men, therefore, who have left for the border, or are ready to go, are leaving dependents who are in need of aid.

"Even if there will not be war, the funds will be needed, for those dependent must under any circumstances be looked after. And the members of the guard who go into a climate different from our own will suffer many hardships and will continually be in danger of disease. It is apparent that the money contributed to this fund may be the means of preventing much illness and the saving of many lives."

Issues 19 Commissions.

Commissions have been issued by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist to nineteen Minnesota national guard officers. In the list were one major, four captains, one captain of medical corps, six first lieutenants, one veterinarian, with rank of first lieutenant, and six second lieutenants. The following are the officers commissioned: Major—Clayton C. Smith, First infantry. Captains—M. C. Nelson, H company, Third infantry; R. G. Murray, F company, Third infantry; William Woelk, J company, Third infantry; Carl J. West, L company, First infantry; A. G. Liedloff, captain medical corps. First Lieutenants—Roy K. Carpenter, C company, Third infantry; W. A. Brown, battalion adjutant, Third infantry; John J. Harrison, E company, Third infantry; Peter R. Fossen, D company, Third infantry; Lawrence Wedia, battalion adjutant, Second infantry; C. H. Slater, L company, First infantry; Richard Price, veterinarian. Second Lieutenants—Olaf Lund, D. company, Third infantry; J. W. Signer, E company, Third infantry; A. W. Gasper, C company, Third infantry; Robert Deinnger, battalion quartermaster and commissary, Second infantry; Joseph L. McKinney, E battery; Albert M. Cassidy, L company, First infantry.

McGee Accepts Army Post.

Lieutenant Hugh McGee, son of Judge J. F. McGee of Minneapolis, has accepted the position of lieutenant colonel of the First regiment, organized Minnesota militia, and has wired the war department for permission to report to his new command at once. Governor J. A. A. Burnquist received a telegram to this effect from Lieutenant McGee at Fort Ethan Allen. Lieutenant McGee succeeds Lieutenant Colonel F. B. Rowley, resigned. Lieutenant McGee has been granted permission to transfer from the regular army to the militia. During his army career, Lieutenant McGee has received many testimonials from his superior officers to his ability as an officer and his personal bravery in action.

How to Address Letters.

All mail intended for Minnesota troops at the border should be addressed with the name of the company and regiment of the person for whom it is intended and marked "Minnesota, On the Border." Such mail from Minnesota cities will be sent to the Twin Cities and sent South from here. The destination of the troops will be made known to these postmasters, but not the postmasters throughout the state. This is in compliance with instructions from the War department. Once the Minnesota troops are encamped in the South, their location will be announced. All mail, however, will be sent in the same way and should be so addressed.

General Says Farewell.

General A. W. Wright, former commander of the Minnesota National guard, who failed to pass the federal physical examination and who, therefore, cannot lead the troops to the border, bade officers and men of his old command an official farewell. The good-bye was said in writing and was addressed, "From General A. W. Wright to the officers and men of the First brigade, Minnesota National guard."

* * *

Airmen for Militia.

An aerial squadron will form a section of the Minnesota national guard upon passage by congress of a pending bill carrying $9,640,800 appropriation, according to President Alan R. Hawley of the Aero Club of America, New York, who wired asking Governor J. A. A. Burnquist to urge Minnesota representatives to support the measure.

150,000 Autos in State?

That the number of state registered automobiles in Minnesota will total 150,000 before the first of the year is expected by Secretary of State Schmahl. If registrations continue as they have the past month the figure will be nearer 175,000. At the present the number of registered automobiles in the state is near 120,000. At the auto registration department at the state capital the last figure listed Saturday was 117,000, but several hundred tags are kept on hand at branch offices.

CRIME IS LAID TO WITCHCRAFT

Queer Murder Committed in Reading, Pa., Stirs the Authorities.

HEX DOCTORS ACTIVE

Blacksmith Who Killed Friend Said Charcoal Burners Consulted the "Seventh Book of Moses" and Told Him to Slay.

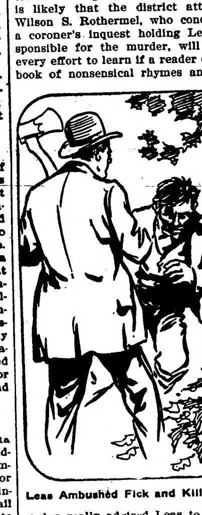
Reading, Pa.—The murder of Abraham Fick, an inoffensive German laborer, by his friend, Peter Leas, Jr., in Hyde Park, a suburb, a few days ago, revives public curiosity in "The Seventh Book of Moses" and in the witch doctors and powwow practitioners who still infest that region. In his confession, Leas, who is thought by some to be insane, said that charcoal burners at a settlement several miles from his home had consulted "The Seventh Book of Moses" and had ordered him to end Fick's life to prevent Fick from murdering him.

That Fick, in all probability, never dreamed of attacking Leas, a blacksmith with a reputation as a fighter, and a man of quick temper, seems to be well established. Using an ax, Leas ambushed Fick and, after stunning him, hacked off his head, quietly surrendering himself to the police some hours later.

Other Indictments May Follow.

"The Seventh Book of Moses" is identical in some respects with the booklet first published in 1819 by John George Hohman, the prince of miracle workers of the powwow, hexerei school. He was the first to collect the recipes or formulas used by the hex doctors in their war against witches, wizards and witchcraft.

Not in years has so much public interest been stirred up in the fallacies of powwowing, witchcraft and the remnant of beliefs in hexes and hexerei as through the Fick murder. It is likely that the district attorney, Wilson S. Rothermel, who conducted a coroner's inquest holding Leas responsible for the murder, will make every effort to learn if a reader of this book of nonsensical rhymes and formulas really advised Leas to kill his friend. In that case there may be more than one indictment for the crime.



Leas Ambushed Fick and Killed Him.

Many Deaths Due to Fakers.

Some years ago the deaths in one week of six infants who had been powwowed for to cure infantile ailments, focussed attention all over the country to the practices that still flourish in the Reading region, regardless of prosecutions by authorities. The spread of education and the efforts of reputable doctors to save lives endangered by the powwow doctors had no effect. The hex doctors still use incantations, passes in the air, amulets or charms worn in bags around the neck instead of using medicine to cure their patients. That the patients were really victims did not lessen the hold of the fakers and impostors on the unlettered part of the community.

A few years ago a family of 20 children, 17 of whom died at short intervals, their parents attributing their deaths to witchcraft, came into prominence in Reading. Their parents gave credit for the survival of the three children to the use of charms and a powwow formula.

Bartender Becomes Subject of a Serbian Wrestler's Mighty Feats of Strength.

Chicago.—About one and three quarters seconds after Daniel Martin, a bartender in a saloon, had pulled the whiskers of Peter Zebich, a patron, he realized his error. For Zebich, who is a Serbian wrestler and professional strong man, lifted Martin lightly from behind the bar and hurled him through the plate glass window into the street. Zebich is thirty-eight and very burly. He and Martin were arrested and later gave bonds. About a peck of broken glass was extracted from Martin's person.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

PAT ROSE TO THE OCCASION

Lookout's Appeal Did Not Fall on Deaf Ears, as Far as Irishman Was Concerned.

'Twas off the coast of dear old Ireland, and the steamship was a trifle off its course. It had, in fact, taken the wrong turning.

"Breakers ahead! We are lost!" yelled the lookout from his point of vantage in the bows.

"Begorra!" cried the Irish cook, "we're not lost if that will save us." And he seized a belaying pin and hit the lookout such a blow as completely to daze the man.

"How dare you?" bellowed the captain, angrily. "Why, did you strike that man?"

"Well," replied Pat, "he yelled, 'Break us ahead or we are lost!' and, sure, I did it, sir. And I'll break a dozen, sir, if that'll save the ship, bedad!"

Practical Diplomacy.

"Papa," inquired a young hopeful of some seven summers, as he looked up from a book he was reading, "there's a word here which puzzles me—diplomacy?"

"Diplomacy, my son," and the old man smiled paternally as he said it, "means this: Doing or saying precisely the right thing at precisely the right time."

"Ah!" retorted the young hopeful, "then I guess I exercised diplomacy last night."

"How, my son?" inquired the fond parent.

Kilties the Middle Sex.

The following incident has been related by Capt. Alexander Weel, Thirteenth battalion, Canadia expeditionary forces, Royal Highlanders of Canada:

"The majority of the people in France look at the kilties with awe. After gazing at us for some time one of the women remarked that the crazy English were sending women over to fight for them; the second quickly replied that that couldn't be so, for there was a man with a beard. At that a third woman shook her head rather solemnly for a few moments and then suddenly exclaimed rather loudly: 'I have it; they are the middle-sex.'"

Told of Irish Soldiers.

Proverbially an Irish soldier has many lives. One of them fancied he had long enough to live to comply with the demand which a French mother made upon him thus, "If you kill the kaiser, you shall have my daughter."

He was also an Irishman who said of a glimpse he had of a Russian Guard regiment. "Look at them devils retreatin' with their backs facin' us!"

Three Hundred Million Bushel Crop in 1915

Farmers pay for their land with one year's crop and prosperity was never so great.

Regarding Western Canada as a grain producer, a prominent business man says: "Canada's position today is sounder than ever. There is more wheat, more oats, more grain for feed, 20% more cattle than last year and more hogs. The war market in Europe needs our surplus. As for the wheat crop, it is marvelous and a monument of strength for business confidence to build upon, exceeding the most optimistic predictions."

Wheat averaged in 1915 over 25 bushels per acre
Oats averaged in 1915 over 45 bushels per acre
Barley averaged in 1915 over 40 bushels per acre

Prices are high, markets convenient, excellent land, low in price either improved or otherwise, ranging from $12 to $30 per acre. Free homestead lands are plentiful and not far from railway lines and convenient to good schools and churches. The climate is healthful.

There is no war tax on land, nor is there any conscription. For complete information as to best locations for settlement, reduced railroad rates and descriptive illustrated pamphlet, address Superintendent Immigration, Ottawa, or

RAILROAD WAGES

Shall they be determined by Industrial Warfare or Federal Inquiry?

To the American Public:

Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

The train employes on all the railroads are voting whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a 100 million dollar wage increase.

The railroads are in the public service—your service. This army of employes is in the public service—your service.

You pay for rail transportation 3 billion dollars a year, and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employes.

On all the Western railroads in 1915, seventy-five per cent of the train employes earned these wages (lowest, highest and average of all) as shown by the pay rolls—

	Passenger		Freight		Yard
	Range	Average	Range	Average	Range	Average
Engineers	$1747 3094	$2195	$1537 3076	$2071	$1056 2445	$1378
Conductors	1543 2789	1878	1454 2933	1935	1151 2045	1355
Firemen	1053 2078	1317	751 2059	1181	418 1552	973
Brakemen	854 1719	967	874 1961	1135	862 1821	1107

The average yearly wage payments to all Western train employes (including those who worked only part of the year) as shown by the 1915 payrolls were—

	Passenger	Freight	Yard
Engineers	$2038	$1737	$1218
Conductors	1772	1624	1292
Firemen	1218	973	832
Brakemen	921	1000	1026

A 100 million dollar wage increase for men in freight and yard service (less than one-fifth of all employes) is equal to a 5 per cent advance in all freight rates.

The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the employes' representatives.

Shall a nation-wide strike or an investigation under the Government determine this issue?

Narrow Escape From Fire.

Last Friday the house of Christ Saastad had a close call of being destroyed by fire. It started in the morning in the chimney but was not discovered until noon when smoke was seen coming from the attic. By the efforts of Mr. Saastad assisted by his neighbors Messrs. Nohre, Berkvam and Bottom Bros. the fire was quenched in a couple of hours. The roof had to be partly torn off and repaired. No other damage was done.

German newspapers received in Amsterdam assert that eighty submarines of the Deutschland class are now being built and that twenty will be completed in August.

TEUTONS RETREAT 12 MILES BEFORE RUSSIAN ADVANCE

ARMY UNDER VON HINDENBURG DRIVEN BACK AT POINT ON RIGA FRONT, ACCORDING TO PETROGRAD DISPATCH.

SIX GERMAN WARSHIPS ARE ROUTED BY BRITISH

Destroyers Attempting Either Raid or Reconnaissance on English Coast Put to Flight After Being Hit Repeatedly—Kaiser Goes To East Front.

Berlin, July 25.—Emperor William, it is officially announced, has moved from the western to the eastern theater of the war, accompanied by the chief of the general staff of the army in the field.

London, July 25.—Russian forces have driven back the army of Field Marshal von Hindenburg a distance of 12 miles at one point of the Riga front, according to a dispatch from Petrograd.

Gain On 30 Mile Front.

Progress for the Russians is claimed on a front running from the gulf of Riga to Uskull, a distance of more than 30 miles ,the greatest advance being made along the coast line.

The dispatch says that fighting went on without pause for four days.

It has halted now, as the Russians require time to consolidate the ground they have gained, and the Germans are waiting for reinforcements being brought from other sectors of the eastern front.

Teuton Warships Routed.

Six German destroyers, attempting either a raid or a reconnaissance on the British coast, were put to flight by a British sea force in a running fight off Shouwen bank Saturday night and early Sunday, an admiralty statement announces.

The German ships, it was said, were hit repeatedly. One British vessel was struck once, but the total British casualties were two wounded. The German destroyers succeeded in reaching a base on the Belgian coast.

Fight Off Belgian Coast.

The North Hinder lightship is located off the Belgian coast between Ostend and the mouth of the Scheldt river Shonwen bank is in the same neighborhood. The action which the admiralty describes, therefore, took place off the Belgian coast. The German vessels engaged presumably came from Zeebrugge, where there is a German destroyer base.

Two of five German destroyers, presumably those engaged in the running sea fight off the Belgian coast Saturday night, returned to Zeebrugge with a decided list, according to Exchange Teelgraph dispatches from The Hague.

MAY BUY DANISH WEST INDIES

U. S. Practically Completes Negotiations—Price $5,000,000.

Washington, July 25.—Negotiations between the United States and Denmark looking to the purchase of the Danish West Indies are practically completed and both governments are now awaiting an opportune moment for obtaining legislative sanction to a treaty embodying the deal. It is understood that the price which this government proposes to pay is approximately $5,000,000.

The object of obtaining the three islands is primarily for the establishment of a coaling and cable station at St. Thomas and incidentally to use American capital and American enterprise to build up the islands which have fallen into dire financial straits and become a burden to Denmark.

AVIATOR FLIES OVER BERLIN

Drops Proclamations and Is Arrested In Russian Poland.

Paris, July 25.—For the first time in history a hostile aviator has invaded the air over Berlin, the kaiser's capital city.

Lieutenant Antoine Marchal of the French aviation corps left the French town of Nancy, on the Alsace-Lorraine frontier, in June, flew over the German capital and dropped proclamations, and then continued his flight, intending to land within the Russian lines.

He was forced to descend at Cholm, in Russian Poland, however, and was taken prisoner by the Germans. Cholm is 50 miles north of the Austrian frontier. Had Marchal been able to fly 60 miles further would have reached safety within the lines of the czar's armies. His exploit was announced officially.

Steel Reaches High Mark for Month.

New York, July 25.—United States Steel common advanced one-half point to 86⅞, a high mark for the month, at the opening of the stock exchange. Strength in Steel, which was based on expectations of a good quarterly statement, extended throughout the list and there were general advances ranging up to a point. Studebaker advanced seven-eights of a point, American Zinc three-quarters of a point, American Locomotive three-quarters of a point and Mexican Petroleum three-eighths of a point.

BRITISH CAPTURE POZIERES WORKS IN FIERCE BATTLE

STRUGGLE IN NORTHERN FRANCE RESUMED ALONG WHOLE FRONT —LONGUEVAL IS SCENE OF DESPERATE CONFLICT.

FOURTH WEEK OF SOMME BATTLE FAVORS ALLIES

Germans Work With Utmost Strength to Prevent British From Advancing to Their Third Lines—Allies Capture 25,000 Prisoners in New Offensive.

London, July 25.—The battle on the British front in Northern France was resumed along the whole line from Pozieres to Gillemont, the war office report says. The British captured the German outer works near Pozieres by assault and carried the fighting into the village. Longueval also was the scene of a desperate struggle.

In a statement just issued the war office announced further progress for the British in the neighborhood of Pozieres. On the rest of the front from Pozieres to Guillemont, a continuance of the battle with fighting of intense violence is reported.

Report British Drive Fruitless.

Berlin, July 24.—Heavy attacks by the British along the Somme front in northern France on the line running from Thiepval to Guillemont, have been fruitless, notwithstanding disregard for losses among the large number of men employed, the war office announced.

Fourth Week of Somme Battle.

London, July 24.—The fourth week of the Somme battle begins well for the allies and is expected to be fruitful of important developments.

Before midnight, the British began a new attack on the whole line from Pozieres to Guillemont and the fact that General Haig has been able to resume the offensive so soon after the unsuccessful German counter attacks of last week, in which very strong German forces were brought forward, is regarded as a good augury.

Places Change Hands.

The fighting has been of the fiercest character, the Germans working with their utmost strength to prevent the British from advancing to their third line positions. But when the last reports left headquarters in France, the Australians had firmly established themselves in Pozieres and are reported to have placed themselves astride the road in the direction of Bapaume, while at Guillemont and Longueval fortunes fluctuated, both places changing hands several times.

The fighting is proceeding with the utmost violence.

Allies Capture 25,000 Men.

The German counter attacks recently delivered against the French front have proved equally unsuccessful and the Allies now are fighting slowly in the direction of Combles, which is only two miles distant from Guillemont.

According to a reliable estimate, the British and French together have captured since July 1, more than 25,000 prisoners, 140 guns and hundreds of machine guns.

SIX ARE KILLED BY BOMB IN SAN FRANCISCO PARADE

Forty Are Wounded When Anarchist's Weapon Explodes at Crowded Street Corner.

San Francisco, July 24. - Major James Rolph, Jr., has offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of the person who placed a bomb among the crowds watching the preparedness parade, the explosion of which killed six and wounded more than 40, and the police established a separate bureau to run down the culprit.

Two suspects have been taken in by the police.

The outrage is laid at the door of the foreign anarchists who have been sending out threatening and warning letters in connection with anti-militaristic propaganda.

First Troops Hurt in Wreck.

San Antonio, Texas, July 24.—The train wrecked in which Minnesota troops figured Sunday at Bay City, Texas, was the first train accident in which any National guardsmen have been hurt since troop movements toward the border began, according to the quartermaster's department here. Approximately 100,000 state troops have been sent to border stations and until Sunday the record made by the railroad men was highly satisfactory to army officers.

Germans Plan to Check Move.

Berlin, July 21.—A campaign to oratory designed to check the extreme annexationist movement represented by the conservatives and the right wing of the national liberals is being organized by the so-called German National committee, whose chairman is Prince von Wedel, formerly viceroy of Alsace-Lorraine and now general adjutant to the Emperor. The speaking campaign includes a great many of the prominent names in science, industry and trade.

Affected His Speech.

"My father wants a bottle of reddick," said Fanny.

"Reddick," said the drug store man, "what is that?"

"It is something you write red with."

"Then I guess you mean red ink."

"My father said reddick, but he didn't get much sleep last night and talks kind of thick this morning, and that may be the reason."

Baker's Dozen.

"Father, what is a baker's dozen?" asked Charlie.

"One more than a dozen, thirteen, you know; but why do you want to know?"

"Mr. Moore asked me whose little boy I was, and his wife said, 'Don't you know? That is one of the Brown children. And Mr. Moore said, 'Yes, I remember; they have a baker's dozen.' Now what have we got thirteen of, papa? We have only five children, and counting you and mamma seven, and that does not make thirteen."

Harsh Desires.

"I wish some people I know were like swans."

"Why so?"

"Because swans sing only once in their lives and die immediately after."

Speaking of Rain.

Bill—They say when stars flicker in a dark background, rain or snow follows soon.

Jill—Well, the stars must have been doing some tall flickering of late.

Willing Worker.

An amusing incident is told which took place in one of the occupied districts of Belgium where the German occupier doles out potatoes to such of the starving people as agree to work for him. One recipient presented himself before the German authorities and declared himself quite ready in return for a supply of potatoes to work for the Germans and only for them. He seemed quite decided and genuine in his offer to work.

"Then you are quite willing to sign the declaration?" asked the German officer.

"Yes, quite willing."

"And what is your trade?"

"I am a grave digger," replied the Belgian stolidly.—London Everyman.

At a Wedding.

They have a saw in Afghanistan to the effect that the next best thing to no wife is a good wife.

The Senegalese declare that there are only two good women in the world —one is dead and the other can't be found.

The Chinese hold that if a man lose his bride and a yen, he'll regret the yen. A yen's about a tenth of a cent.

But more comforting, far more comforting than these proverbs, in the wise saying of Don Quixote that there's only one good woman in all the world, and every husband ought to think that his wife is she.

Making Quick Time.

Small Nellie had been to an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" matinee. After the show was over she said: "Mamma, does little Eva play again tonight?"

"Yes, dear, I suppose so," replied the mother.

"Well," continued Nellie, after a moment's thought. "I don't see how she can die and go to heaven at four o'clock and get back in time to die again at eight."

For a man to make a woman happy during courtship is much easier than it is for him to make good after marriage.

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINCEBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Five Giant Fingers Bind Cities.

The five giant spans of steel, which, like gargantuan fingers clutch the two sides of East river, binding New York and Brooklyn together, cost America's metropolis half as much as the Panama canal cost the federal government. Three of them are suspended from cables, the wires of which, if placed end to end, would more than twice girdle the earth. If placed side by side, these five great structures would provide a roadway as wide as the Washington monument is high, and if placed end to end they would make a great bridge over six miles long. Across the Brooklyn bridge alone 125,000 surface cars travel every 24 hours, with other vehicular traffic in proportion.—National Geographic Magazine.

Tempting Fate.

It was behind the scenes of a barnstorming theatrical company.

"Macbeth Parlow is timid about appearing tonight," said one of the troupe.

"How foolish," replied another. "He shouldn't have stage fright. Why, he's been on the boards for years."

"True," replied the first speaker, "but this is the first time he was ever billed for two nights in one town."

For Ten—

A package of New Post Toasties provides servings for ten people—a delicious breakfast dish—corn flakes with new form and new flavour.

New Post Toasties are known by tiny bubbles raised on each flake by the quick, intense heat of the new process of manufacture.

They bear the full, true flavour of prime, white Indian corn, not found in corn flakes of the past; and they are not "chaffy" in the package; and they don't mush down when milk or cream is added, like ordinary corn flakes.

Try some dry—a good way to test the flavour, but they are usually served with rich milk or cream—

Husband's Protest.

With a view to advertising his business, a certain dentist announced that he would supply artificial teeth to the first twelve aged ladies in poor circumstances who applied for them.

The earliest application on the appointed day was an elderly woman in shabby but respectable clothes, who was politely ushered into the waiting room.

Scarcely was she seated when a red-faced old man came to the place, and announced that he had come "about them teeth."

"You are making a mistake," the dentist replied. "I only made my offer to ladies. In fact, there's one lady waiting now."

"Ay, an' it's about 'er I've come," retorted the old man, gruffly. "Tell, 'er 'er 'usband's waitin' for 'er, and if she don't 'op out quick, there'll be trouble. State News in Brief

Doings of Last Few Days Throughout Minnesota Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

Minneapolis.—Twenty-five cars from many parts of the state, including four from Minneapolis, got away Thursday on a sociability tour to Yellowstone park. A large crowd was out to see the cars start.

Winona. — Minnesotans should be given an opportunity to investigate and ascertain the logic of any plan approved by the Economy and Efficiency Commission, in the opinion of Senator James A. Carley of Plainview.

St. Paul. — As a part of a campaign to insure pure milk for Minnesota babies, the state dairy and food commission has issued a bulletin telling dairymen how to handle milk and cream to minimize chances of its contamination by filth and germs.

St. Paul. — Developments in connection with alleged state timber irregularities included an order for remeasurements following discrepancies in official reports on five timber contracts and certification of timber on a tract sold as agricultural land.

East Grand Forks.—Jesse Coulter, a farmer, escaped death after a battle with an enraged bull by leaping on the animals back, seizing an iron ring in it's nose and bringing the bull to the ground. Coulter probably will recover, though severely wounded.

St. Cloud. — A telegram to the local police says that the St. Cloud man of mystery who lost his identity and has been here more than a week unable to tell his name or where he came from may be a Mr. Martinson of White Bear, who disappeared recently. The son of the latter was to come here to identify him.

St. Paul.—Minnesota communities are building public schools this summer at the same rate that has averaged from 300 to 350 new buildings a year for several years, according to S. A. Challman, state commissioner of school buildings. The annual expenditure for school buildings has run from $2,500,000 to $3,500,000.

Minneapolis. — Minnesota is likely to have an average corn crop, in the opinion of Dean Woods of the University college of agriculture. "I have been around the state a good deal lately," he said, "and everywhere the corn is looking good. It promises to yield 50 per cent better in both quantity and quality than last year."

Hibbing. — A resolution approving the enfranchisement of women was voted down by the annual convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor. Election of officers was the other business of the session. E. G. Hall, president, and George W. Lawson, secretary-treasurer, were unopposed for re-election. The 1917 meeting likely will be given to Faribault.

Washington. — Secretary of Agriculture Houston has requested the Minnesota Highway Commission to furnish him with information regarding road conditions throughout the state, having in mind the Bankhead bill, which appropriates $75,000,000 to be spent on post road improvements and to be expended under his direction. He has also asked for copies of Minnesota road laws.

St. Paul.—J. Frank Hanly, former governor of Indiana, was nominated for president by the prohibition national convention. A demonstration lasting 5 minutes greeted the nomination of Hanly. His supporters paraded the aisles of the auditorium, shouting, singing and throwing hats. The convention voted to place an initiative, referendum and recall plank in the party platform. The resolutions committee had voted to reject this plank, but the convention adopted the minority report.

Washington, D. C. — A total of $1,076,000 is provided for public buildings in Minnesota under the provisions of the public buildings bill reported to the House. Of this the largest single appropriation is for Duluth, which receives $300,000. Minneapolis is next with $100,000 for remodeling the old Federal building. Other appropriations for Minnesota buildings include $50,000 for Albert Lea, $35,000 for Litchfield, $51,000 for Northfield, $55,000 for Thief River Falls and $35,000 for Wadena.

St. Paul.—Saving of thousands of dollars in switching charges annually to Minneapolis milling interests and to farmers of Minnesota was assured in a decision by the Minnesota supreme court in the first of a series of cases involving the switching railroads of Minneapolis.

The supreme court holds this particular road, the Minneapolis Eastern railway, is really only a part of the Milwaukee and the Omaha railroads, which jointly own the Minneapolis Eastern. That is to say, the owner roads may not add to their charge for carrying grain to terminal houses or mills on the switching roads any more than they may charge for switching a car of grain from their main track to one of their sidetracks.

Day Bandits Rob Driver.

Minneapolis, July 22 Holding up C A Ryan, a driver for the C S. Brackett Grocery company at 1 p. m., two men after a hard battle forced Ryan to give them $13 and fled. Cornered by two policeman in an alley both were captured after one of them had fired on Patrolman Knighton. The suspects who were caught gave their names as Harry Price and George Moore. The bandits stopped Ryan on Excelsior boulevard and asked for a ride.

Sea Militia Win Honors.

Minnesota naval militiamen on board the U. S. S. Rhode Island, off the Atlantic coast, won highest honors during the first three days of the training cruise off the Atlantic coast.

Captain Guy A. Eaton and Lieutenant Carhart, commanding officers, with all members of the Gopher contingent, received special commendation from Rear Admiral Helm, commander of the training squadron.

The training fleet steamed from the Philadelphia navy yard July 15, the squadron consisting of the dreadnought Rhode Island, flagship, and seven battleships.

Searchlights of the United States squadron at signal practice revealed cruisers circling outside Cape May. They were Allied warships waiting for the German merchant submarine Deutschland, now at Baltimore, to make its hourly expected dash to sea.

The Rhode Island's wireless constantly is intercepting radio messages from European wireless stations to Allied war craft stationed off the Atlantic coast.

Ensign A. D. Mayer, U. S. N., of St. Paul, who graduated from Annapolis last June, has charge of the division of Minnesotans.

Camps in Good Condition.

Another report from Major General Bliss to the War department on his inspection of national guard camps on the Mexican border said he found the encampment At Llano Grande, Donna, Mercedes and Harlingen, Tex., in an excellent state of health, with sanitary conditions ranging from good to excellent. Minnesota national guards are in Llano Grande.

The dispatch follows:

"Finished inspection of Minnesota and Indiana infantry brigades and two regiments of Nebraska infantry and auxiliary troops from these states, all stationed at Llano Grande and portions of Texas infantry brigade stationed at Donna, Mercedes and Harlingen.

"Command is in excellent state of health, the sick report being practically negligible.

"Camp water supply system at Llano Grande is nearly completed.

"Sanitary conditions of the various camps varied from good to excellent.

"All officers and men interviewed by me stated that the rations are abundant in quantity, excellent in quality and of suitable variety."

Spanish War Veterans Meet.

No attempt will be made by veterans of the Spanish-American war to organize a reserve force until a call for volunteers is issued. The state convention which closed Wednesday at Albert Lea, so decided. Practical preparedness was indorsed.

Speakers urged preparedness which begins in the public schools.

O. G. Sanstad of Kenyon was elected commander; Albert E. Edwards, Minneapolis, senior vice commander; S. O. Simonson, Albert Lea, junior vice commander; A. L. Lladek, St. Paul, inspector; Dr. T. C. Clark, St. Paul, surgeon; W. E. Ostrander, Albert Lea, chaplain; and Herman Nigg, Waseca, marshal.

C. F. Dolan of St. Paul was appointed quartermaster and Lucius Clement, Minneapolis, adjutant. Charles Dolan and Ernest Lundeen of Minneapolis, J. E. Swan of Albert Lea and Elmore Phelps of St. Paul were named delegates to the national convention in Chicago September 4 to 6.

The next convention will be at Waseca.

First Regiment Needs Funds.

The First Minnesota regiment needs a fund of about $2,500 deposited to the credit of the regiment in a Minneapolis bank and on which the regiment can draw.

With the first share of the state funds practically exhausted and with the mercury climbing at Camp Llano Grande, Colonel E. D. Luce said that twin city residents can practically insure the health of the men by raising a substantial fund and placing it to the account of the regiment.

Colonel Luce and other officers of the First believe it impractical to make shipment of necessities from Minneapolis. Ice and lemons are the two things most needed, for the government has not arranged for an adequate ice supply and the water from the Rio Grande, without ice, is like drinking water from Lake Nokomis in July.

Governor Visits Benson.

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist departed for Northern Minnesota to spend a few days as the guest of E. M. Thornton, of Benson, at the latter's summer home on Lake Minnewaska, and also to inspect state fish hatcheries. In company with Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, the Governor left in the state fish car, going to Detroit and Glenwood to visit the hatcheries.

Frankson Case Dismissed.

The petition of thirty-two citizens of Minneapolis, Wayzata and Kenyon to annul the election of Thomas Frankson as candidate of the Republican party for the office of lieutenant governor of the state was ordered dismissed by Judge Hascal R. Brill in district court. The dismissal was granted on the motion of H. A. Loomis, attorney for Mr. Frankson, because G. S. Grimes, a petitioner, and attorney for the petitioners, was unable to get twenty-four of the litigants into court.

WHO'S GOT THE MONEY

In Four Staples Alone the Farmers of Western Canada Produced 408 Million Dollars in 1915.

The Calgary (Alberta) printers have a house organ, called "The Magnet," and in its columns a few weeks ago appeared an article entitled "Who's Got the money?" It was cleverly written, and but for its length, the writer would have been pleased to have copied the article in its entirety. The purpose for which this article is published, however, that of letting the readers of the paper know of the great progress that is being made in agriculture in Western Canada, will be served by copying a portion of the article. Many of the readers of this paper doubtless have friends in one of the three provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta, and they will be interested in feeling that their friends are enjoying a portion of the wealth that has come to Western Canada farmers as a result of careful tilling of a soil prodigal in everything that goes to make good grain, cattle, horses, hogs and sheep.

Reproducing from the article:

The Government does not produce money. It can stamp "One Dollar" on a slip of white paper, and we accept it at a dollar's worth, but neither the paper nor the printing are worth a copper. What gives it value is the promise of the people of Canada which stands behind the printed slip, and our faith in that promise.

Now do you know who's got the money?

Let us put it into figures. The farmers of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba last year raised 342,948,000 bushels of wheat. If we take for an average 85 cents a bushel in Manitoba, 81 cents in Saskatchewan, and 79 cents in Alberta the season's wheat crop was worth $280,629,000. Add to this an oat crop of 334,840,000 bushels, worth $95,457,000; a barley crop of 35,254,200 bushels, worth $15,871,000, and a flax crop of 10,559,000 bushels worth $15,843,000, and you find that on these four staples alone the farmers of Western Canada produced a wealth of $407,800,000.

Please note that this wealth is in money. It is not in real estate at inflated values, industrial stocks that are half water and the rest air, fictitious goodwills or unsaleabe merchandise. It is in hard cash, or—which is better —hard wheat.

These figures are only for the staple grain productions. They do not include the millions of dollars represented by the live stock and dairying industries, or the additional millions included in the root, fruit, and garden crops. The creameries of Saskatchewan, for instance produced more buttermilk and ice cream last year than their total production amounted to six years ago. The milk, butter, and cheese production of Alberta for 1915 was valued at over eleven million dollars. The potato crop of the three provinces was worth five millions and a half. Corn and alfalfa—comparatively new crops, charged with tremendous possibilities —amounted to over a round million. Even honey — you didn't know we raised honey (the bee kind) in this country, did you? Manitoba produced 105,000 pounds in 1915, and there isn't a bee in the province that doesn't swear he's a better honey-sorter than anything in California or Washington.

That's where the money is; in the jeans of our honest friend the farmer, who was too slow to get into the cities when the rest of us saw short-cuts to wealth; who hadn't imagination enough to think a man can make money without earning it, and who was too dull to know that hard work is foolish. Well, he has the laugh now. Likewise the money.—Advertisement.

Souvenir.

On the registry of Lyons, France, there has been recorded the birth of a girl child. The father, a working man, limped painfully, his chest decorated with the Croix de Guerre, appeared in person to make the prescribed announcement. He gave the child's first name as Verdunette. A clerk suggested that it was an odd name.

"It will at least serve to remind her," said the honest man, "of the place where her father got knocked out."

Struggling to Be Optimistic.

"I hated to see my boy Josh start for the border," said Farmer Corntossel. "But there's one thing I congratulated him on."

"What did you say?"

"I says, 'Josh, the speech makin' out this way is poorer every year. Maybe it's lucky you're getting away just in time to miss the Fourth o' July picnics.'"

Steel vs. Iron.

For some purpose iron is to be preferred to steel and vice versa. To easily distinguish one from the other, make a bright spot on the metal with a file or sand paper and apply a single drop of nitric acid. Allow it to remain for one or two minutes and wash or wipe off. If the spot has a pale ashy appearance it is wrought iron; if it is a brownish black, it is steel; if a deep black, it is cast iron.

Weeping Willows.

The weeping willows, so-called (scientific name S. babylonica), is a native of China, from which country it has been taken over most of the civilized earth. It varies in height and dimensions, according to climate and soil, and invariably maintains its drooping habit, the chief cause of its attractiveness.

Making Your Choice
In making choice of a bank to become the depository of your crop funds and the medium of disbursing them, study well its elements of strength.
Strong safes and time locks are incidental necessities but it is more important that the men who manage the Bank shall be strong men free from the taint of speculation and worthy of confidence.
Choose a Bank that seeks to prosper by loaning carefully. These are points of merit we claim as a basis for your confidence and business.

Brief Mention of What Is Transpiring in Various Sections of Our Own and Foreign Countries

MEXICAN TROUBLE.

General Calles has demobilized 4,000 Mexican cavalrymen, who had been encamped in Fronteras, Cuchuta and Nacozari, to the south of Douglas, for several weeks.

* * *

It has been announced officially in Mexico City that the differences which have arisen between the United States and Mexico may be considered as satisfactorily settled.

* * *

The Mexico Northwestern train, filled with forage and supplies consigned to Casas Grandes merchants for the use of General Pershing's army, which was held up in Juarez, has been released.

* * *

The military authorities at El Paso, Tex., have learned of negotiations carried on by allied Villa and other Mexican political elements for the turning over of the Carranza garrison at Juarez to Villa.

* * *

A half million dollars for screen wire is reported to have been authorized for General Funston to protect the kitchens and mess rooms in the army along the border from flies and other carriers of disease.

* * *

The Cedille brothers, heading a band of 2,000 rebels in the state of San Luis Potosi, unconditionally surrendered to the Carranza government with their followers. No more rebels are now operating in San Luis Potosi.

* * *

General Pershing has made the declaration that he believes the trouble between the United States and Mexico is settled. He asserts that Mexicans in the vicinity of his column along the Mexican railroad, are very friendly.

* * *

The Mexico Northwestern railroad again has been opened for the shipment of supplies to American troops in Mexico. This action follows the lifting of the embargo on food and other exportations to Mexicans.

* * *

General Matias Ramos, directing Carranza forces operating against Villista bandits in southern Chihuahua, is redisposing his troops preparatory to a quick, powerful drive which, it is hoped, will break the outlaw's power in that section.

* * *

A declaration that he and all other members of the Carranza government are mutually united with the firm determination of establishing order in Mexico, was made by General Jacinto Trevino, military commander of the northwest.

GENERAL.

Five persons died in Pittsburg, Pa., of the oppressive heat in a single day and forty were overcome.

* * *

Iowa democrats for the first time in the memory of any of the leaders went on record in the state platform as favoring prohibition at the state convention at Des Moines.

* * *

That more people in the city of Chicago go to moving picture theaters than attend churches was the statement made by Mrs. Harriett Stokes Thompson, in a report to delegates of the convention of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of America.

* * *

William Orpet, the university student charged with murdering Marion Lambert, a high school girl and his former sweetheart, was found not guilty by a jury in Judge Donnelly's court at Waukegan, Ill., after five hours' deliberation. The case, including selection of a jury occupied the better part of two months.

* * *

Thirty-two persons lost their lives in the fire at Tatoi forest, which destroyed the chateau of King Constantine of Greece and the crown prince. Twenty-eight of the victims were members of the Royal guards. The king barely escaped with his life, being trapped by the flames and fainted. He was rescued by a soldier.

* * *

Sir Ernest Shackelton, the British Antarctic explorer who, on returning from the south polar zone last April, left twenty-one of his companions on Elephant Island, has sailed from Punta on a small schooner to rescue them.

* * *

A corporation to be known as the American Foreign Securities company, will be organized by a group of bankers in New York, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., and Brown Brothers & Co., to loan $100,000,000 to the French government.

* * *

Two children have died of infantile paralysis in Mitchell, So. Dak., according to a statement by the city health officer. Children have been prohibited from attending public gatherings.

MEXICAN BAND IS WIPED OUT; TWO AMERICANS SLAIN

OUTLAWS CROSS RIO GRANDE BELOW FORT HANCOCK, TEXAS, —CAVALRYMAN AND CUSTOMS INSPECTOR KILLED.

U. S. CAVALRY OUTPOST SURPRISES BANDIT GANG

Mounted Patrol Intercepts Alleged Stock Thieves and Forces Fight—All Five of Mexicans Believed Killed—Bandits Thought to Be Villistas.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 1.—Two Americans were killed and one was wounded in a battle with Mexican bandits who crossed the Rio Grande five miles below Fort Hancock, Texas, early Monday. There were five bandits in the party.

Private John Twoney, troop F, Eigth U. S. Cavalry, and Robert Woods, a United States customs inspector, were killed. Sergeant Lewis Thompson, troop F, Eighth U. S. cavalry, was seriously wounded.

All Bandits Slain.

It is believed all five of the bandits were killed.

More than 200 shots were fired during the engagement. The Mexicans, it is believed, had crossed the line in an attempt to steal horses.

Their presence was discovered by American outposts. The bandits were surprised and attacked by the cavalry patrol. Mounted on good horses, they attempted to flee. They were intercepted and forced to fight.

General George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, said that he had learned of the engagement through unofficial sources.

Members of Villa Band.

Reports reaching here said that efforts to identify any of the Mexicans had been futile, but that it was believed they were members of one of the Villista bands recently reported to have been operating south of the Rio Grande in that section.

Several stock stealing raids have taken place in the district within the last few weeks. One of them resulted in a small American detachment crossing the border in pursuit of the raiders.

THREE MONTHS TRAINING FOR BORDER TROOPS SEEN

Orders Received at El Paso Outline Program for Energetic Drills and Maneuvers at Front.

El Paso, Aug. 1.—Three months, it is estimated, will be required for completion of a course of training for the militiamen in the El Paso military district, projected in orders received here. Army officers predicted it might mean the militia would remain on the border for the next three months.

The order, over the signature of General Bell, closed with the following: "Practical field work and maneuvers October 1 to 31."

The program outlines three months of energetic drills and maneuvers designed to whip the militia into shape for any emergency.

Presumably similar orders were issued to all militia along the entire Mexican border.

UNIONIST SUCCEEDS BIRRELL

Henry Duke Appointed Chief Secretary of Ireland.

London, Aug. 1.—Henry Edward Duke, a barrister and Unionist member of parliament for Exeter, has been appointed to be the new chief secretary of Ireland, in succession of Augustine Birrell. The new chief secretary will be given a seat in the cabinet.

No new lord lieutenant of Ireland will be appointed to succeed Lord Wimborne, who resigned after the outbreak of the Dublin rebellion.

GUARDS MAY FIGHT I. W. W.

Militia Company Requested by Mayor of Mitchell, S. D.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Senator Johnson of South Dakota has asked Secretary Baker to send back to Mitchell, S. D., a company of militia now stationed at Redfield. He said the mayor of Mitchell had asked for aid in suppressing disturbances created by Industrial Workers of the World.

Secretary Baker said the company would be moved if requested formally by the governor.

Forest Fires in Northern Michigan.

Cadillac, Mich., August 1.—Forest fires are raging in half a dozen northern Michigan counties and already heavy damage has been done. Two weeks of the hottest weather in the region's history has dried brush on cutover lands until it is like tinder. This city is buried beneath smoke clouds coming from nearby fires and homes on the outskirts are threatened. Fifty men were sent to Cherry Grove where three barns and two houses were destroyed. Fires are also doing serious damage in other towns.

Reesche Now Brigadier General.

After the mustering in of Brigadier General F. E. Reesche as commander of the Minnesota troops and the election of Lieutenant Colonel H. V. Eva of Duluth as his successor as colonel of the Third regiment, brigade headquarters were opened here. Major A. F. Pratt of Anoka was chosen lieutenant colonel and Captain Carl C. Weaver, regimental adjutant, was promoted to major. Lieutenant A. K Wheaton of Duluth, and H. C. Luers of Owatonna were assigned as aides to General Reesche.

The First regiment has received a shipment of 18,000 rounds of rifle ammunition. What is known as Course B will be given the Minnesota troops, this differing from the regular range work and being necessary here because of the lack of an adequate rifle range. After a thorough drill in practice firing the men will shoot at targets representing prostrate figures. Officers say that such an arrangement can be made without all the facilities provided by a range such as the men had at Fort Snelling.

Build New Field Hospital.

Brig. Gen. E. M. Lewis, post commander, announced that work is to be started immediately on a field hospital to cost $15,000, which will replace the present ranch building. This hospital was proved inadequate to handle the cases sent over from camp and is not provided with the conveniences which the surgeons desire in handling the men.

Money has been provided by the War department for the erection of screened mess rooms and kitchens for all the troops now in camp, it was announced. The kitchens will be so constructed that they can be transported with the troops in case they move south. Surgeons declare that only by such measures can the fly problem be solved and danger from disease minimized. Thus far only the Indiana regiments are provided with such enclosures.

Troops Fire on Mexican.

Straw has been provided for those men having ticks, but this was of little assistance to the Minnesota men, who do not have this equipment. The delay in the shipment of cots has not yet been explained, though the quartermaster has been endeavoring to trace the missing articles. Minnesota guardsmen will continue to sleep on the ground until the cots arrive.

Considerable excitement was caused in camp when men from Company A, First regiment, who were patroling the water canals some distance from camp, fired on a Mexican.

Reorganize Artillery Unit.

Officers and men of the First battalion, Minnesota field artillery, are speculating on rumors of further reorganization of the artillery unit. Captain C. Lesley Ames of B battery probably will be offered the position of major which he recently refused when he nominated Lieutenant Perkins of the regular army for that office. A recent ruling of the War department, which says no commissioned officer in the regular army can accept a position in the national guard which places him under a national guard officer, makes it impossible for Lieutenant Perkins to take the post.

If Captain Ames is made major, it is said Captain Wallace Cole of A battery will be transferred back to B battery, and that Lieutenant Fletcher Rockwood of A battery will be made the commanding officer of A.

Captain Cole formerly was senior first lieutenant of B battery. He was transferred to A when that unit was in the process of organization and brought it up above peace strength by a strenuous recruiting campaign.

* * *

Accept Battery Officers.

The officers' roll of the First battalion, First field artillery, is intact after the medical examination of the unit just completed by Captain Thomas H. Johnson, chief medical officer. Not one officer was disqualified, although Colonel Arthur Johnson, U. S. A., said following the completion of his medical report, the tests disqualified 70 men, 19 in Battery A, 19 in Battery B, 29 in Battery C and 3 in the First artillery band.

One hundred men are still wanted by the battalion, Lieutenant-Colonel W. J. Murphy, battalion commander, said. There are now 115 men on the rolls of Battery A, 135 in Battery B and 148 in Battery C. Battery A must be recruited to peace strength of 133 before the unit can entrain for the south.

U. S. Troops Healthy.

Good-bye to the good old style of lime whitened army camps. The use of lime has been stopped in all camps by orders of Major W. N. Bispham, sanitary inspector for the army of the lower Rio Grande. "We've discovered that flies like white color," said the major. "What we are looking for is something black in the way of a disinfectant. The latest idea is lampblack mixed with petroleum." "We want Americans to know the exact state of health and sanitary conditions here," said Bispham. "Many wild stories are being sent out about illness among the men. All are untrue."

To Aid Soldier Students.

A special loan fund has been provided at the University of Minnesota for students who, because of being at the Mexican border, have been unable to earn money in the summer to continue their school work. Announcement to this effect was made by President George E. Vincent. The rules with regard to late payment of fees will, if necessary, be suspended if the soldier boys are unable to comply with regulations. Time schedules and registration cards will be sent the students.

STEAMER APPAM GIVEN TO ENGLISH OWNERS BY JUDGE

CAPTURED BRITISH LINER IS ILLEGALLY HELD ACCORDING TO DECISION FILED IN LIBEL CASE IN FEDERAL COURT.

NEUTRALITY LAWS ARE VIOLATED BY GERMANS

Decision Holds Prussian-American Treaty Does Not Apply and That Ship Must Be Regarded as Abandoned and Stranded on Our Shores —Legal Claim Lost by Dash.

Norfolk, Va., July 31.—Federal Judge Waddill has just decided the libel proceedings for possession of the captured British liner Appam in favor of the English owners and against the German prize crew which brought her here.

The court held that the German government lost all legal claim to the Appam and her cargo as prizes of war when Lieutenant Berg and his prize crew on February 1 last brought them into the neutral waters of Hampton Roads with the intention of "laying up" the vessel indefinitely.

Cites Precedents.

The court held further:

That the Prussia-American treaty of 1799, renewed in 1828, does not apply or control in the case so as to guarantee the prize crew asylum in United States waters;

That the action of the German prize court in declaring the Appam a prize while the case was in litigation in the United States courts has no effect on the jurisdiction of the courts;

That the jurisdiction of the United States courts in the case is established by a long line of precedents including several by the supreme court.

U. S. Neutrality Violated.

"The court's conclusion," the decision reads, "is that the manner of bringing the Appam into the waters of the United States as well as her presence in those waters, constitutes a violation of the neutrality of the United States; that she came in without bidding or permission; that she is here in violation of the law; that she is unable to leave for lack of a crew which she cannot provide or augment without further violation of neutrality; that in her present condition she is without a lawful right to be and remain in the waters; that, as between her captors and owners, to all practical interests and purposes, she must be treated as abandoned and stranded upon our shores; and that her owners are entitled to restitution of their property, which this court should award, irrespective of the prize court proceedings of the court of the imperial government of the German empire; and it will be so ordered."

SEAMEN THREATEN TO STRIKE

Ten Thousand Workers on Great Lakes Make Demands.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 31.—A strike of 10,000 Seamen, firemen, oilers and cooks on the Great Lakes, Sept. 1, is threatened unless vessel owners accede to demands to be fixed by vote of three unions concerned next week.

Union officials, who claim to have organized 65 per cent of the able seamen on the lakes, say a strike would result in a complete tieup of traffic on the lakes.

The men are demanding higher wages and shorter hours. They want a "three watch" system, equivalent to an eight hour working day, instead of the present "two watch" plan.

Wage increases are asked.

U. S. SENATE ACTS FOR IRISH

Requests Wilson to Express Hope of Clemency to British.

Washington, July 31.—By a vote of 46 to 19, the Senate adopted a resolution requesting President Wilson to transmit to the British government an expression of hope that it would exercise clemency in the treatment of Irish political prisoners.

By its action the Senate overturned the report of a majority of its foreign relations committee and followed a course outlined in a minority report made by Chairman Stone and Senators O'Gorman and Pittman. The action primarily is inspired by the case of Sir Roger Casement.

Lloyd-George Expresses Confidence.

London, July 31.—"I don't despair about an eventual solution of the Irish problem, in spite of the recent failure to reach an agreement between the nationalists and the unionists," said David Lloyd George, replying to a request for his views.

Business Arbitration Court Is Plan.

Chicago, July 31.—A business arbitration court, said to be the first of its kind in the world, will be inaugurated in Chicago today. The plan was approved by the judges of the municipal court, who adopted a rule placing the branch in operation. Two judges were named to preside. The new tribunal will have jurisdiction only over questions of law in commercial disputes. Questions of fact are to be decided outside of court by arbitration boards of experts selected from the various trades and industries.

RANCHING

Cattle and Horse Ranching in Western Canada—Steers Brought 10 Cents a Pound on the Seattle Market.

That big money is made by the large cattle rancher in Western Canada, and also by the small farmer as well, is shown by the undisputable facts presented from time to time. A rancher, near Gleichen, Alberta, who commenced in a small way nine years ago, recently disposed of 1,243 cattle at a total of $101,304.50, and this was only his surplus stock for the present season.

A December shipment of 217 head of ranch steers brought the owner an average of over $80 per head. They were taken straight from the range without any grain feeding and were in excellent condition to be sold for the Christmas trade. Another shipment of 100 head, averaging $70 each, was made to Seattle. The highest price paid on the Seattle market was for an Albertan steer, which weighed 1,700 lbs., and brought the fancy price of 10c per lb., or $170.

Six carloads of live stock from ranches 65 miles from Pincher, Alberta, shipped to Spokane, excited keen competition there on account of their exceptional quality. The price realized was $10,028. American dealers say they must look to Canada for beef supplies.

A livestock firm, which has shipped over 2,000 head of beef cattle to the American farmer since the middle of November, reports a splendid reception of Alberta stock in the United States.

A carload of choice Alberta steers were sold early in January for shipment to the British Columbia coast at $6.70 per 100 lbs. and, later on, a lot from Carstairs brought $6.90—the highest price paid since the spring of 1915. Shipments from Calgary livestock yards during 1915 were: Horses, 8,675; cattle, 30,577; hogs, 144,515; sheep, 12,410. A course in agriculture and livestock demonstration which has been conducted by the Provincial Dept. of Agriculture here was well attended, showing the interest taken by city residents in agricultural progress.

John Young, of Sidney, Man., gives his experiences in sheep-raising as follows, as quoted in a local paper:

"I bought a bunch of fifty ewes, which cost me $262.50. With this little flock I demonstrated just what can be done in the sheep business. This fall I sold fifty fat lambs at $6.50 per head, $325, and 18 of the best ewe lambs, which I kept, I value at $8.00 per head, $144. The wool sold at an average of $2.07 per head, $103.50. This makes the very nice total of $572.50."

"They ran out nearly every day all winter. The value of hay and oats was small, and one can make them very comfortable through the winter with very little expense. For shelter I have a shed, about 125 feet long and 14 feet wide, which I cover with straw. This gives them protection from the cold winds; yet it is always cool enough to be healthy."

"I intend going in more for sheep this fall, as I believe them to be the most profitable stock on the farm."

Desire of farmers and ranchers to increase their sheep holdings is indicated by the sale of 2,500 head recently at $9.00 each. High wool prices and profitable demand for mutton are the reason given for such a figure.

Manitoba sheep breeders arranged last year for the Provincial Department of Agriculture to handle their wool output on a co-operative basis and obtained most satisfactory results. About 75,000 lbs. of wool were handled, netting the shippers over 25c per lb.—Advertisement.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Jordan, Minn. — Four Minneapolis citizens have been taken into that city all dangerously injured as the result of being hurled twenty-five feet from an automobile near Jordan, Minn., at the breaking of the steering gear.

St. Paul. — D. P. Tierney, assistant state forester, arrived from the forest fire region and conferred with the attorney general's department to ask legal aid for prosecutions under regulations regarding slash and brush disposal.

St. Paul. — First official notice of the appropriation bill recently passed by Congress under which Minnesota will receive more than $1,400,000 Federal good roads aid during the next ten years has been received by Governor Burnquist.

Duluth. — Formal demand for 5 cents more an hour or from 35 to 40 cents, has been made upon the Northern Pacific, which controls the bulk of the Duluth docks. This is for day work. A night rate of 45 cents is asked and 50 cents an hour for loading cement.

St. Paul. — Provision for early establishment of a large industrial and custodial institution to serve as an adjunct to practically all the state penal, correctional and charitable institutions, may be recommended to the next Legislature by the state board of control.

Ortonville.—Ortonville citizens took up arms against an invasion of more than 300 Industrial Workers of the World, and before the latter had been put to rout and driven from town, a number of shots had been fired by both sides, but apparently without injuring anyone.

Duluth. — The big steamer W. Grant Morden, which held the previous record, passed the Soo with 14,404 bushels of wheat more than ever had been carried and cleared from Port Arthur, Ont., with 490,720 bushels of wheat for Port McNicoll, on Georgian bay.

Minneapolis. — Forty-three Minnesotans passed the recent examinations conducted by the state board of pharmacy and have been granted registrations as pharmacists or assistants. As a result of the examinations three Minneapolis men will become pharmacists and 18 will qualify as assistants.

Washington, D. C.—Minnesota gained 1,218 manufacturing establishments in the 10 years from 1904 to 1914, and at the close of the 1914 census had 5,974 establishments of every kind. These figures are in the bulletin, carrying condensation of the forthcoming detailed manufacturing census of the state, that was sent out from Washington. In 1909 there were 5,561 establishments.

St. Paul. — Nothing daunted by their failure to win the route of the Jefferson highway through Northern Minnesota, representatives of the Western and Eastern routes met immediately following the announcement of the choice of the central route by J. D. Clarkson, general manager of the highway, and formulated plans for establishing the Northern Minnesota Scenic highway.

Minneapolis. — Three possibilities for the future of the farm were suggested by President Vincent of the University of Minnesota, speaking at the rural life conference at the university farm. One of these possibilities, the president said, is corporate control of large farming areas; another, cooperative control by farmers themselves, and the third a wider extension of the tenant system.

St. Paul. — Total deposits in the 994 state banks operated under the direction of the state banking department were $93,987,749.41 at the close of business June 30, a net increase of $26,545,958.21 since June 23, 1915. This showing, A. H. Turrittin, state superintendent of banks, regards as the best in the history of the department. The total resources reported were $224,715,202.01, against $198,169,243.80 in 1915.

Wadena. — The tourists in the Jefferson highway sociability run arrived here five minutes ahead of their schedule, although they were delayed by a bad hill between Little Falls and Staples for more than three minutes. On their arrival here a message from Staples was awaiting the officials, which advised the hill will not cause further difficulty to tourists. The business men of Staples have pledged $2,000 to be expended in properly grading the hill.

St. Paul. — Increased revenue from the state tax on liquor licenses and decrease of the wet territory made a paradox discovered by George La Fond, chief clerk in the treasurer's office. "Despite reports of more cities and counties going dry during the year, the state received $41,909.08 liquor license taxes, compared with $38,975.56 during the fiscal year preceding. "The only explantion offered thus far is that wet places must be getting wetter."

Minneapolis. — The animal industry group of the department of agriculture at the University of Minnesota has been reorganized by the acquisition of two new men in such a way as to make it rank with the best similar departments in the country, in the opinion of President Vincent.

Washington, D. C. — The average annual wages of the men employed in industrial plants in Minnesota increased from $560 to $632.43 in the five years between 1909 and 1914, according to the advance report of the United States industrial survey. The increase is nearly 13 per cent.

RECOVERS JEWELS IN DARING TRIP

Mexican Senora in Guise of Peon Rescues Hidden Family Property.

ESCAPES THE BANDITS

Ugly and Poorly-Clad, Aristocratic Wife of Rich Refugee Visits Capital of Chihuahua and Carries Away Treasure.

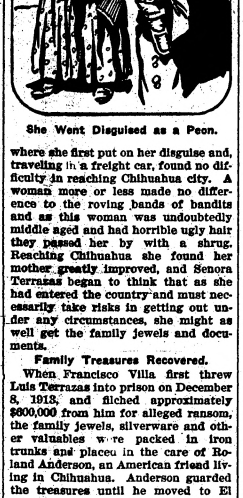
Los Angeles.—After one of the most remarkable adventures ever undertaken by a woman of aristocratic birth, Senora Teresa B. de Terrazas, having eluded by means of clever disguises the hordes of bandits on the lookout to capture and hold her for ransom, returned a few days ago to Los Angeles, bringing with her the Terrazas family jewels, which at infinite peril she rescued from their hiding place in Chihuahua, Mexico. Legal papers and documents of great value also were secured from their hiding place, where they had been secreted by her husband prior to his incarceration in the Mexican federal prison.

The entire journey in Mexico was made by Senora Terrazas disguised as a peon, a heavy black wig completely hiding her white hair, a threadbare shawl draped sloppily about her shoulders, and a cheap calico dress completing her outfit. During her return trip from Chihuahua city, after she had recovered the jewels and papers, it was necessary for her to carry a basket in which the valuable articles rested underneath a collection of rags and cheap ornaments, such as are usually carried by peon women.

Called by Mother's Illness.

The adventure originated more than a month ago when Senora Terrazas received word that her mother was very ill in Chihuahua. Senora Terrazas had not been in Mexico since last year when, after disguising several of her children, who were being held by Villa, she sent them to El Paso and then fled in disguise to work from the border for the release of her husband and son, who had remained under sentence of death at the hands of Villa. Ultimately she succeeded in a plan by which they escaped. She then declared she would never return to Mexico until peace had been restored.

The news of her mother's condition, however, changed her plans. Leaving Los Angeles she journeyed to El Paso, where she first put on her disguise and, traveling in a freight car, found no difficulty in reaching Chihuahua city. A woman more or less made no difference to the roving bands of bandits and as this woman was undoubtedly middle aged and had horrible ugly hair they passed her by with a shrug. Reaching Chihuahua she found her mother greatly improved, and Senora Terrazas began to think that as she had entered the country and must necessarily take risks in getting out under any circumstances, she might as well get the family jewels and documents.



She Went Disguised as a Peon.

Family Treasures Recovered.

When Francisco Villa first threw Luis Terrazas into prison on December 8, 1913, and filched approximately $600,000 from him for alleged ransom, the family jewels, silverware and other valuables were packed in iron trunks and placed in the care of Roland Anderson, an American friend living in Chihuahua. Anderson guarded the treasures until he moved to El Paso, following the murder of his son, Morris Anderson, by the Mexicans, when he transfered the trunks with their precious contents to a secluded hiding place in the rear of a hovel. In this hovel lived an old woman who had been a nurse employed in the Terrazas family for years and who had remained true to her old masters.

Anderson had informed the Terrazas family of the transfer and when Senora Terrazas visited the hovel kept by the aged nurse she recovered the treasures with the assistance of two peons and with the more valued ones in her possession, made her way back to the United States in the same way and by using the same disguise that had assisted her in escaping the close scrutiny of the Mexican bandits along the route.

TREE TOADS AND FAIRIES.

"Very early one morning," said Daddy, "the Fairies invited the Tree Toads to have Luncheon with them in the Wooded Grove where they are so apt to give their Parties. The Tree Toads had accepted and the day had arrived for the Luncheon.

"The Fairies wanted to look especially lovely, and fresh, and cool, for it had been so hot lately, and they knew that to look cool made other Folks and little Animals almost feel cooler.

Wanted to Look Especially Lovely.

"So they had their Shower Baths the very first thing when they got up."

"Did they have their shower baths in brooks or in streams?" asked Nancy.

"I bet I could guess," said Nick.

"Where?" asked Nancy.

"Why, they have their Shower Baths under the falls that come down the sides of rocks. There are ever so many of them all around that the Fairies can find I suppose."

"Yes, Nick, you're quite right," said Daddy, and Nancy smiled, for she loved to think of the little Fairies bright and early in the morning letting the cool water that shoots down the rocks go all over them.

"And as a special honor because they'd been invited to the Fairies' Luncheon Party, the Tree Toads tried to look their best, too. They asked the Dew Drops if they could wash their little faces in their rare water. And the Dew Drops were very willing, especially when they heard that the Tree Toads wanted to look their best for the Fairies.

"Dew Drops always make the Animals look so much better, and to the fairies they look very handsome when they have washed their faces in the magic dew drops that come all over the ground each morning.

"Now when the Fairies saw the Tree Toads and when the Tree Toads saw the Fairies they all gasped. The Tree Toads had never seen the fairies looking so lovely. They wore dresses of very soft green which were decorated with little purple Daisies. Their wands matched, and their wings were the color of soft, pale green, too.

"And they were sitting around in the Wooded Grove on ferns and mossy patches of ground when the Tree Toads arrived.

"But the Tree Toads gave the Fairies just as much of a surprise, for they wore green suits, too. They looked quite noble for having washed their faces with magic Dew Drops, and they wore green spectacles made out of leaves with holes, to make them look wise. In addition to all this they, carried green canes made out of young trees, and they arrived in an old wagon made out of the root of a tree. The wagon was drawn by the Green Lizard family.

"First got out Grandpa and Grandma Tree Toad, and then all the younger Toads hopped out after.

"'Glad to see you, Toads and Green Lizards, too,' said the Fairies. And the toads made very queer sounds down in their throats which meant: 'We're glad to see you, too.' The Lizards wriggled with pleasure, for, of course, they had been brought along as an excuse to draw the wagon for the Toads and they were delighted when the Fairies said they were glad to see them.

"The Luncheon began of delicious things made out of the best of woodland foods, and last of all came the green woodland ice cream. In fact, I forgot to tell you everything was green.

"But when the ice cream came along, what should be seen on top of it but a little, tiny old Man made out of ice cream, too.

They Looked Quite Noble.

"How the Tree Toads did scream with delight. 'What's your name?' they cried.

"'I'm the little Man of the ice cream freezer. Every time ice cream is made in one of the freezers where I live, I come out on top of the ice cream dressed all up as ice cream, too.'

"'But you look good to eat,' said one of the Toad Children.

"'That's what I'm here for,' and he looked very happy and pleased about it. 'And next time there's ice cream I'll be here again.'

"'Yes,' said the Fairy Queen, 'we're going to have a hopping game, and the one who does the greatest number of queer hops will eat the little ice cream Man!' And little Harvey Hop Tree Toad—quite a shy little fellow, won the prize and ate the ice cream Man, but all the toads had plenty to refresh them after their hopping match."

MAKE CHUM OF YOUR CHILD

Boy Will Welcome Companionship of Father Who He Feels Can Understand Him.

The influence of a man's companionship in a child's life is usually a larger, less detailed thing than that of a woman, but it is for this very reason the more needed. The child is eager to enlarge his own world; he is, if he is normal, growing and outgrowing—he is longing to step out of his own little circle into the larger one of men and affairs in which he knows his father moves. I think I may say I do not know a single child, and I very much doubt if anyone else does, who would not willingly give up his play at the offer of half an hour's companionship with a grown man whom he can trust and who really understands him. And when the grown man is the child's father, the response is just so much the more ready.

You notice I have said, whom he can trust and who really understands him. And in those two conditions are implied all the obligations as well as all the rewards of fatherhood. If a boy cannot trust his father, or if his father does not understand him, it is likely enough he will prefer his toys; and I cannot help feeling that he shows wisdom in the preference.

It is a pitiful commentary that so many children, given the chance to be with their fathers, to sit beside them, to go for a walk with them, to hear them tell of this or that, will jump at the chance, not because the companionship is so complete and satisfying but because it is a rare treat, a real novelty.—Laura Spencer Portor, in Mother's Magazine.

Simplicity of the Fathers.

Mrs. Everett M. Raynor of New York, president general of the Daughters of the Revolution, said at a luncheon:

"There are many anecdotes in illustration of the simple living of the Fathers.

"One of our country's pre-Revolutionary fathers had occasion to call on the governor of his province, and was invited to stay to luncheon.

"Luncheon began, and a liveried servant moved busily about, serving the wine, carving the fowl, and so forth.

"The guest watched the servant for some minutes, and then said to him irritably:

"'What are you dance, dance, dancing about the room for, man? Can't you pull up a chair and sit down? Surely there's enough for the three of us.'"

Appreciation of a Prodigy.

"Biggins is still talking about the bright things his boy says."

"Well, I envy him. It must be great to have a boy who entertains himself thinking of bright things instead of banging on the cellar door with a board or experimenting with a shotgun."

It is easier to drive men to drink than from it.

STAFF AFTER REAL MONEY

Temptation Was More Than Any Newspaper Men Could Be Expected to Resist.

A visitor to a small country town in England unwittingly "held up" the local newspaper. Having lost his dog, an animal that he prized very much, he rushed to the newspaper office and handed in an advertisement offering $50 reward for the return of his pet.

Half an hour later he thought he would add to his advertisement the words, "No questions asked." So he hurried to the office again.

When he got there the place was empty save for a small boy, who looked very sulky.

"Where's the staff?" asked the tourist, glancing around the deserted room.

"Out looking for your dog," replied the boy, who was evidently aggrieved at being left behind.—Youth's Companion.

The Ladies Are Learning.

"Cut out the speeches; money talks best," this wise chairman is said to have declared.

The late blind Boss Buckley of San Francisco, however, gained nothing in public esteem when he told his workers upon an occasion of pre-election funds allotment:

Drill Amenities.

Mayor John Purroy Mitchel said at a dinner in New York:

"The memories of camp life are a very pleasant thing to any soldier. Even the little vivacities of camp life seem in the retrospect pleasant enough.

"Thus I often laugh about a banker who was being drilled one day at Plattsburg by a broker-sergeant.

"'What'll you give me,' said the broker-sergeant, an old Yale end, 'if I take that hump off your back?'

"'I'll give you,' the banker answered, with a tart laugh, 'something to make your hair grow, sarge.'"

Good Markets—High Prices

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

The winnings of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses, the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle fed and fattened on the grasses of that country. A recent shipment of cattle to Chicago topped the market in that city for quality and price.

Western Canada produced in 1915 one-third as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer. In Western Canada you will find good markets, splendid schools, exceptional social conditions, perfect climate and other great attractions. There is no war tax on land and no conscription.

MEXICAN BAND IS WIPED OUT; TWO AMERICANS SLAIN

OUTLAWS CROSS RIO GRANDE BELOW FORT HANCOCK, TEXAS, —CAVALRYMAN AND CUSTOMS INSPECTOR KILLED.

U. S. CAVALRY OUTPOST SURPRISES BANDIT GANG

Mounted Patrol Intercepts Alleged Stock Thieves and Forces Fight—All Five of Mexicans Believed Killed—Bandits Thought to Be Villistas.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 1.—Two Americans were killed and one was wounded in a battle with Mexican bandits who crossed the Rio Grande five miles below Fort Hancock, Texas, early Monday. There were five bandits in the party.

Private John Twoney, troop F, Eigth U. S. Cavalry, and Robert Woods, a United States customs inspector, were killed. Sergeant Lewis Thompson, troop F, Eighth U. S. cavalry, was seriously wounded.

All Bandits Slain.

It is believed all five of the bandits were killed.

More than 200 shots were fired during the engagement. The Mexicans, it is believed, had crossed the line in an attempt to steal horses.

Their presence was discovered by American outposts. The bandits were surprised and attacked by the cavalry patrol. Mounted on good horses, they attempted to flee. They were intercepted and forced to fight.

General George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, said that he had learned of the engagement through unofficial sources.

Members of Villa Band.

Reports reaching here said that efforts to identify any of the Mexicans had been futile, but that it was believed they were members of one of the Villista bands recently reported to have been operating south of the Rio Grande in that section.

Several stock stealing raids have taken place in the district within the last few weeks. One of them resulted in a small American detachment crossing the border in pursuit of the raiders.

THREE MONTHS TRAINING FOR BORDER TROOPS SEEN

Orders Received at El Paso Outline Program for Energetic Drills and Maneuvers at Front.

El Paso, Aug. 1.—Three months, it is estimated, will be required for completion of a course of training for the militiamen in the El Paso military district, projected in orders received here. Army officers predicted it might mean the militia would remain on the border for the next three months.

The order, over the signature of General Bell, closed with the following: "Practical field work and maneuvers October 1 to 31."

The program outlines three months of energetic drills and maneuvers designed to whip the militia into shape for any emergency.

Presumably similar orders were issued to all militia along the entire Mexican border.

UNIONIST SUCCEEDS BIRRELL

Henry Duke Appointed Chief Secretary of Ireland.

London, Aug. 1.—Henry Edward Duke, a barrister and Unionist member of parliament for Exeter, has been appointed to be the new chief secretary of Ireland, in succession of Augustine Birrell. The new chief secretary will be given a seat in the cabinet.

No new lord lieutenant of Ireland will be appointed to succeed Lord Wimborne, who resigned after the outbreak of the Dublin rebellion.

GUARDS MAY FIGHT I. W. W.

Militia Company Requested by Mayor of Mitchell, S. D.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Senator Johnson of South Dakota has asked Secretary Baker to send back to Mitchell, S. D., a company of militia now stationed at Redfield. He said the mayor of Mitchell had asked for aid in suppressing disturbances created by Industrial Workers of the World

Secretary Baker said the company would be moved if requested formally by the governor.

Forest Fires in Northern Michigan

Cadillac, Mich., August 1.—Forest fires are raging in half a dozen northern Michigan counties and already heavy damage has been done. Two weeks of the hottest weather in the region's history has dried brush on cut-over lands until it is like tinder. This city is buried beneath smoke clouds coming from nearby fires and homes on the outskirts are threatened. Fifty men were sent to Cherry Grove where three barns and two houses were destroyed. Fires are also doing serious damage in other towns.

Resche Now Brigadier General.

After the mustering in of Brigadier General F. E. Resche as commander of the Minnesota troops and the election of Lieutenant Colonel H. V. Eva of Duluth as his successor as colonel of the Third regiment, brigade headquarters were opened here. Major A. F. Pratt of Anoka was chosen lieutenant colonel and Captain Carl C. Weaver, regimental adjutant, was promoted to major. Lieutenant A. K. Wheaton of Duluth, and H. C. Luers of Owatonna were assigned as aides to General Resche.

The First regiment has received a shipment of 18,000 rounds of rifle ammunition. What is known as Course B will be given the Minnesota troops, this differing from the regular range work and being necessary here because of the lack of an adequate rifle range. After a thorough drill in practice firing the men will shoot at targets representing prostrate figures. Officers say that such an arrangement can be made without all the facilities provided by a range such as the men had at Fort Snelling.

Build New Field Hospital.

Brig. Gen. E. M. Lewis, post commander, announced that work is to be started immediately on a field hospital to cost $15,000, which will replace the present ranch building. This hospital was proved inadequate to handle the cases sent over from camp and is not provide with the conveniences which the surgeons desire in handling the men.

Money has been provided by the War department for the erection of screened mess rooms and kitchens for all the troops now in camp, it was announced. The kitchens will be so constructed that they can be transported with the troops in case they move south. Surgeons declare that only by such measures can the fly problem be solved and danger from disease minimized. Thus far only the Indiana regiments are provided with such enclosures.

Troops Fire on Mexican.

Straw has been provided for those men having ticks, but this was of little assistance to the Minnesota men, who do not have this equipment. The delay in the shipment of cots has not yet been explained, though the quartermaster has been endeavoring to trace the missing articles. Minnesota guardsmen will continue to sleep on the ground until the cots arrive.

Considerable excitement was caused in camp when men from Company A, First regiment, who were patroling the water canals some distance from camp, fired on a Mexican.

★ ★ ★

Reorganize Artillery Unit.

Officers and men of the First battalion, Minnesota field artillery, are speculating on rumors of further reorganization of the artillery unit. Captain C. Lesley Ames of B battery probably will be offered the position of major which he recently refused when he nominated Lieutenant Perkins of the regular army for that office. A recent ruling of the War department, which says no commissioned officer in the regular army can accept a position in the national guard which places him under a national guard officer, makes it impossible for Lieutenant Perkins to take the post.

If Captain Ames is made major, it is said Captain Wallace Cole of A battery will be transferred back to B battery, and that Lieutenant Fletcher Rockwood of A battery will be made the commanding officer of A.

Captain Cole formerly was senior first lieutenant of B battery. He was transferred to A when that unit was in the process of organization and brought it up above peace strength by a strenuous recruiting campaign.

★ ★ ★

Accept Battery Officers.

The officers' roll of the First battalion, First field artillery, is intact after the medical examination of the unit just completed by Captain Thomas H. Johnson, chief medical officer. Not one officer was disqualified, although Colonel Arthur Johnson, U. S. A., said following the completion of his medical report, the tests disqualified 70 men, 19 in Battery A, 19 in Battery B, 29 in Battery C and 3 in the First artillery band.

One hundred men are still wanted by the battalion, Lieutenant Colonel W. J. Murphy, battalion commander, said. There are now 115 men on the rolls of Battery A, 135 in Battery B and 148 in Battery C. Battery A must be recruited to peace strength of 133 before the unit can entrain for the south.

U. S. Troops Healthy.

Good-bye to the good old style of lime whitened army camps. The use of lime has been stopped in all camps by orders of Major W. N. Bispham, sanitary inspector for the army of the lower Rio Grande. "We've discovered that flies like white color," said the major. "What we are looking for is something black in the way of a disinfectant. The latest idea is lampblack mixed with petroleum." "We want Americans to know the exact state of health and sanitary conditions here," said Bispham. "Many wild stories are being sent out about illness among the men. All are untrue."

To Aid Soldier Students.

A special loan fund has been provided at the University of Minnesota for students who, because of being at the Mexican border, have been unable to earn money in the summer to continue their school work. Announcement to this effect was made by President George E. Vincent. The rules with regard to late payment of fees will, if necessary, be suspended if the soldier boys are unable to comply with regulations. Time schedules and registration cards will be sent the students.

STEAMER APPAM GIVEN TO ENGLISH OWNERS BY JUDGE

CAPTURED BRITISH LINER IS ILLEGALLY HELD ACCORDING TO DECISION FILED IN LIBEL CASE IN FEDERAL COURT.

NEUTRALITY LAWS ARE VIOLATED BY GERMANS

Decision Holds Prussian-American Treaty Does Not Apply and That Ship Must Be Regarded as Abandoned and Stranded on Our Shores —Legal Claim Lost by Dash.

Norfolk, Va., July 31.—Federal Judge Waddill has just decided the libel proceedings for possession of the captured British liner Appam in favor of the English owners and against the German prize crew which brought her here.

The court held that the German government lost all legal claim to the Apam and her cargo as prizes of war when Lieutenant Berg and his prize crew on February 1 last brought them into the neutral waters of Hampton Roads with the intention of "laying up" the vessel indefinitely.

Cites Precedents.

The court held further:

That the Prussia-American treaty of 1799, renewed in 1828, does not apply or control in the case so as to guarantee the prize crew asylum in United States waters;

That the action of the German prize court in declaring the Appam a prize while the case was in litigation in the United States courts has no effect on the jurisdiction of the courts;

That the jurisdiction of the United States courts in the case is established by a long line of precedents including several by the supreme court.

U. S. Neutrality Violated.

"The court's conclusion," the decision reads, "is that the manner of bringing the Appam into the waters of the United States as well as her presence in those waters, constitutes a violation of the neutrality of the United States; that she came in without bidding or permission; that she is here in violation of the law; that she is unable to leave for lack of a crew which she cannot provide or augment without further violation of neutrality; that in her present condition she is without a lawful right to be and remain in the waters; that, as between her captors and owners, to all practical interests and purposes, she must be treated as abandoned and stranded upon our shores; and that her owners are entitled to restitution of their property, which this court should award, irrespective of the prize court proceedings of the court of the imperial government of the German empire; and it will be so ordered."

SEAMEN THREATEN TO STRIKE

Ten Thousand Workers on Great Lakes Make Demands.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 31.—A strike of 10,000 Seamen, firemen, oilers and cooks on the Great Lakes, Sept. 1, is threatened unless vessel owners accede to demands to be fixed by vote of three unions concerned next week.

Union officials, who claim to have organized 65 per cent of the able seamen on the lakes, say a strike would result in a complete tieup of traffic on the lakes.

The men are demanding higher wages and shorter hours. They want a "three watch" system, equivalent to an eight hour working day, instead of the present "two watch" plan.

Wage increases are asked.

U. S. SENATE ACTS FOR IRISH

Requests Wilson to Express Hope of Clemency to British

Washington, July 31.—By a vote of 46 to 19, the Senate adopted a resolution requesting President Wilson to transmit to the British government an expression of hope that it would exercise clemency in the treatment of Irish political prisoners.

By its action the Senate overturned the report of a majority of its foreign relations committee and followed a course outlined in a minority report made by Chairman Stone and Senators O'Gorman and Pittman. The action primarily is inspired by the case of Sir Roger Casement.

Lloyd-George Expresses Confidence.

London, July 31.—"I don't despair about an eventual solution of the Irish problem, in spite of the recent failure to reach an agreement between the nationalists and the unionists," said David Lloyd George, replying to a request for his views.

Business Arbitration Court Is Plan.

Chicago, July 31.—A business arbitration court, said to be the first of its kind in the world, will be inaugurated in Chicago today. The plan was approved by the judges of the municipal court, who adopted a rule placing the branch in operation. Two judges were named to preside. The new tribunal will have jurisdiction only over questions of law in commercial disputes. Questions of fact are to be decided outside of court by arbitration boards of experts selected from the various trades and industries.

RANCHING

Cattle and Horse Ranching in Western Canada—Steers Brought 10 Cents a Pound on the Seattle Market.

That big money is made by the large cattle rancher in Western Canada, and also by the small farmer as well, is shown by the undisputable facts presented from time to time. A rancher, near Gleichen, Alberta, who commenced in a small way nine years ago, recently disposed of 1,243 cattle at a total of $101,304.50, and this was only his surplus stock for the present season.

A December shipment of 217 head of ranch steers brought the owner an average of over $80 per head. They were taken straight from the range without any grain feeding and were in excellent condition to be sold for the Christmas trade. Another shipment of 100 head, averaging $70 each, was made to Seattle. The highest price paid on the Seattle market was for an Albertan steer, which weighed 1,700 lbs., and brought the fancy price of 10c per lb., or $170.

Six carloads of live stock from ranches 65 miles from Pincher, Alberta, shipped to Spokane, excited keen competition there on account of their exceptional quality. The price realized was $10,028. American dealers say they must look to Canada for beef supplies.

A livestock firm, which has shipped over 2,000 head of beef cattle to the American farmer since the middle of November, reports a splendid reception of Alberta stock in the United States.

A carload of choice Alberta steers were sold early in January for shipment to the British Columbia coast at $6.70 per 100 lbs. and, later on, a lot from Carstairs brought $6.90—the highest price paid since the spring of 1915. Shipments from Calgary livestock yards during 1915 were: Horses, 8,675; cattle, 30,577; hogs, 144,515; sheep, 12,410. A course in agriculture and livestock demonstration which has been conducted by the Provincial Dept. of Agriculture here was well attended, showing the interest taken by city residents in agricultural progress.

John Young, of Sidney, Man., gives his experiences in sheep-raising as follows, as quoted in a local paper:

"I bought a bunch of fifty ewes, which cost me $262.50. With this little flock I demonstrated just what can be done in the sheep business. This fall I sold fifty fat lambs at $6.50 per head, $325, and 18 of the best ewe lambs, which I kept, I value at $8.00 per head, $144. The wool sold at an average of $2.07 per head, $109.50. This makes the very nice total of $572.50."

"They ran out nearly every day all winter. The value of hay and oats was small, and one can make them very comfortable through the winter with very little expense. For shelter I have a shed, about 125 feet long and 14 feet wide, which I cover with straw. This gives them protection from the cold winds: yet it is always cool enough to be healthy."

"I intend going in more for sheep this fall, as I believe them to be the most profitable stock on the farm."

Desire of farmers and ranchers to increase their sheep holdings is indicated by the sale of 2,500 head recently at $9.00 each. High wool prices and profitable demand for mutton are the reason given for such a figure.

Manitoba sheep breeders arranged last year for the Provincial Department of Agriculture to handle their wool output on a co-operative basis and obtained most satisfactory results. About 75,000 lbs. of wool were handled, netting the shippers over 25c per lb.—Advertisement.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Jordan, Minn. — Four Minneapolis citizens have been taken into that city all dangerously injured as the result of being hurled twenty-five feet from an automobile near Jordan, Minn., at the breaking of the steering gear.

St. Paul. — D. P. Tierney, assistant state forester, arrived from the forest fire region and conferred with the attorney general's department to ask legal aid for prosecutions under regulations regarding slash and brush disposal.

St. Paul. — First official notice of the appropriation bill recently passed by Congress under which Minnesota will receive more than $1,400,000 Federal good roads aid during the next ten years has been received by Governor Burnquist.

Duluth. — Formal demand for 5 cents more an hour or from 35 to 40 cents, has been made upon the Northern Pacific, which controls the bulk of the Duluth docks. This is for day work. A night rate of 45 cents is asked and 50 cents an hour for loading cement.

St. Paul. — Provision for early establishment of a large industrial and custodial institution to serve as an adjunct to practically all the state penal, correctional and charitable institutions, may be recommended to the next Legislature by the state board of control.

Ortonville.—Ortonville citizens took up arms against an invasion of more than 300 Industrial Workers of the World, and before the latter had been put to rout and driven from town, a number of shots had been fired by both sides, but apparently without injuring anyone.

Duluth. — The big steamer W. Grant Morden, which held the previous record, passed the Soo with 14,404 bushels of wheat more than ever had been carried and cleared from Port Arthur, Ont., with 490,720 bushels of wheat for Port McNicoll, on Georgian bay.

Minneapolis. — Forty-three Minnesotans passed the recent examinations conducted by the state board of pharmacy and have been granted registrations as pharmacists or assistants. As a result of the examinations three Minneapolis men will become pharmacists and 13 will qualify as assistants.

Washington, D. C.—Minnesota gained 1,218 manufacturing establishments in the 10 years from 1904 to 1914, and at the close of the 1914 census had 5,974 establishments of every kind. These figures are in the bulletin, carrying condensation of the forthcoming detailed manufacturing census of the state, that was sent out from Washington. In 1909 there were 5,561 establishments.

St. Paul. — Nothing daunted by their failure to win the route of the Jefferson highway through Northern Minnesota, representatives of the Western and Eastern routes met immediately following the announcement of the choice of the central route by J. D. Clarkson, general manager of the highway, and formulated plans for establishing the Northern Minnesota Scenic highway.

Minneapolis. — Three possibilities for the future of the farm were suggested by President Vincent of the University of Minnesota, speaking at the rural life conference at the university farm. One of these possibilities, the president said, is corporate control of large farming areas; another, cooperative control by farmers themselves, and the third a wider extension of the tenant system.

St. Paul. — Total deposits in the 994 state banks operated under the direction of the state banking department were $93,987,749.41 at the close of business June 30, a net increase of $26,545,958.21 since June 23, 1915. This showing, A. H. Turrittin, state superintendent of banks, regards as the best in the history of the department. The total resources reported were $224,715,202.01, against $198,169,243.80 in 1915.

Wadena. — The tourists in the Jefferson highway sociability run arrived here five minutes ahead of their schedule, although they were delayed by a bad hill between Little Falls and Staples for more than three minutes. On their arrival here a message from Staples was awaiting the officials, which advised the hill will not cause further difficulty to tourists. The business men of Staples have pledged $2,000 to be expended in properly grading the hill.

St. Paul. — Increased revenue from the state tax on liquor licenses and decrease of the wet territory made a paradox discovered by George La Fond, chief clerk in the treasurer's office. "Despite reports of more cities and counties going dry during the year, the state received $41,909.08 liquor license taxes, compared with $38,975.56 during the fiscal year preceding. "The only explantion offered thus far is that wet places must be getting wetter."

Minneapolis. — The animal industry group of the department of agriculture at the University of Minnesota has been reorganized by the acquisition of two new men in such a way as to make it rank with the best similar departments in the country in the opinion of President Vincent

Washington, D. C. — The average annual wages of the men employed in industrial plants in Minnesota increased from $560 to $632.43 in the five years between 1909 and 1914 according to the advance report of the United States industrial survey. The increase is nearly 13 per cent.

RECOVERS JEWELS IN DARING TRIP

Mexican Senora in Guise of Peon Rescues Hidden Family Property.

ESCAPES THE BANDITS

Ugly and Poorly-Clad, Aristocratic Wife of Rich Refugee Visits Capital of Chihuahua and Carries Away Treasure.

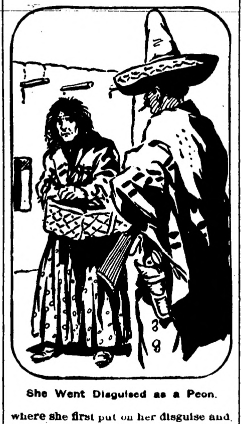
Los Angeles.—After one of the most remarkable adventures ever undertaken by a woman of aristocratic birth, Senora Teresa B. de Terrazas, having eluded by means of clever disguises the hordes of bandits on the lookout to capture and hold her for ransom, returned a few days ago to Los Angeles, bringing with her the Terrazas family jewels, which at infinite peril she rescued from their hiding place in Chihuahua, Mexico. Legal papers and documents of great value also were secured from their hiding place, where they had been secreted by her husband prior to his incarceration in the Mexican federal prison.

The entire journey in Mexico was made by Senora Terrazas disguised as a peon, a heavy black wig completely hiding her white hair, a threadbare shawl draped sloppily about her shoulders, and a cheap calico dress completing her outfit. During her return trip from Chihuahua city, after she had recovered the jewels and papers, it was necessary for her to carry a basket in which the valuable articles rested underneath a collection of rags and cheap ornaments, such as are usually carried by peon women.

Called by Mother's Illness.

The adventure originated more than a month ago when Senora Terrazas received word that her mother was very ill in Chihuahua. Senora Terrazas had not been in Mexico since last year when, after disguising several of her children, who were being held by Villa, she sent them to El Paso and then fled in disguise to work from the border for the release of her husband and son, who had remained under sentence of death at the hands of Villa. Ultimately she succeeded in a plan by which they escaped. She then declared she would never return to Mexico until peace had been restored.

The news of her mother's condition, however, changed her plans. Leaving Los Angeles she journeyed to El Paso, where she first put on her disguise and, traveling in a freight car, found no difficulty in reaching Chihuahua city. A woman more or less made no difference to the roving bands of bandits and as this woman was undoubtedly middle aged and had horrible ugly hair they passed her by with a shrug. Reaching Chihuahua she found her mother greatly improved, and Senora Terrazas began to think that as she had entered the country and must necessarily take risks in getting out under any circumstances, she might as well get the family jewels and documents.



She Went Disguised as a Peon.

Family Treasures Recovered.

When Francisco Villa first threw Luis Terrazas into prison on December 8, 1913, and filched approximately $600,000 from him for alleged ransom, the family jewels, silverware and other valuables were packed in iron trunks and placed in the care of Roland Anderson, an American friend living in Chihuahua. Anderson guarded the treasures until he moved to El Paso, following the murder of his son, Morris Anderson, by the Mexicans, when he transferred the trunks with their precious contents to a secluded hiding place in the rear of a hovel. In this hovel lived an old woman who had been a nurse employed in the Terrazas family for years and who had remained true to her old masters.

Anderson had informed the Terrazas family of the transfer and when Senora Terrazas visited the hovel kept by the aged nurse she recovered the treasures with the assistance of two peons and with the more valued ones in her possession, made her way back to the United States in the same way and by using the same disguise that had assisted her in escaping the close scrutiny of the Mexican bandits along the route.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

TREE TOADS AND FAIRIES.

"Very early one morning," said Daddy, "the Fairies invited the Tree Toads to have Luncheon with them in the Wooded Grove where they are so apt to give their Parties. The Tree Toads had accepted and the day had arrived for the Luncheon.

"The Fairies wanted to look especially lovely, and fresh, and cool, for it had been so hot lately, and they knew that to look cool made other Folks and little Animals almost feel cooler.

Wanted to Look Especially Lovely.

"So they had their Shower Baths the very first thing when they got up."

"Did they have their shower baths in brooks or in streams?" asked Nancy.

"I bet I could guess," said Nick.

"Where?" asked Nancy.

"Why, they have their Shower Baths under the falls that come down the sides of rocks. There are ever so many of them all around that the Fairies can find I suppose."

"Yes, Nick, you're quite right," said Daddy, and Nancy smiled, for she loved to think of the little Fairies bright and early in the morning letting the cool water that shoots down the rocks go all over them.

"And as a special honor because they'd been invited to the Fairies' Luncheon Party, the Tree Toads tried to look their best, too. They asked the Dew Drops if they could wash their little faces in their rare water. And the Dew Drops were very willing, especially when they heard that the Tree Toads wanted to look their best for the Fairies.

"Dew Drops always make the Animals look so much better, and to the fairies they look very handsome when they have washed their faces in the magic dew drops that come all over the ground each morning.

"Now when the Fairies saw the Tree Toads and when the Tree Toads saw the Fairies they all gasped. The Tree Toads had never seen the fairies looking so lovely. They wore dresses of very soft green which were decorated with little purple Daisies. Their wands matched, and their wings were the color of soft, pale green, too.

"And they were sitting around in the Wooded Grove on ferns and mossy patches of ground when the Tree Toads arrived.

"But the Tree Toads gave the Fairies just as much of a surprise, for they wore green suits, too. They looked quite noble for having washed their faces with magic Dew Drops, and they wore green spectacles made out of leaves with holes, to make them look wise. In addition to all this they, carried green canes made out of young trees, and they arrived in an old wagon made out of the root of a tree. The wagon was drawn by the Green Lizard family.

"First got out Grandpa and Grandma Tree Toad, and then all the younger Toads hopped out after.

"'Glad to see you, Toads and Green Lizards, too,' said the Fairies. And the toads made very queer sounds down in their throats which meant: 'We're glad to see you, too.' The Lizards wriggled with pleasure, for, of course, they had been brought along as an excuse to draw the wagon for the Toads and they were delighted when the Fairies said they were glad to see them.

"The Luncheon began of delicious things made out of the best of woodland foods, and last of all came the green woodland ice cream. In fact, I forgot to tell you everything was green.

"But when the ice cream came along, what should be seen on top of it but a little, tiny old Man made out of ice cream, too.

They Looked Quite Noble.

"How the Tree Toads did scream with delight. 'What's your name?' they cried.

"'I'm the little Man of the Ice cream freezer. Every time ice cream is made in one of the freezers where I live, I come out on top of the ice cream dressed all up as ice cream, too.'

"'But you look good to eat,' said one of the Toad Children.

"'That's what I'm here for,' and he looked very happy and pleased about it. 'And next time there's ice cream I'll be here again.'

"'Yes,' said the Fairy Queen, 'we're going to have a hopping game, and the one who does the greatest number of queer hops will eat the little ice cream Man!' And little Harvey Hop Tree Toad—quite a shy little fellow, won the prize and ate the ice cream Man, but all the toads had plenty to refresh them after their hopping match."

MAKE CHUM OF YOUR CHILD

Boy Will Welcome Companionship of Father Who He Feels Can Understand Him.

The influence of a man's companionship in a child's life is usually a larger, less detailed thing than that of a woman, but it is for this very reason the more needed. The child is eager to enlarge his own world; he is, if he is normal, growing and outgrowing—he is longing to step out of his own little circle into the larger one of men and affairs in which he knows his father moves. I think I may say I do not know a single child, and I very much doubt if anyone else does, who would not willingly give up his play at the offer of half an hour's companionship with a grown man whom he can trust and who really understands him. And when the grown man is the child's father, the response is just so much the more ready.

You notice I have said, whom he can trust and who really understands him. And in those two conditions are implied all the obligations as well as all the rewards of fatherhood. If a boy cannot trust his father, or if his father does not understand him, it is likely enough he will prefer his toys; and I cannot help feeling that he shows wisdom in the preference.

It is a pitiful commentary that so many children, given the chance to be with their fathers, to sit beside them, to go for a walk with them, to hear them tell of this or that, will jump at the chance, not because the companionship is so complete and satisfying but because it is a rare treat, a real novelty.—Laura Spencer Porter, in Mother's Magazine.

Simplicity of the Fathers.

Mrs. Everett M. Raynor of New York, president general of the Daughters of the Revolution, said at a luncheon:

"There are many anecdotes in illustration of the simple living of the Fathers.

"One of our country's pre-Revolutionary fathers had occasion to call on the governor of his province, and was invited to stay to luncheon.

"Luncheon began, and a liveried servant moved busily about, serving the wine, carving the fowl, and so forth.

"The guest watched the servant for some minutes, and then said to him irritably:

"'What are you dance, dance, dancing about the room for, man? Can't you pull up a chair and sit down? Surely there's enough for the three of us.'"

STAFF AFTER REAL MONEY

Temptation Was More Than Any Newspaper Men Could Be Expected to Resist.

A visitor to a small country town in England unwittingly "held up" the local newspaper. Having lost his dog, an animal that he prized very much, he rushed to the newspaper office and handed in an advertisement offering $50 reward for the return of his pet.

Half an hour later he thought he would add to his advertisement the words, "No questions asked." So he hurried to the office again.

When he got there the place was empty save for a small boy, who looked very sulky.

"Where's the staff?" asked the tourist, glancing around the deserted room.

"Out looking for your dog," replied the boy, who was evidently aggrieved at being left behind.—Youth's Companion.

The Ladies Are Learning.

"Cut out the speeches; money talks best," this wise chairman is said to have declared.

The late blind Boss Buckley of San Francisco, however, gained nothing in public esteem when he told his workers upon an occasion of pre-election funds allotment:

"Don't waste this good dough buying talk, but results."—New York Sun.

Drill Amenities.

Mayor John Purroy Mitchel said at a dinner in New York:

"The memories of camp life are a very pleasant thing to any soldier. Even the little vivacities of camp life seem in the retrospect pleasant enough.

"Thus I often laugh about a banker who was being drilled one day at Plattsburg by a broker-sergeant.

"'What'll you give me,' said the broker-sergeant, an old Yale end, 'if I take that hump off your back?'

"'I'll give you,' the banker answered, with a tart laugh, 'something to make your hair grow, sarge.'"

Prizes Awarded to Western Canada for Wheat, Oats, Barley, Alfalfa and Grasses

The winnings of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses, the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle fed and fattened on the grasses of that country. A recent shipment of cattle to Chicago topped the market in that city for quality and price.

Western Canada produced in 1915 one-third as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer. In Western Canada you will find good markets, splendid schools, exceptional social conditions, perfect climate and other great attractions. There is no war tax on land and no conscription.

Despite the hot dry weather our creamery is still making fifty tubs of butter a week. Farmers have long since found out that it pays to keep good cows and to sell their cream to the home creamery.

TO GET RID OF SHYSTERS

Efforts of State Bar Association Are Highly Commended.

The Minnesota State Bar Association is to be congratulated for its heroic efforts to improve the standing of the legal profession with the general public.

In the program of their annual meeting to be held at Duluth, Aug. 8th, 9th and 10th, the committee on ethics (moral duty) express themselves as being desirous of ridding the profession of lawyers whose conduct violates their oaths and requires of the Bar generally a proper standard of moral responsibility. They also say that the public rightly looks to the bar to purge itself of those of its members whose misconduct merits not only the criticism of the bar but its disciplinary action.

For years our courts have been crowded with suits framed up by dishonorable lawyers, mostly of the personal damage kind.

The present laws give them the privilege of bringing a suit, presenting their evidence and getting it dismissed, going through this operation four or five times until the victim of the plaintiff is completely worn out, and compelled to make an unreasonable settlement to prevent being harassed farther.

As the law now reads a personal damage suit can be brought against employers, property owners or householders within five years from the date of an accident. In the larger cities action against the city must be brought within thirty days.

The expense to the taxpayers of Minnesota for such framed up lawsuits is enormous, and the principal reason for the large increase in taxes of recent years.

Special attention will be given to the practice, now so general and so much condemned, of loading down the courts of Minnesota with action by nonresident plaintiffs against nonresident defendants on causes of action arising outside of Minnesota.

In a recent issue of the Pioneer Press it was stated that the cost to the taxpayers of Ramsey county alone for such suits amounted to $90,000 a year. Unnecessary suits brought against residents of the state must cost as much or more.

It is the purpose of the bar association to give the public the same protection from the so called ambulance chasers that the city governments now receive.

The expressed intention of the Minnesota State Bar Association to rid the profession of dishonest and shyster lawyers is to be highly commended and will meet with the approval of all of the leading civic associations of the state and the public generally.

Runaway Accident

Albert O. Knutson had a narrow escape from receiving a serious injury, when his horse became frightened at a motor cycle operated by Andrew Sorum and accompanied by Fridjof Riesberg, near the depot Monday. The horse running in front of the cycle, caused a collisiou which threw Albert over the dash-board. The front wheels and thills were broken and the horse breaking loose from the vehicle ran down main street halting back of Carlson's store.

The men were fortunate in only receiving a few scratches, altho the cycle as well as buggy is a little worse because of the smash up.

Obituary of Mrs. Lewis Johnson

Anna Johnson was born Jan. 3, 1850, in Sweden, and was married in her native country in the spring of 1881 to Lewis J. Johnson. The next year Mr. Johnson emigrated to America, Mrs. Johnson remaining in Sweden for nine years after her husbands departure. Their first home in this country was at Lockport, Ill., where they lived until five ago, when they moved to this vicinity.

Death came to the family Tuesday night July 25th, when the wife and mother departed this life after about a year of sickness.

Four children were born to this union, one a son who died in Ill, at the age of 13 years and was buried there, another son lives in Joliet, Ill., one daughter Mrs. Augusta Swanson lives near Newfolden and the younger daughter Miss Sophia lives at home with her father and aged grandmother.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon at the Ringbo church, Rev. Breedetson officiating, and interment was made in the cemetery there.

Mrs. Johnson was universally loved and respected for her womanly qualities and will not only be missed by relatives but by a large circle of friends.

The News joins the many friends in extending heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

Hilmer Davidson is drilling a well for Lars Chenill.

Ole Backlund has bought the butcher shop and took possession yesterday.

Mrs. Stensrud of Thief River Falls visited friends in this vicinity last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Werner, of T. R. Falls, visited Saturday at the Riesberg home.

L. M. Olson and family from Warren were Sunday visitors at the Gunheim home.

We understand that Rev. Ordahl has resigned his charge at Middle River and that a resident pastor will be employed there.

There will be English services in the Free Mission church on Tuesday evening August 8th. at 8 o'clock by Rev. Osborn Instanes of the Swedish Baptist church.

Reports to the Experiment Station at Crookston indicate the spreading of the sow thistle to places where it has never been seen before. Farmers and land owners are urged to keep on the watch for this weed. All plants in bloom should be destroyed, make war on the sow thistle. Its seeds are carried long distances by the wind and unless checked the weed will soon infest this country. Full information regarding its extermination will be sent upon inquiry to the Crookston Experiment Station.

Biggest Cattle Show in America This Year Predicted for the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9—All Records to Be Broken in the Swine Show.

INDICATIONS are that the cattle show at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, will be the largest exposition of its kind in America this year. Last year the Hamline cattle show was the largest in the country, and more entries have been promised in the last few weeks than were obtained a year ago.

The splendid crop conditions in the Northwest, and the greater attention which is being paid to pure-bred livestock, are said to be the principal reasons for the interest which is being taken in the cattle show at the Minnesota State Fair. Breeders in other parts of America are desirous of meeting the farmers of the Northwest, to sell them the pure-bred stock which is being bought in such numbers to raise the standard of livestock breeding in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North and South Dakota.

Records Shattered.

The Swine Show will break all records this fall, and it is expected that pen room will be taxed to the limit to accommodate all the swine which is coming. The first national show ever promoted by the American Yorkshire Club is to be held at the Minnesota State Fair this year, and the cream of all American herds will be exhibited. The Duroc-Jersey and Poland-China organizations are offering large futurities and special premiums. The Chester White and Hampshire associations have put up special prizes of value. Hundreds of boys are working hard in the Pig Club contest, and there will be more entries in the Pig Club show than ever before.

Big Draft Show.

The show of draft horses is to be larger than for several years. A number of breeders that have never visited the Northwest are coming this year to show their wares to lovers of horses. Farmers are being urged to attend the State Fair and make their arrangements for any pure-bred mares and stallions they intend to buy. An effort will be made to present an unusual opportunity of studying types and breeds of horses, so farmers may be more familiar with the kinds of horses which bring the most money on the market.

As formerly all stock will be judged at the opening of the State Fair, making a visit to the Fair the first part of the week more valuable than one at the latter part. Judging will probably be over by Thursday, Sept. 7.

Steel vs. Iron.

For some purpose iron is to be preferred to steel and vice versa. To easily distinguish one from the other, make a bright spot on the metal with a file or sand paper and apply a single drop of nitric acid. Allow it to remain for one or two minutes and wash or wipe off. If the spot has a pale ashy appearance it is wrought iron; if it is a brownish black, it is steel; if a deep black, it is cast iron.

What Gives Milk Its Color.

Recent experiments show that the color of milk is chiefly due to the presence of carotin, a coloring matter found abundantly in green plants, especially in grass. The yellow pigments of our bodies also consist of carotin, which is probably derived chiefly from our food.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Co-Operative Creameries Show Tremendous Increase in Butter Production.

The Dairy Commissioner, at first annual convention of Saskatchewan Dairymen's association, reviewed progress of 1915 which shows a great increase in the butter production of the co-operative creameries amounting to 1,500,000 lbs. He also said the improvement in quality is shown by the preference accorded Saskatchewan butter in outside markets. Shipments out of the province for the year totaled 52 carloads.

According to bulletin just issued by the Manitoba department of agriculture, the dairy industry had a very successful year in 1915. There was an increase of over 1,000,000 lbs. of creamery butter produced, as against the previous year, about 260,000 lbs. increase in dairy butter and over 25,000 lbs. increase in the cheese output. The increase of the total value of milk and milk products was over $427,000. The production of dairy butter for Manitoba during the year was 4,150,444 lbs. and it brought an average price of 23c per lb.; of creamery butter 5,839,667 lbs. were produced which commanded 29c per lb. on the average; cheese production was 726,725 lbs. which sold at an average price of 15c—the total value of these three products is given as $2,760,698, in addition to which the milk produced is valued at $925,659 and the cream at $158,827, the average price of the milk being reckoned at 2.1c per lb. and of sweet cream at 32c per lb. butter-fat. In connection with the dairy industry it is interesting to note that almost the most important fodder crop now is corn, of which the 1915 production amounted to 190,132 tons. The biggest cultivated fodder crop is timothy which for last season produced 193,357 tons and the next most popular crop was brome grass with 45,815 tons; of alfalfa and clover there were produced some 38,000 tons. The number of cattle in the province is given as 631,005, which is an increase of 130,000 over the previous year.

The fact that the Red Deer, Alberta, cheese factory is handling four times as much milk this season as last winter shows the growing improvement in the dairy industry. On Feb. 14, it was announced the factory had just shipped two tons of cheese for Calgary market.

Cardston, Alberta, creamery in 1915 paid its patrons a rate of 27½c per lb. for butter fat and had a profit remaining over all expenses of $5,584. The creamery during season distributed among farmers $61,117 and manufactured 256,000 lbs. butter and 13,000 lbs. cheese. Average price realized for butter was 28¼ cents.

The development of the dairy industry of Northern Alberta is well indicated by the growth of a prominent dairy business here, which in 1915 produced 2,525,000 lbs. butter, an increase of 400,000 lbs. over the previous year. This product has found a market in all parts of Canada and this year will enter the export trade. Advertisement.

"Dat's all right, partner," replied Bunko Pete. "Our friend here ain't got no chance."

"I thought you didn't like automobiles?"

"I don't."

"Why, then, are you getting one?"

TEUTONS UNABLE TO CHECK SLAVS; RETREAT IN EAST

AUSTRIANS ALONG RIVER STRIPA RAPIDLY BEING OUTFLANKED —BAYONET ENCOUNTERS DESPITE FLOODS.

LEMBERG IS MENACED BY RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE

City Is On Direct Line of Advance—Hindenburg's Efforts So Far Are Unsuccessful—British Start Move to Capture German Colony in East Africa.

London, Aug. 8.—General Brussiloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies on the east front, is pressing his offensive against the Teutonic allies in northern Galicia, where the passage of the river Sereth was recently forced by the Russians along a wide front south of Brody. Petrograd reports further advances for the Russians with the capture of strongly fortified positions along the Sereth and the Graberka.

The newly gained ground is in the region of Zvyjin, Kostianiec and Renieuv, where the czar's troops scored marked successes. Fierce bayonet encounters are going on in the Sereth river woods under the most difficult weather conditions. A steady downpour has turned the battlefield into a swamp.

Austrians Unsuccessful.

The forward push of the Russians in this sector not only is bringing them closer to Lemberg on the direct line of advance but is pointed out by military critics as likely seriously to endanger the entire Austrian front along the Stripa, to the south, which is rapidly being outflanked.

Meanwhile the Austrians and Germans under the supreme command of Field Marshal von Hindenburg are attempting to resume the initiative from Volhynia to Bukowina, but thus far their efforts have been unable to check the Russian advance.

Attack in East Africa.

General Louis Botha, premier of the union of South Africa has arrived in German East Africa to witness what is believed here to be the last phase of operations against Germany's last remaining colony. General Botha was present at recent fighting north of the German Central railway which resulted in a British occupation of the lines at Kilimatinde and other points.

Meanwhile, with the occupation of Ujiji by the Belgians and of Sadani and other coast ports by the British, the Germans apparently are afforded only the opportunity corner of the colony where the Portguese, in their East African possession, are awaiting them.

U-BOAT REPORTED OFF COAST MAY BE GERMAN

Submarines Bound West Maine Guard Station Captain Says—No American Craft in Vicinity.

Machias Port, Me., Aug. 8.—Captain Small of the Cross island coast guard station has reported his station had sighted a large submarine, accompanied by a smaller subsea craft, bound west. Its nationality could not be determined, but the captain said he had no doubt that it was an undersea craft. The big submarine was coming to the surface when it was sighted, and after running awash 15 minutes again submerged. It was thought the vessel might be the German submarine Bremen. So far as can be learned, there are no United States submarines on the Maine coast.

The lookout who sighted the submarines said he heard several blasts from the signal horn at the lighthouse on Seal Island, a British possession, and that immediately after the whistle sounded the big submarine submerged.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Navy officers said no American submarines were known to be anywhere in the vicinity of Cross island. They thought the boat sighted might be the German merchant submersible Deutschland, on its homeward voyage, or its sister ship ,the Bremen, bound for the United States under convoy.

"RICHEST" TOWN RICHER.

Hibbing, Aug. 8.—Assessment figures given out by John C. Eastman, clerk of the township of Stuntz, give the township of which Hibbing, "the richest town in the world," is the center, a valuation of $121,184,332, the greatest in its history.

Pope Plans Protest to Germany.

Paris, Aug. 8.—The pope, after a careful study of the protest against the deportation of inhabitants of northern France, has decided to make a protest to Germany, according to a news dispatch. The protest was sent to the pope by the bishop of Lille and the archbishop of Rheims. It is stated that the pope will ask Berlin that at least women and young girls be sent back to their homes and that he will publicly express his reprobation of the German military authorities, if his protest is ignored.

A Feminine Egotist.

"I consulted a fortune teller the other day," said the poor but proud young man, "and she told me I was in love with a beautiful heiress, but she would never marry me. It looks like I was up against it!"

"Oh, not necessarily," rejoined the fair maid at the other end of the sofa. "No fortune teller has ever been authorized to speak for me."

When saying "No" it is not necessary to think long before you speak.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

HAD A FEAR OF LIGHTNING

Lifelong Dread Made Woman Unconscious and She Died From Fright.

During a thunderstorm at Newton, N. J., a woman who "through all her life of fifty years had felt a nervous dread of lightning" became unconscious from fright and died.

Cannot the multitudes of otherwise rational people who are obsessed by the same dread take counsel of the fate of this unfortunate and allay their fears? asks the New York World. They suffer an excess of terror in every thunderstorm, and in effect undergo the agony of death many times. Yet there are few other forms of death so painless or remote. In 1912 in the whole country only 243 persons were killed by lightning, of whom but 42 were females. Women, who mainly feel this fear, should be encauraged by their greater immunity.

But, in fact, twice as many people are burned to death in conflagrations in a year as are killed by thunderbolts, and the number of those who die from organic heart disease compared with those who die from lightning is as 354 to 1.

No doubt the superstition that has attached from the earliest times to deaths by lightning has had something to do with the survival of the fear. People who view their inescapable exit from this world with philosophy should be ready to accept a lightning stroke as an end as easy as any other. It is too instantaneous to admit of physical sensation, while the fear-ridden are assured that if the flash is seen the sufferer is safe.

INTERNED MEN MAKE GARDEN

German Sailors Relieve Monotony of Existence by Raising Vegetables.

In order to relieve the monotony of routine work in the tied-up German steamships, officers and men have turned gardeners and truck farmers and have a flourishing garden under cultivation.

The vegetable garden is being cared for by the officers and men of the steamships Amerika and Cincinnati of the Hamburg-American line, while the rose and flower garden is carefully weeded and looked after by the officers and men of the North German Lloyd liners, the Koln, Willehad and Willekind.

Many varieties of flowers, including roses, sunflowers, sweet peasfl geraniums and pansies are in bloom. In the vegetable garden, corn, beans, peas, beets, carrots and lettuce predominate, and the men are looking for warm, sunny days to ripen them.—Boston Post.

Dandelions Will Be Popular.

Dandelions will yet become popular as an article of diet with the people. They have always been so abundant that they have not been appreciated. Now some eastern canning establishments are advertising for dandelions to can. They are about to put on the market, as a staple article of food, to be had at any time of the year. If they are so good for factories to can, they are also good for the home gardener to can. Our schools are now teaching the science of canning, which will be a help in making the dandelion green available. One of the great advantages in favor of this vegetable is that it is extremely hardy. It grows as far north as the shores of the Arctic ocean. Some of the seed houses carry dandelion seed. Anyone, however, can gather his own seed, and it should prove interesting to experiment along the line of raising dandelions from native seed on your rich ground and under garden conditions.

RESEARCH WORK IN AMERICA

Future Will Witness Wider Application of Principle Which Has Already Done So Much.

Prophecy is a double-edged tool with a peculiar facility for injuring the user, but the activity of the present leads one to predict that each succeeding year will bring us nearer to the state in which the research work of the country will be national in both scope and effort.

The federal government and the states have done and are conducting research of immense value to agriculture, the foundation of industry; but the future will witness a more general application of this principle—an active national interest in industrial research, and this will serve as a healthy subsidy for American manufacturers.

Research has enabled our industries to make rapid strides. The recognition of this fact has occasioned a recent awakening to an increased sense of appreciation of the need of greater facilities for insuring the scientific development and extension of industry and commerce and of promoting industrial research.

People rarely rush into print "in justice" to a friend unless he needs defense.

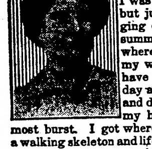
HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work." I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's stepsister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. Lowery, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ills, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

Ribbon "White Elephant."

Three yards of silk ribbon are the latest contribution to the conscience fund. And thereby a great problem as to how to cover the value into the United States treasury has arisen. The contribtuion seems something of a white elephant, the Washington Star says.

Probably the ribbon will be sold to the highest bidder at public auction and the amount realized covered into the treasury. The value of the ribbon cannot be judged and the prospective amount of the credit to the conscience fund cannot be estimated. The ribbon is about four inches wide, varicolored and of exquisite heavy quality.

The envelope containing the ribbon was postmarked Paterson, N. J. There was no message inclosed, the package being addressed simply to "The Conscience Fund, Washington, D. C." It is presumed that the ribbon itself was smuggled in and is now surrendered.

STATE BREVITIES

St. Paul.—The state tax commission has heard arguments on the question of whether revenue from leased equipment of a railroad represents gross earnings within the meaning of the gross earnings tax law.

St. Paul.—New good roads aid for Minnesota totaling $142,394.06, under the recent Federal appropriation, will be the subject of a special meeting of the state highway commission within a few days, Engineer G. W. Cooley, of the commission announced.

Ely.—According to officials of the Superior national forest service, fire conditions still are serious in this section. Five fires have been put out and one is under control and is being patroled. Three others are being fought with a crew of seventy-five men.

St. Paul.—The State of Minnesota had $5,456,948.52 cash on hand at the close of the fiscal year ending July 31. A report of the condition of the state treasury prepared by State Treasurer Gooding, shows that the state is considerably better off than it was at the close of the fiscal year July 31, 1915.

Austin.—Gold has been discovered in the sands of the Cedar river at this point. Samples sent to assayers were found to run as high as $1,664.80 a ton. With the appearance of the mineral the fever has spread to the surrounding country, and farmers are sending samples for authoritative inspection.

Albert Lea.—In an effort to determine the advisability of continuing the Albert Lea College for Women, a week's campaign was lunched here to procure pledges which will insure an income of $12,500 annually for a period of five years, $2,500 of that amount to be provided yearly by subscribers of this city.

Mankato.—Ernest Kothendeutal, 17 years old, Oliver Owens, 12 years old, and Leo Owens, 8 years old, have been drowned in the Minnesota river seven miles north of here in Nicollet county. The youngest boy stepped into a pitch hole while bathing and was swept off his feet. His companions tried to save him and went off.

Minneiska—Mary Burkhart, 25 years old, is a critical condition at her home, near here, as the result of a peculiar accident. She was working over a wringer on a washing machine, operated by a gasoline engine, when her hair became entangled in the wringer. Before the engine could be stopped, her scalp was torn from her head.

Virginia.—In the case of Louis Novak and Tony Tomisch of Aurora, on trial here on a charge of unlawful assemblage, Assistant County Attorney Funck ordered the arrest of Martin Zupen and John Seber of Aurora, witnesses in the case, when they admitted they had taken part in the trouble near the Hudson mine. The men were given a hearing.

St. Paul.—Creation of a state department of public domain, to place the adminstration of the state mining, timber, investment and land holdings on a solid business basis has been proposed by State Treasurer A. C. Gooding, following the announcement by State Auditor J. A. O. Preus that the next legislature will be asked to provide for an inventory of state property.

Washington, D. C.—"It is a story of public authority prostituted to private interests that is hardly equalled by Colorado," declared a report of the committee on industrial relations, describing the strike of Mesaba range iron workers. Duluth, St. Louis county, and Minnesota state officials were raked severely by George P. West, who wrote the report of the Colorado strike for the United States commission on industrial relations.

Eveleth.—Matt Kovesto, 36 years old, a carpenter, fired three bullets into his wife's head, a fourth through her arm, and then shot himself in the head. Physicians say the woman cannot live and that Kovesto has slight chance for recovery. Kovesto had been working in the hot sun all day and it is believed he had become temporarily unbalanced by the heat. The couple's five children, panic-stricken by the tragedy which they had, witnessed, were given shelter by neighbors.

Hibbing.—Deputy Sheriff Peter Wring, who received a severe gash in the forehead from a rock thrown by a striking miner in a clash between deputies and picketers at Kittsville, is out of the hospital with five stitches in his head. The disturbances that have occurred regularly at Kittsville, Nelson and Leetonia locations were resumed, miners being assailed with rocks and eggs. Deputies say it is impossible to use their riot sticks as mothers unhesitatingly raise their infants as protection for themselves and their men.

Fergus Falls.—Governor Burnquist of Minnesota will address the Otter Tail county fair on September 27, and that day has been set apart as "Governor's Day" by the fair management. An invitation extended to him recently has just been accepted by the Minnesota executive.

Halstad.—Rounding a sharp turn at high speed, six Halstad young people, returning from Galesburg, N. D., were hurled down the side of a steep embankment, their car turning completely over and stopping within a few feet of the Elm river. All were badly bruised.

St. Paul.—Revenue of $837,289.44 from state-owned mines in northern Minnesota for the fiscal year just ended is reported in an official state treasury statement issued. Gain of more than 50 per cent is shown over the previous high record year of 1913 with royalties of $554,702.26.

Changes in Third.

Changes in the non-commissioned officers and in the make up of infantry companies in the Third regiment recently have brought promotion to many men who have made good records since arriving at Llano Grande. Under the new federalized militia act each company is allowed twenty first-class privates, in addition to the lance corporals, corporals and sergeants.

New Adjutant.

Following the recent promotion of Col. F. E. Resche to the brigadier generalship, there was a shift all along the line. Capt. Walter O. Flodin of "C" company, Duluth, is the new regimental adjutant, succeeding Capt. Carl C. Weaver, who was promoted to major of the Second battalion. Capt. R. C. Nelson, also a Duluth man, lieutenant in "C" company when the Third left Duluth and captain of H company since shortly before leaving Fort Snelling, now is back as commander of Capt. Flodin's old company.

Andres is Recruiting Officer.

First Lieut. John H. Andres of the medical corps has been designated as recruiting officer, and will have charge of new men who will be added to the regiment from time to time.

Lieut. William A. Brown has been detailed as post exchange officer, and is in charge of the regimental "store" where enlisted men can purchase tobacco, soft drinks, and even some varieties of candy. Sergt. Harry Nelson of G company, with Private Sam Miller of A company and Private Fred C. James of E company, are storekeepers.

Made Regimental Sergeant.

In C company: Sergt. Ralph R. McIntyre has been promoted to mess sergeant; Private James W. Kidd now is cook; Corporals Richard A. Johnson and Martin Bugle are sergeants; while Privates Edwin F. Postal, Leonard G. Roske, Oliver O. Olson, Benjamin T. Porter, Ira B. McClure, Leslie E. Bowman, Harris D. Panousis and Leo J. Moerke are now corporals.

In the supply company Privates George Doherty, Charles A. Smith and Harry Lawler have been promoted to sergeants.

In M company of Hibbing Quartermaster Sergeant Peter Romansky has been appointed mess sergeant and Private Robert R. Guyette has been appointed cook.

Says Guards Came for Work.

"We did not come down here to drill, or for pleasure, but for work—and tell your men just what I have said." That was the message of Gen. James Parker, commander of the Brownsville district, when he visited Camp Llano Grande for the first time and talked to the 160 field and staff officers of the Minnesota brigade.

"There is no necessity of going into Mexico today," he said, "but no one can tell but that tomorrow a new government will make an attempt on the present one. Then we will go in, in all probability, and help in the establishment of a stable government."

Long Stay Indicated.

His visit has renewed speculation as to when the Third would be sent home, or when they would go across the line, if the militia is to be sent into the neighboring country.

Preparations here are on such a large scale that everything points to a long stay, in the face of the agitation throughout the states designed to bring matters to a head in the near future.

Large warehouses have been built, and stores supplies of all kinds, including clothing, ammunition and food have been stored ready for use.

Thirty-three large motor trucks recently were added to those stationed at Llano Grande, and a line of them is constantly moving between the camp and nearby towns, carrying supplies.

Athletics Encouraged.

Permanent kitchens, roofed and screened, are being built, and floors will be put in all tents, making them suitable for use in winter as well as summer.

Another issue of clothing, the third since the Duluth men reported at their armory in June, will be made in the near future, requisitions having already gone forward.

Orders from district headquarters at Brownsville have instructed officers to encourage the formation of baseball, polo and athletic teams of various kinds, in the effort to make them as contented as possible with the new life.

Promotions and Transfers.

Promotions and transfers in the ranks of the Minnesota brigade encamped at Llano Grande, Texas, have been announced by Adjutant General F. B. Wood.

In the Third Minnesota infantry, Captain W. O. Flodin will become adjutant, succeeding C. C. Weaver, promoted to major; Captain R. C. Nelson is transferred from Company H to Company C, and Lieutenant A. N. Nelson succeeds as captain of Company H.

In the Second regiment, Clifford W. Pickle is advanced to second lieutenant of Company M.

Commissions have been signed by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist and forwarded.

Minneapolis Raises Fund.

Personal solicitation by letter, which was begun by the committee in charge of the Minneapolis fund for the Minnesota state guard at the border, already is bearing fruit in a large number of responses. The letter was written by Mayor Nye as chairman of the committee and was accompanied by a subscription pledge which called for payment in four installments as the money was needed. E. W. Decker reported donations totalling $300. The fund has reached $6,524.42.

STRIKE OF STREET CAR EMPLOYES IN NEW YORK BEGINS

DISORDER INCREASES ALONG LINES OF RAILWAY—PARALYSIS TRAFFIC ON MANHATTAN VIRTUALLY COMPLETE.

THREATENS MOST SERIOUS TIE-UP IN CITY'S HISTORY

Strikers Demand Right to Organize Without Intimidation and Wage Increase From 30 to 33 Cents an Hour—Policemen Detailed to Guard Power Houses.

New York, Aug. 7.—Paralysis of surface car traffic on Manhattan island was virtually complete before dawn today.

Approximately 1,500 employes of the New York Railways company, which operates more cars than any other company in the borough of Manhattan, voted unanimously at 9:30 o'clock p. m. to strike immediately for recognition of their right to organize and to enforce other demands.

The strike vote was taken after the reply of the company to an ultimatum from its employes had been declared unsatisfactory.

Demand Right to Organize.

The report of the negotiations was made by a committee of six which had been appointed to confer with General Manager Frank Hedley. The committee demanded the right to organize without intimidation and a wage increase from 30 cents to 33 cents an hour.

The meeting was marked by enthusiasm and the vote to strike was greeted by cheers, which could be heard for blocks around the assembly hall.

The meeting was attended by a delegation from the Central labor federation, representing 350,000 union men who pledged their moral and financial support to the motormen and conductors in their efforts to unionize.

Police Guard Power Houses.

Prompt action was taken by General Manager Hedley to provide for emergencies. He notified Max Schmittberger, chief inspector of police, that a strike had been called on the lines of the New York Railways company. Inspector Schmittberger at once detailed men to guard the power houses and car barns of the company.

The strike which now threatens to become the most serious of its kind in the history of the city, began in Yonkers, extended from there to the Bronx and then to the lines of the Third Avenue Railroad company. The latter system extends far into Manhattan and the organization of its men was the entering wedge for the union in that borough.

U-BOAT SINKS ITALIAN STEAMER; MANY PERISH

Submarine Shells Five Boats and Kills Occupants, Survivors at Malta Declare.

London, Aug. 5.—The Italian mail steamer Letimbro has been sunk by a submarine and 28 survivors have arrived at Malta, says a Reuter dispatch from that place. Two boat loads with survivors also have arrived at Syracuse. The Letimbro carried a crew of 57 and her passengers numbered 113. It is believed that a large number of them lost their lives. The passengers included women and children.

Survivors report that a submarine fired a warning shot and then gave chase.

"The submarine," adds the dispatch, "continued its bombardment, smashing five boats, the occupants of which perished. Some of the survivors say, that many were killed by shell fire."

WHEAT PRICE IS ADVANCED

September Grain Sells for $1.38¼ in Minneapolis—Rust Feared.

Minneapolis, Aug. 4.—Minneapolis wheat, in a market that fluctuated widely, sold Thursday as high as $1.38¼ for both September and December, and as low as $1.34½ and $1.34⅛ for the two options. The close was at $1.34⅞ for September and $1.34⅝ for December. The Manitoba government statement says southern Manitoba is damaged and the crop will be a 10 bushel average due to the blight and rust. In the north, there will be an average crop, the report says.

Danes Expected to Accept Offer.

Copenhagen, Aug. 4.—It is regarded as probable that the rigsdag will accept the offer of the United States to purchase the Danish West Indies in spite of opposition from several quarters, including the Socialists, who demand that the negroes in the island be given the vote immediately. The offer for the islands is $25,000,000 and the cessation of all American rights in Greenland to Denmark. A condition of the offer is that all existing Danish business interests in the Danish West Indies will be conserved.

More Efficacious.

"In a few days, Mr. Grimm, you will have no further trouble with my chickens," said Neighbor Yaw. "I am working on an invention which is calculated to discourage them from scratching. It is an attachment which fastens to the fowl's leg and has a prod projecting out behind. When he or she, as the case may be, attempts to scratch, the prod strikes the ground and kicks him or her forward. A few scratches, and he or she kicks himself or herself clear out of the garden."

"I do not expect to wait for your chickens to kick themselves out of my garden," replied Gaunt N. Grimm. "The next time I catch them in there I'll grab you by the neck and kick you all over this end of town."

Ordering Meals by Telephone.

A cafe in Plainfield, N. J., has installed a unique system for the convenience of its diners. Whether the plan will eventually be welcomed by the dining public has still to be proved, but it has the merits of ingenuity and novelty. Each table in this enterprising cafe is connected directly with the kitchen and the head chef by means of a telephone. The fastidious diner, instead of trusting the fine points of his order to a mere waiter, tells them directly into the ear of the chef. Thus he can have his steak cooked to the exact turn he likes and get exactly the proper number of drops of seasoning in the sauces.

The Vegetarian.

A senior pupil teacher, who was noted for his dilatory habits and slovenly appearance, was one day instructing his class in the art of economy.

"Boys," he said, extending his not over-clean fingers in the direction of the class—"boys, in addition to being a total abstainer and nonsmoker, I am a vegetarian. Now, Johnny Brown, tell me, what is a vegetarian?"

"If you please, sir," answered Johnny Brown, glancing toward the extended fingers, "it must be a man who don't use soap!"—New York Telegraph.

It's two for one tomorrow and as long as the supply holds out—two cakes of your favorite Palmolive for the price of one.

Just tear out the coupon that appears below. It's "legal tender" at any store where the soap is sold—will buy you one cake of Palmolive Soap if you buy another. You get two cakes for only 10 cents by presenting this free 10-cent coupon.

It isn't necessary, here, to dwell upon the excellence of Palmolive and the qualities which make it the great and favorite toilet soap.

If you have used Palmolive even once you know, and will be the first to use the coupon.

If you haven't, this is your chance to prove the truth of all you have heard about Palmolive. To make the acquaintance of this great Palm and Olive oil soap.

Take the coupon to any dealer that sells soap and he will honor it.

If You Will Present This Coupon

This coupon will be accepted (if presented within thirty days) as full payment for one cake of Palmolive Soap when the holder purchases another cake at the regular price.

Only one coupon may be presented by each family and the name and address of the party receiving soap must be signed in full to the following:

I hereby certify that I have this day purchased one cake of Palmolive Soap from my dealer and received one cake of Palmolive Soap Free.

NOTICE TO DEALERS: This coupon will be redeemed at 10c in cash only under following conditions: It must be returned direct to the B. J. Johnson Soap Company, Inc., Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It must bear the full name and address and be signed by the party receiving the soap. WE POSITIVELY WILL REFUSE TO REDEEM COUPONS CUT FROM NEWSPAPERS PURCHASED BY DEALERS.

Kill the sow thistle. Raise more hay and keep more cattle. Raise less small grain and plant a few acres of corn and potatoes every year, cultivate well and you'll be surprised at the number of weeds that can be killed in one year, and how much better crop can be raised the following year on the cultivated fields. The Crookston Agricultural School send bulletins free that tell how to kill sow thistles.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

The Federal Farm Loan Act

Synopsis of Its Salient Features Prepared by H. M. Hanson, Secretary-Treasurer Farm Mortgage Bankers' Association of America

FEDERAL FARM LOAN ACT

Passed by the House of Representatives and the United States Senate June 27 and 28, 1916, Respectively.

Signed by the President July 17, 1916.

8.—Provides for a federal land bank system in the continental United States (exclusive of Alaska), dividing the country into twelve land bank districts composed of whole states.

3.—The system is operated as a bureau of the United states treasury department and supervised by the federal farm loan board. The secretary of the treasury is ex-officio chairman of the board with four other members appointed by the president for eight years at an annual salary of $10,000. One member is designated farm loan commissioner and is the active executive officer.

3—Appointees of Board: (a) Farm loan registrar for each land bank district and

(b) One or more land appraisers for each land bank district. Salaries paid by federal land bank or joint stock land bank for which they act.

(c) Land bank examiners; salaries paid by the United States.

(d) Attorneys, experts, assistants and other employees to be paid by the United States.

17.—Powers of the Board: (a) To organize and charter federal land banks, joint stock land banks and national farm loan associations.

(b) To review and alter the rate of interest to be charged by federal land banks for loans.

(c) To approve or reject any or all loans for bond issue and to grant or refuse any specific issue of farm loan bonds of federal land banks and joint stock land banks.

(d) To regulate charges for appraisal, examining titles and recording.

(e) To appraise land securing mortgages for bond issue.

(f) To exercise general supervisory authority over the federal land banks, farm loan associations and joint stock land banks.

30.—The farm loan commissioner shall examine the laws of every state and if on examination the laws of any state are shown to afford insufficient protection to holders, its mortgages shall be declared ineligible under this act during the continuance of the laws in question.

32.—The secretary of the treasury is authorized to deposit United States funds in federal land banks at current government rates of interest, the aggregate of such funds not to exceed $6,000,000 at any one time.

FEDERAL FARM LOAN BANKS

ORGANIZATION.

Section 4.—One in each land bank district. Branches permitted within its district. Officers: President, vice president, secretary and treasurer; directors; six representatives of farm loan associations and three representing the public interest. Attorneys, assistants, experts and other employees. All salaries fixed by farm loan board and paid by bank. Subject to semiannual examinations by land bank examiner.

Sec. 16.—May operate within the state in which its principal office is located and within some one contiguous state.

Sec. 28.—Subject to semiannual examinations by the federal land bank examiner.

CAPITAL STOCK.

Sec. 16.—$250,000 minimum.

Sec. 16.—Double liability of shareholders.

Sec. 16.—The United States government shall own none of the shares of stock.

Sec. 16.—No farm loan bonds can be issued until the capital stock is fully paid, although the bank may begin business when one-half of the capital is subscribed and paid in cash.

POWERS.

Sec. 16.—To lend money on farm mortgage security.

Sec. 16.—To issue and sell farm loan bonds.

Sec. 16.—To issue farm loan bonds up to 15 times the amount of its capital and surplus.

Sec. 16.—Except as otherwise provided it has the powers of and is subject to the restrictions imposed on federal land banks.

PRIVILEGES.

Sec. 16.—May lend more than $10,000 to any one borrower, but not beyond 50 per cent of the value of the land and 20 per cent of the permanent insured improvements.

Sec. 16.—Loans are not restricted to the purposes prescribed for national farm loan associations.

Sec. 16.—Loans may be made to farm owners regardless of whether engaged in cultivation of the land mortgaged or not.

Sec. 16.—Interest on loans shall not exceed more than 1 per cent, the interest rate established for its last series of bonds, nor more than 6 per cent in any case.

Sec. 16.—Commissions or other charges not specifically authorized by this act shall not be demanded or received.

BONDS.

Sec. 20.—Issued in series of $50,000 or more, in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000.

THIS DEALER HAD REAL TACT

Stout and Thin Customers Use Special Mirrors in Wearing Apparel Establishment.

A dealer in wearing apparel, noticing that his stout customers and his very thin customers often were sensitive as to their figures, installed two full length mirrors of special design, says Popular Mechanics magazine. One was slightly concave and the other slightly convex. When a stout customer tried on a suit she was led to the concave mirror for self-inspection, and was able to see her figure as it would appear with its measurements reduced. When a thin person came in to try on clothes she was taken to the convex mirror, where the opposite effect was produced.

Only Moistened His Lips.

Omer Scudder, a Columbus real estate and insurance agent, told some of the other business men who have offices in the Bassett building that he was hot. They agreed that they were just as hot as he was.

"I can eat all the ice cream you fellows are willing to buy," Scudder declared.

The others made up 60 cents and sent out for a half gallon of cream. They had a notion that Scudder would eat about a quart after which they would divide the remaining quart among themselves. Scudder surrounded the entire half gallon of ice cream, smacked his lips and asked them whether they were not going to get him enough ice cream for a real taste. The business men looked at each other, smiled sickly and returned to their places of business. — Indianapolis News.

The Three Philosophers.

For the first time in their lives three genuine, simon-pure philosophers went out riding in a motor car. After they had ridden about twenty miles out in the country the car broke down. Said the first philosopher: "I have long wanted to study certain aspects of nature, and this affords me the particular prospect I most admire." Said the second philosopher: "I observe there is a farmhouse over there where food can doubtless be obtained in sufficient quantities." Said the third philosopher: "I have long wanted to be in a situation where, without moving, sustenance would be brought to me by one friend, while the other discoursed on the beauties of nature."—Life.

PRESIDENT TAKES STEP TO PREVENT RAILROAD STRIKE

NEGOTIATIONS ENTIRELY IN WILSON'S HANDS SPOKESMAN FOR EMPLOYES SAYS FOLLOWING CONFERENCE AT CAPITOL.

NEW HOPE OF AVERTING GENERAL TIE-UP IS SEEN

Brotherhood Leaders Smiling Broadly at End of Parley—Were to See President Again After His Talk With Railway Managers. —Proposals Made.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The first step in the effort of President Wilson to prevent the threatened tieup of the country's railroads by strike ended at noon when representatives for the employes left the White House smiling broadly. They had been in conference wtih the President an hour and a half.

In President's Lands.

"The negotiations are entirely in the President's hands," said A. B. Garretson, spokesman for the employes. He refused to discuss the situation beyond that. Warren S. Stone, representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said:

"I am optimistic."

W. G. Lee of the Order of Railway Trainmen added:

"It looks very good.'

To See Wilson Again.

The employes were to see the President again, following his talk with representatives of the railway managers, which was scheduled for 3 p. m. The President spent part of the intervening time going over the stenographic report of the morning session in order to formulate proposals to make to the managers.

An apparently well authenticated report that preceded the conclusion of the morning conference was to the effect that the employes would agree to arbitration of the case provided the railroads agreed to withdraw their counter proposals and that the railroad managers had so agreed. Following the conference none of the employes' representatives would confirm this report.

No Signs of Discouragement.

These counter proposals were that any discussion should include, besides a wage readjustment, a readjustment of rules and regulations on which present wages are based. The railroad managers contend it is essential that the whole matter be taken up, since it obviously would be unfair to have the old rules and regulations govern the proposed new wage basis.

Several of the representatives, as they left the executive mansion, waved their hats to the newspaper men, 50 of them, waiting outside. There was no indication that the men felt discouraged as a result of their conference.

Garretson's face was flushed and he mopped it with his handkerchief, but he was smiling. Immediately after the men left Judge Chambers returned to the White House for another conference.

CHICAGO WOMEN OPEN CAMP

Begin Month of Work in Service Station at Lake Geneva.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Up to Lake Geneva, where in other years they have spent hot weeks of August picnicking and motoring, several hundred women, recruited from Chicago's elite, started today to learn to do things for their country.

The women are enrolled in the national service station, which is being conducted under the auspices of the Navy league. Their tents are pitched on the campus of Northwestern Military academy, and for one month they will live the life of soldiers—eat, sleep, drill, work.

Tugs Search in Fog For Ship.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Groping blindly in the fog off the Golden Gate, the tugs Reliance Queen and Searover searched for the three masted bark Callao, whose captain wirelessed during the night that his crew had mutinied and asked for aid. Aside from three brief radiograms no word came out of the fog to solve the mystery surrounding the ship.

Two Women Hurt in Auto Crash.

Minneapolis, Aug. 15.—Mrs. O. M. Cutler, wife of Captain Cutler of the First Minnesota infantry, and her guest, Miss Evelyn Laughlin, Seattle, suffered possible fatal injuries when the Cadillac car driven by Mrs. Cutler's uncle, Louis LaClair, Glenwood City, Wis., was smashed by a high-powered automobile on East Seventh street, St. Paul.

Oppose Liquor Sales by Grocers.

London, Aug. 15.—The committee appointed some time ago to advise the government in regard to proposals for purchase by the state of the licensed liquor trade of Scotland has recommended that trade in liquor by licensed grocers should be abolished and that hotels and inns which depend mainly on this traffic should be taken over by the state. It is suggested that the price paid for hotels and inns should be estimated on the basis of their annual profits over a fixed number of years.

MEDIATION FAILS IN RAIL DISPUTE, IS KNAPP'S WORD

FEDERAL CHAIRMAN DECLARES SETTLEMENT BY THIS PLAN IS IMPOSSIBLE AND SUGGESTS ARBITRATION.

CONFERENCE ASKED BY WILSON BEFORE STRIKE

President Tells Mediators That Walkout Must Be Avoided and if Deadlock Is Reached He Would Like to Talk to Representatives of Both Sides.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The president was in communication with the Federal mediators by telephone and asked that he be informed if a strike became imminent. The president informed the mediators that a strike must be avoided and that if a deadlock were reached he would like an opportunity to talk to the representatives of the railroad managers and employees.

No Decisions as to Arbitration.

New Work, Aug. 14.—No decision was reached Saturday by the representatives of the brotherhoods of railway employees on the question of accepting a proposal of arbitration. They will give their answer to the United States board of mediation and conciliation shortly.

Judge Makes Announcement.

New York, Aug. 14.—Mediation has failed in the controversy between the 400,000 railroad employees and the managers of the 225 railroads affected.

This was the formal announcement made by Judge Martin Knapp of the United States board of mediation and conciliation in a communication to the trainmen.

Judge Knapp's communication read: "In our judgment, after two days of consideration of difficulties between the railroad managers and the employees, there is no prospect of settlement by mediation and therefore we suggest arbitration."

Arbitration Not Likely.

Immediately they were handed Judge Knapp's communication, the executive board of the brotherhoods, who have been empowered by a 94 per cent vote to call a strike if in their opinion such action is essential to success of their fight for an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime, went into executive session to consider the suggestion.

From statements made a short time before, the board declared unanimously and unequivocally that they would never consent to arbitration.

A delegate emerging later from the hall said unofficially that the men had voted to reject the proposal for arbitration and to lay their case before the president.

HUGHES CONTINUES HIS ATTACKS ON DEMOCRATS

Charges McAdoo Replaced Henry N. Clapp With Tammany Leader as New York Appraiser.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 14.—Charles E. Hughes, continuing his attacks on the administration for its appointments, charged Secretary W. G. McAdoo, "upon reliable information," with having replaced Henry N. Clapp, formerly confidential secretary to John G. Carlisle, with Daniel E. Finn, son of "Battery Dan" Finn, a Tammany leader, as assistant appraiser of merchandise at New York. Some months after Clapp was "put out of the service," Mr. Hughes said, "through fear of criticism on the part of the department he was made an examiner in the customs service, a much lower position than that held before and at a much lower compensation."

GERMAN AIRMEN RAID DOVER

Drop Bombs on English Coast Town—Damage Slight.

London, Aug. 14.—Two German aeroplanes dropped four bombs on the English coast of Dover at 12:25 p. m. General French, commanding the home forces, reported that no material damage was done. Anti-aircraft guns came into action aeroplanes went in pursuit of the raiders who made off seawards. The casualties were one officer and six men slightly injured.

Woman Candidate Defeated.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 14.—Complete official returns show that Dr. Eva Harding, democrat, first woman to seek a congressional nomination on a major party ticket, has lost to Rev. H. J. Corwine by a majority of 337.

Ten Dead in Trolley Clash.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 14.—From 10 to 15 persons were killed and about 40 others more or less injured at Echo, in a street car wreck.

The accident occurred on the Southern Cambria Electric railroad, which connects Johnstown and Edensburg. One car had just turned a sharp curve when it was telescoped by another dashing down a steep hill.

The motorman had lost control, and the car, running through a switch, had continued at high speed, crashing into the car from Johnstown.

"I don't like the looks of those Republican nominees," said the barber as he gazed at their bewhiskered portraits.

"But," remarked the man in the chair, "how do you know but what the Democratic nominees use safety razors?"

Cockroach a Troubler.

Recently while inspecting a large plant attention was called to a peculiar incident. On a branch circuit there was some peculiar trouble. Fuses would blow out at various intervals running from one-half to twenty-four hours, sais the Popular Science Monthly. At first no attention was paid, but when the ground detector started to show signs of trouble, first on one side and then on the other, investigation was made. Covers were removed from the outlet boxes and from one box a shower of live and dead cockroaches fell on the head of the examiner. On looking into the box, it was found that the insulation around the joints and especially at the points had been entirely eaten away, the vibration doing the rest toward creating the trouble.

Making More Wood Flour.

One of the new industries increased by the European war is the manufacture of wood flour in the United States. Last month over 20,000 tons valued at $300,000 was manufactured chiefly in small mills which are scattered over the country from Maine to California. The flour is used in the manufacture of linoleum as a substitute for the cork imported from Spain before the war, and also enters largely into the composition of some of the heavier and handsomer wall papers. Wood flour is made from sawdust and other waste lumber which until a few years ago was burned at most American sawmills.

State News in Brief

Doings of Last Few Days Throughout Minnesota Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

Moorhead. — Clay county's potato crop is not up to standard this year, according to A. W. Aumodt of the University of Minnesota extension department.

St. Cloud. — L. M. Foster, agent for a liability company, has been cited by Judge J. A. Roeser of Stearns county for contempt, for failing to carry out the Court's instructions in a compensation case.

St. Cloud. — Harvey Grimmer, newspaper man, has been named chairman of the Democratic congressional committee of the Sixth district by W. F. Donahue of Melrose, party nominee for Congress.

Glyndon. — John Zeigler, escaped inmate of the asylum for the insane at Fergus Falls, and charged with the theft of four horses at Dilworth, Minn., was arrested here. Zeigler was working for a farmer.

Duluth. — Reported to be the only case of its kind successfully treated here is that of J. R. Johnson of Colbyville, Minn., who suffered a broken neck and who was discharged from a hospital as practically cured.

Duluth. — Men who clothe the state of Minnesota, members of the Minnesota Retail Clothiers' association, held their seventh annual convention here. One hundred delegates were in attendance. The first day was devoted to speeches and talks on trade matters. A complimentary dinner was served the delegates by Duluth merchants.

Detroit.—J. J. Farrell, state dairy commissioner, was unanimously elected president of the American Association of Dairy, Food and Drug Officials at the association's convention in Detroit. Mr. Farrell succeeds W. B. Barney, food and dairy commissioner of Iowa, who was elected president at the San Francisco convention in 1915.

Duluth. — With the election of G. H. Dickman of Plainview, Minn., as president, the Minnesota Retail Clothiers' association completed its seventh annual convention. Other officers elected: J. Anderson of Canby, first vice president; J. H. Shock of Red Wing, second vice president; George M. Peterson of Duluth, secretary. The convention indorsed proposals for 1-cent letter postage.

Winona. — Puzzled for three weeks by mysterious fires, officials of the North-Western railway in Winona, believe they have solved the situation by the arrest of Warren B. Hanscom, 19-year-old son of a minister of a leading church of Tracy, Minn. He is charged with setting at least five fires. The authorities say he has confessed. At a preliminary hearing the young man was held on $500 bail.

Austin. — Austin's streets may be graded with gold—at least to a limited extent. A. G. Runyan washed out $1.98 worth of gold from thirty pans of sand from the same source as that used on local streets. All along the Cedar river, where indications of gold have been found, eager farmers have turned prospectors and are "panning" the sand. Traces of gold in Austin were found for the first time two weeks ago.

Duluth. — Five Minnesota attorneys will be stripped of their right to practice law in this state if recommendations adopted by the Minnesota State Bar association, in annual session here, are carried out by the state board of law examiners. The names of the five are withheld. In its report the committee on ethics expressed itself as being desirous of riding the profession of lawyers whose conduct violates their oaths.

St. Paul. — More than $1,000,000 in state aid to high and graded schools, including aid for special departments in such schools, was voted by the state high school board in annual meeting in the capitol for the year ended July 31 last. Of the total $1,191,684, an aggregate of $914,674 went to the 230 high schools and $277,010 went to the 241 graded schools. Nine graded schools were advanced to the high school list. Three of them are the consolidated schools at Carlton, Cleveland and Glyndon. The others are the schools at Crosby-Ironton, Hayfield, Morristown, Mountain Iron, Nashwauk-Keewatin and Roseau.

St. Paul. — Headquarters will be opened by the Republican state central committee September 15 in the new St. Francis hotel, Seventh and Wabasha streets.

The opening will mark the beginning of the fall campaign by Republicans in Minnesota.

These plans were adopted at a meeting of the state central committee in the office of Secretary of State Julius A. Schmahl at the Capitol.

It was decided that to avoid any factional trouble, each county will be asked to organize its own county committee. Call for a big Republican organization day in Minnesota, on which mass meetings will be held in every county, will be sent out probably next week.

St. Paul. — A basis of settlement of more than 1,000 suits involving titles to land on the White Earth Indian reservation in Minnesota has been agreed upon between R. J. Powell, representing virtually all of the defendants, and Francis J. Kearful, special United States attorney assigned to carry on the Indian prosecutions, according to an announcement by the attorneys. The settlement, which will be consummated, according to the two attorneys, within the next two months, will clear the title to millions of dollars worth of valuable land on the White Earth reservation.

Best Drilled Battalion.

"The best drilled battalion I have seen in the division," this was the comment of Major L. M. Nuttman, senior inspector-instructor of this division after inspecting the Second battalion of the First regiment. Major Nuttman, accompanied by Colonel Luce, and Major E. J. Andrews inspected the equipment, tents and kitchens of Companies E, F, G and H, and then took the men out on the regimental parade for a brief drill, the companies were put through extended order formations and company movements and executed the commands with precision.

Assemble in Four Minutes.

As a measure of preparedness and discipline the First regiment was treated to a surprise shortly after noon mess, when "To arms" was sounded. Four minutes after the bugles sounded the call the regiment was arrayed and battalions were in the positions assigned to them in case of a night attack. Each man carried his rifle, and a bundle containing 60 rounds of ammunition.

Major Higbee's battalion took up a position along the road west of camp, which commanded all approaches from the brush in that direction, while Major C. T. Smith's battalion deployed south towards the corral. Major Andrew's battalion was held in reserve. The band reported at the hospital tent to act as stretcher bearers.

Clothes Don't Count.

Taken by surprise, the men reported in all stages of undress, one man wearing only a cartridge belt. Soldiers ran from the shower baths, dropped crap games, and left their blankets to report in their company street.

One man, who was caught in the act of shaving, and reported with his face covered with lather, was the butt of many jokes before the men were dismissed. In case "To arms" is sounded the men are required to report with their rifles and ammunition without regard to the clothing worn.

Johnson Ordered to Border.

After an absence from regular service for four years, Lieutenant Colonel Arthur Johnson, U. S. A., chief mustering officer at Fort Snelling, has gone to Brownsville, Texas, to join the Thirty-sixth infantry, one of the new regular army regiments provided for by an act of congress on June 3, 1916. Captain George R. Green, U. S. A., will succeed Colonel Johnson as commander at the fort and will superintend the equipment and departure of the First battalion First field artillery.

Colonel Johnson received the order "to move" from the war department at Washington. He wired Major General Thomas H. Barry departmental commander at Chicago, that he was to leave and that he would leave Captain Green in command.

Eligible for Commissions.

Colonel Johnson has served with the Twenty-second the Nineteenth, the Seventeenth, the Thirteenth and the Eleventh regiments.

A telegram from General Barry said that all university students who had at one time attended a cadet camp were eligible for examination for commissions in the regular army. Applications can be made to the adjutant general's office of the war department at once, Colonel Johnson stated, and the examinations for Twin City and Minnesota applicants will probably be held at Fort Snelling.

Invoices on a part of the equipment requisitioned from St. Louis were received. This means that at least some of the supplies are on their way. As soon as they are all here and the men are fully equipped, the departmental headquarters at Chicago will be notified that the unit is ready to leave for border service.

Two Officers Dismissed.

Two militia officers who were inspectors of small arms at Llano Grande with the Minnesota National guard, have just reached St. Paul with the statement that they were peremptorily discharged because the government had made no provision for such inspection. The men are Capt. F. E. Krembs, St. Paul, and Maj. C. E. Lee of Stillwater. The men were appointed to the inspection after having worked their way up from the ranks. "As I understand the conditions," said Captain Krembs, "it will be necessary for me to enlist as a private in order again to become identified with the guard. I had difficulty in returning to St. Paul because of the suddenness of my dismissal. I was without funds for berth accommodations."

Town Hard on Nerves.

Mercedes is no place for a nervous person. The oldest inhabitant is apt to frighten the timid visitor by his recital of raids, and later when the timid visitor discovers the electric light dimming and hears shots he is justified in hiding. The next morning he learns that there was a fire in town and that the shots were fired to alarm the villagers.

Stop Shooting in Brush.

General E. H. Lewis, camp commander, has issued orders to all regimental commanders to take steps to stop promiscuous shooting in the vicinity of the camp. There has been complaint about men shooting in brush south of First Minnesota camp.

To Safeguard State Loans.

The state investment board considered "the need of throwing reasonable safeguards around $25,000,000 of trust funds," which the state now has out on loans, principally to schools and municipalities. Payments were ordered on applications for new loans aggregating $725,000. Discussion of the need of greater safeguards was precipitated by a communication from Examiner Fritz, criticizing conditions revealed following the sentencing of former Treasurer Walter J. Smith and R. C. Pickit.

PORT OF MISSING WHEELS

Writer Throws Some New Light on the Eventual Fate of Bicycles.

Perhaps you have wondered what has become of all the old bicycles. Not so long ago everybody had one—father, mother, children and aunts from the country. And then, in the night, motor cars got cheaper and all the bicycles disappeared. Like the Palm Beach suits they are all here in Florida. There are bicycles everywhere, on the flat, hard, beautiful roads, on the curbstones, leaning against the piazzas, in the streets. If the motor car has swept them from the northern streets, it has not done that here. Men, women and children on bicycles whirl about the streets, tingling their little bells and the motor-car drivers look out for them. Just beyond the veranda at Palm Beach were hundreds of bicycles waiting to be hired. Out on the shaded roads were other hundreds bearing their gayly attired burdens.

In the lobby, where I was making my way to the desk, were dozens of women dressed for wheeling.—Margaret Tuttle, in Saturday Evening Post.

Saved an Empress.

With the filing of the will of Mrs. Sarah Gray Crane in the Surrogate's court a trust fund of $75,000 became available for the trustees of Amherst college. Dr. Edward A. Crane, her husband, had left the bulk of his estate in trust for the benefit of his widow. After her death it was to go to Amherst. How Doctor Crane saved the life of Empress Eugenie from a Paris mob of September 4, 1870, was told in the will. He planned the secret flight of the empress from Paris to Deauville when the republic was proclaimed after the news of the Sedan surrender. He arranged passage on Lord Burgoyne's yacht and took her to England. The empress rewarded Doctor Crane with a handsome pearl.—New York Times.

Aerial Insurance.

A German insurance company has organized a department of aerial insurance. The company is issuing policies covering damage to all property, real or movable, caused by explosive bodies or other objects thrown or falling from flying machines or caused by airships or aeroplanes themselves in making voluntary or involuntary landings, or parts thereof falling from them. The policies, however, make no provision for injury to or loss of life. It is said that numerous air raids over German cities and towns near the battle fronts, particularly in the West, have caused a demand for such policies.

Yale to Admit Women.

Women have beaten their way into old Yale. The school of medicine at that university has guardedly, cautiously let down the sex bars and will admit a limited number of girl students. They must, however bring testimony that they have "an equipment which will insure continuance of the high standard of the institution," says the New York Sun.

Already Provided.

The minister was shaking hands with a new member of his congregation, a girl fresh from Sweden, and said, cordially, "I would like to know your address, so I can call on you."

"Oh," said the girl innocently, "I haf a man."

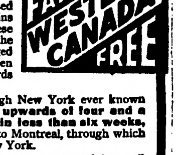
The Wheat Yield
Tells the Story
of Western Canada's Rapid Progress



The heavy crops in Western Canada have caused new records to be made in the handling of grains by railroads. For, while the movement of these heavy shipments has been wonderfully rapid, the resources of the different roads, despite enlarged equipments and increased facilities, have been strained as never before, and previous records have thus been broken in all directions.

The largest Canadian wheat shipments through New York ever known are reported for the period up to October 15th, upwards of four and a quarter million bushels being exported in less than six weeks, and this was but the overflow of shipments to Montreal, through which point shipments were much larger than to New York.

Yields as high as 60 bushels of wheat per acre are reported from all parts of the country; while yields of 45 bushels per acre are common.

Thousands of American farmers have taken part in this wonderful production. Land prices are still low and free homestead lands are easily secured in good localities, convenient to churches, schools, markets, railways, etc.

There is no war tax on land and no conscription.

The dairy cow requires an ounce or more of salt a day, and while she should be given all she needs, she should not be forced to take more than she wants. It is best, therefore, to give only a small quantity on the feed, and to place rock salt in boxes in the yard.—Farmers' Bulletin 743.

Holt Must Vote Again.

Last week the village council employed an attorney to assist them in getting a bond issue thru, and he advises, as the first election was to issue bonds to the state of Minnesota that another election must be held to vote on bonds.

The council met Wednesday evening and passed resolutions to issue bonds and to call a special election, and notice of such election will be published next week.

Note: The state refused to make $6000.00 loan because it was more than they loan on what our assessed valuation is, as they don't allow for personal property assessments.

Early fall plowing will kill lots of weeds that every farmer wants to get rid of.

George and Frank Anderson have gone to Climax where they expect to work for some time.

The Synod Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Olaf Sandberg Wednesday Sept. 6th. All are welcome.

Mrs. C. W. Christianson and three children returned Wednesday from a couple of weeks visit with relatives at Strandquist.

Hjalmer Dovre and family, Misses Selma Dovre and Emma Kuehne and Hjalmer Peterson were Mud Lake visitors Sunday.

While Hilmer Davidson was working on the well at Lars Chevil's the rope broke and let the drill down about 90 feet. He was unable to grip the rope with his tools and had to dig down about 20 feet, thus losing about a weeks time and doing lots of hard work. We understand he has now drilled down to about 115 feet without striking a sufficient flow of water.

Work is progressing nicely on the building for the oil station here. When the tanks are ready, both kerosene and gasoline will be shipped here, in big car tanks, direct from the refineries in Indiana and supplied to the consumer at a saving of one and three-tenths cents per gallon. We are informed that gasoline dropped a cent a gallon Wednesday. It ought to come down about five to ten cents more.

FOR SALE: Heavy work team, wt. about 3000 lbs. Sound in every way, for sale cheap if taken at once.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

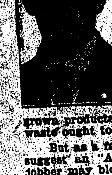
ON ADVERTISE IT IN AMERICA.



As a citizen of this nation and one intensely interested in its material development, I want to add my approval to the "Buy It in America" movement. Commercial patriotism and business pride are the foundation stones of success in industry and no country can become supreme in commerce and trade unless it fosters a spirit of friendship and partiality for its own products and institutions. It is the spirit of the hive that makes the wheels of industry turn and each community should be a progressive unit in our industrial universe. All things being equal the farmer should patronize the local merchant, who is always a good citizen, a heavy taxpayer and friend of the farmer. The farmer sends shiploads of raw material to foreign markets and factories that meet on their way vessels laden with finished and foreign grown products coming to America. Any effort to minimize this economic waste ought to be encouraged.

But as a farmer and friend of the manufacturer and merchant I want to suggest an "Advertise It in America" movement. The manufacturer and jobber may blow loud blasts on the horn of patriotism but if they will put an "ad" in the newspapers in their trade territory, making a business presentation of their goods, they will find it far more effective than waving the Star-Spangled Banner. The farmer is as much interested in the price of the things he has to buy as in the price of the things he has for sale and the advertising columns of his newspaper are his price list. The price is the thing and the farmer wants the figures in cold type. The politicians give him all the patriotic buncombe he cares for. Business enterprise is a far more successful salesman than business patriotism.

There are many most worthy organizations working to promote commerce and trade but we seldom find organized effort to promote the press, yet it is recognized as the most powerful agency for progress the world has ever produced. We have all sorts of days calculated to promote business and honor industry such as Trades Days, Bargain Days, Labor Days, etc.; why not have a press day and all business concerns advertise the things they have to sell and everybody subscribe for the local paper and all delinquents pay a year in advance? There is nothing so elevating in civilization as the smile of an editor and nothing will contribute more toward the welfare of a community than the prosperity of the press.

The farmer is a friend and patron of the newspapers. He subscribes for the local paper and reads every line in it and it is the best investment he can make. There is no news so valuable as store news; no information so interesting as market demands; no tragedy so entertaining as the rise and fall of prices and no page more closely studied by the farmers than the advertising columns of the press.

TO ATTACK MINNESOTA STATE FAIR.

De Lloyd Thompson, Fearless Aviator, to Demonstrate Probable Results of an Aerial Attack Upon America by an Enemy Air Fleet at Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9.

IS AMERICA prepared for war? Could the United States drive back an aerial war fleet intent upon invading the country?

De Lloyd Thompson, the intrepid birdman who is ranked among the sensations of the year, will give a thrilling preparedness demonstration at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, in imitation of an aerial invasion, dropping bombs upon the principal buildings from a gigantic war plane, now being made for him. Similar demonstrations by Thompson at New York City, Washington and Boston excited wide comment this spring.

Bombs Are Dropped.

Sweeping in from the north at night, Thompson will drop bomb after bomb from his aeroplane in imitation of an aerial attack upon the Fair Grounds. He will attempt to locate the Grandstand, Livestock Pavilion, Agricultural Building, and other big structures with his bombs. The explosion of the bombs at night is a thrilling sight. In addition to his bomb throwing exhibition each evening, Thompson will give two daily flights, looping the loop, tail sliding, flying upside down, dropping in the air, and performing in other ways.

ENTIRE TOWN MOVED.

Suburban Residence District Moved 1,000 Miles to Minnesota State Fair.

Moving an entire suburban residence district over 1,000 miles is the magic task which is being undertaken this year to provide the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, with a new feature.

The model suburb, which is coming from Cleveland, O., in August, cost $10,000, and was designed to demonstrate the value of lumber in the erection of homes. It is to be housed in the new Building Materials Building, adjoining the Art Galleries, and will be one of the biggest educational features at the exposition. A pretentious exhibit of building materials will also be shown.

The White Pine Bureau and the Minnesota Art Commission are co-operating with the State Fair in making the venture a success.

You Owe It To The Children

How often does your wife say that? There is no greater irony than the spectacle of parents who spend their all to give their children luxuries while denying them that great necessity, the inspiring security of a family saving fund.

You surely owe it to your children to give them the example of a family independence based on a bank accout. This silent evidence of prudence will do more than many hours of admonition.

Electric Wheel Chairs.

Electric wheel chairs similar to those employed at the Panama-Pacific International exposition last year are being used successfully in Europe for the wounded and crippled soldiers. Invariably the convalescent men prefer to direct their own chair rather than to have someone push them about. One of these chairs, which is of Swiss make and costs a small sum, is equipped with a one-quarter horse power motor suspended between the steering and rear wheel. Current is supplied from a battery of 15 lead plate cells housed in three boxes beneath the seat. The battery is of 50 ampere hours' capacity and provides sufficient energy for a run of thirty to forty miles. Five forward and five reverse speeds are provided. The steering and operating mechanism is of the very simplest.

Twelve men are known to be dead and all mines are closed down, following an explosion in Mine No. 3 at Michel, B. C., Canada. Lightning struck signal wires and carrying the current down to the mines, ignited dust or gas starting the explosion.

ITALIANS LANDED AT SALONIKI, PLAN DRIVE IN BALKANS

LATIN TROOPS TO TAKE PART IN IMPORTANT CAMPAIGN, JUST OPENING—GREECE REPORTED DISQUIETED.

GERMANY EXPECTED TO FORMALLY DECLARE WAR

Kaiser's Troops Are Employed on Macedonian Front and Actual Conflict Seems Probable—Teutons Use Liquid Fire in Effort to Retake Fleury.

London, Aug. 22.—Italian troops are to take part in the important campaign just opening in the Balkans, according to Saloniki advices, which report the disembarkation of Italian soldiers at that port now in progress. German troops are employed on the Macedonian front and actual war between Germany and Italy, of which there so far has been no formal declaration, now seems probable.

Activity On Long Front.

The Macedonian campaign itself does not yet seem to have developed an engagement of first rate magnitude, but there is pronounced activity along the 150-mile fighting front with successes claimed by each side at various points. In Allied quarters there is said to be no apprehension felt that the plans of General Sarrail, the commander, will be interfered with by the German and Bulgarian attacks on the Allied flanks.

Bulgars Worry Greeks.

Greece, however, is reported to be disquieted over the advance of the Bulgarians toward Kavala, the Greek seaport east of the Allied front, and the southward move of the Bulgarians on the other flank, which resulted in the occupation of Florina.

In the Verdun region the Germans, who again lost the village of Fleury, northeast of the citidale, last week, are making determined efforts to regain the place.

French Stop Assaults.

They have driven against the village with strong forces, using flaming liquid to aid their attacks, but according to the Paris bulletin the French fire effectively stopped the assault.

Along the Somme front in Northern France the artillery battle is raging violently. No infantry actions are reported by Paris, however, although a German counter-attack apparently is in preparation, following the capture by the French of a strongly fortified wood between Gillemont and Maurepas, northwest of Peronne.

ASQUITH HOLDS TEUTON TERMS ARE HUMILIATING

British Premier Denies German Assertion That England Is Preventing Negotiations.

London, Aug. 22.—Germany has shown no disposition toward peace except on terms dishonorable and humiliating to some of the Allies, Premier Asquith has informed the house of commons.

The prime minister's statement was made in answer to assertions by Under-Secretary Zimmerman of the German foreign office, who told a Hungarian newspaper recently that it was England that was blocking peace.

Zimmerman's statement that England prevented her Allies from showing a disposition toward peace is untrue, Asquith said. He reminded the German foreign office official that Germany has never submitted official terms of peace.

STORM ISOLATES GUARDSMEN

Cause Damage to All Three Minnesota Regiments at Llano Grande.

Llano Grande, Texas, Aug. 22.—Minnesota troops have been cut off from the outside world for three days by the severe storm which swept through the Rio Grande valley Friday, putting telegraph lines out of commission, and causing considerable damage in the Brownsville district. All three of the regiments lost tents in the high wind of Friday afternoon, and three companies of the Third regiment were flooded out with eight inches of water in their tents. Damage in the First Minnesota was nominal.

Anthracite Coal 25c Higher

Boston, Aug. 22.—Retail prices for anthracite coal have been marked up 25 cents a ton in this city. The advance is the second of the year and makes the quotation for most grades of hard coal 25 cents higher than a year ago.

Slavs Catch Enemy Off Guard

Petrograd, Aug. 22.—By suddenly shifting his attack to the Stokhod river front northeast of Kovel, General Brisiloff has caught the Germans off their guard, and is driving westward for substantial gains. Realizing that General von Bothmer's army had been crushed, the Germans began stripping their northern front of all available men and sending them southward to defend Lemberg. It was while this troop movement was under way that Brusiloff struck farther north with his right wing.

WILSON'S PLAN TO END WAGE DISPUTE IS MADE PUBLIC

HOLDS EIGHT-HOUR DAY SEEMS FAIR AND PRACTICAL AND PEOPLE HAVE RIGHT TO EXPECT ACCEPTANCE.

HIGHER FREIGHT RATE MAY BE AUTHORIZED

Ray of Hope for Agreement Seen in President's Hint—Trial of Scheme Declared Only Solution—Rail Chiefs Are Expected to Yield—Inquiry Is Suggested.

Washington, Aug. 21.—President Wilson has issued the following statement from the White House outlining his position in the strike situation:

"I have recommended the concession of an eight-hour day—that is, the substitution of an eight-hour day for the present ten-hour day in all the existing practices and agreements. I made this recommendation because I believed the concession right. The eight-hour day now undoubtedly has the sanction of a judgment of society in its favor and should be adopted as a basis for wages even where the actual work to be done cannot be completed within eight hours.

Some Have Adopted Plan.

"Concerning the adjustment which should be made in justice to the railroads and their stockholders, in the payment and privileges to which their men are now entitled (if such adjustments are necessary) there is a wide divergence of opinion. The railroads which have already adopted the eight-hour day do not seem to be at any serious disadvantage in respect of their cost of operation, as compared with the railroads that have retained the ten-hour day, and calculations as to the cost of the change must, if made now, be made without regard to any possible administrative economies or readjustments.

Trial Necessary.

"Only experience can make it certain what rearrangements would be fair and equitable either on behalf of the men or on behalf of the railroads. That experience would be a definite guide to the Interstate Commerce Commission, for example, in determining whether as a consequence of the change it would be necessary and right to authorize an increase of the rates for the handling and carriage of freight (for passenger service is not affected).

Duty to Accept.

"I therefore proposed that the demand for extra pay for overtime made by the men and the contingent proposals of the railroad authorities be postponed until facts shall have taken the place of calculations and forecast with regard to the effects of a change to the eight-hour day; that in the meantime while experience was developing the facts, I should seek and, if need be, obtain authority from Congress to appoint a small body of impartial men to observe and thoroughly acquaint themselves with the results, with a view to reporting to Congress at the earliest possible time the facts disclosed by their inquiries, but without recommendation of any kind; and, that it should then be entirely open to either or both parties to the present controversy to give notice of a termination of the present agreements with a view to instituting inquiry into suggested readjustments of pay or practice.

"This seems to be a thoroughly practical and entirely fair program, and I think that the public has the right to expect its acceptance."

ITALIAN STEAMSHIP IS REPORTED TORPEDOED

Believed Sunk While on Way to New York—Had Accommodations for 1,700 Passengers.

London, Aug. 21—The Italian steamship Stampalia, which plies between New York and Italian ports, has been sunk, says a dispatch to Lloyds.

The Stampalia was a passenger liner of 9,000 tons gross. In common with other Italian liners, it mounted guns for protection from submarines. The last report of its movements was its arrival on July 30 at Genoa from New York, so that it apparently was sunk on the return voyage to the United States. It was commanded by Captain Lavarello. The London dispatch is interpreted as meaning that the Stampalia probably was the victim of an Austrian or German submarine in the Mediterranean.

Germans Enter French Trenches.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The Germans entered a small element of a French trench north of Maurepas in most violent counter attacks against all the newly won French positions north of the Somme, but at every point were completely repulsed, it is officially announced. On the Verdun front the French captured the few ruined houses on the outskirts of Fleury village, to which the Germans still clung. The assaults north of the Somme reached their greatest violence between Maurepas and Clery.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Painted in Seventy-Two Hours.

There is a picture in this year's show at the Royal academy which has a singular history. It was painted by an artist who is now a captain on active service, but the picture is not the one which he showed to his friends at this year's contribution. The original was of a sunset over a plowed field, a fine landscape in a style which has distinguished the artist. Five months ago the painter was home on leave, and he spent working over his picture. Today the canvas shows the plowed field and the sunset; but it also shows six soldiers fallen about a cannon, into the breech of which one survivor is placing the last shell. It is a fine picture, and by no means a pot-boiler. The captain witnessed the incident he depicts. The fortunate thing was that the landscape was ready for the figures—for no academy picture could be painted during 72 hours' leave.

Don't imagine that there is anything harder to keep than an umbrella.

Housework Is a Burden

It's hard enough to keep house if in perfect health, but a woman who is weak, tired and suffering from an aching back has a heavy burden.

Any woman in this condition has good cause to suspect kidney trouble, especially if the kidney action seems disordered.

Doan's Kidney Pills have cured thousands of suffering women. It's the best recommended special kidney remedy.

What's Doing in Minnesota

St. Paul. — The state board of law examiners has recommended to the state supreme court for admission to the bar 32 applicants who passed the board examinations last month.

Stillwater.—Sale of the old state prison property exclusive of the warden's residence to the city of Stillwater for $8,000 has been closed between the state board of control and Mayor John R. Colliner, representing the city.

Duluth. — Trial of ten persons held in connection with the murder of Deputy Sheriff James Myron at Biwabik, has been started before District Judge Martin Hughes at Virginia. These men charged with murder are alleged to be I. W. W. leaders.

St. Cloud. — Three hundred white-clad delegates from the Twin Cities paraded here from their Great Northern special train to the Davidson theater for the opening of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the State Christian Endeavor union.

St. Paul.—State Auditor J. A. O. Preus has announced that the next sale of state timber will take place at the capitol at 10 A. M. Monday, October 16. A considerable amount of stumpage on state lands that is rated liable to waste will be offered.

Le Sueur. — With a record of having had only six pastors in its half century existence, the First Presbyterian church of this city celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its founding. The jubilee exercises mark also the ninth year of the pastorate of Rev. Leon L. Smythe.

Twin Valley.—John A. Jorgenson, harnessmaker, often expressed a horror of having his body long exposed to river water. So when he committed suicide by drowning in the Wild Rice river he tied a rope about one foot and the other end to a tree to prevent the loss of his body.

Kinney, Minn.—Four men, alleged Industrial Workers of the World, attempted to kidnap Mrs. Edward Eno, wife of a deputy sheriff, her sister Mrs. Lucy Clark of Virginia, Minn., and her four-year-old son as they stepped from a Mesaba electric car here. One of the kidnappers struck Mrs. Clark over the head with a club, inflicting a serious scalp wound.

State Treasurer A. C. Gooding signed warrants for the payment of principal and interest on $123,487.50, the first state educational certificate of indebtedness. A recent legislature authorized the issuance of such certificates by the board of control to cover the cost of state university, normal school and other structures in excess of appropriations.

St. Paul.—Marked gains in state revenue this year from the 5 per cent gross earnings tax against railroads are further indicated by reports filed with the state tax commissioner by six additional companies. Although two reports showed decreases, the aggregate is considerable larger for the first half of 1916 than for the corresponding period in 1915.

Faribault.—Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith has directed Louis S. Headley, an assistant, to go to Faribault to make a special investigation of the condition of the Faribault Fire Relief association, following the report of Deputy Public Examiner J. O. Cederberg, alleging that Edward F. Kelly, treasurer of the organization, is short $11,188, according to his examination.

St. Paul. — Possible abolition of the contingent fund system at the University of Minnesota is threatened. State Treasurer Gooding advised the board of university regents that he was unable to find legislative or other legal authorization for the system which involved an average of $30,000 of state funds and at times greater amounts, all used for the payment of minor current expenses.

Minneapolis. — The offer of $84,604 in cash prizes to exhibitors at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, is said by members of the board to be itself sufficient to make the 1916 exposition one of the best in the history of the state. This sum for the educational and material interests of a state, Secretary J. C. Simpson says, has never been equalled by any state fair association in the United States.

Lindstrom.—The seventeenth annual convention of the Luther League of Minnesota, which closed here, elected the following officers: President, Rev. C. J. Kockey of Minneapolis; vice president, Harry Anderson of Minneapolis; secretary-treasurer, Miss Mabel Sander of Lindstrom; statistical secretary, Miss Cora Aslakson of Cannon Falls; corresponding secretary, Miss Serapha Peterson of North St. Paul; and treasurer, Edgar Elfstrand of Lindstrom.

Minneapolis, Aug. 15.—Mrs. O. M. Cutler, wife of Captain Cutler of the First Minnesota infantry, and her guest, Miss Evelyn Laughlin, Seattle, suffered possible fatal injuries when the Cadillac car driven by Mrs. Cutler's uncle, Louis LaClair, Glenwood City, Wis., was smashed by a high-powered automobile on East Seventh street, St. Paul.

Virginia — "The I. W. W. has made a fatal mistake," declared mining operators here. "They have used the United States mail to deliver threatening letters containing pieces of crepe, alleged to be but tiny samples of what would be hanging on the recipient's door unless he stopped work."

Clear Lake — Fire which destroyed the new high school building here, is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The building was erected at a cost of $30,000, and the interior work was just being completed. Plans for rebuilding will be made at once.

Ready to Fight for Dog.

There may be no war with Mexico in the near future, but trouble between the Third Minnesota and the First Indiana regiments is apt to start any time.

The Hoosier regiment, which is camped alongside the Minnesota regiment, stole a dog which was the mascot of B company from Anoka. B company immediately sent a delegation to bring the dog back to the Minnesota camp.

The expedition was successful, but the Indiana men sent a courier to the Third's camp saying they were coming to get the dog again. The Minnesota men are waiting to give the Hoosiers the reception of their lives.

Feet in Better Fix.

The First Minnesota infantry has just completed its third inspection of feet, and regimental surgeons assert the condition of the men's feet is 100 per cent better than at the first inspection. With three or four miles of walking daily in addition to the practice march every Friday good feet are essential, and the last inspection of feet shows that the men are profiting by the suggestions made by medical officers for proper care of the feet.

Nearly every man in camp has been issued a pair of regular army shoes and this has had a tendency to aid in the care of the feet.

Some of the shoes issued the men at Camp Bobleter were not the regulation army shoes and they caused considerable soreness of the feet.

Vaccination Successful.

Medical officers in camp are elated at the splendid results achieved from the anti-typhoid vaccination. Not a single case of typhoid has been reported in this camp of 10,000 men, and only one case has developed in the entire Southern district, numbering more than 100,000 men. In that case the man contracted the disease before he had completed his anti-typhoid treatment.

It would be interesting to compare this record with the typhoid fever record of 1896. In that year Minnesota last a number of men before the guard left the state camp.

Lieutenant Dan Pettigrew, who is managing the First Infantry Regimental exchange, says the store now is doing a daily business of about $200. Perhaps 40 per cent of this amount represents the daily profits, which are divided among the companies having stock in the store.

Want Dangerous Post.

Military regulations permit the issuance of canteen checks to the extent of one-third of a soldier's pay. These are good at the regimental store, but every pay day the soldier has the value of his canteen checks taken from his monthly pay.

In the First Minnesota regiment about $3,000 worth of canteen checks have been issued to date.

Since Albert Bauman of B company was shot through the hand while on guard near the First regiment's picket line, men in every company of the First have asked to be placed on guard at that post.

Zoo in Mail Tent.

Chaplain Emery of the Third regiment, regimental postmaster, is very cautious when he begins distribution of mail.

The boys of the Third have been using the mail boxes for reptiles and bugs caught in camp during the night, removing them next morning before the chaplain began his duties as postmaster.

The boys overlooked a bet one morning and the chaplain found a small-sized zoo in the postal tent when he went to work.

* * *

Guards Publish Paper.

Friends of the Minnesota soldiers in Texas have received the first copy of "The Minnesota Border Patrol," a newspaper published by the boys which contains much that is interesting to "the folks back home." The paper contains much information with regard to the border situation furnished by army officers and also a health guide for the boys. However, a good share of it is given over to the company "reporters" and other correspondents who don't seem to care what they say about their comrades.

On Release of Students.

For instance, "Chuck" De Lano regimental color sergeant has a dissertation on the release of the battery of University students so they may return to school. He suggests that soon they will discharge the Methodists to enable them to attend church, then the Baptists, Unitarians, fat men, the Elks, school fraternity men, Odd Fellows, Eagles, Moose and "the remainder of the animals except the Scorpions and Tarantulas, and as far as he is concerned they can take them too, and no farewells from him."

"Admire Silently," Says Editor.

The official staff is made up of Henry Finkle, editor; J. E. Chamberlain, business manager, W. D. Drubaker, assistant editor, and Eldridge S. Story, treasurer. The editorial column contains articles dealing with the canteen, the troops' Y. M. C. A., the army kitchen and a stern request to the men not to report their ogling and silly remarks should the few fair residents of Llano Grande visit the camp again.

Grading Hard on Producers

Federal grading of grain will work a hardship on the grain producers of the Northwest, in the opinion of O. P. B. Jacobson, member of the state railroad and warehouse commission. Under a law just passed by both houses of Congress the final appeal on grain grading must go to a board to be established at Washington. There will be state appeal boards at Minneapolis and Duluth, as at present. "The Federal grades will be very technical," said Mr. Jacobson. "But the state inspectors are experts."

WEALTHY WAITER STICKS TO JOB

Falls Heir to $50,000 Estate in Austria, But Continues to Work.

HAS HOST OF FRIENDS

Surprised at Number of People Who Now Call Him by Name—Could Be Happy Only as a Waiter.

New York.—The story that Caesar knew the names of all his legionaries has been taken with some reserve. But the number he would have had to carry in his head is small compared to that of the persons who have demonstrated the ability since last Wednesday to call Sam Peristein by name. Sam is head waiter at a restaurant, in West Forty-first street, but he was such before last Wednesday. In fact, he had been all that for some years.

Sam admits that quite some persons had known and called him by his first name before Wednesday. He supposed, however, that his surname was as dark a secret as a 100-to-1 shot in the sixth race. But since Wednesday he has found that more persons can rattle off his full name than ever before saluted him by any name in his life. He has discovered also that many more persons are solicitous about his health and his family and his unborn future than ever before seemed to care a fig whether he had steak and potatoes or coffee and doughnuts.

New Lap in His Life.

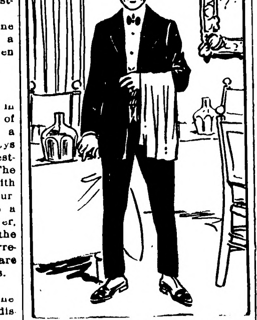
In short, last Wednesday, really marked the beginning of a new lap in "Sam's" life. In fact, there is something of a coincidence about it. For on Wednesday Sam learned he had fallen heir to a $50,000 estate in Austria. Incidentally, many of the persons who suddenly have discovered that his name is a glib and delicate morsel to roll around their tongues, have confided to him as many different ways to double and treble his legacy just as easily as skinning a banana. Of course, they must do the skinning.

Sam learned that the wheel of fortune had rolled the good luck to him from a Park row lawyer, who was apprised of the glad tidings by a Vienna attorney. The wheel was spun by his uncle, Capt. Franz von Diesedorf of the Austrian army, who died recently from wounds received in battle. His uncle's estate is at present a military camp, a large contingent of the Austrian army bivouacing there. But Sam's property rights are intact.

Stays on the Job.

"What am I going to do? Why, stay right here, of course."

That was the way Sam answered the thousandth questioner last night. That is the way he answered the first one, and all the intervening information seekers.



"I Am a Waiter by Choice and a Capitalist Only by Chance."

"I have been here since I was seventeen years old," continued Sam. "I am a waiter by choice and a capitalist only by chance. This money will make no difference to me. I probably shall put some of it in circulation, but I am not going to spend it in idleness luxury or dissipation. I could be happy only as a waiter, and I am not going to let the income-tax law cause me an uneasy moment."

66,000 VOLTS FAIL TO KILL

Bristol, Conn., Man Recovers From Terrific Shock—Body Black as Jet.

Hartford, Conn.—Francis F. Bill of Bristol is recovering from the effects of having 66,000 volts of electricity course through his body. The physicians who are attending him said his case was one of the most remarkable ever reported. Bill was on the roof of a power house looking over the damage done to the wiring system by a storm when he accidentally made a contact with the high tension distributing frame through which 66,000 volts of alternating current flowed. Most of his body is as black as jet as a result of the electric shock.

Getting What He Deserves.

Nestling in a newspaper corner next to the Panama-hat ads we find this stray sunbeam of a heart throb:

"The first face the baby sees in this world is full of kindness, and the last to bend over him when he is old and dying is full of pitying tenderness. It is the faces he sees in between that cause him all his troubles."

This is a dear sweet thought, but it strikes us that the "in between" faces are looking at him and very likely reflecting back to him just about what they see. Quite often it is not either are looking at him and very likely rekindness or tenderness, for, taking it by and large, this is a fairly just world.—Collier's.

Somewhat Different

The honeymoon had slumped the slumps. "On our wedding day," she said, "I was under the impression you had filled my heart with sunshine."

"Well?" he queried, after the manner of his kind.

"But I find," she continued, "it was nothing but moonshine."

Precocity.

"Mercy!" exclaimed Mrs. Diggs. "The baby is chewing on your pocket edition of Epictetus."

"Indeed," replied Professor Diggs with a proud and happy look. "Let the child alone. It is seldom that a mere infant shows such a pronounced taste for the classics."

Making a Start.

Little Louis was a smart boy and very anxious to forge ahead in the world. He got a job in the local bank. A wealthy uncle met him in the street one morning and said:

"Well, Louis, how are you getting on in business? I s'pose the first thing we know you will be president of the bank?"

"Yes, uncle," replied the boy. "I'm draft clerk already."

"What!" exclaimed the uncle. "Draft clerk? Why, that's very surprising, but very good."

"Yes, uncle," replied the boy. "I open and shut the windows according to order, and close the doors when people leave them open!"—Youth's Companion.

Unbiased View.

Hazel—Young de Swift is considered the lion of the season. Have you met him?

Aimee—Yes, and judging from his manners, he is more of a donkey than a lion.

Far Behind the Times

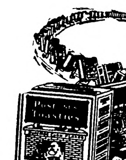
Penelope—Marcella is years and years behind the times.

Percival—What makes you think that?

Penelope—Just now she wanted to know if her hat was on straight.

An optimist says that good intentions are better than no pavements.

Fresh From the Ovens



New Post Toasties represent the most appetizing form in which choice, nutritious Indian corn has ever been prepared.

A new patented process which includes rotary toasting under quick, intense heat gives these flakes a delicious, new and distinctive flavour.

The New Toasties are featured by the bubbly appearance of the surface of the flakes—due to this new art of toasting which releases the wonderful new and attractive true corn taste.

New Post Toasties are not "chaffy" in the package; and they don't mush down when milk or cream is added like common "corn flakes."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Obituary

On Friday forenoon at ten o'clock occurred the death of Willard Gudvangen, after six days illness with inflamation of the stomach. Willard was two years eight months and seventeen days old at the time of his death and was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelse Gudvangen of Agdar. Funeral services were held from the Synod church at Holt Sunday, conducted by Rev. M. B. Ordah, and interment made at the Holt cemetary. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved family in the loss of a loving little son and brother.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our beloved little son, Kenneth, Willard. We also wish to thank all who contributed flowers for the casket and grave.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Gudvangen.

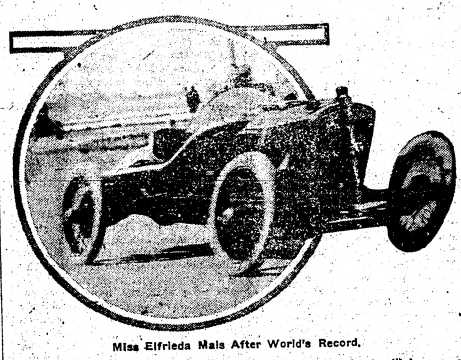
SPEED KINGS COMING FOR TWO DAYS.



Miss Elfrieda Mais After World's Record.

$10,000 Auto Racing Program at Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9—Two Days Set Aside. Fifteen Drivers Entered Already—75-Mile Continuation Race to Be a Feature.

TWO DAYS of auto racing will be held at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, and the most pretentious program ever held on a dirt track anywhere in America is promised auto racing fans. Wednesday, Sept. 6, and Saturday, Sept. 9, are the two days which have been set aside.

A leading feature will be the Minnesota leg of the International State Fair Championship race. The Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri State Fairs, each represented by a noted driver, are competing in this series of races. A big race with all eight drivers competing is to be held at each of the eight fairs, and the State Fair scoring the most points at the eight meets will be given temporary possession of a gigantic loving cup. The Minnesota State Fair is angling for the services of a noted driver whose home is in Minnesota, and as soon as he has been engaged his name will be announced. Two preliminary heats will be run Wednesday, and the final race, a five-mile one, will be held on Saturday.

A purse of $3,500 has been hung up for a 75-mile continuation race, in which fifteen drivers will compete. The first 25-mile heat will be run on Wednesday. The remaining fifty miles will be run on Saturday, the drivers opening the race as it ended on Wednesday. Le Cocq, Raimey, Endicott, Koetzla, Clarke, Hearne, Horey, Hoffman, Kilpatrick, De Craft, Woodbury, Johnny Mais, Kessler, Kizer and Klem are some of the drivers already entered for this event.

Elfrieda Mais, champion woman driver of the world, will race one mile with De Lloyd Thompson, the famous aviator, each day, both being given a flying start. The aeroplane will not be permitted to cut the corners. A trophy is offered as a prize. Miss Mais will also attempt to break her own one-mile and five-miles world's record each day. She is to drive a Mais Special.

Big Special Race.

A special ten-mile race between Fred Horey of St. Paul and another famous Northwestern driver has been arranged for Saturday, a medal and a championship prize being offered the winner. This is expected to be one of the most grueling races of the program, and fans will be pushed to the limit of excitement.

On Saturday a big feature will consist of an Australian Pursuit race. Cars will be stationed at equal distances about the track and all will be started at once. As soon as one car overtakes another the latter must drop out. If more than one car is running at the end of ten miles the referee will announce the winner.

There will be short world's time trials on both days over a one-mile, five-miles and ten-miles track. A series of short free for all races will also be held. Nothing as good has ever been held anywhere in the Middle West.

School Announcements

The Holt School will open Monday Sept. 11.

With transportation provided for all the country children better attendance will be expected. All children of school age should be at school every day from the first. A written excuse will be required for each days absence. Absence without sufficient reason will have to be reported to the County Superintendent.

Children over 14 may be kept out of school for fall work if excused by the Board. However do not keep them out unless necessary as a late start in the fall makes their work hard thruout the year. Also each days absence on the part of those hauled cuts down our transportation aid from the State. Children to be kept at home for work must be reported to a member of the School Board before school starts.

Uniform penciltablets, composition books, spelling tablets, penholders, and pen points will be sold to the children at school.

Parents are urged to visit the school during the year and otherwise keep in touch with the work of the children as this is very essential to the success of the school.

Emil Prushek,
Principal.

Prof. Prushek has been busy since his returned to Holt, erecting different things on the school grounds for the amusement and recreation of the pupil. This phase of school activity is very essential for the development of the child and every parent should appreciate the interest Mr. Prushek has and is taking to make our boys and girls strong physically and mentally.

Roumania has entered the war on the side of the allies.

During the past year 208 farm buildings in this state were burned, a loss of $800,000.

Gilbert Johnson and Lars Ring have purchased B. Docken's threshing rig and have commenced work with it and it runs fine.

Dr. Mellby was called yesterday morning to see Egert Johnson, son of E. A. Johnson, who is very low from an attack of consumption.

The young folks gathered at the Alkenbrack home Saturday evening to give Miss Inez a surprise party before her departure for Hopkins to attend high school. A goodly number were present and a delightful evening was spent. Miss Alkenbrack was made the recipient of a beautiful toilet set as a reminder of the occasion.

Bonds Carry

Little interest was taken in Tuesdays village election. Twenty-two votes were cast, all in favor of bonding the village. Twenty votes were cast in favor of the electric light plant and two against it.

Trainmen Will Strike Monday

Indications are that the train crews on nearly all railroads in the U. S. will go on a strike next Monday. The Soo Line and M. & St. L. will probably run out from the twin cities. What the outcome will be no one can tell, but if the strike lasts long there will be suffering untold, business stagnation, failures and probably bloodshed. It is possible the government will take a hand in the deal and run some of the railroads. Perishable freigth will be refused now by the roads.

Look well to your immediate needs.

In Church Circles.

Rev. G. O. Parish will preach in the Mission church at 8 o'clock Monday evening. Sept. 4th.

Mrs. Olaf Johnson (Sanberg) will entertain the Synod Ladies Aid on Wednesday Sept. 6. Everyone invited.

The Free Mission Ladies' Aid will meet in the church basement, this Friday Sept. 1st. All the ladies will please assist with the entertainment.

Rev. Osborn Instanes, of Thief River Falls, will hold English services in the Free Mission church at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening Sept. 5. Everyone invited to attend.

Special meeting Aug. 29th.

The bids of H. J. Olson of Warren were accepted for generator, switchboard and pole line. Price for former $644.95, for pole line, $1073.80. All other bids were considerably higher.

The resignation of R. L. Olson as village official was accepted.

The village ditching job was awarded Saturday afternoon to Tom Larson for 84c a rod.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Docken and two children were Sunday visitors at the August Larson home in Newfolden.

Mrs. S. H. Nohre underwent an operation, at the Warren hospital last week, for appendicitis and tumor of the stomach, and is now getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steinhauer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Steinhauer, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jacobson, Misses Clara and Ada Jacobson, and Pete Jardy were pleasantly entertained at the Frank Coppay home Sunday.

Lengthen the Life of Your Machinery

It has been proven that 75 per cent of the depreciation of farm machinery is due to weather exposure—only 25 per cent is due to wear and tear.

This means that rust destroys your machinery three times faster than use.

You can't save your machines from wear, but you can save them from rust. Build a shed. Keep your machines in it when not in use.

A machine shed is very simple to build. It doesn't cost much—in fact, is cheaper than paying for new machinery or new parts. Build it now. We have the necessary cement, lumber, shingles, roofing, etc., and will be glad to help you with the plans. Let's talk it over. This puts you under no obligations.

What's Doing in Minnesota

St. Cloud. — Picnics of the St. Cloud grocers and the M. E. church were postponed because of the spread of infantile paralysis in this section.

Duluth. — Rye sold at $1.20 a bushel, the highest price ever recorded for it on the Duluth Board of Trade, Aug. 22. The highest previous price for rye was $1.17.

Virginia. — An automobile driven by Munroe Shandeling and carrying eleven persons, mostly children, to a Jewish picnic at Ely lake, turned over today, killing one child and injuring most of the others.

Red Lake Falls. — The only remaining "wet" towns in Northwestern Minnesota, Red Lake Falls and Plummer, probably will be "closed" soon by the Federal Indian bureau, according to prohibition headquarters.

Owatonna. — Miss Rosette Hendrix of Minneapolis has been re-elected president of the Minnesota Women's Christian Temperance union of the annual convention here. With but one exception, other executive officers also were re-elected.

Winona. — Funeral services for Charles E. Ely, the first white boy to walk what now are the streets of Winona, have taken place at De Smet, S. D. Ely died in a sanitorium at Hot Springs, S. D. He had been in poor health for years.

Owatonna. — The state board of visitors has submitted to Governor Burnquist a highly commendatory report on conditions at the state public school for indigent children at Owatonna. There are 211 boys and 107 girls in the institution.

St. Paul. — The commission recently appointed by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist to revise and codify Minnesota laws relating to children, at a second meeting which was held at the state capitol, adopted a plan of organization and procedure.

Bemidji. — Members of the state normal school board and the presidents of the five state normals, with their wives, were guests here. They met to consider plans relative to the erection of the new normal school here. The site of the proposed building was inspected and general plans agreed on.

Fergus Falls. — L. L. LaRue, traveling passenger agent of the Great Northern railroad in this district for several years, has been transferred to the freight department, with headquarters at St. Paul. Mr. LaRue will be in charge of the territory out of Great Falls, Mont., and will spend most of his time in that section.

West St. Paul. — Governor J. A. A. Burnquist has signed a proclamation calling a special election November 7 on the petition of citizens of West St Paul and vicinity asking that part of Dakota county be set aside and annexed to Ramsey county. The election will be in the district affected and on the same day as the general election.

St. Paul. — Andrew E. Fritz, state public examiner, in a report of an examination just completed of St. Paul municipal departments and made public shows a practical shortage of $2,575 in armory funds unaccounted for in the records, also numerous minor irregularities and cites a need for more systematic and thorough accounting by the city administration.

St. Paul. — Vigilance for several seasons is necessary in Minnesota to prevent the spread of the white pine blister rust, according to a statement made by F. L. Washburn, state entomologist. The blister attacks many varieties of evergreen trees, as well as many kinds of shrubs. The white pine blister rust has been found in two nurseries near the eastern border of Minnesota.

Faribault. — According to Lyndon A Smith, attorney general, a further inquiry by Louis S. Headley, one of his assistants, into the condition of the Fire Relief association at Faribault, tends to sustain findings in the examination by J. O. Cederberg, deputy public examiner, whose report charged Edward F. Kelley as treasurer of the organization with $11,188 alleged shortage.

St. Paul. — According to a statement issued by State Auditor J. A. O. Preus, a new high record will be set this year in Minnesota's production of iron ore, despite recent reductions attributed to the strike on the Mesaba range. The auditor estimates that 1916 shipments from Minnesota mines will reach or exceed 40,000,000 tons, compared with the previous high record of 36,338,264 tons in 1913.

Minnesota, with an annual potato crop of 36,000,000 bushels, and which last year led all other states of the Union in the harvest of the tubers, will fall far short of its mark this year. This is the opinion expressed by H. G. Krum, Ramsey county agricultural agent, and is based on the shortage of the early crop and the present condition of the late crop which usually is harvested about October 1.

Argyle. — Optimism is rampant in the Red River valley, according to H. L. Melgaard, president of the Farmers & Merchants' bank. Mr. Melgaard asserted the farmers rather take the talk of a crop failure as a joke, as they have so much of last year's big crop left over that many are holding on to it in the hope of $2 wheat.

It is up to the State Highway Commission and the various county boards to make the best possible use of the $142,394.06 which the Federal government has assigned as Minnesota's share of the $5,000,000 appropriation under the Federal road act.

Complain of Drinking Water.

There has been considerable complaint in the national guard camp here concerning the quality of the drinking water, but this problem is being solved by the boiling of the water and the use of large water bags which act not only as filters but cool the water as well. When the Third, the first of the Minnesota regiments to arrive here, went into camp there was scarcely any water at hand. An hour or so after the troops detrained a Mexican teamster brought a tank of water in a tank wagon which apparently had been used for oil.

Taste Oil and Alkali.

In addition to the natural alkali taste of the water it also tasted of oil. It was warm and the men could not drink enough of it to satisfy their thirst.

Barrels were used at first as the receptacles for the drinking water. They were for the most part open and exposed to dust and mosquitos. Ice in sufficient quantities to cool the water for the entire regiment was not forthcoming for several days, and it was during this period that many men of the Third were ill of bowel trouble.

Analysis Shows Larvae.

It was about a week after the Third arrived before water could be drawn from the taps, the officials in charge having rushed the troops in here without adequate provision for supplying them with water.

After about two weeks in camp it finally dawned on the military authorities that it might be well to analyze the water. An analysis was made and the report shows that the water as drawn from the open canals contained mosquito larvae.

It was then that an order was issued to boil the water for twenty minutes before permitting the soldiers to drink it.

Receptacles Too Small.

This was a safe and sane order, but the receptacles for boiling the water were small and the companies were provided with an unsufficient number of receptacles to supply enough water for the men, who were then engaged to a large extent in fatigue duty.

If there had been plenty of ice to cool the boiled water rapidly the system might have been successful, but there was a scarcity of ice for several days, and I saw scores of men drinking from the taps before the water was boiled.

These water bags hold about fifty gallons of water. They are hung above the ground, where the breeze will strike them, thus cooling the contents. Each bag has four taps, operated by the pressure of the finger.

Bags Solve Problem.

There is no contamination of the water by the dipping in of greasy cups. These taps also are used in the filling of canteens.

It is possible to boil the water now and keep these bags filled with a plentiful supply of cool water.

When every company is equipped with one of these water bags—and most of the companies have requisitioned them—there should be no further complaint regarding the quality or quantity of drinking water in this camp.

Guards Back for Recruits.

Twenty-seven of the Minnesota boys in khaki, brown of skin, hard of muscle and with the gleam of two months of out-of-doors in their eyes, jumped out of a tourist car at the St. Paul union station and joined in a rush to the telephones to call up home or friends. The men are from all three regiments and have come back to get 800 recruits to bring the regiments up to war strength.

Here are the Minneapolis boys.

Lieutenant Henry R. Prescott, Sergeants Sidney Hayes, Reynolds Bairncross and John C. Gates, Corporals Harry S. Shoults and Richard Cullum and Privates James G. Nye and Loring L. Williams. The boys from St. Paul are Lieut. Milo A. Price, Sergeant Frank Fogle and Private John C. Parsons.

From All Parts of State.

The others are from all over the state. They are:

Capt A. O. Stubested commanding the recruit detail and hailing from Winona; Lieut. Donald F. Mackenzie, Second regiment; Lieutenants William A. Brown and Edward B. Coultier, Third; Sergeants Alvin H. Schutz and Robert W. Craig, Second, Sergeants Peter Romanski and George Stevenson, Third; Corporals Rudolph D. Robeck and William Gerrity, Second; Corporals John L. Carmody and Joseph D. Nelson, Third; Privates Stewart Griswold and Russell Barneck, Second, and Privates Ernest Eckhelm and Clinton C. Welborn, Third.

For Indefinite Stay.

The men bought breakfast in a restaurant near the union depot in St. Paul and without waiting to go home entrained on the St. Paul street railway for Fort Snelling, where they reported at 9:30 for orders to Capt. George R. Greene of the United States army, chief mustering officer at the fort, who will assign them to their recruiting divisions.

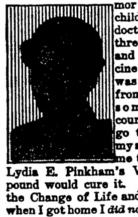
In his proclamation he denounces Enver Pasha, Talaat Bey and Djemal Pasha, stanch supporters of Germany.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the Change of Life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it."—Mrs. E. H. Bean, 525 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

NO USE FOR HEARSE THERE

Sleepy Driver's Horses Brought His Unwelcome Vehicle to the Wrong Neighborhood.

Carl Blessing, a young farmer, living near Columbus, was at work in a field some distance from his home. He happened to look in the direction of his house and then stopped to look again. A hearse was being driven up the lane and as he stood there watching, the horses stopped with the hearse at the Blessing gate. Blessing ran to the house to see what had happened. On the front seat of the hearse was the driver, fast asleep. Blessing awakened him.

"are you not dead?" the driver asked.

"Not that you could notice," Blessing returned

"Well, isn't anybody dead here?"

"Not unless they died in the last five minutes," said Blessing.

"Then" the driver realized he had gone to sleep and the horses had turned into the Blessing lane of their own accord He remembered that he was going to the White creek neighborhood, so he turned around, went down the lane and remained awake until he arrived at his destination.—Indianapolis News.

MAKING RAPID STRIDES

Canada Improving in Every Way —Agriculturally, Commercially and Financially.

The reports coming to hand every day from all branches of industry in Canada speak highly of the constructive ability of that country.

Recently the managing directors of the Canadian Credit Men's Association gave out the statement that business in Western Canada was good. In every branch it is better than in 1913, and everyone will remember that in that year business was excellent. He says:

"The beauty of it is the way in which payments are coming in. Merchants all over the West are taking their cash discounts. Such a transformation I never saw.

"From the records in the office I knew it was getting better. We clear here every retail merchant in the country every three months, and we are therefore in the closest touch and have intimate knowledge of the way trade is going and how payments are being made. Conditions at the present moment are better than I had dreamed it was possible that they should be.

"The statements which we are receiving with reference to the standing of country merchants indicates that there will be very few failures this fall. It is quite remarkable. Men who have been behind for years and in the hole are actually paying spot cash for everything, and taking their cash discounts. Banks and loan companies this fall will have more money than they know what to do with.

"This is about the condition of trade, and I am glad to say there is no exaggeration in what I have said. The business of the prairie provinces is in splendid condition."

Crop reports are also good. From all parts comes the word that the crop conditions were never better, and the situation at the time of writing is that there will be fully as great a yield as in 1915, when the average of wheat over the entire country was upwards of 30 bushels per acre. The harvest therefore will be a heavy one—and, following the magnificent harvest of last year, the farmers of Western Canada will all be in splendid shape. Old indebtednesses, much of which followed them from their old homes, are being wiped out, improvements are now being planned, and additional acres added to their present holdings.

During the past year there was a large increase in the land sales both by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian Northern land companies, as well as by private individuals. A great many of the purchases were made by farmers who thus secured adjoining quarters or halves, the best evidence probably that could be had of the value of Western Canada land when those who know the country best are adding to their holdings. A number of outsiders have also been purchasers, but very little land has changed hands for speculative purposes.

An evidence of the prosperity of the country is found in the fact that such a large number of farmers are purchasing automobiles.

Alleged hard times in Manitoba have not dampened the ardor of motorists or prospective ones. The automobile license department reported a few days since that there are 1,600 more private owners of cars in the province this year than last. The number of licenses issued this year was 10,400, as against 8,800 last year. At an average cost of $1,000 each the newly purchased cars represent a total outlay of $1,600,000, while the total number of cars in the province are worth approximately $10,000,000. The new cars are of modern types.

Many people, for some unexplained reason, have feared and continue to fear that this country will experience a period of industrial and business dullness after the war. There seems to be no justification for such a speculation.

On the contrary, there are sound reasons for belief in the prediction of Mr. Kingman Nott Robins, vice president of the Farm Mortgage Bankers' Association of America, who, in the Monetary Times, declares that Canada will experience her greatest proportionate development in production immediately after the conclusion of the war. The country will certainly have exceptionally favorable commercial conditions to take advantage of.

There will be the great need of Europe in the work of reconstruction, and along with this, the natural tendency of the allies to trade among themselves, and perhaps special trading privileges. Mr. Robins points out that the greatest development in the United States followed the costly and destructive civil war.

Mr. Robins, in an address before the Bondmen's Club of Chicago, expressed the opinion of a far-thinking mind and the review of an experience of the last of his numerous trips through the Canadian West. When he said he regarded the spirit of the Canadian people, as he found it, the most admirable and encouraging feature of the entire situation. They are facing the sacrifices of war courageously and with calm confidence as to the result, and in similar spirit they face the economic future, confident, but expecting to solve their problems only by dint of hard and intelligent effort.

An important part of Mr. Robins' address, which invites earnest attention, is that in which he refers to the land situation, and when his remarks are quoted they carry with them the impression gained by one who has given the question the careful thought of a man experienced in economic questions, and specially those relating to soil and its production. He is quoted as saying:

"Agricultural Canada was never so prosperous, and immigration of agricultural population both during and after the war seems a logical expectation, finding support in an increasing immigration at present from the United States, in spite of numerous canards spread broadcast throughout the United States to discourage emigration to Canada. The lands of Western Canada, however, as long as they are as at present the most advantageous for the settler of any on the continent, must continue to attract, despite misrepresentation, and on the increase of its agricultural and other primarily productive population depends the economic future of Canada. All other problems are secondary to this, and the large interests of Canada, recognizing this fact, are preparing to secure and hold this population both during and after the war. They are content to let city development and other secondary phases and superstructure follow in natural course. This recognition of the true basis of economic development is an encouraging augury for the future."

"The war has brought the United States and Canada nearer together economically than ever before. The total investment of United States capital in Canada doubtless exceeds $1,000,000,000, of which $300,000,000 has been invested since the war began. Except for Great Britain, Canada is the United States' best customer. Our exports to all of South America in the last three years were less than a third of our exports to Canada in the same period, although Canada has been rigidly reducing her imports since the war began. Even France, a good customer of the United States, bought $70,000,000 less than Canada during 1913, 1914, 1915. And yet Canada's purchasing power is in the first stages of development only. It has been estimated that the United States can support a population of 600,000,000. Using the same basis of calculation in reference to natural resources, Canada can support a population of 400,000,000.

"Canada is potentially the most populous, and, in primary production, at least, the richest unit of the British empire, and it behooves us in the United States to know our Canada."

The social conditions throughout Western Canada are everything that could be desired. Schools have been established in all districts where there may be ten or twelve children of school age, and these are largely maintained by liberal government grants. A fund for this purpose is raised from the revenue derived from the sale of school land, one-eighteenth of all lands being set aside as school lands. All the higher branches of education are cared for, there being high schools at all important centers, and colleges and universities in the principal cities.

The different religious denominations prevail, each having its separate church, and religious services are held in every hamlet and village, and in far-off settlements the pastor finds an attentive congregation. The rural telephone is one of the great modern conveniences that brings the farm home nearer to the market.

It is not saying too much to state that in matters of social importance, in the most remote settlements they carry with them the same influence as is to be found in the most prosperous farming districts of any of the states of the Union.—Advertisement.

Truthful Wife.

A detective was praising the truthfulness of women.

"If war bulletins were as truthful as women," he said, "we'd have a better idea of how this world struggle is really going.

"I remember a case the other day, it's interesting in its revelation of woman's truthfulness—the case of a husband who had disappeared.

"Questioning the wife, I said to her:

"'And now, madam, tell me—this is very important—tell me what your husband's very last words were when he left?'

"'His last words,' the truthful creature answered, with a blush, 'were, "For heaven's sake, shut up!"'"

Forget to Pay.

Patrons of Winchester barber shops seem to have a mania for forgetting to pay their tonsorial bills. In many cases it is done unintentionally.

One evening, recently, a former Winchester resident who now lives in California entered a barber shop for a haircut and shave He was in a hurry. His business for the evening included a lodge meeting and most important of all, catching a train for his home. Many of his old-time friends were in the shop when he stepped from the chair. He bade them all good-by and started to leave the shop He had not yet paid his bill

"Did you forget something?" the barber asked as the customer was leaving the shop.

"Oh, yes. I beg your pardon" the customer replied. "Good by, good by"

And the bill still remains unpaid.—Indianapolis News.

ENEMY TROOPS TAKEN, BERLIN REPORT CLAIMS

Statement Says Fighting Has Begun—German Federal Council Meets to Declare War—Roumania's Action Expected to Influence Greece.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—Fighting has begun between Roumanian and Teutonic troops on the Transylvanian frontier, a late official announcement indicates. The announcement says the Roumanians were captured on the Transylvanian frontier.

London, Aug. 29.—Roumania has joined the Allies with her well trained army of 600,000 men.

An official statement from Berlin says that Roumania declared war on Austro-Hungary Sunday night. The French foreign office announced that Roumania has issued a declaration of war against the Teutonic powers.

Germany Retaliates.

The German federal council met Monday morning and probably will declare war on Roumania at once, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from the Hague. Bulgaria and Turkey are expected to issue similar declarations.

There is every indication that Germany will follow Roumania's action with a declaration of war before many hours.

Greece to Follow Suit.

A message from the Hague says word has been received from Berlin that the German government will hand his passports to the Roumanian minister.

Roumania's decision was reached at a meeting of the crown council summoned by King Ferdinand. It came at the end of two years of anxious waiting in which the Roumanian diplomats watched with tensest interest the military fortunes of the Allies. The Roumanian declaration is expected to signal Greece's early entrance into the war on the side of the Allies.

King Holds New Conference with Ministers—Pro-Ally Demonstrations Held Throughout Nation.

Athens, Aug. 29.—Bulgaria's continued advance into Greek territory and the occupation of Greek forts at the port of Kavath has brought Greece appreciably nearer to war.

No new decision has been reached by the government, but King Constantine was to hold another conference with his ministers and war chiefs.

Pro-Ally newspapers are demanding an immediate declaration of war against Bulgaria and Germany, while the pro-German papers for the most part are silent.

Pro-Ally demonstrations are being held throughout Greece, centering in Athens, where ex-Premier Venizelos, leader of the Greek war party, addressed 50,000 cheering adherents.

LAW TO HALT STRIKE SOUGHT

Senator and Attorney General Discuss Possible Legislation.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Senator F. G. Newlands, chairman of the commerce committee of the senate, spent an entire morning with Acting Attorney General George C. Todd, Mr Gregory being absent in Maine. The precise object of their conference was not revealed, but it was known to include consideration of possible amendments to the interstate commerce act and also the question of framing an arbitration act which would meet the present situation.

The acting attorney general, looking at the situation from a lawyer's viewpoint, believed that an act might be framed making it unlawful to abandon interstate commerce without notice This would bind the railroads and the men.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Hope for adjournment of congress this week was killed when Senator John W. Kern, democratic floor leader, announced the senate could not possibly get through with its program by Friday, as had been planned.

Hard to Move Big Australian Crop.

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 29.—The government's purchase of 15 large steamships in England to be operated by the commonwealth in the movement of Australian wheat to Europe will not go far towards solving the problem. The steamers have a total cargo capacity of 120,000 tons, but it is doubtful if they can make more than two trips each to Europe before the end of the year, and this will dispose of only 5,000,000 bushels of the huge quantity of the cereal that is awaiting shipment here.

RAILROADS PLAN TO RUN TRAINS AS STRIKE IMPENDS

"WE ARE READY" IS STATEMENT FROM BOTH EXECUTIVES AND EMPLOYES—MEN BLAME PRESIDENTS.

ULTIMATUM DEMANDS A DEFINITE REPLY TO PLAN

Wilson's Message Designed to Determine Issue of Peace or War Between Roads and Unions Delivered Following Conference.

Washington, Aug. 28.—"We are ready." This statement came from both railroad executives and employes, as a national transportation paralysis loomed up. Railroad managers contended they could keep sufficient trains running through "loyal" employes to prevent a milk and food famine—and its consequent garnering of death and desolation.

The employes said there might be a few ready to continue work, but that the roads as a whole would be tied up tighter than a drum. In the railroad camp, the grimmest fighters said "Put white lead on the engines and lay everything off."

Must Provide Food.

The most conservative said: "We must see that the babies have their milk and the nation its food."

Down the street, the employes said the guilt for ruin or starvation would lie upon the railroad kings. It developed that while the railroad presidents have been wrestling with the problem of meeting President Wilson's proposal, the managers, somewhat sidetracked from the phase of the situation, have been working out plans for handling an actual strike if it comes.

Train Operation Planned.

A comprehensive plan is complete, they now declare. Plans include details of train operation. Emergency schedules have been made and it is known that since the beginning of the negotiations embargoes on some commodities have been considered. One railroad official said that immediately upon declaration of a strike embargoes would be placed on war munitions and drygoods and imperishable commodities not regarded as necessities. The first thought of the roads would be to carry foodstuffs.

A reason for the extensive strike plans, one executive said, is the roads' feeling that all the brotherhood members are not behind a strike movement.

Sends Ultimatum.

After a conference with the brotherhood presidents, Mr. Wilson called in the spokesmen for the 100 railroad executives gathered here and informed them that they must return a formal and definite answer to his plan for averting the strike.

Following the receipt of the ultimatum, the executives instructed the special committee of eight, headed by President Hale Holden of the Burlington system, to frame an answer accepting in part the president's plan and proposing material modifications therein.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT OPENS

Veterans of the Civil War Gather in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug 28 A city of red, white and blue greeted the opening of the golden jubilee encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic here today. All of the buildings in the downtown district, as well as many houses in the residential section, are draped from top to bottom with bunting and flags

Fully 75,000 visitors are in town. Nearly 40,000 of this number are federal veterans of the Civil war. The rest are delegates to the conventions of the auxiliaries of the G. A. R.

At Convention hall tonight the general committee which has made all the arrangements for the encampment will turn over its work to Elias R. Monford of Cincinnati, commander in chief of the G. A. R.

U. S. Guns to Be Larger Than "42s"

Washington, Aug. 28.—Army ordnance experts are at work on designs for huge field howitzers, as large or larger than the German 42 centimeter guns which wrecked Belgian and French forts early in the war. They will be at least 16-inch calibre with a range of 12 to 15 miles, hurling a projectile weighing more than a ton and carrying a huge amount of high explosive.

Would Change Reserve Bank Law.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Representative Kitchin, the Democratic leader, has introduced a bill to authorize member banks of the Federal Reserve system to make "reasonable" instead of the actual cost of charges now allowed by law for the clearing or collection of checks. Representative Glass, chairman of the banking committee, introduced a measure which would facilitate the transfer of large sums of money between federal reserve banks by permitting the issue of gold certificates.

No Comeback.

"I received a letter from Aunt Matilda asking if we would like to spend our vacation out on her farm."

"We can't possibly accept her invitation, George. If we do, we'll have to ask her to visit us next winter."

"That will be all right. We can move into a two-room apartment in the fall, and then there won't be room for her."

SOMETHING FLY COULDN'T DO

Robbie Was Able to Point Out Its Limitations When Called Upon to Admire Insect.

In the opinion of some persons, the new teacher was going almost too far in her attention to nature study. However, the children appeared to enjoy it all, and, so far, no parents had made open objection to the little talks on birds, insects, and flowers with which the teacher diversified the routine of school work. So all went along quite comfortably until the afternoon when the fly and the flea were up for consideration.

Following the teacher's lead, the children had all grown enthusiastic over the astonishing acrobatic abilities of the fly—all except Robbie May, who for some time had been staring moodily at his desk, casting only occasional glances at the teacher, and those unmistakably sullen.

It became so noticeable by the time they were all admiring the fact that the fly can walk on the ceiling, that the teacher paused and turned to the boy.

"What is the trouble, Robbie?" she inquired. "Aren't you listening? Aren't you interested in the talk?"

"Ye-es," granted Robbie, reluctantly polite. Then, warming up, "but I bet a fly can't hang by its knees, and every boy in school can do it, all 'cept Laurie Lee, and he's had the dipthery!"—Youth's Companion.

Both in Danger.

At a certain mill there is a notice on the elevator which reads as follows:

"No one allowed to use this elevator except the man in charge. Anyone doing so will be discharged."

One morning Billy ——, a rather witty fellow, was waiting to go up from the second room, when who should step off the elevator alone but the manager.

Billy was stepping on to go up when the manager turned round and said:

"I say, can't you read?"

"Yes," said Billy.

"Well, what does that notice say?" asked the manager.

"By gum, we'll both be sacked if we're catched."

"Lickers" Worth While.

"My papa can lick your papa" boasted Johnny, aged six.

"I don't care; my mamma can lick your mamma," came back Jimmy

"Both of you make me tired," chimed in Sammy. "My papa and my mamma can both lick me, and the worst part of it is they take turns about doin' it." Indianapolis News.

"Come to think of it, ma'am," said the seedy gentleman, as he fastened his bag, "I wouldn't care to sell you any powder. This poky little kitchen of yours is so low in the ceilin' that the bread wouldn't have no chance to rise."

Obituary

Allette S. Polset was born in Minneapolis Dec. 22, 1872. Her father died when she was seven years old and her mother married again and they went to Norman county to live when she was 15 years old, where she spent the remainder of her girlhood days. Dec. 14, 1891 she was united in marriage with Ole Reierson at the home of her parents in Norman county. In 1892 they moved onto the farm southwest of Holt which has been their home since then.

About a year and a half ago Mrs. Reierson became afflicted with consumption and all that medical skill and science could do was done to cure her, but to no avail. The death angel came to the home at eleven o'clock on Tuesday forenoon August 22nd and bore the spirit of the faithful wife and mother to the Heavenly home where there is no sickness, pain or sorrow. All the family were at home to help care for their dear one in her last sickness, and a host of friends sympathize with them in their sorrow.

Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Reierson, their first child, a girl, died at the age of seven months. The others: Esther, Rudolph, Anne, Obert, Oscar, Lawerence, Myrtle, Gertrude and the baby LeRoy are all living at home with their father.

Funeral services were held at the home at 12:30 last Thursday, conducted by Rev. M. T. Strom, then the remains were brought to the Free Mission church where services were held at 2 o'clock conducted by Rev. Breederson, assisted by Rev. Strom, and interment was made in the local cemetery.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP A CONTINUOUS CAMPAIGN

Suggestions for Making Our Town a Better Home Town—Chairman of National Bureau Says Start Now and Keep It Up the Year 'Round.

SINCE Hercules diverted the river to renovate the Augean stables "Clean Up" has had its place in the world's vernacular. With Spring the desire to refurbish comes subconsciously into the hearts of men and women, and communities. But without direction and sustained effort the expression of that desire, in the form of the ordinary "Clean Up Day" or "Week," is apt to result in a superficial sally against filth.

Years ago Allen W. Clark, a St. Louis editor, made up his mind that this natural "Clean Up" instinct could be turned to account, that it could be developed into a real campaign working toward definite ideals and accomplishing permanent results. And so, in May 1912, Mr. Clark founded the National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Bureau, with headquarters in St. Louis. He hoped that a thorough-going movement, national in its scope and practical in its principles, might take the place of the "annual bath" idea as expressed in the old-time "clean up day" or "week."

A National Civic Movement.

For four years the scope of the National Bureau's service has rapidly extended until this year it is co-operating with more than 6,000 local communities in the organization and direction of real "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigns, not "days," or "weeks." Continuous campaigns for homes and hometowns beautiful, sanitary and safe, conducted by permanent committees, and involving the co-operation of city and town officials, club women, commercial organizations, the children, fire prevention interests, all business men and property owners, is the goal aimed at by all of the National Bureau's propaganda.

Mr. Clark declares that the bane of any community is the citizen who lacks even a semblance of interest in the community, and that, strange as it may seem in a democracy, absence of this interest seems to be pretty generally prevalent in the average American community. Such a citizen would have "The Town" or "The City," whatever those names may signify when the body of citizens is eliminated, keep the streets and alleys clean, preserve the public and individual health, eliminate nuisances, make everything in town spick and span and satisfactory—while the citizen sits back and looks on.

The real "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign, organized on the plans of the National Bureau, gives everyone something definite to do to help make their hometown beautiful, sanitary and safe. And the campaign's educational influence should work steadily the year 'round and year after year, automatically eliminating many nuisances caused formerly by carelessness or thoughtlessness of property owners and tenants.

A Suggestion for Our Town.

The methods for accomplishing all of this suggested by the National Bureau are well illustrated by a brief description of the local campaign organization in St. Louis. With various adaptations this St. Louis plan has been found practicable in any city, no matter how large or small.

The entire campaign is under the direction of the Continuous St. Louis "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Committee, of which Charles M. Talbert, director of streets and sewers, is chairman. On this committee are various civic and business leaders, including the leading club women of the city.

Each member of the general committee is chairman of a subcommittee responsible for some definite department of the campaign's activity. The Director of Streets and Sewers is chairman of the committee on "Refuse Clean-up," the chief of the Fire Department is chairman of the committee on fire prevention and the head of the Health Department is chairman of the committee on housing reform.

A partial list of these campaign committees, with notation of some of the objects of each follows:

Committees for the Work.

Street Department — Household waste, permanent plan, improvement of districts which will be center of interest in coming National Democratic Convention, smooth paving, signs on public buildings, rubbish boxes.

Landscape Gardening—Ordinances, campaign among property owners, yard planting campaign among children.

Fire Prevention—Clean up rubbish, roofs, condemn shacks that are fire risks.

Housing—Insanitary yards, privies, tenements, lodging houses, garbage receptacles.

Vacant Lots—Reported by Boy Scouts, flower and vegetable gardens by school children and Real Estate Exchange, weed cutting, bird boxes.

Flower Boxes—In congested districts, downtown and opposite Union Station.

Unsightly Advertising—Posters on buildings, "For Rent" signs, ordinances.

Appearances of Buildings—Vacant buildings, painting, lighting of prominent corners.

Street Drinking Fountains—General and on downtown corners.

Smoke Abatement.

Publicity—Billboards, posters, street cars, circulars for children, buttons, newspapers, moving pictures.

Speakers—On general subject, also on special phases of campaign.

District Organization—Report nuisances, see property owners and urge to clean up and paint up and plant trees.

School Children—Distribution of printed matter, school gardens.

Police—Report nuisances, distribute directions for rubbish collections, request co-operation of residents.

The chairmen of these various committees should be the city or town officials or civic leaders who are most interested in the work to be done by the committee.

"AMERICA FIRST AND AMERICA EFFICIENT."

We come to state in a plain and direct manner our faith, our purpose and our pledge. This representative gathering is a happy augury. It means the strength of reunion. It means that the party of Lincoln is restored, alert, effective. It means the unity of a common perception of paramount national needs. It means that we are neither deceived nor benumbed by abnormal conditions. We know that we are in a critical period, perhaps more critical than any period since the Civil War. We need a dominant sense of national unity; the exercise of our best constructive powers; the vigor and resourcefulness of a quickened America. We desire that the Republican Party as a great liberty party shall be the agency of national achievement, the organ of the effective expression of dominant Americanism. What do I mean by that? I mean America conscious of power, awake to obligation, erect in self-respect, prepared for every emergency, devoted to the ideals of peace, instinct with the spirit of human brotherhood, safeguarding both individual opportunity and the public interest, maintaining a well-ordered constitutional system adapted to local self-government without the sacrifice of essential national authority, appreciating the necessity of stability, expert knowledge and thorough organization as the indispensable conditions of security and progress; a country loved by its citizens with a patriotic fervor permitting no division in their allegiance and no rivals in their affection—I mean America first and America efficient. It is in this spirit that I respond to your summons.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

ADEQUATE FEDERAL WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAWS.

I stand for adequate Federal Workmen's Compensation laws, dealing not only with the employes of government, but with those employes who are engaged in interstate commerce, and are subject to the hazard of injury, so that those activities which are within the sphere of the constitutional authority of Congress may be dealt with under a suitable law.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

THE NATION IS SHOCKINGLY UNPREPARED.

It is apparent that we are shockingly unprepared. There is no room for controversy on this point since the object lesson on the Mexican border. All our available regular troops (less, I believe, than 40,000) are there or in Mexico, and as these have been deemed insufficient the entire National Guard has been ordered out; that is, we are summoning practically all our movable military forces in order to present bandit incursions. In view of the warnings of the past three years, it is inexcusable that we should find ourselves in this plight. For our faithful guardsmen, who with a fine patriotism responded to this call and are bearing this burden, I have nothing but praise. But I think it little short of absurd that we should be compelled to call men from their shops, their factories, their offices and their professions for such a purpose. This, however, is not all. The units of the National Guard were at peace strength, which was only about one-half the required strength. It was necessary to bring in recruits, for the most part raw and untrained. Only a small percentage of the regiments recruited up to war strength will have had even a year's training in the National Guard, which at the maximum means one hundred hours of military drill, and, on the average, means much less. Men fresh from their peaceful employments and physically unprepared have been hurried to the border for actual service. They were without proper equipment; without necessary supplies; suitable conditions of transportation were not provided. Men with dependent families were sent; and conditions which should have been well known were discovered after the event. And yet the exigency, comparatively speaking, was not a very grave one. It involved nothing that could not readily have been foreseen during the past three years of disturbance, and required only a modest talent for organization. That this Administration while pursuing its course in Mexico should have permitted such conditions to exist is almost incredible.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

Lengthen the Life of Your Machinery

It has been proven that 75 per cent of the depreciation of farm machinery is due to weather exposure—only 25 per cent is due to wear and tear.

This means that rust destroys your machinery three times faster than use.

You can't save your machines from wear, but you can save them from rust. Build a shed. Keep your machines in it when not in use.

A machine shed is very simple to build. It doesn't cost much—in fact, is cheaper than paying for new machinery or new parts. Build it now. We have the necessary cement, lumber, shingles, roofing, etc., and will be glad to help you with the plans. Let's talk it over. This puts you under no obligations.

Plan That Will Destroy Sow Thistle

It is possible that some farmers are not familiar with the perennial sow thistle and are permitting small patches to mature seed and are in this way storing up a great deal of trouble for the future. This must have immediate attention or seed sufficient to sow the entire country will be produced. Usually about July 15 they send up branching seed stems 2 to 4 feet high which bear flowers similiar to dadelions. When these are mature, the seed is distributed by the wind.

The only sure way to eradicate this pest is by concerted action on the part of every farmer whether he be owner or tenant. Prevent seed forming by cutting all green stems early. Eradication methods are similar to those used for quack grass or Canada thistle, namely, thorough summer tillage and the absolute prevention of any green leaves. This may be done by summer fallow or by the the growing of corn and potatoes. If it is kept in mind that plants get their food through the leaves it is easy to see they must die if no leaves are allowed to grow. Failure to kill by this treatment, is the fault of the farmer.

There is upon the statues of Minnesota a weed law which, if enforced rigidly, would in within two years rid the entire Red River Valley of all noxious weeds. This law makes it a misdemeanor to allow noxious weeds to mature seed and provides for the cutting of such weeds by order of the road overseers and the cost added to the taxes of the property. This law does not bind the owner of land alone but also the tenant of such land. It is needless to say that the law has not been obeyed and in many cases has not been enforced by those who have the authority to enforce it.

TRAINING TODAY'S BOYS AND GIRLS

A Little Talk on the Appreciation of Their Efforts.

SHOULD KEEP THE CREATIONS

It Is the Pleasant "How Nice" That Makes All the Difference to the Hearts of the Children.

By SIDONIE M. GRUENBERG.

As each child's name was called he stepped forward and received from the kindergarten the result of his efforts at "making something" for some member of the home. The children were gay and they were anticipating the joy of giving. It was a pleasure to watch them. But when Genevieve's name was called a new note was struck. "Please, Miss White," she said, "my mother does not want me to bother her any more with the things I make." And Miss White laid Genevieve's calendar aside.

It is not difficult to see the point of view expressed in Genevieve's plaintive abnegation. There is really no room for all these things at home. We have all the calendars and blotters and picture frames and shaving pads that we really need. And as for ornaments, these things are not particularly beautiful, and if they are, as may sometimes happen, they do not harmonize with the scheme of things already installed, and, besides, they gather dust, and there are few homes that have not already too many dust catchers. We can well understand that Genevieve's mother was weary of calendars and bookmarks.

But Miss White is also weary of calendars and bookmarks. Where one mother has had half a dozen she has had hundreds. She manages to smile, however, in spite of the clutter and in spite of the obvious monotony through a curious trick of the mind which it would be well for Genevieve's mother and other mothers to learn. The trick is this: Instead of dealing with calendars and bookmarks, she fixes her mind upon the efforts of the tots, she sees trial and tribulation, she sees wonder and experiments, where the rest of us see only crude imitations of tulips or apple blossoms.

Notwithstanding the high rentals we have to pay it ought to be possible for every mother to keep each child's tokens of struggle and conquest for some time at least. For nothing is more important to the child than that his meager and unsuccessful attempts at mastering his material surroundings should receive generous encouragement. And while much is gained by having someone stand by and cheer him when he falters, that is not enough. The product, poor though it be, is the symbol of an idea, an inspiration, and deserves the courtesy of serious and dignified attention from parents and other elders. The calendar is as worthy of a place on the wall as anything you can buy at the store, for by honoring it you teach the child that his efforts are not wasted. As for taste in calendars, leave that to the years.

Of course it is not necessary to display all of the child's creations or to convert the home into an industrial museum. It is, in fact, the latest trophy that carries the greatest interest, and the latest may be made to displace its predecessor, each effort thus receiving its due share of attention and appreciation. Where there are several children it should be possible to provide large paper envelopes and boxes in which these early treasures may be kept.

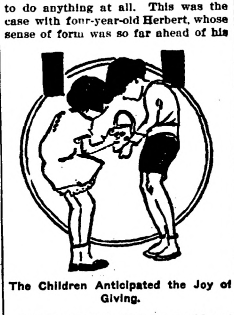
Could Get No Satisfaction Out of the Paper Stars.

Every mother knows that young children can be a nuisance and in the way just when they are trying to help with some "work." The number of peas that the baby can shell or the area that the child can sweep will contribute little to lightening the day's work. But the value of the contribution is not to be measured thus. It is to be measured in good will, in application and in the satisfaction that comes—or should come—from having made a worthy effort at doing something useful. We should therefore not belittle the achievement or make the child feel that his assistance is worthless.

The child works in the spirit of the artist. He is not seeking material rewards; he wants the satisfaction of doing something that has meaning and he wants appreciation. Without these he will become either a shirker, shunning all effort or a perfunctory grind, laboring under compulsion of one kind or another. It is therefore necessary not only that opportunities be furnished for doing various kinds of work, but that the first awkward attempts be appreciated in a way that will lead to further effort. And this is just as true of attempts at singing or invention—invention of a song or story, for example—as it is of attempts at making some object or drawing that others may handle or exhibit.

While this doctrine of appreciation does not permit us to belittle the child's efforts, it still leaves us free to help the child with criticisms calculated to enable him to increase his work. But we should call attention to such defects only as he is in a position to remedy himself, and without too much effort. If the doll's dress is too long, it's a simple matter to cut it down. But if it's too short we note that it's a very nice dress, and think we'll make the next one a little longer. The repeated emphasis on defects of design or execution may have the effect of improving the child's taste or judgment; but they are more likely to discourage all effort.

A child that sees too clearly the shortcomings of his efforts will refuse to do anything at all. This was the case with four-year-old Herbert, whose sense of form was so far ahead of his muscular control that he could get no satisfaction out of the paper stars he cut out himself, and so refused, after one or two attempts, to try again.



The Children Anticipated the Joy of Giving.

When little Allan's mother failed to recognize the child's drawing as that of a "lamp" she was wise enough to take to herself the blame—"How stupid of me!" For, after all, you can recognize even the lamp if you are told what it is supposed to be. And so the burden of keeping keen the edge of effort rests upon us. But don't let the child become conceited.

THEY COULDN'T RESIST HIM

Young Man Surely Had a Taking Way With the Ladies, If You Let Him Tell It.

"Oh, I make friends with people whenever I like," he had explained, "and they never object. They like it. They all like it."

"And you speak to strange young ladies?"

"The last one I spoke to was in London last month. I was standing on the steps of a house in Piccadilly, watching some visiting potentates drive by, when the door opened, and out came the prettiest girl I ever saw in my life. She stood for a moment looking up and down the street, and I said to her: 'Do you know who that fierce, fat man in the last carriage is—the one who looks like a walrus?' She said: 'Oh, that's my Uncle Ethelbert.'"

"But that was the end of it," Mary broke in—"you didn't go on talking to her?"

"The end of it," Krujer Hobbs had concluded, taking off his glove and offering a slim bony hand—"the end was that we had tea at an A. B. C. shop, and she said she was sorry she was engaged to marry her cousin, whose name, I think, was Lionel."—From "Krujer Hobbs," by Marjory Morten, in Century Magazine.

Serum to Save Drowning Persons.

Experiments are being made with a serum which is said to have been used with success in restoring cases of asphyxiation and drowning in animals several hours after life has been to all appearances extinct. There appears to be one drawback in the result thus far, however, in that in many instances there have been serious after effects such as high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries. If the serum is to be perfected, as appears to be likely, the physicians are of the opinion that it can be injected several hours after the accident and restore life. In one case the serum was used on an animal that had been apparently dead from drowning for a period of four hours. The animal was brought back to life, though it died later from blood pressure.

War and the Weather.

If the north Atlantic skippers who think that the bad weather from which they have been suffering is due to the concussion of the bombardment in Europe would compare notes with their colleagues in the West India and Caribbean trade they might take a broader view of the meteorological disturbances. The storms which have been raging in the north Atlantic, the bay of Biscay and the Mediterranean started in the tropics and had already paid respects to our coast before crossing over to add to Europe's troubles. The skepticism of the scientists in regard to the connection between war and weather is well founded. As for the sun spots, all that can be said at present is that they are under suspicion.

TO REDUCE MINE TOLL

Uncle Sam Makes Earnest Effort to Prevent Loss of Life.

Three New Safety Stations Are Established, Equipped With Specially Constructed—Cars for Rescue Work.

Uncle Sam is making an earnest effort to reduce the loss of life that results from accidents in the mines of the United States and at the same time to develop the mining industry to still greater proportions than it has already attained. To this end the department of the interior has begun carrying out the provisions of an act of congress which provides for the establishment of ten mining experiment stations and seven mine-safety stations in addition to those already established. Appropriations are available for only three of the safety stations and three of the experiment stations, but the other will be provided for by subsequent appropriations.

Secretary of the Interior Lane has announced the location of two of the three mining experiment stations and three mine-safety stations. The first of the experiment stations is to be at Fairbanks, Alaska; the second at Tucson, Ariz., and the third, not yet definitely announced, in the Pacific Northwest. The safety stations as decided upon will be at Butte, Mont.; Reno, Nev., and Raton, N. M. The sum of $25,000 is appropriated for each of the mining experiment stations and $101,500 for the three safety stations.

The purpose of all the stations according to the law is to make investigations with a view toward improving conditions in the mining, quarrying, metallurgical and other mineral industries, safeguarding life among employees, preventing unnecessary waste of resources, and otherwise contributing to the advancement of these industries.

Each of the mine-safety stations is to be equipped with an all-steel mine rescue car which will respond to disaster calls within its prescribed territory. Congress has appropriated $53,000 for the purchase of the three cars. These cars will be of special design and will represent the most modern thought in rescue work. They will be manned by expert crews of life savers, who, when they are not employed at a mine disaster, will go to the different mining camps and train the miners to rescue work and first aid to the injured.

Secretary Lane thinks that the experiment stations, by aiding in the development of new metallurgical processes, will aid materially in enlarging the mining industry, providing employment for more men, with the utilization of the low-grade mineral deposits to their highest extent. He regards the new step as a most deserved recognition of an industry which now has a yearly output of probably two and a half billion dollars and which is next to agriculture in its importance to the welfare of the country.

U. S. LEADS ALL WORLD IN PETROLEUM PRODUCTION

Output in 1915 Was 65.85 Per Cent of Total—Russia Second and Mexico Third in List.

The United States supplies 65.85 per cent of all the crude petroleum produced in the world in 1915, according to figures compiled by Uncle Sam. Russia was the nearest competitor of the United States and Mexico, in spite of the unsettled conditions there, was the third largest oil producing country in the world.

The production in the United States was 281,104,104 barrels of 42 gallons each. Russia was a poor second with 68,548,062 barrels, while Mexico produced 32,910,508 barrels.

Figures on petroleum production in the world since 1857 show that the United States has been steadily gaining on other countries. The total production in the United States during that period was 3,616,561,244, or 60.10 per cent of the entire production of the world in that time, while in 1915 the proportion produced by the United States has grown to 65.85 per cent. During the same period, from 1857 to 1915, Russia has produced 1,690,781,907 barrels, or 28.10 per cent of the total production, while in 1915, the output of that country had fallen to 16.06 per cent of the world's total.

The only other country in the world which produced more than 1,000,000 barrels in 1915 were the Dutch East Indies, Roumania, India, Galicia, Japan, and Formosa, and Peru, but the production in most of these countries was less than 1 per cent of the total.

War Costly to Netherlands.

The government of the Netherlands has spent millions of dollars in caring for the Belgian refugees who crossed the frontier when Belgium was invaded at the beginning of the war. Erwin W. Thomson, Uncle Sam's commercial attache, reports that during 1915 there were paid out by the government of the Netherlands $1,700,000 for refugee camps where temporary homes have been made for impoverished Belgians, $1,770,000 for relief of Belgian refugees outside the camps, $36,000 for the education of children of the refugees, $98,000 for assistance in employments outside the camps, and $44,000 for relief to the families of interned soldiers.

RED MAN PROGRESSING

Passing of Indian Medicine Man New Step Forward.

Uncle Sam, In Effort to Perpetuate Race, Aids His Wards in Putting End to the Ravages of Disease.

The day of the old-time Indian medicine man is rapidly passing. Encouraged by Uncle Sam, the red man is turning more and more to the white man's physician and his medicine.

The passing of the Indian medicine man marks another step toward the Americanization of the original American. In the face of the march of civilization through the reservations of the red men, the medicine man has held his own to a remarkable degree until recently, when the ravages of tuberculosis and trachoma among the adults and the heavy mortality among the infants on the reservations led to the conclusion that if the red man was to be perpetuated, modern sanitary and medical measures must be adopted.

Uncle Sam has endeavored to do his part in the protection of his wards by greatly increasing the number of hospitals for the use of the Indians. While there were only 53 hospitals in 1912, with a capacity of 1,256, there were 74 in 1915, with a capacity of 2,045, and more are being built or planned.

Substantial increases have also been made in the number of field matrons and nurses, and an attempt made to furnish the best practicable service with the appropriations that congress would make possible.

In view of the widespread prevalence of trachoma and tuberculosis, as reported by the investigation of the public health service, ophthalmologists have been increased in number from three to seven, and the number of regular agency physicians increased from 89 to 130, and contract physicians from 53 to 76.

The appropriation for relief of distress has been increased from $200,000 to $350,000.

Modern thought having indicated the importance of well-cared-for teeth, seven traveling dentists have been employed, whose duty it is to keep the teeth of the children enrolled in Indian schools in the best condition practicable.

In an effort to improve the sanitary surroundings under which Indians must live, campaigns for sanitary clean-ups have been waged on the various reservations.

The importance of bringing about a real improvement in infant mortality if the Indian is to be perpetuated has been recognized, and an earnest campaign has been instituted and is now in force to save the babies. This campaign has brought out the most cordial co-operation on the part of all employees in the service, and while the results can only be shown after a period of years its effectiveness is even now apparent.

FEW REALIZE VASTNESS OF THE GRAND CANYON

Few persons can realize on a first view of the Grand Canyon that it is more than a mile deep and from eight to ten miles wide. The cliffs descending to its depths form a succession of huge steps, each 300 to 500 feet high, with steep rocky slopes between. The cliffs are the edges of hard beds of limestone or sandstone; the intervening slopes mark the outcrops of softer beds. This series of beds is more than 3,600 feet thick, and the beds lie nearly horizontal. Far down in the canyon is a broad shelf caused by the hard sandstone at the base of this series, deeply trenched by a narrow inner canyon cut a thousand feet or more into the underlying "granite." The rocks vary in color from white and buff to red and pale green. They present a marvelous variety of picturesque forms, mostly on a titanic scale, fashioned mainly by erosion by running water, the agent which has excavated the canyon.

"CONSCIENCE FUND" BOOSTED

Uncle Sam Enriched by More Than $54,000, Biggest Contribution Made in Any One Year.

Whether or not it is indicative of the growth of the public conscience, Uncle Sam profited more in 1915 by the awakening of the consciences of some individuals than he had in any other year since the "conscience fund" of the treasury department came into existence in 1887. In that year the total contributions to the fund were $250. During the last fiscal year the fund was increased by more than $54,000.

It is pointed out that conscience has recently been unusually active, not only to enriching the federal treasury but in helping private and public corporations and individuals. An Ohio man paid 25 cents for apples stolen six years ago; a Californian paid a newspaper subscription 33 years overdue; a woman sent stamps to a Kansas City street railway company to pay for four fares, and a Pennsylvanian paid up a hotel bill he skipped 25 years ago.

Want to Sell Your Land?

Have you some land or an improved farm you want to sell? If you have, why should a land-man or some agent make a profit of from $5 to $10 an acre on your land—if he can sell it for you at all—when you can do business yourself direct with the men who are looking for and are anxious to buy just the kind of a place you want to sell?

Just tell us how much land you want to sell; whether or not there are any buildings on it, and where it is located—and we will tell you how you can do business yourself direct with these men who want to buy a place like yours.

Writing us costs you but a two-cent stamp, puts you under no obligation whatever, and will be worth hundreds of dollars to you if you want to sell your land—so just sit down and drop us a line RIGHT NOW, before you forget it.

REALLY A SIMPLE MATTER

Johnny's Reference to Dictionary Must Have Given Him Considerable Enlightenment.

"Father," said the son, looking up from a book with a puzzled expression on his face, "what is pride?"

"Pride," returned the father, "pride! Why—a—Oh, sure you know what pride is. A sort of being stuck up, a kind of—well, proud, you know. Just get the dictionary; that's the thing to tell you exactly what it is. There's nothing like a dictionary, Johnny."

"Here it is," said the latter, after an exhausting search, "Pride—being proud." "Um—yes, that's it," replied the father.

"But—"

"Well, look at 'proud.' That's the way; you have got to hunt these things out, my lad."

"I've got it," answered Johnny. "Pre—pri—pro—why—"

"What does it say?"

"'Proud—having pride.'"

"That's it! There you are, as clear as day. I tell you, Johnny, there is nothing like a good dictionary when you are young. Take care of the binding, my son, as you put it back."—Pathfinder.

Not Worthy.

"I wish I could afford to own an automobile."

ELDERLY WOMEN SAFEGUARDED

Tell Others How They Were Carried Safely Through Change of Life.

Durand, Wis.—"I am the mother of fourteen children and I owe my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I was 45 and had the Change of Life, a friend recommended it and it gave me such relief from my bad feelings that I took several bottles. I am now well and healthy and recommend your Compound to other ladies."—Mrs. MARY RIDGWAY, Durand, Wis.

A Massachusetts Woman Writes:
Blackstone, Mass.—"My troubles were from my age, and I felt awfully sick for three years. I had hot flashes often and frequently suffered from pains. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now am well."—Mrs. PIERRE COURNOYER, Box 239, Blackstone, Mass.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness, should be heeded by middle-aged women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has carried many women safely through this crisis.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Senator Kern Discovers Bad Case of Ignorance

WASHINGTON.—Senator John W. Kern of Indiana had an experience the other day which he will not soon forget. He was crossing the plaza east of the capitol when he was halted by a man and woman with question marks hanging out all over them, obvious signs of sight-seers and strangers in Washington. "What building is that?" asked the man, pointing to the capitol building, which he was facing, and could see its entire length from north to south. The man spoke "United States," his language and tone, as well as his style of dress, showing him to be an educated, pretty well-set-up man.

Senator Kern looked at the man and hesitated just a second, puzzled to know whether the man was making game of him or whether he did not know it was the United States capitol. Presently he replied with a critical smile, "That is the United States capitol."

The man noted the smile and resented it at once.

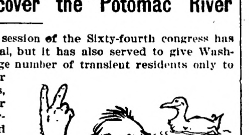
"Well, I do not see any sign on the building to designate what it is." Senator Kern instantly replied, "No, they take the sign down in hot weather, it warps."

Is there a man, woman or child in the United States who has not at some time or other seen in pictures the great white dome of the United States capitol? Once seen it could not possibly be forgotten. There is not another thing like it in the world, and that any human being would not recognize the Washington monument or the United States capitol building upon sight is almost too incredible for belief.

But Senator Kern tells this story, so what are you going to do about it?

Washington Folk Rediscover the Potomac River

FROM one standpoint the prolonged session of the Sixty-fourth congress has only been prolific of things political, but it has also served to give Washington a place in the hearts of a large number of transient residents only to be gained during the midsummer months. The river for water sports, the fine parks and country roads for driving, country clubs and roof gardens, both private and public, and numerous delightful places for dining al fresco are all revelations to those who see the capital only in its midwinter or early spring aspect.



Not even by the greatest stretch of the imagination could one call Washington a watering place, or even a summer resort, but since the rediscovery of the Potomac river through the beautiful drives and walks established along its banks, the capital need no longer hold terrors for those who must remain within the ten-mile limit of the District.

No less a personage than President John Quincy Adams waded through the marshes and tangled grass to the banks of the Potomac for an early morning dip, while the same interesting proceeding is recorded of President Taylor.

Today one meets high officials bent upon the same errand, and almost at the same hour of the morning—just about seven o'clock. The secretary of state and Mrs. Lansing are investigating the charms of the municipal bathing pool with covetous eyes, and Mrs. Lansing longs to try out the skill acquired during the winter months at the natatorium on Capitol Hill.

Senator and Mrs. Morris Sheppard can tell you just exactly where to find the best spot in the pool for striking out, or a dive, or just merely to take it easy and float. Often their companions in the pool are Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, both of whom love the water and are expert swimmers; or Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Day, son and daughter-in-law of Mr. Justice Day, or Representative William P. Borland.

A whole cabinet family of enthusiastic swimmers is that of the secretary of war and Mrs. Baker, who often take a plunge twice a day. They have an ideal pool at In the Woods.

What Uncle Sam's Expert on Charred Money Does

MANY thousands of dollars are saved annually for the good, but often careless, people of these United States by Mrs. Amanda E. Brown, the charred money expert of the treasury department. It is Mrs. Brown's duty to put together burned and cut money when offered for redemption. Many interesting stories are told about her work.

Some years ago, so the story goes, a farmer, while feeding his pigs, dropped a roll of bills, which was devoured by one of them. The pig was killed at once and cut open, and the pulp was found. This was sent to the treasury department, the pieces put together and the money refunded to the happy farmer. The rules of the department are to the effect that if a bill can be successfully put together so that two-fifths of it are found, half of the value is refunded; if three-fifths can be put together the whole value is refunded.

Not so long ago someone sent a large number of very small bits of a bill to the department with a statement that they represented $224. The letter was accompanied by an affidavit to that effect. After many days of work on the part of Mrs. Brown the bits were put together, and it was found that they made a complete one-dollar bill.

The frost line can be traced through the United States each autumn, treasury officials say, through this redemption work. Farmers and others have a habit of hiding money in their stoves. When they light up for the winter, the money is forgotten until it is burned, and the ashes and pieces are sent to the treasury for redemption. Beginning in the North, this same thing occurs until even the Southern farmer is turning in his burned money, when he gets cold enough to light his stove. Each year more than 2,000 such cases are sent to the department.

Rifle Practice Becomes a Fad in the Capital

IF YOU chance to be passing near Fourteenth and [illegible] streets and are attracted by rifle shots, screams, and shouts, be not alarmed. The danger is little. Investigation will show that the rifles are being fired in the gallery of the National Rifle Association of America; the screams are from timid women just learning the use of firearms, and the shouts emanate from husky men who have just rung the bull's-eye.

WHERE SHOT WENT
THESE CARTRIDGES MUST BE BLANKS

Every day a line of people files into the temporary gallery to take advantage of the free use of guns and ammunition which the organization has offered to the public. The crack of the rifles is continuous.

Instructors are kept busy explaining the gun, the shoulder hold, the finger grip, and, most of all, the target. The big fat man who approaches the rail with a confident smile and bangs unsuccessfully 20 times, and then explains what a wonderful shot he once had been, was there. The tall, thin chap, who seems to strain under the weight of the gun and complains of his bad sight, was also there. He squinted 40 times before pulling the trigger, just to prove his assertion. Also there was the athletic fellow with the bulldog jaw who went about shooting targets as though it was part of his day's work. He took his time and hit the bull.

And, best of all, there were pretty young girls, anxious to be instructed. The only trouble the instructors had with them, after getting them to hold the gun, was to convince them that it was impossible to hold one's hands over one's ears and fire the gun at the same time. And the little scream came every time the rifle barked.

Making a Bad Matter Worse.

It is a dangerous thing, when you have let slip an unfortunate remark, to try to cover up the blunder.

Mrs. G. was talking with the wife of Judge H. about her son's choice of a profession. "I don't want him to be a lawyer," she said.

"Why not?" said the judge's wife. "I think there is nothing much finer than the legal profession for a bright boy."

"Well," said Mrs. G. bluntly, "a lawyer has to tell so many lies." Then it dawned on her that she was talking to the wife of a lawyer; so she hastily added, "That is—er—to be a good lawyer!"—Youth's Companion.

His Caution.

"'No, I reckon not just yet,' says I. 'While I admire to see a child develop a saving disposition this early in the game, I don't want to flatter the little cuss by paying too much attention to him.'"—Kansas City Star.

Possibility of Combustion.

The danger of fire from oil-soaked rags such as many housekeepers keep on hand for wiping up varnished floors was demonstrated at a fire-risk exhibit given in a New York window recently. A quantity of oil-soaked rags were placed in the window with a placard stating that they were liable to take fire at any time from instantaneous combustion due to the action of the atmosphere upon the rags. A number of small blazes were started by rags in this window. In one instance combustion took place within seven hours after the rags were placed in position.

GET BUSY IN SEED-CORN TIME AND IT WILL COME TRUE!

WHEN every corn grower in Minnesota straps a sack over his shoulders and goes into the cornfield before frost to select seed for planting next year's crop, the prospective annual yield will be increased 15,000,000 bushels. This will add $7,500,000 to the state's wealth every year, and the increase will go into the pocket of the FARMER WHO PRODUCES IT.

HERE IS THE SITUATION: For the last five years the yield of corn in Indiana has been 36.7 bushels to the acre. The yield in Iowa and in Wisconsin has been 35.2. The yield in Minnesota has been 33.2. THE TROUBLE IS the growing season for the corn that is grown in Indiana, Wisconsin and Iowa is too short for the corn that is grown in Minnesota and a variety must be perfected that will mature from ten to thirty days earlier

A variety of corn that would fully mature before frost would add FIVE BUSHELS TO EVERY ACRE of corn raised in Minnesota. The way to get corn that will mature in time is to GET AN EARLY START IN THE SPRING WITH A VARIETY THAT WILL MATURE IN 100 TO 120 DAYS, and the way to get this variety is to SELECT THOROUGHLY MATURED SEED FROM THE FIELD BEFORE FROST.

Minnesota's corn crop this year will produce 77,157,000 bushels. Her spring wheat crop produced 38,931,000 bushels. Her winter wheat crop gave 714,000 bushels.

If these yields were placed on the market at August 1 prices, the corn crop would be worth $11,672,550 more than the entire wheat crop in Minnesota this year.

Acre for acre, good corn yields nearly twice as many pounds of feed as barley, oats or rye. Clover grows well in nearly every part of Minnesota and thousands of tons of alfalfa are raised every year. Isn't it worth while to try to make the crop even better?

A yield of thirty bushels of corn to the acre about pays for raising corn. A yield of thirty-five bushels gives a profit of about $2.50. The addition to the crop made by the selection of good seed and the care for it during the winter means additional profit. MINNESOTA'S CORN CROP MAY BE MADE TO AVERAGE FORTY BUSHELS TO THE ACRE. It will do that when every corn grower spends a day for every ten acres he plants SELECTING HIS SEED FROM THE FIELD AND STORING IT, so as to get a good stand of strong growing corn that will mature.

Seed Corn Time comes September 10 to 20. Put in two days or more selecting and storing seed corn during that time and repeat next year and the next and every year as long as you are in the business of corn growing.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

School Announcements

The Holt School will open Monday Sept. 11.

With transportation provided for all the country children better attendance will be expected. All children of school age should be at school every day from the first. A written excuse will be required for each days absence. Absence without sufficient reason will have to be reported to the County Superintendent.

Children over 14 may be kept out of school for fall work if excused by the Board. However do not keep them out unless necessary as a late start in the fall makes their work hard thruout the year. Also each days absence on the part of those hauled cuts down our transportation aid from the State. Children to be kept at home for work must be reported to a member of the School Board before school starts.

Uniforn penciltablets, composition books, spelling tablets, penholders, and pen points will be sold to the children at school.

Parents are urged to visit the school during the year and otherwise keep in touch with the work of the children as this is very essential to the success of the school.

MEN PAID FOR FIGHT AGAINST SUFFRAGE

Women Financed Their Own Campaign in State of Massachusetts.

According to the laws of Massachusetts all organizations working either for or against suffrage were compelled at the end of the recent campaign to report all contributions and expenses, unless under $20, with the secretary of state. An analysis of the anti-suffrage contributions made by the Woman's Journal shows the following:

By far the greater part of the anti-suffrage campaign fund was made up of personal contributions as distinct from fairs, rummage sales, dances, etc.

Four-fifths of these personal contributions, or $39,324, was made by men. Contributions amounting to only $9,585 were made by women.

The men's contributions came from 633 men, an average of $62 a man.

More than three-fifths of the anti-suffrage contributions, $31,695, came from 135 men, an average of $235 a man.

"There is only one conclusion that can be drawn from these facts," says the Woman's Journal. "It is the men and not women who are conducting the campaign against equal suffrage in this country, under the guise of women's anti-suffrage associations. The people who claimed to speak for 80 per cent of the women, received 80 per cent of their contributions from men. Furthermore, it was not men in general that financed the anti-suffrage campagn. One hundred and thirty-five men furnished $31,695, nearly half of the total receipts of the entire campaign and 64 per cent of the total contributions. Who are these men? What sort of man can afford to sign a check for $235 with which to fight the enfranchisement of women? They are largely the bankers, brokers and powerful directors of the moneyed section of Boston. They not only did not represent the women of the state, but they did not represent the average man."

A similar study of the pro-suffrage contributions to the same campaign shows:

The greater part of the suffrage campaign funds was made up by actual work on the part of women in arranging fairs, rummage sales, dances, etc., as distinct from personal contributions. (The total receipts were $111,609.47, of which the personal contributions amounted to $39,980.38.)

More than four-fifths of the personal contributions, $32,963, was made by women. Contributions amounting to only $7,017 were made by men.

The women's contributions came from 1,893 women, an average of $17 a woman.

A large chunk of the women's contributions, $8,216, came from 1,654 women, an average of $5 each, and 1,025 women contributed $2,997, an average of less than $8 each.

WHAT ONE BIG MAN THINKS OF ANOTHER

President W. H. P. Faunce, of Brown University, is a pretty live wire who keeps abreast of the times, has keen powers of observation, and knows a good man when he sees him. Here is what he has to say about the Republican Candidate for the Presidency:

"I have known Justice Hughes intimately since we were students together at Brown and have seen him a thousand times at work and at play. No man of our generation has a finer combination of character and intellect. Absolutely fearless, unselfish, loyal to American ideals, he is worthy of a nation's trust.

"All his friends know that behind the dignity of bearing is a rich fund of humor and good fellowship. Whether he is climbing a mountain, reading novels, playing with his children, resisting a political lobby or delivering the opinion of the Supreme Court, he is ever the same rugged, democratic, fairminded American. His varied experience has given him wide horizon and sympathy with every aspect of American life.

"He possesses two qualities rarely found together—the judicial temper and the capacity for swift and resolute action. Under his administration the fog which now besets many public questions would be cleared away.

"His penetrating mind goes to the heart of any subject he selects and strips off the irrelevant at once. Such a mind is peculiarly needed amid the intricate problems that now confront America.

"We need more than good intentions. We need clear vision, sound judgment, strong will, unhesitating decision. In short, we need Charles E. Hughes."

DUTY OF THE ADMINISTRATION TO STOP PLOTS AND CONSPIRACIES.

We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation. Utterly intolerable is the use of our soil for alien intrigues. Every American must unreservedly condemn them, and support every effort for their suppression. But here, also, prompt, vigorous and adequate measures on the part of the Administration were needed. There should have been no hesitation; no notion that it was wise and politic to delay. Such an abuse of our territory demanded immediate and thorough-going action. As soon as the Administration had notice of plots and conspiracies, it was its duty to stop them. It was not lacking in resources. Its responsibility for their continuance cannot be escaped by the condemnation of others.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Some time ago, a consideration of our economic conditions and tendencies, of the position of women in gainful occupations, of the nature and course of the demand, led me to the conclusion that the granting of suffrage to women is inevitable. Opposition may delay, but in my judgment cannot defeat this movement. If women are to have the vote, as I believe they are, it seems to me entirely clear that in the interest of the public life of this country, the contest should be ended promptly. I favor the vote for women.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

MAINTENANCE OF AMERICAN RIGHTS

Had this Government by the use of both informal and formal diplomatic opportunities left no doubt that when we said "strict accountability" we meant precisely what we said, and that we should unhesitatingly vindicate that position, I am confident that there would have been no destruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania. There, we had ample notice; in fact, published notice. Furthermore, we knew the situation and we did not require specific notice. Instead of whittling away our formal statements by equivocal conversations, we needed the straight, direct and decisive representations which every diplomat and foreign office would understand. I believe that in this way we should have been spared the repeated assaults on American lives. Moreover, a firm American policy would have been strongly supported by our people and the opportunities for the development of bitter feeling would have been vastly reduced.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

No Fun To Be A Soldier

Letter From Jesse Sorum

Below we give our readers a letter from Holt's soldier boy, which was written from the front to P. A. Riesberg and is published with his permission.

Mercedes, Texas, Sept. 1, 1916.

Including the larger camps with their Machine Gun Companies, Supply Companies, Artillery, Cavalry and Infantry there are in all about 250,000 troops encamped on the American side of the Mexican border. At Llano Grande there are about 12,000 men, some from New York, Nebraska, Indiana and Minn. Our camp is about four miles from Llano Grande except for a few Regulars we are the only Regiment encamped at Mercedes.

Our daily life is not altogether one of enjoyment, altho we do like to see and learn things. At times we live good, at times we live poorly. If we are lucky, about twice a week, we get a good big real meal. Daily, we never see butter on our bread or seasoning in our food. We eat many crackers. The officers do not eat the same food we do. They all have seperate mess shacks with special kitchens and cooks.

If we were mustered out to-day, sent back home and then asked to rejoin the National Guard, I do not believe there would be more than 50 Privates out of this Regiment of more than 1000 men, who would write their names upon the enlistment paper.

On the other hand I do not wish to be altogather pessimistic in my view. There are men now encamped here who will be benefited by this experience, more than they will ever know. It is an experience which will either make a tramp of him or bring him home a gentleman of the best type, a man with good habits. Considering the number of men here, there is very little liquor used. If you could see us here, doing our morning hikes with a heavy load to carry, digging ditches and clearing brush, you would be forced to admit that at least the North Dakota boys would come home in perfect physical condition.

There are rumors here that we will all be leaving for home soon. Everyone wants to go and when orders do come this will surely be one camp of pleasant voices and smiling faces.

Very sincerely,
Jesse Sorum.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Death of Agort Johnson

Agort Johnson was born in the town of East Valley October 12th 1891 and died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Johnson in this village on Sept. 11th, The deceased was employed in a linseed oil factory last winter in Minneapolis and becoming overheated, caught a severe cold which developed into tuberculosis, from which he was a constant sufferer until relieved by death. Funeral services were held at the Free Mission church Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Revs. Kilen and Strom and interment was made in the village cemetery. The News joins the many friends in extending sincere sympathy to the stricken family.

Opening of The Holt School

School commenced Monday with a good attendance, which it is hoped will be kept up throughout the year.

The enrollment is as follows: Advanced grades 23, Mr. Prushek teacher; Intermediate 26 Miss Saastad teacher; Primary 29 Miss Lawson teacher.

Mr. Reierson brings in 18 pupils on his route, Mr. Riesberg 13 and Mr. Heinze 11. These routes will help to keep up the attendance in bad weather. The children are greatly interested in and enjoy to the fullest, the play ground equipment and this helps to keep their interest in the school.

Our school building is already crowded, the domestic science room being used for the intermediate department, and it wont be long until more room will be necessary.

Your New Barn

Build it now. Have your new barn earning for you just that much sooner.

You will enjoy the winter more, knowing that the stock is properly housed. And they'll be in fine condition to earn more for you next year.

Take advantage of the fall months to complete all your building and repair work. It's the best season to get your buildings in ship-shape, and you won't be interrupted during the rush spring work next year.

STATE BREVITIES

Fergus Falls. — Completed tabulation of returns from the recent special election in Fergus Falls shows defeat of all six proposed charter amendments voted upon.

Cloquet. — Indian Agent G. W. Cross hopes to make the third annual Indian fair a success. The fair will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 21, 22 and 23, at the Cloquet baseball park.

Garfield. — George F. Hughes of Emmetsburg, Iowa, was killed and his wife and child injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by Great Northern passenger train No. 4, near here.

Brainerd. — Ninety-two days from the time he planted northern Minnesota grown seed in his corn field, full grown, well developed, ripened ears of "Minnesota 23" were gathered on the farm of Cod Kimball in the town of Mission, Crow Wing county.

St. Paul. — The State Board of Investment has gone on record officially recognizing the need for more business-like administration of the state trust funds, which include loans to counties, municipalities and schools aggregating nearly $25,000,000.

Eveleth. — That bullet holes in the boilers of steam shovels would be an effective manner of stopping operations of the mines of the Mesaba range was the suggestion given to local strikers by J. Larton, addressing a crowd of miners, according to report.

State Fair Grounds. — Minnesota livestock in competition with some of the best in the country held its own at the Minnesota state fair even against the pure bred favorites from Iowa. In the 10 Belgian classes, Minnesota horses obtained nine awards.

Lake Crystal. — The general assembly of the Welsh Calvanistic Methodist church is being held at Lake Crystal. This assembly meets every three years. The last meeting was held at Utica, N. Y. Chicago, Racine, Wis., and Columbus, Ohio, are extending invitations.

Bemidji. — Work has commenced here on a $30,000 home for the Bemidji Elks' lodge, to be ready for occupancy by December 1. The building will be 50 feet wide and 140 feet long. The ground will provide room for two stores and a theater with seating room for 400 persons.

Moorhead. — Does not the right of self-defense extend to use of the teeth? Mrs. Andy Charles so pleaded when charged in police court with biting Mrs. Olga Skog's little finger. Judge Wade admitted the question was perplexing, and will consider it before announcing his decision.

Verndale. — Because a brakeman uncoupled some cars from a freight train standing here to permit Levin Smith, a local business man, to pass in his motor, and the latter was struck and killed by a passenger train that did not stop, spectators became enraged at the brakeman and threatened to lynch him.

Virginia. — Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith states that his office will be represented at hearings at International Falls before M. J. Brown, commissioner appointed by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist to take testimony on charges of illegal expenditures by Koochiching county officials, alleged to total more than $200,000.

St. Paul. — A ruling by the state legal department that many timber operators must commit trespass in order to open logging roads, shows the need of amendment to the timber laws, according to state officials. The opinion was given after a trespass claim had been defended on the ground that the cutting was done to open a logging road.

Lake Crystal. — The triennial general assembly of International Welsh Calvinistic churches was held here. The following executive officers were elected for the next three-year period: The Rev. W. E. Evans, Mankato, president; the Rev. R. E. Evans, Philadelphia, secretary; the Rev. S. W. Griffiths, Cleveland, Ohio, statistician; Dr. E. E. Jones, Oakhill, Ohio, treasurer.

International Falls.—Supplementary charges implicating additional Koochiching county officials in alleged illegal expenditures of county funds aggregating more than $200,000 have just been filed with Governor Burnquist. The governor announced that the official investigation ordered on the first charge will proceed as far as the law will allow, despite the resignation of County Auditor L. H. Slocum, the only official named in the original charges.

St. Paul. — A bulwark in the nation's defense in time of war and one of the strongest links in the chain of business prosperity of the nation in time of peace. This is the condition of Minnesota, according to a statement made by J. J. Flather of the University of Minnesota faculty, speaking in behalf of the Minnesota Board of Governors in charge of the work of making an industrial survey of the resources of the state for the naval consulting board.

Chisholm. — Alleging that Municipal Judge Masters sets bail in the cases of I. W. W. pickets arraigned before him at too high a figure, local agitators circulated a petition, addressed to Governor Burnquist, among the strikers of the village demanding that Judge Masters be removed.

Winona. — William Dixon of this city made what is thought to be the season's record catch along the upper Mississippi, when he snared a catfish weighing 95 pounds, near Dresbach, this county. The fish measured four and a half feet from tip to tip. It is said to have been caught on a set line.

Open General Stations.

Lieutenants Milo Price and Henry R. Prescott opened recruiting stations in Minneapolis and St. Paul and the state fair grounds. These will be general stations at which enlisting men can state their preference among the various Minnesota units, General Wood explained.

Four remaining squads made up of one commissioned and two non-commissioned officers and one private each have been sent out on itineraries subject to change and with instructions to move headquarters when a field is exhausted.

To Cover State.

Lieut. W. O. Brown will head the squad ordered to Duluth first and later to the Iron Range towns. Lieut. E. B. Cutler and squad will begin at Anoka and work toward Crookston. Capt. A. O. Stubstadt and squad will open at Winona and work along the river back toward the Twin Cities. The last squad, headed by Lieut. Donald McKenzie, will begin recruiting at Faribault and then move to Northfield, Owatonna, Mankato, St. Peter and other towns in central southern Minnesota.

Ordered Home.

Supplementing the original order for the mustering out of service of Battery F, the unit composed of students at the University of Minnesota, information was received by General Wood that the commanding general of the southern department was directed by the adjutant general of the army to return to the state mobilization camp Battery F, First Minnesota field artillery, and certain units from Illinois, to be held at the camp pending further instructions.

The information included a statement that hereafter no individuals will be discharged on account of being bona fide students or teachers in colleges and schools. This order supersedes all previous orders.

Curb on Discharges.

Another order from the adjutant general's office at Washington, D. C., was as follows:

"In view of the provisions contained in the appropriations bill providing funds for taking care of dependent relatives of soldiers, the Secretary of War directs that previous orders relating to the discharge of enlisted men on account of dependent relatives be revoked to take effect in all cases which originate hereafter."

General Wood explained that while the order is not retroactive, it means few if any discharges for men on the ground of claims of dependents.

Select Seed Corn Now.

Minnesota farmers should drop everything else to select and store seed corn, in the opinion of farm management experts at University farm. They advise that seed corn selecting be done between September 10 and 20, even though threshing, silo filling and winter crop seeding wait. They hold that any of these may wisely be subordinated to selecting next year's seed corn. They believe the value of the corn crop can be increased by $7,500,000 a year by proper seed selection.

Frosts Impair Quality.

"Seed corn that does not germinate 90 per cent or better is not fit to be planted for the production of ears," said Prof. C. P. Bull. "Germinating qualities alone regulate the value of seed corn. Even fodder corn seed should have high germination testing power, although a false impression to the contrary prevails.

"Killing frosts on standing corn is almost sure to impair the germination of the seed, so it is better to cut too early than too late."

* * *

Pay for Stolen Honey.

Some three weeks ago three men of the Third Minnesota infantry were arrested south of camp on the charge of stealing honey from a farmer and destroying some of the bee hives. The men were tried by summary court and proved they had destroyed no hives.

Meanwhile the thefts of honey continued, and the fact was brought to the attention of General Lewis, who ordered an inquiry made in every regiment in camp.

As a result it was learned men in every regiment had visited the bee farm, and each regiment was assessed an amount of money in proportion to the number of men found to have visited the place. The bee farmer is now on Easy street.

* * *

Guards Stand Test Well

Minnesota soldiers have just undergone a severe test in the stiffest practice march which the troops have experienced. All three regiments covered more than 12 miles in heavy marching order, carrying filled packs, blankets, shelter tents, canteens, and mess kits. Despite the 60-pound load, and the dust and heat very few men dropped out and the regiments marched into camp singing "Cheer, Cheer, the Gang's All Here."

Swim After March.

Colonel Mollison lead his command to Donna while both the First and Third marched east. Colonel Evans permitted his men to take a swim in the lake about seven miles from the camp after the march over dusty roads.

Resents Governor's Slight.

W. F. Houk, state commissioner of labor, withdrew his acceptance of an invitation to participate in a parade in St. Paul on Labor day, assigning as his reason the departure from the usual custom of the labor organizations to invite the governor to take part. In a letter to Secretary F. W. Lariviere, Mr. Houk asserted that Governor J. A. A. Burnquist has been in sympathy with labor and that in the failure to extend an invitation, the committee did a great wrong.

ALARM IS CAUSED BY PHANTOM BEAR

Residents in Maine Community Fear to Go Out After Dark.

CARRIES BIG KNAPSACK

Eph Mason Tells About Meeting Animal Suddenly, and as Eph Is 6 Feet 2 Inches, His Word Is Not Doubted.

Bar Harbor, Me.—Just up beyond the toll bridge, on the other side of the Trenton line, on Mount Desert, the residents have been alarmed at the presence, so they say, of a phantom bear with a big knapsack on his shoulder.

Even the men, although hardly feigning to believe the yarns, aren't noticeably anxious to wander far from their own firesides after the sun sets.

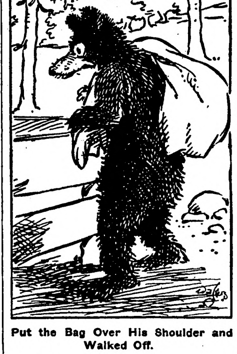
Eph Tells About It.

Eph Mason is known among his neighbors as a man of unimpeachable veracity. Eph saw him, or at least says he did, and as Eph is 6 feet 2 inches in his homespun stockings, no one cares to dispute the fact with him. Eph told about it down at the grocery store:

"I was jest goin' out to my pig pen," said Eph, "with a bucket of swill to feed the pigs. It wuz gittin' kinder dusky, an' I thought I saw somethin' leanin' over the fence, somethin' kinder dark, an' I thought that the dum cow had broken the fence an' had got into the yeard. It provoked me, sorter, 'cause that 'ere cow is gittin' breachier an' breachier, an' I swore at her in some quite considerable language. In fact, I addressed her in what you might call some quite glowin' terms. Finally I picked up a big rock an' let her have it full tilt. I hit her plumb in the side, an' then—

Thought His Time Was Come.

"Sufferin' cats, I thought my time had come, sire! A big black b'ar riz right up stiddy on his hind legs an' looked at me. He looked's big ez a mounting there in the twilight, an' I was so blame skeered I stood still in my tracks without sayin' a word. He stood there an' grunted, an' then picked the fattest shote I had up under one arm. I was countin' considable on that shote, but I didn't dare to say anything, becuz I didn't have so much ez a pitchfork with me. An' what do you think?



Put the Bag Over His Shoulder and Walked Off.

"That b'ar took a big crocus bag, held it wide open in his mouth jest like my wife will a pillow case when she's makin' the bed, an' popped Mr. Shote inter it quicker than you could say scat to a tomcat. Then Mr. B'ar wunk at me kinder solemn, put the bag over his shoulder, an' walked off inter the woods big ez life. I'm not naturally very timid, but I'll be durned if I care to have any dealin's with a beast that's so dum cute as that."

HAS TEMPLE OF DISHONESTY

House Erected in Los Angeles in Which All Component Parts Are Stolen.

Los Angeles.—Somebody is building a temple of dishonesty in the form of a house of which all the component parts are stolen.

Now the thieves are stealing the doors. The last case of such thievery was reported to the police recently by Mrs. W. H. Hill of No. 1414 Fedora street. When Mrs. Hill left home the other morning the back door was locked safely on its hinges. When she returned two hours later the door was gone. Other house parts have been stolen in other neighborhoods recently.

The police are wondering what the thieves will do when they get around to making a basement and cement walk for their home.

The Vital Point.

A beautiful young lady interviewed a fortune teller on the usual subjects.

"Lady," said the clairvoyant, "you will visit foreign lands and the courts of kings and queens. You will conquer all rivals and marry the man of your choice. He will be tall and dark and aristocratic-looking."

"And young?" interrupted the lady.

"Yes, and very rich."

The beautiful lady grasped the fortune teller's hands and pressed them hard.

"Thank you," she said. "Now tell me one thing more. How shall I get rid of my present husband?"

No Sale for 'em.

"How shall I mark that lot of ladies' hosiery we're sending back to the mill?" asked the department store buyer.

"What is the matter with them?" inquired the manager.

"They're too thick. Nobody ever wears that kind any more, even in the winter."

"Mark them 'Rejected on account of low visibility.'"

SAYS HYPNOTISM IS EASY

Professor Muensterberg Declares He Can Bring Anybody He Ever Met Under Complete Subjection.

Prof. Hugo Muensterberg, the Harvard psychologist, says he can hypnotize anybody he ever met, according to a Cambridge (Mass.) dispatch to the New York Evening Telegram. He knows Kaiser Wilhelm very well, and said he would not except the kaiser. The Harvard summer school students were told how easy it is to hypnotize anybody, almost as easy as "rolling off a log." The professor predicted a great field in the future for the expert in mind control. He said:

"Hypnotism presents a vast field for the expert. It is so easy to produce the hypnotic trance that anyone can do it on others, but it is exceedingly dangerous when thoughtlessly or ignorantly used. It is simply a case of increasing the suggestibility of the mind, and it can be used in medicine to cure the morphine fiend, the alcoholic fiend and all who have abnormal desires. Often only a slight hypnosis is necessary to effect a cure for nervous disorders.

"Medicine, equally with law, is to be the food for the psychologist of the future. Every mental trait can be measured exactly by almost perfect standards. The old methods are obsolete and the whole science of diagnosis has been carried into the field of experiment. Psycho-analysis has a great future."

Chilly, in Fact.

EXPECT TO RAISE BIG SUM

Anti-Tuberculosis Societies Plan Sale of One Million Dollars' Worth of Red Cross Christmas Seals.

Three hundred million Red Cross Christmas seals are being printed in Cincinnati for the annual holiday campaign to be conducted under the joint auspices of the American Red Cross and the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

The campaign for the sale of Red Cross seals this year will be larger than ever before. Although in 1915 the sale reached the record total of 80,000,000 seals, bringing in $800,000, it is expected that this year at least 100,000,000 seals or $1,000,000 worth will be sold. The sale will be organized from Alaska to the Canal Zone and from Hawaii to Porto Rico. Every state and territory in the United States will have seals on sale. New organizations will be working in a number of the western states, including Montana, Utah and Wyoming. Distribution of the seals is now under way.

Its place in the sun

To hold "its place in the sun," is the avowed purpose of a great nation's conflict. To hold "its place in the sun," is the object of every business in the great fight for industrial and commercial supremacy.

To be able to hold "its place in the sun," is the supreme test of an asphalt roof. It is the sun, not rain or snow, that plays havoc with a roof. If it can resist the drying out process of the sun beating down upon it, day after day, the rain or snow will not affect it except to wash it clean and keep it sanitary.

Certain-teed Roofing

takes "its place in the sun" and holds it longer than other similar roofing, because it is made of the very best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with the correct blend of soft asphalts, and coated with a blend of harder asphalts. This outer coating keeps the inner saturation soft, and prevents the drying out process so destructive to the ordinary roof.

The blend of asphalts used by "The General" is the result of long experience. It produces a roofing more pliable than those which have less saturation, and which are, therefore, harder and drier.

At each of the General's big mills, expert chemists are constantly employed to refine, test and blend the asphalts used; also to experiment for possible improvements. Their constant endeavor is to make the best roofing still better.

The quality of CERTAIN-TEED is such that it is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply). Experience proves that it lasts longer. Behind this guarantee is the responsibility of the world's largest manufacturer of roofings and building papers.

The General makes one third of America's supply of asphalt roll roofing. His facilities are unequaled, and he is able to produce the highest quality roofing at the lowest manufacturing cost.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate covered shingles. There's a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

BIG CENTRAL SPAN OF QUEBEC BRIDGE FALLS; 25 KILLED

LARGEST CANTILEVER IN WORLD DROPS INTO ST. LAWRENCE RIVER WHILE BEING PUT INTO PLACE.

NINETY MEN ON STRUCTURE ARE HURLED INTO WATERS

Part Which Collapsed Weighs More Than 5,000 Tons and Is 640 Feet Long—Bridge Is Being Constructed at a Cost of $17,000,000.

Quebec, Que., Sept. 12.—The new central span of the Quebec bridge, the largest cantilever suspension in the world, collapsed and fell into the St. Lawrence river while being hoisted into place with the loss of 25 lives.

The bridge was being constructed at a cost of $17,000,000 in order to shorten the railway journey from Halifax to the Canadian Northwest by 200 miles.

The bridge stands on the site of the structure which collapsed on August 29, 1907, with a loss of 70 lives.

The central span which fell weighs more than 5,000 tons and is 640 feet long.

Ninety Men Fall Into River.

Observers said that the span broke in two places, one of the corners first appearing to give way, followed almost immediately by a break in the center.

The collapse occurred when the span was about 15 feet in the air. Ninety men were on the structure when it fell.

Boats from among the hundreds of spectators' craft were rushed to the spot where the span disappeared. The fallen structure sank 200 feet to the bottom of the river and engineers expressed doubts as to whether it would ever be raised.

The span had been constructed on pontoons a few miles east of the bridge and was towed into position under the gap left in the anchor arms of the structure.

AUTOISTS MEET DEATH UNDER ENGINE'S PILOT

Three Instantly Killed and Bodies Mangled in Colorado—Fourth Member of Party Dying.

Loveland, Colo., Sept. 12.—Three persons are dead and a fourth is dying as the result of an automobile accident. The automobile party of four, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hedelson and Mrs. Clara Jones of Loveland and Mrs. Julia A. Tent of Eureka, Kan., were returning from a mountain trip. At the outskirts of the city Hedelson, driving the machine, attempted to cross the Colorado and Southern railroad tracks ahead of a southbound passenger train. The car was struck squarely in the center. Mrs. Tent, fatally injured, was thrown to one side. The other three, remaining in the automobile, rolled over and over under the engine pilot, were instantly killed and their bodies mangled. Railroad employes worked desperately for over an hour before the bodies were removed from under the engine.

LONGSHOREMEN MAY STRIKE

Buffalo Society's Decision Affects Duluth Grain Men.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The Longshoreman's association of Buffalo voted to handle no more grain from boats trimmed by nonunion labor at Duluth and Superior. Action will be suspended until after a meeting of representatives and the employers. The principal complaint of the Buffalo men is that the old system of payment through a stevedore instead of direct to the men obtains at Duluth and Superior.

Writer Flays Theodore Roosevelt in Declaring for President—Says Colonel Is Out of Date.

New York, Sept. 12.—"Theodore Roosevelt is out of date," Ida Tarbell, magazine writer and economist, said in declaring for President Wilson. "He does not and never has fully understood what the Progressives are fussing about," Miss Tarbell added, "and there never has been one of them who could tell him so that he could get the idea.

"President Wilson is the first real Progressive this decade has produced."

Roumanians Lose Balkan War Gains.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—Nearly all of the territory taken from Bulgaria by the Rumanians at the close of the second Balkan war has been reconquered by the German-Bulgarian forces. The Rumanians and Russians are again in retreat toward the Danube, abandoning still more positions. In a little more than a week the combined German and Bulgarian forces have captured far more Rumanian territory than the Allies have been able to take of German territory since the beginning of the war.

GERMANS DRIVEN BACK AT VERDUN; BATTLE NEAR END

TEUTONS ARE NOW ENTIRELY ON DEFENSIVE WHILE FRENCH STEADILY WIN BACK THEIR LOST POSITIONS.

GREAT STRUGGLE DYING LIKE EXTINCT VOLCANO

Morale of Kaiser's Troops Shattered When They Are Reduced in Numbers to Mere Defensive Garrison —Fighting On West Bank of Meuse Ceases.

With the French Army at Verdun, Sept. 11.—The Germans are now entirely on the defensive at Verdun. The great battle began 201 days ago and has entered its third and final stage. The French are steadily winning back their lost positions. The battle will gradually die out like an extinct volcano.

It now has been learned definitely that the Germans were forced to remove huge quantities of artillery and men from Verdun to the Somme front three weeks ago to meet the new Anglo-French offensive. This had an immediate effect on the morale of the remaining men.

Morale of Germans Shattered.

In February they had been told they were to capture Verdun. At the end of July they were told it would be sufficient to simply dominate the situation there. But when they had been reduced in numbers to merely a defensive garrison after nearly seven months of fighting their morale was so shattered that groups of prisoners have been surrendering, some of them going through Verdun singing "The Marseillaise," French officers declare.

The seventh and last great German massed attack was made on both banks of the Meuse on July 10. The French checked this blow immediately and took the offensive. Ever since that time they have retained the initiative, capturing in their operations more than 10,000 prisoners, a score of cannon and a hundred machine guns.

For Final Desperate Struggle.

Fighting on the west bank of the Meuse has practically ceased. Hill 304 and Dead Man's hill are now numbered among the glories of the past.

East of the river the Germans are concentrating for a final desperate struggle to retain the forts of Vaux and Douaumont.

Forces of Teutonic powers in the Carpathian mountains northwest of Mount Kapul, yielded before the pressure exerted by the Russians.

SUCCESSFUL CRUISE ENDED

Navy Department Orders Training Ships to Land Men.

Washington, Sept. 11.—With announcement that the "John Paul Jones cruise" on which 2,500 civilians have been in training since August 18 has been highly successful, orders were issued Saturday by the Navy department terminating the training. The six reserve battleships comprising the training fleet will land the men at Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Charleston and New York.

Admiral Benson, acting secretary of the navy, said the orders were intended to relieve the civilians so they might return to their business Monday. The cruise was to have ended Tuesday.

EXPECTS NOTE FROM BRITAIN

Lansing Says Reply to Mail Seizure Protest Is Due.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The state department, Secretary Lansing says, is expecting a further note from Great Britain some time this month replying to the American protest against British seizure of and interferences with American mails. Officials expect a more comprehensive discussion than that given in the preliminary note received July 20.

No information has been received at the State department as to when a reply may be expected to the American note protesting against the British blacklist decree

Steel Soars to New Levels.

New York, Sept. 11.—United States steel common broke its previous high record price for the seventh time in three weeks, Saturday, selling at 102⅝.

Unfilled orders on the books of the company, August 31, totaled 9,660,357 tons, the monthly unfilled tonnage report showed.

List of Speeding Autoists Is Stolen.

Wayzata, Minn., Sept. 11.—One hundred and sixty-eight automobile owners, caught in a trap by Marshal George Strand of Wayzata, will not have to appear in court, even though they did average 20 to 35 miles an hour through the business district of the town. Strand had the names of the violators in his desk in the city hall. Then someone broke into the building and stole the list. The purse that contained the list was found outside the building. "I do not think any of the speeders stole it," said Strand.

GOOD EFFECTS OF TROUBLE

Much of the Advancement of the World May Be Traced to Those Pugnaciously Inclined.

Most of us love trouble—that is, most of the human race. Man cannot remain contentedly out of trouble for any length of time, it seems. And if you doubt the statement, all you have to do is to remember the numerous instances when you were getting along all right, and then deliberately "butted into" something that was not your affair.

Take the matter of politics, if you please. Half of the political troubles we read about are unnecessary. That is to say, a lot of the people mixed up in politics are so mixed for no purpose in this world save that they may make trouble for themselves or somebody else. For it really makes little difference to the average man who is elected; indeed the average man takes an interest in politics not because he thinks by doing so he can best serve the public, but because he wants a fight.

Of course all of us like to flatter ourselves that we are doing something for the nation or the country or a group of people. But the truth is most of us are doing nothing of the kind.

But, did you know that most of the good that has so far resulted to the world has come from the troublemakers, and not from the peacemakers?—Columbus Dispatch.

Putting Out Gasoline Fire.

Experiments by the British Fire Prevention committee show that the best way to put out a small gasoline fire is to spread over the burning liquid a mixture of ten pounds of bicarbonate of soda and twelve pounds of common sawdust free from chips and shavings.

The Babies.

Lincoln Springfield, London editor, was talking to an American correspondent.

"I know a regiment," he said, "where the subalterns are so young that not one of them is able to raise the moustache required by etiquette.

"A handful of privates from this regiment swaggered back to quarters late one night singing the popular ditty, 'Another Little Drink Won't Do Us Any Harm.'

"As they passed the officers' billets, the guard on duty growled at them:

"'Shut up, you noisy fools, or you'll wake the war babies!'"

It is natural that those summer furs should be popular with girls who have knuckles on their necks.

It's Foolish to Suffer

You may be brave enough to stand backache, or headache, or dizziness. But if, in addition, urination is disordered, look out! If you don't try to fix your sick kidneys, you may fall into the clutches of kidney trouble before you know it. But if you live more carefully and help your kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, you can stop the pains you have and avoid future danger as well.

Mixing His Lines.

The primer class at school was reading the story of Dick Whittington. They had reached the part of the story where Dick, running away, heard the bells of the village sing to him: "Turn again, Whittington, lord mayor of London!"

The teacher, calling on a little lad to read, was amazed to hear the child say glibly, without even looking at his book:

"Turn again, Whittington, Mayor Bell of London!"

Biblical Geography.

A Chicago kiddie recently "stumped" his mother with this query:

"What's the Miz?"

"The Miz, dear? I'm sure I don't know. Where did you hear about it?"

"At Sunday school. The superintendent said God made heaven and earth an' all that in the Miz!"

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. Margaret Grassman, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. George A. Dunbar, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. Kissling, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

DETROIT'S IMPRESSIONS OF A MAN.

Governor Hughes' visit to Detroit opened the presidential campaign of 1916 and if we may forecast the events that are to follow by the omens of Monday we would prognosticate an intensely warm, vivid and humanly interesting period in the next few months.

Setting aside the auspices of meteorological conditions in this provision of the future—although they are approved by numerous professional augurs and by a host of commonalty as well—we base this prophecy on the characteristics of the candidate whose too brief stay with us has been enjoyed by all with whom he came into contact.

The misguided individuals who have been expecting Charles E. Hughes would prove to be a cold proposition and therefore easy to beat are in for a shock that will make them think they have been hit by an uninsulated trolley wire. There is nothing cold about Mr. Hughes, Detroit has learned. He is about as intensely human a piece of humanity as ever captured the hearts of a crowd, and the more people in the United States he meets between now and November the more votes will be cast for him. As a campaigner he is a revelation. He likes his fellow beings, and they like him because they see he likes them.

And what his personality begins his remarkable powers of intellect and utterance finish. He drives his points home with tremendous force. What he says sticks. There are thousands of Americans today who can retell every step in the arguments he made eight years ago on the Bryan trust policy, yet in 1908 Mr. Hughes was not especially a prominent figure and there was no particular reason why his address more than others should have remained clearly in the memory except the gift of the man to send his own thoughts so deep into the brains of others. They are clear in his own mind first, undoubtedly. He knows precisely what he wants to say because he has reasoned it out before he speaks it out. Probably that has something to do with the ease with which he conveys his meaning. But it is a very rare quality he possesses in his ability to master subjects so thoroughly as to make the most abstruse simple to himself and his hearers. It is a quality eminently desirable in a political candidate; it is infinitely more to be desired in the president of a great country like the United States.

Detroit's impression of Charles E. Hughes is all favorable. The thousands of people who have studied him at close range are convinced that if he is elected president next November he will be a great president, one of the greatest this nation has known, worthy to stand in history with George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, a custodian of the republic's fate to whom that fate may confidently be intrusted. If that conviction is shared by the people of other states whom he is still to meet, the outcome of his swing around the great American circle cannot fail to be propitious for him.—Detroit Free Press.

BLOODY PROSPERITY.

"No one disputes a temporary prosperity in our land today. But it is sectional in its factory aspect, abnormal in its fevered rush, fictitious in its essentials, and perverting in its tendency. Worse, it is the gold sluiced from the river of blood, poured out by the horrifying sacrifice of millions of our fellow men. God forbid that we should boast a prosperity wrought in such waste of human life. We had rather rejoice in the prosperity of peace."—United States Senator Warren G. Harding.

Plan That Will Destroy Sow Thistle

It is possible that some farmers are not familiar with the perennial sow thistle and are permitting small patches to mature seed and are in this way storing up a great deal of trouble for the future. This must have immediate attention or seed sufficient to sow the entire country will be produced. Usually about July 15 they send up branching seed stems 2 to 4 feet high which bear flowers similiar to dadelions. When these are mature, the seed is distributed by the wind.

The only sure way to eradicate this pest is by concerted action on the part of every farmer whether he be owner or tenant. Prevent seed forming by cutting all green stems early. Eradication methods are similar to those used for quack grass or Canada thistle, namely, thorough summer tillage and the absolute prevention of any green leaves. This may be done by summer fallow or by the the growing of corn and potatoes. If it is kept in mind that plants get their food through the leaves it is easy to see they must die if no leaves are allowed to grow. Failure to kill by this treatment, is the fault of the farmer.

There is upon the statues of Minnesota a weed law which, if enforced rigidly, would in within two years rid the entire Red River Valley of all noxious weeds. This law makes it a misdemeanor to allow noxious weeds to mature seed and provides for the cutting of such weeds by order of the road overseers and the cost added to the taxes of the property. This law does not bind the owner of land alone but also the tenant of such land. It is needless to say that the law has not been obeyed and in many cases has not been enforced by those who have the authority to enforce it.

Hughes Points the Way

The speech of the Republican candidate for President was a keynote speech, indeed. Not one person in the great audience at the Carnegie Hall meeting was in doubt for one moment as to just what he meant by everything he said.

His address was comprehensive, logical, clear and all sufficient for the occasion. There can be no dispute as to this. Plainly Mr. Hughes is a man who "knows what he wants when he wants it," and it is the opinion of political authorities who heard him and who have since read his remarks that he knows, also, how to get it.

It was incumbent upon the Republican candidate to confine the scope of his remarks to the limitations of the occasion, but his crushing analysis of the shortcomings of the present administration of the government is merely an earnest of what the tone, and the contents of his speeches will be when he gets on the stump.

At Carnegie Hall Mr. Hughes adverted to every general question that is apt to be a serious issue in the campaign and in language that will be absolutely clear to every man or woman able to read he stated his opinions, his convictions and his purposes. On the stump he will argue those points in detail. As an orator he is eloquent, his personality attractive and his marshalling of facts so cohesive that he holds his audience to the end. He makes it easy for them to follow him and his points are not lost.

There was nothing equivocal, nothing apologetic in the Republican candidate's speech of acceptance. He called a spade a spade, and the unanimous opinion of those who heard him was that he shot to the center and rang the bell. The Republican campaign is now open, and those who will speak and write and work for the success of the Republican ticket can wish for no more adequate campaign document, no more satisfactory statement of issues than are found in the candidate's salutatory.

Brief Sentences Featuring the Speech of Acceptance of Charles E. Hughes.

America First and America Efficient.

We are too great a country to require of our citizens who are engaged in peaceful vocations the sort of military service to which they are now called.

We cherish no illusions. We know that the recurrence of war is not to be prevented by pious wishes.

We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation.

Adequate preparedness is not militarism.

During this critical period, the only danger of war has lain in the weak course of the Administration.

The Nation has no policy of aggression toward Mexico. We have no desire for any part of her territory.

We propose that in the competitive struggle that is about to come the American workingman shall not suffer.

This representative gathering is a happy augury. It means the strength of reunion. It means that the party of Lincoln is restored, alert, effective,

The dealings of the Administration with Mexico constitutes a confused chapter of blunders. It is a record which cannot be examined without a profound sense of humiliation.

We must take Vera Cruz to get Huerta out of office and trust to other nations to get our own citizens out of peril. What a travesty of international policy!

Destroying the government of Huerta, we left Mexico to the ravages of revolution.

I stand for adequate Federal Workmen's compensation laws.

The Administration was to seize and punish Villa for his outrage on our soil. It has not punished any one; we went in only to retire.

I favor the vote for women.

THE COMPELLING PERORATION TO MR. HUGHES' ACCEPTANCE SPEECH.

We live in a fateful hour. In a true sense, the contest for the preservation of the Nation is never ended. We must still be imbued with the spirit of heroic sacrifice which gave us our country and brought us safely through the days of Civil War. We renew our pledge to the ancient ideals of individual liberty, of opportunity denied to none because of race or creed, of unswerving loyalty. We have a vision of America prepared and secure; strong and just; equal to her task; an exemplar of the capacity and efficiency of a free people. I endorse the platform adopted by the Convention and accept its nomination.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Winona.—Interest of racing fans in this section centered upon the horse races last week at the Winona county fair at St. Charles.

Brainerd.—Proving too heavy for a condemned 75-foot bridge at Pillager, near here, a traction engine fell a distance of 40 feet into the Crow Wing river. No one was injured in the accident.

St. Cloud.—That Minneapolis was the home of the unidentified woman whose body was found in the Mississippi river here was indicted to the police in following up recent discovered clues in the case.

Virginia.—The first authentic case of infantile paralysis on the Mesaba range has been found at Eveleth, where Mollie, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kochevar, was declared to have the disease.

Duluth.—Forty-five dollars a month and board is now being offered in Duluth and other northern cities for woodsmen for the winter cut. This is $10 a month more than was ever offered; yet virtually no men can be hired.

Winona.—When a car ahead of a locomotive on the Great Western railway jumped the track and flipped over the edge of a 75-foot trestle near here, it carried Dominik Bronk, brakeman of Winona, to death. He fell beneath the overturned car.

Duluth.—Shot through the abdomen by the accidental discharge of his revolver, Aywood Frazer, aged 17, Duluthian, was fatally wounded while fishing in the Cloquet river and died following an operation here. Fraser was with five companions.

Brainerd.—With street lights turned off at night pending increase in taxes Brainerd has felt somewhat like an English town dodging Zeppelins. The Minnesota and International Falls railway early morning passenger train came to town and ran by the station in the dark.

Duluth.—Threatened trouble with the Longshoremen's unions of Duluth and Superior which has caused some uneasiness among the grain shippers of the Head of the Lakes will be amiably settled to the satisfaction of the unions, according to W. F. Smith, secretary of the Superior union.

Hibbing.—Charging that the republication at this time of the state report on Hibbing municipal affairs was purely a political move to counteract his forthcoming candidacy for governor on an independent ticket, Mayor Victor L. Power said it would be shown this village received "dollar value for every dollar spent."

Bemidji.—The first criminal indictment ever returned in Minnesota in connection with alleged timber theft on state land has been returned by the Beltrami county grand jury in session at Bemidji. John Miller and M. Purritannen are accused by the grand jury with having unlawfully entered upon state land and cut timber.

St. Paul.—Governor Burnquist and members of the Minnesota state monumental commission arranged to leave St. Paul to dedicate Minnesota monuments to dead soldiers from this state in three national cemeteries. The exercises will take place as follows: Little Rock, September 22; Memphis, September 23; Andersonville, September 26.

Willmar—Twenty-eight escapes from the state hospital for inebriates at Willmar during August practically equalled the number of admissions during the month, else the capacity of the institution would be overtaxed now, George H. Freeman, superintendent, has reported to the state board of control. There are now 72 inmates in the hospital or one less than a year ago.

Crosby.—After having lost several weeks' work "watching their families and themselves hovering on the brink of starvation with nothing between them and one of Northern Minnesota's wnter's, they said, 200 members of the Industrial Workers of the World, which organization called a strike of iron miners on the Cuyuna range, met in executive session and voted to call off the strike.

Badger, Minn.—The State Drainage board has just inspected the work of deepening and straightening the Roseau river from near this point to the Canadian line and also work of the same character from a point near Roseau lake to that already done. The former contract costing $80,000 is near completion and was approved by the board on condition the contractor remove temporary dams.

Duluth.—Judge Bert Fesler in district court here refused to quash indictments charging murder in the first degree and assault in the first degree brought against Philip Masonovich, Joe Nikich, John Orlandich, Joseph Zernogortovich, Felicia Masonovich, Carlo Tresca, Sam Scarlet and Joseph Schmidt, by a grand jury at Virginia in connection with the alleged killing of Deputy Sheriff James C. Myron.

International Falls.—Investigation of alleged illegal expenditures of more than $200,000 of Koochiching county funds and charges of malfeasance and nonfeasance against County Auditor L. H. Slocum, and County Commissioners William Harrington, Harold Royem and R. S. McDonald, all suspended from office by Governor Burnquist pending an inquiry, will begin September 25 at International Falls.

St. Paul.—Trustees of the Minnesota State teachers' retirement and insurance fund at an annual meeting at the State Capitol accepted thirty-four new members and eleven applications for retirement.

Batteries See Relief.

That A, B and C batteries of the First Minnesota field artillery will be sent to the Mexican border or disbanded within a short time is the opinion expressed by officers at Camp Bobleter.

Lack of equipment, including blankets, cots, clothes and overcoats, already has caused some suffering among the battery members, and more serious results are predicted by members of the medical staff unless proper measures for protection are taken by the government. A drop in temperature, it is said by members of the medical staff, undoubtedly will result in much sickness among the men.

Need Winter Equipment.

In view of this, Lieutenant Horace S. Villars has notified army officials in Washington of the need for winter equipment. He asserted that unless the supplies were forthcoming shortly it would be advisable to put the men in barracks.

This, according to Captain George R. Greene, chief mustering officer at Fort Snelling, will be impracticable because of the condition of the buildings.

"It is certain the men would contract colds, which in some cases might result in serious sickness, unless they are furnished with winter clothing, blankets and proper equipment," Lieutenant Villars said.

"It is reported among the men that many of them are going outside the camp to get relief from colds contracted from sleeping on the damp ground."

With the exception of the non-commissioned officers, only a few of the men in A battery are provided with cots. Many of them have only one blanket and overcoats and sweaters are at a premium. A similar condition exists in the other batteries.

Captain Villars' letter was given the indorsement of Major W. C. Rutherford and was accompanied by a letter from Captain Guy Johnson of the post hospital.

Proves Fighting Ability.

Private Tischauser, one of the newest recruits of the First Minnesota regiment, had a chance to demonstrate that he was a fighter. Tischauser, who is stationed at the Gateway recruiting station, Minneapolis, with Sergeant Hayes, was endeavoring to get a new recruit for the regiment, when five members of the I. W. W. came up and said insulting things about the flag and about a man who would wear a United States uniform.

Tischauser paid no attention until one of them started to tear the uniform off him and another attempted to haul down the flag.

I. W. W.'s in Hospital.

Then Tischauser started a clean-up campaign and when he was through the police sent two members of the I. W. W. to the city hospital and took the other three to the police station.

"We know we have at least one good fighter in the regiment," said Lieutenant Prescott.

Recruits for the First Minnesota are coming in at the rate of six or eight a day. More than 60 have been enlisted and it has been found necessary to erect a new building to accommodate them at Fort Snelling.

Widows' Pensions Increased.

Approximately 3,500 widows of war veterans in Minnesota will gain increased pensions under the recently enacted Ashbrok law, which is to become effective at once, Minneapolis pension attorneys say. The act increases their pensions, now $12 a month each, to $20 a month each, and includes widows of veterans of the war of 1812, Mexican war and Civil war. The increase means about $336,000 more a year for Minnesota widows.

Mostly Civil War Widows.

"The widows' pensions were increased from $8 to $12 a month April 19, 1908, and the new law makes it $20 a month," said R. B. Hosteler. "Nearly all the Minnesota women affected are Civil war widows, although there are a few Mexican war widows in the state and possibly a few whose late husbands were veterans of the war of 1812.

"If married subsequent to the Civil war, the widows must be more than 70 years old to be entitled to pensions. If married before or during the war, age makes no difference."

Indian Cases Near End.

A settlement of the first batch of White Earth Indian cases within three weeks is expected by the representatives of all parties concerned who have begun the work of final adjustment of the suits in the office of F. J. Kearful, special United States attorney in charge of the White Earth Indian cases.

W. C. Pollock, special representative of the secretary of the interior, invested with settlement powers, and R. J. Powell, attorney for about nine-tenths of all the landholders against whom the government suits were brought, are settling the cases in terms of the agreement which was concluded between them more than a month ago.

Frank Carr, special agent for the government, who has spent much time on the ground, and R. C. Bell, assistant to Mr. Kearful, are assisting.

Lane, editor of the convention daily, said that there was no influence in this country so powerful for good government as fraternal organizations.

GRABS HIS COAT TAILS; HANGS ON

Chicago Spouse Pilots Her Hubby on Eventful Cruise to Jail.

DIDN'T WANT WARRANT

Wild Trip Proves Too Much for Man's Resisting Powers and He Meekly Surrenders—Charged With Nonsupport.

Chicago.—John Peterson, 9534 Wentworth avenue, is locked up at the Harrison police station on a charge of nonsupport, preferred by his wife, Helma Peterson.

That is all there is to that story. If you want to know how John got there, read on.

It was near the noon hour yesterday and the bar in the Postal cafe was well lined with board of trade and railroad men. The top of the bar was comfortably decorated with silver and paper currency, as well as bourbons, rickeys and other rejuvenators.

Suddenly the Van Buren street door flew open and a sturdy Swede of about fifty years came sailing in. Hanging on to his coattails was a woman of about the same age. They were the Petersons. As John sailed and Helma quadroplaned through the hundred feet from the extreme south to the extreme north doors, they did not miss anything nor anybody.

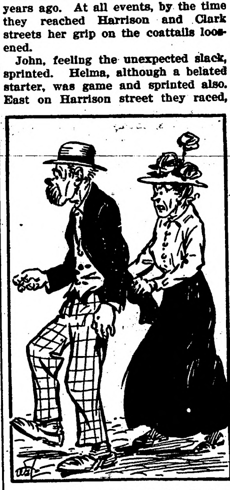
Rejects Cop's Advice.

Arrived in La Salle street, John slowed up and Mrs. Peterson regained her feet. She called a policeman and related the tale of how John had run away and refused to support her.

The officer suggested she get out a warrant for John's arrest. Mrs. Pete said she'd just take Pete to the station herself. She took a fresh grip of the family coattails and told him to march on.

As they proceeded John probably indulged in some of the honeyed words that first led Helma into wedlock 30 years ago. At all events, by the time they reached Harrison and Clark streets her grip on the coattails loosened.

John, feeling the unexpected slack, sprinted. Helma, although a belated starter, was game and sprinted also. East on Harrison street they raced, Helma using some of her surplus wind to address the world at large concerning "Murder!" "Thief!" and "Police!"



Helma Marched Him to the Station.

Her strategy was good. It was only a second or two before John had about 300 men and boys in his wake.

He turned at the first alley and darted through the first open door he found. It happened to be the back door entrance to a South Clark street saloon.

Here there were few standing at the bar. There was no cash in sight and mixed drinks were nix. At the many tables lining the wall, however, were many persons of leisure, with legs stretched out and big schooners of foaming "suds" in hand.

Into this serene and unruffled atmosphere burst John and Helma. Tables were overturned, chairs were broken, the "suds" were spilt, and the "bos" trampled.

John Surrenders.

The passage proved too much for John's resisting powers and he surrendered meekly. Then Helma triumphantly marched him to the station, where she lodged her complaint of nonsupport against him.

When asked to sign the complaint Mrs. Peterson confessed some doubt as what name she should use.

"When I take him for my man," she she said, "he ban Mr. Swanson. Now fallers call him Mr. Peterson. Ay tank maybe it's better I write both."

She did.

Tossed Coin Before Marriage.

San Francisco.—Miss Laurine Michaelson, a Seattle society girl, and Ralph S. Montgomery, an advertising man of San Francisco, have just started on a honeymoon trip to Coronado. The toss of a coin played an important part in their marriage. The couple were undecided as to whether they should wed, so they tossed a coin. Heads were up and the wedding followed.

GIRL COULD NOT WORK

How She Was Relieved from Pain by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer a long time. One day a woman came to our house and asked my mother why I was suffering. Mother told her that I suffered every month and she said, 'Why don't you buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My mother bought it and the next month I was so well that I worked all the month without staying at home a day. I am in good health now and have told lots of girls about it."—Miss CLARICE MORIN, 22 Russell Street, Taunton, Mass.

Thousands of girls suffer in silence every month rather than consult a physician. If girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion would take Lydia E. TO SEEK MISSING EXPLORERS

Russians Who Went to Arctic in 1912 May Yet Be Living.

Apparently hope has not been abandoned entirely of rescuing the members, or some of them, of the Russian polar expeditions which sailed in 1912 in the steam schooner Saint Anna, under command of Lieutenant Brusiloff of the Russian navy, and the motor vessel Hercules, which was in charge of the geologist, M. Bonsanoff. Traces may be discovered in the northern Arctic, in the vicinity of Greenland, and of the North American archipelago.

Through the consul general for Russia appeals are made to all commercial enterprises, navigators, and scientific expeditions cruising in the polar seas and engaged in research work in these regions, and also to the inhabitants along the coastline, to devote efforts to the doscovery of traces of the missing explorers.

Of Military Age.

The number of men of military age in Amerca—including citizens and men who have declared their intention of becoming citizens—is said to be not far from 21,000,000. This estimate is based on the assumption that there has been an increase of approximately 10 per cent in the population of the country since 1910. When that census was taken the total number of male citizens and prospective citizens eighteen years of age and over, but under forty-six, was 19,183,000. Of this number 14,224,000 were native whites, 2,857,000 were foreign-born citizens who had become naturalized or had declared their intention of doing so, 2,052,000 were negroes, and 50,000 were Indians. Men of military age in Tennessee, at the last census numbered 434,641.

OH! MY BACK

A stubborn backache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twinge in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Soon there may be other symptoms; scanty, painful or too frequent urination, headaches, dizziness, or rheumatic pains. Don't wait for these troubles to become serious—use Doan's Kidney Pills at once. You'll find no better-recommended remedy.

ITATIANS BREAK AUSTRIANS THIRD LINE, ROME SAYS

DRIVE ON TRIESTE PROCEEDING SATISFACTORILY ON WHOLE FRONT—LATINS NOW WITHIN THIRTEEN MILES OF CITY.

BERLIN SAYS GERMANS ABANDON TOWNS IN WEST

Leave Berny and Deniecourt to French—Russo-Roumanian Armies, Re-inforced, Take Up Positions on Line Extending to Black Sea—Serbs Defeat Bulgars.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—German troops have abandoned Berny, Deniccourt, and positions between Barleux and Vermandovillers to the French, it is officially announced.

Joined by fresh reinforcesments the Russian-Roumanan armies have taken up positions on a line extending from Rasova through Cobadin to Tuzla on the Black sea, after a three days' retreat, it is officially announced this afternoon.

Break Austrian Lines.

Rome, Sept. 19.—The Italians have broken the Austrian third line in the region of Monfalcone after three days of fierce fighting.

Serbian troops captured Bulgarian first and second lines at the village of Kamakchalen, northwest of Ostrovo lake and near the Serbo-Greek frontier, it was officially announced from Saloniki. Ten machine guns were captured.

On the whole Austrian-Italo front, from Goritz south to the sea, the new Italian drive on Trieste is proceeding satisfactorily. A whole series of Austrian positions, from Oppachiasella southward through Pietra Rossa, have been carried and the Austrians driven back to trench positions in the valleys.

Latins Near Trieste.

Advanced Italian lines are now within less than thirteen miles of Trieste.

Heavy rainstorms have interfered with the progress of the offensive, preventing aerial observation and thus impeding the artillery attack. But despite these obstacles Cadorna's men drove the enemy down the eastern slopes of Hills 144, 208 and several other dominant positions holding up the Italian advance along the Vallone.

WARPLANES ROUT INFANTRY

Used by French to Lead Charge, for First Time.

Paris, Sept. 19.—For the first time in the history of the world the French used an aeroplane squadron to lead the successful attack on the village of Bouchavesnes, north of the Somme.

Twenty fast armored aeroplanes, each mounting three machine guns, one pointing forward and two downward, charged the Germans lines before the French infantry left their trenches.

The French fliers swooped low over the German lines and raked the German trenches with a murderous fire that sent the Germans flying in panic down communicating trenches and in some instances caused machine gun crews to desert their posts.

This new use of aeroplanes proved so successful that it is expected to play a most important part in future operations of the war.

TURKS BEATEN NEAR CANAL

Surprise Attack Successful East of Suez.

London, Sept. 19.—Defeat of the Turks in a minor engagement on the Sinai peninsula, 65 miles east of the Suez canal, was announced officially as follows:

"A mobile column, composed of Anzac mounted troops and a camel corps with artillery left Bir-El-Abd for a reconnaisance of enemy troops west of El-Arish. The column reached an enemy position at Bir-El-Mazar, 65 miles from the canal at dawn Sunday. A sharp engagement followed in which our troop penetrated the enemy trenches at several points and inflicted considerable casualties while our artillery heavily shelled the enemy camps.

"The attack appears to have been a surprise to the Turks."

Son of Premier Asquith Slain.

London, Sept. 19.—Lieutenant Raymond Asquith, son of Premier Asquith, was killed in action on September 15, it is announced. He was the eldest son of the prime minister and a lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards. The official announcement said he was killed Friday.

Russo-Rumanians Retreat 50 Miles.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—Russo-Roumanian forces already have retreated more than 50 miles from the Bulgarian frontier and are falling steadily back on the Cernavoda-Constanza line, where a great battle is expected. In an attempt to relieve the Teutonic pressure in Dobrudja the Russians are attacking in force at several places along the Austro-German front. At only one point, before Halicz, did the Russian attack meet with any success. The Roumanians have abandoned many guns in their hasty flight.

SYMPATHY STRIKE IN GOTHAM; 80,000 LABORERS TO QUIT

TWENTY THOUSAND LONGSHOREMEN FIRST TO RESPOND TO CALL—400,000 WOKMEN MAY BE INVOLVED IN DISPUTE.

TRAINS ARE ATTACKED; BODIES FOUND ON LINES

Police Patrols Established on Roofs—Woman Seriously Hurt by Flying Bricks—Employers Plan to Bring Charges of Criminal Conspiracy Against Leaders.

New York, Sept. 18.—A sympathetic strike which union leaders declare will result in 80,000 laborers leaving their work in support of the striking employees of the traction companies became effective in New York Saturday.

Twenty thousand longshoremen and boatmen were the first to respond to the call. Labor leaders declared that these men would be followed by 25,000 machinists.

By the end of next week, unless there is a change in the traction strike situation, union men predict thousands of others will be out. They will include men employed in all industries contributing to the production of power for the transportation lines and may spread to include painters, carpenters and similar workmen, it is declared.

Plan Conspiracy Charge.

Resolutions on which several New York trade unions voted provide for strikes involving about 80,000 men. These strikes are intended to tie up the traction lines by cutting off their power through shortage of fuel, walkouts of engineers and bringing about strikes among all workmen engaged in labor contributing to operation of the lines. If this does not have the desired effect a general strike of 400,000 workmen—both men and women—in Greater New York is contemplated. To meet this threat employers are said to be laying plans to bring charges of criminal conspiracy sympathetic strikes.

Two Bodies On Tracks.

Police patrols have been established along the roofs of buildings on Ninth avenue, but despite this trains were bombarded with bricks and stones. One woman was seriously injured.

The bodies of two men were found on the tracks of elevated lines. A track walker found the body of a laborer on the Third avenue elevated, but had no idea of how he came to his death. The second body was found badly mangled on the Eighth avenue elevated, and was identified by a health certificate as that of Anthony Ritt, a cook employed by a firm of strikebreakers.

One man was killed and 34 persons were injured in accidents on the elevated and surface carlines within the last 24 hours.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Germany will consider null and void any loans from United States bankers made to Belgium with Belgium railroads as securities, unless previous consent has been obtained from her, German Ambassador Bernstorff has notified the State department.

The text of the State department announcement follows:

"The imperial German government, through its ambassador at Washington, has informed the State department in view of the statement that the Belgium government is trying to contract a loan in the United States and has for this purpose disposed of the Belgium state railroads, any such arrangement made during the German occupation and without previous consent of the German government will be considered null and void by Germany."

Railroad Shares Replace War Stocks.

New York, Sept. 18.—Railroad shares replaced Steel stocks and 'war brides" as leaders in the market boom when the stock exchange opened Saturday. The strength in rails, which came suddenly at the close of Friday's trading, was continued with gains ranging up 1½ points in Great Northern preferred. Erie advanced half a point, Canadian Pacific seven-eighths of a point, Lehigh Valley half a point, Southern Pacific and Reading three-eighths of a point, Union Pacific 1 and N. Y. Central and St. Paul ½ point.

"Ball Lightning."

Some progress is reported in solving the mystery of "ball lightning." An investigator enumerates three significant characteristics of the phenomenon: The body or ball itself, which is able to retain its individuality as it moves through the air, appears to be composed of gas or matter in some novel luminous condition. The balls appear to exist independently of any large electrical intensity, for they have been observed within closed rooms where large electrical fields are impossible, and have also been observed to pass in and out of parallel telegraph wires. They appear to be associated directly or indirectly with large quantities of energy, for they have been observed to explode with violence and have also been seen to fuse the overhead wire of an electric railway. Dr. G. C. Simpson is inclined to connect the phenomenon of ball lightning with the fact that a mass of nitrogen can be put, by means of an electrical discharge, into a state in which it continues to glow for some time after being removed from the electrical field.

To Extinguish Gasoline Fire.

Experiments recently carried out by a British fire prevention committee show that the best way to extinguish a small gasoline fire is to spread over the burning surface a mixture of ten pounds of bicarbonate of soda and twelve pounds of common sawdust. The sawdust need not be wet but must be free from chips and shavings. The theory is that the sawdust, by floating on the burning liquid, excludes the oxygen of the air, and the heat of the flames generates carbonic acid gas, which helps extinguish the fire. Sawdust alone gives satisfactory results, better than sand or similar materials.

An Easy Job.

"Yes, dis is sure an easy job. Biggest cinch I ever had."

The speaker was a well-known character of the New York East side. His well-barbered aspect and immaculate evening attire did not altogether disguise him, and therefore an astonished friend—a newspaper man—was asking him questions. The encounter occurred in a very "refined" and high-priced dancing resort at Brighton Beach, on the border of Coney Island.

"Dey had a couple o' fusses down here, early in de season," continued the East Sider, "an' den dey hired me, see. I gotto wear dis make-up so's to look right. It's all right, when y' git used to it. Dey pay all right, too. Twenty a week an' eats. What do I do? W'y, when I sees anybody I knows I puts 'em out. Dat's all."

An Expert.

"There goes Stivers, the famous beauty specialist."

"One of those chaps who undertake to remodel your face if the style of architecture doesn't suit you?"

"Oh, no. Nothing like that. He selects the chorus girls for a producer of musical comedies."

Time's Revenges.

"The authorities wouldn't let me wear my new bathing costume," said the queen of musical comedy. "They said it was too risky."

"And you had to throw it away?"

"Oh, no. I'll wear it in the show next season. Then they'll pay money to come and see it."

The Bathers.

Patience—Aren't you coming in the water?

Patrice—Yes; how is it?

"Pretty cold."

"I thought so. This bathing suit isn't very warm."

"Where are you going now?"

"Back to the bathhouse to get my fur boa."

Equally Industrious.

"See the spider spinning his web."

"Yes, and see the summer girl hanging out her hammock."

Depends.

The Cynic—Women never get a good grasp of anything.

The Husband—Well, that may be if you get your hair cut short enough.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Bound to Be Heard.

Mr. Flatbush—Did you ever hear a child cry as loud as that one next door?

Mrs. Flatbush—No; but you know the reason, I suppose?

"No, I don't."

"Why, the mother and father are deaf."

Lucky.

"My cousin is to be married on the thirteenth of next month."

"On the thirteenth? I should think she would be afraid of such an unlucky date."

"Evidently you have never seen my cousin. Any day would be a lucky day for her to get married."

Notice of Sale of Bonds

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Village of Holt, Marshall County, Minnesota, has by special election, duly determined to issue its negotiable, interest-bearing coupon bonds in the sum of Six Thousand Dollars ($6,000.00) in denominations of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) each payable in Twenty years from date and bearing interest at the rate of 5 1-2 per cent, payable semi-annually, and that the Village Council of the Village of Holt will meet on the 30th day of September, 1916, at 8 o'clock P. M. at the office of the Village Clerk in the Village of Holt, Minnesota, then and there to open and consider bids for the sale of such bonds; the said Village Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Dated at Holt, Minnesota, September, 11th, 1916.

H. B. Young, Village Clerk, of the Village of Holt, Minnesota.

It is possible that some farmers are not familiar with the perennial sow thistle and are permitting small patches to mature seed and are in this way storing up a great deal of trouble for the future. This must have immediate attention or seed sufficient to sow the entire country will be produced. Usually about July 15 they send up branching seed stems 2 to 4 feet high which bear flowers similiar to dadelions. When these are mature, the seed is distributed by the wind.

The only sure way to eradicate this pest is by concerted action on the part of every farmer whether he be owner or tenant. Prevent seed forming by cutting all green stems early. Eradication methods are similar to those used for quack grass or Canada thistle, namely, thorough summer tillage and the absolute prevention of any green leaves. This may be done by summer fallow or by the the growing of corn and potatoes. If it is kept in mind that plants get their food through the leaves it is easy to see they must die if no leaves are allowed to grow. Failure to kill by this treatment, is the fault of the farmer.

There is upon the statues of Minnesota a weed law which, if enforced rigidly, would in within two years rid the entire Red River Valley of all noxious weeds. This law makes it a misdemeanor to allow noxious weeds to mature seed and provides for the cutting of such weeds by order of the road overseers and the cost added to the taxes of the property. This law does not bind the owner of land alone but also the tenant of such land. It is needless to say that the law has not been obeyed and in many cases has not been enforced by those who have the authority to enforce it.

WE WANT THE AMERICAN FLAG UNSULLIED.

"Now, my friends, we want not only American efficiency in business, in efficiency in the organization of business, in the protection of the factors of human industry and commerce, we want the American flag unsullied and the American name honored throughout the world." —From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

MANANA

Manana, which is Mexican for "watchful waiting," is the Democratic keynote in the campaign. The Wilson drive is to begin "sometime" after September 1; but no definite engagements have been made, it is announced, for him to commence making political speeches. He has tentative engagements to make some Western visits about the middle of September but nothing positive. Plans are being formulated for carrying on a campaign to capture the woman vote of the country, but who will make the speeches on this phase of the controversy has not been determined. It had been expected that Mr. Bryan would speak in the Maine campaign, but it is now believed he cannot do so, but will make some speeches later. And so it goes. Watchful waiting will prevail while, in the meantime, Mr. Hughes is carrying on a positive campaign and arousing the entire Western country.

IN PREPAREDNESS THE ADMINISTRATION HAS FOLLOWED, NOT LED.

In the demand for reasonable preparedness the Administration has followed, not led. Those who demanded more adequate forces were first described as "nervous and excited." Only about a year and a half ago we were told that the question of preparedness was not a pressing one; that the country had been misinformed. Later, under the pressure of other leadership, this attitude was changed. The Administration, it was said, had "learned something" and it made a belated demand for an increased army. Even then, the demand was not prosecuted consistently and the pressure exerted on Congress with respect to other Administrative measures was notably absent.

We are told that the defects revealed by the present mobilization are due to the "system." But it was precisely such plain defects that under the constant warnings of recent years, with the whole world intent on military concerns, should have been studied and rectified. The Administration has failed to discharge its responsibilities. Apparently, it is now seeking to meet political exigencies by its naval program. But it has imposed upon the country an incompetent naval administration. —From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

TRUE INWARDNESS OF THE VERA CRUZ INCIDENT.

In the Spring of 1914, occurred the capture of Vera Cruz. Men from one of our ships had been arrested at Tampico and had been discharged with an apology. But our Admiral demanded a salute, which was refused. Thereupon the President went to Congress, asking authority to use the armed forces of the United States. Without waiting for the passage of the resolution, Vera Cruz was seized. It appeared that a shipload of ammunition for Huerta was about to enter that port. There was a natural opposition to this invasion and a battle occurred in which nineteen Americans and over a hundred Mexicans were killed. This, of course, was war. Our dead soldiers were praised for dying like heroes in a war of service. Later, we retired from Vera Cruz, giving up this noble warfare. We had not obtained the salute which was demanded. We had not obtained reparation for affronts. The ship with ammunition which could not land at Vera Cruz had soon landed at another port, and its cargo was delivered to Huerta without interference. Recently the naked truth was admitted by a Cabinet officer. We are now informed that "we did not go to Vera Cruz to force Huerta to salute the flag." We are told that we went there "to show Mexico that we were in earnest in our demand that Huera must go." That is, we seized Vera Cruz to depose Huerta. The question of the salute was a mere pretext.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

PROMISE TO REDUCE THE COST OF LIVING NOT KEPT.

Our opponents promised to reduce the cost of living. This they have failed to do; but they did reduce the opportunities of making a living. Let us not forget the conditions that existed in this country under the new tariff prior to the outbreak of the war. Production had decreased, business was languishing, new enterprises were not undertaken, instead of expansion there was curtailment, and our streets were filled with the unemployed. What ground is there for expecting better conditions when the unhealthy stimulus of the war has spent its force and our industries and working-men are exposed to the competition of an energized Europe?

It is plain that we must have protective upbuilding policies. —From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

WANTS AN EFFECTIVE SYSTEM OF RURAL CREDITS.

We propose to promote by every practicable means our agricultural interests, and we include in this program an effective system of rural credits. We favor the wise conservation of our natural resources. We desire not only that they shall be safeguarded, but that they shall be adequately developed and used to the utmost public advantage.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Mesdames Huseth and Oien entertained a number of ladies Friday afternoon at the home of the former, in honor of Mrs. S. B. Nichols of Mason City Iowa, a sister of Mrs. H. B. Young. The afternoon was delightfully spent in conversation, games, music and song, when the ladies were invited to a most delicious three course dinner. After pertaking of the repast, a stunt was pulled off which caused considerable merriment. Fine instrumental music and a duet rendered by both hostesses followed, which was appreciated by all. As the ladies dispersed to their separate homes, each one felt they had been royally entertained by two who were ideal entertainers.

Announcement

To the Voters of Marshall County:-

I have served as your Representative in the Legislature one session and am now asking for SECOND term. I am asking this on my record, which contains nothing I desire to conceal.

In the 1915 session I opposed all extravagant appropriations and advocated larger ones than those made in but two cases, viz: for state aid to rural schools, and for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

My re-election would result in your Representative in the 1917 Legislature being given better committee, positions and having greater prestige and influence than would be accorded to a new man. With this advantage I would be able to render you better service and be able to secure the passage of any legislation in which you might be specially interested.

The pledges I made you in 1915 have been faithfully kept, as an examination of my record will fully prove.

Soliciting your support and your votes at the election on November 7, 1916, I am,

Respectfully yours,
C. L. STEVENS.

Fourteen thousand and sixty-three officers and men of the regular army and National Guard started out of San Antonio for the biggest practice march in the history of the American army, an eighty-three-mile "hike" to Austin. Eight days will be consumed in the march to Austin and eight days in return.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Stillwater. — Stillwater was host to the twenty-fifth annual state conference of charities and correction, which held a four-day session here.

Bemidji. — Nymore, a village of 1,500, will become a part of Bemidji October 7 if the local aldermen abide by a vote with which they have adopted the necessary ordinance on first reading.

Lake City. — Despondent because of ill health, Mary Schmauss, 26 years old, took her life by shooting, at her home in this city. She was found in her room with a bullet wound in her heart, when her mother investigated a revolver report.

Moorhead. — A bullet that crashed through a window into the F. L. Getty home here, narrowly missing a member of the family and flattening against a wall, is believed to have been fired by a property owner guarding his apple orchard against a band of boys.

St. Paul. — The apple crop in Minnesota is only 40 per cent of the average this year, according to the reports of dealers, and what apples there are in scattered sections. Hot weather and the ravages of bugs early in the spring are blamed for the poor crop.

St. Paul. — October 9, the anniversary of the Chicago fire in 1871, has been set apart by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist as fire prevention day. An organized effort in cities and villages and on farms is to be made at this time to reduce the fire hazard by a general clean-up.

Minneapolis. — County commissioners of Minnesota are said to have been converted in considerable numbers to a belief in concrete as a desirable bridge material. C. E. Nagel, deputy state highway engineer in charge of bridges said the bridge-testing demonstration at the state fair had convinced many.

Moorhead. — With drainage work amounting to $59,382.97 accomplished the past summer and plans laid for an additional $114,623.33 worth, Clay county's 1916 record in this respect bids fair to stand as a record throughout the state. Appropriations have been made for the work planned bringing the year's total up to $173,806.30 in funds voted.

Duluth. — Odin Halden, St. Louis county auditor, has completed certification to the state of wolf bounties. About 1,000 of the pirates of the wilds were killed in St. Louis county during the last 15 months and approximately $15,000 was paid out for bounties. Last winter the deep snow made it comparatively easy to kill wolves.

St. Paul. — Minnesota spent $6,325,278.84 on its thirty state institutions in the last fiscal year, and more than a third of that sum went to the University of Minnesota, according to figures compiled in the office of A. C. Gooding, state treasurer. The statement comprised all appropriations, including those for buildings, maintenance and the like.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Fires at the Foster Robe & Tanning company plant and the Campbell Livery company stable both starting within a few minutes of each other, shortly after midnight, resulted in the loss of one life and damages estimated at $50,000 to the livery stable, its contents and adjoining buildings, and $40,000 to the tanning plant buildings and contents.

Stillwater. — The forty-second annual session of the St. Croix Valley Old Settlers' association was held at the Sawyer home here, where during the past years the same association has gathered in ever-decreasing numbers. The oldest settler of them all, A. L. Larpenteur, St. Paul, who came to Minnesota in territorial days, Sept. 15, 1843, was among the first to arrive.

Virginia. — The strike on the Mesaba iron range has been declared off by Industrial Workers of the World. The votes of local unions in Biwabik, Aurora, Chisholm, Hibbing and at other points have made it impracticable for other striking miners to continue the fight. No vote was taken in Virginia, according to the I. W. W., and it is not felt it will be necessary to take any further votes.

Rochester. — "The ministry is a poor place to make money. The people see to it a preacher does not get more than enough for a living," declared Bishop Charles B. Mitchell of St. Paul, in an address before the Minnesota conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here. "The ministry has a tendency to develop selfishness, against which the true minister must fight," he said.

International Falls. — Charges of nonfeasance against two more Koochiching county commissioners, not mentioned in the first allegations of illegal expenditures of county funds, aggregating $200,000, which resulted in suspension of the county auditor and three other commissioners, pending investigation, have been filed with Governor Burnquist, together with a petition asking that they likewise be suspended.

St. Cloud. — Vladimir Miller of Minneapolis was slightly wounded here in attempting to escape from the state reformatory with a fellow inmate, Tony Blotti of Duluth. The boys made their dash for liberty by jumping to the outside grounds from an icehouse on which they were working.

St. Paul. — The death rate for the whole state was lowered from 10.8 in 1914 to 10.1 in 1915. "If the death rate of Minnesota can be kept down despite the fact that it daily is developing an older population," Dr. Bracken said, "it will be another feather in the state's cap as a health resort."

NEW HEALTH CODE PLANNED BY BOARD

COMMISSION NAMED BY GOVERNOR TO RECOMMEND LAWS ORGANIZES AT CAPITOL.

REPORTS OF BREAK DENIED

Lieut. Col. Murphy Says Rumors of Dispute Over Command Are Unfounded—Will Not Send Battery Boys Back to Border.

St. Paul.

The commission of nine members recently appointed by Governor Burnquist to recommend any needed legislation on the subject of public health organized at an initial meeting at the Capitol and deferred until needs are ascertained, the decision on the scope of its work—whether it will recommend an entirely new state health code as was done recently in New York or merely supplementary legislation on separate subjects.

Governor Burnquist was requested to ask the United States Public Health service to detail an expert on organization to make a survey of state health administration in Minnesota.

This action followed a statement by Dean E. P. Lyon of the medical college at the University that he had heard reports that "the general impression is the state health department is not all that it should be."

Dean Lyon was chosen chairman; Dr. W. L. Beebe, president of the Minnesota Public Health association, vice chairman, and Dr. I. J. Murphy, secretary of that association, and also secretary of the commission.

At the next meeting to be called by the chairman, members will present for discussion health needs peculiar to their various lines of work.

"Governor Burnquist's idea in appointing this commission was that it should look over the immediate field to find out what health needs are now most urgent in Minnesota," Dr. Murphy said.

"It may be that provision for visiting nurses in country districts, regulations for sanitation in camps, and perhaps other like subjects may develop that a reorganization of the state health work and its machinery may be found desirable."

Mr. Houk suggested the importance of legislation on the subject of occupational or industrial diseases.

"Minnesota is compensating workmen for accidents, but where one is killed or injured there are nearly 100 contracting industrial diseases," he said.

Denies Reports of Break.

Reports that a dispute as to the superiority of command between Colonel George E. Leach and Lieutenant Colonel W. J. Murphy of the First field artillery, was likely to result in sending four members of Battery F back to the border have been indignantly denied by Colonel Murphy.

The four men were members of the headquarters detail of the field artillery stationed at Camp Llano Grande. Because they were university students and formerly members of Battery F, Colonel Leach ordered them to report at the headquarters company at Camp Bobleter, in command of Colonel Murphy. Monday, the day after the battery returned to Fort Snelling, Colonel Murphy transferred them to Battery F, so that they might be mustered out of the service in time to return to the university.

"There has been no question raised on the possibility of my sending the boys back to the border," said Colonel Murphy. "The order transferring them to Battery F has been issued, and they will be mustered out with their battery. There is no dispute between Colonel Leach and myself relative to the validity of Colonel Leach's command, and I am only too anxious to join him on the border and deliver to him the responsibility of the First battalion."

Seek Advice on Grain Act.

O. P. B. Jacobson of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission; R. T. Emerson, chief grain inspector, and E. R. Rehnke, chairman of the state grain appeal board, are in Washington to confer with officials of the Department of Agriculture as to the enforcement of the recently enacted federal grain grading and inspection law. They will meet with the Federal officials in order to become fully informed as to what changes, if any, may be required in the present methods of handling the grain coming under their jurisdiction. Commissioner Jacobson expects to go to Baltimore later and attend the National grain dealers convention.

Schmahl Answers Charge.

Secretary of State Schmahl, on his return from a drainage inspection trip, made an investigation of the complaint filed by A. A. Trovaten of Barnesville, who says he has been unable yet to get an automobile dealers' license and tags applied for Dec. 28, 1915. Mr. Trovatan has filed his complaint with Governor Burnquist, and asks for Mr. Schmahl's removal for "nonfeasance" in office. "Our records show that Mr. Trovaten's application was received and sent to the factory," said Mr. Schmahl.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

The cruellest lies are often told in silence. A man may have sat in a room hours and not opened his teeth, and yet come out of that room a disloyal friend or a calumniator.—R. L. Stevenson.

FOR SPECIAL OCCASIONS.

A dainty dish for a luncheon is prepared as follows: Boil two pairs of sweetbreads in salted water till tender. Remove and drop in ice water, take off all the skins and gristle and dice them; add a can of diced mushrooms or an equal quantity of fresh ones; melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and stir smoothly into it one tablespoonful of flour. To this add one cupful of stock or a cupful of scalded cream. Allow to boil and then put in the meat and mushrooms. Cook a minute or two then add two well beaten egg yolks. Set away to cool, then form into rolls, dip in egg and crumbs and fry a delicate brown. Serve in nests of watercress.

A thin slice of cheese placed on thin sliced buttered bread in the form of a sandwich and sauted in a little olive oil is a good sandwich to serve hot with a salad.

Breast of Chicken With Virginia Ham.—Take two slices of uncooked chicken breast, two thin slices of ham, six tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of cream with paprika and salt. Place the chicken in a hot chafing dish or an omelet pan with two tablespoonfuls of butter and a little cream. When partly cooked turn them over and place on the top of each a slice of ham, add another tablespoonful of butter and a little more cream. When this is partially cooked, turn them over again, still keeping the ham on top; add the remaining butter and cream, with a generous seasoning of salt and paprika; turn until well cooked, always keeping the ham on top. When well done serve a piece of chicken and a piece of ham to each person. Increase the amount for any number of people. Serve with sweet potatoes.

John Chinaman will tell you that you have never tasted really fine flavored chicken until you have seasoned it with ginseng, just a bit of the expensive root is sufficient, giving the meat a delightfully different taste.

Tomatoes Stuffed With Ripe Olives.—Scoop out the tomatoes and fill with stuffed olives that have been stoned, a few tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Fry a small onion until brown; add the pulp of the tomatoes, the bread crumbs and olives; fill the tomatoes and bake. Cover with buttered crumbs to brown and serve hot.

Friends in this world of hurry,
And work and sudden end,
If a thought comes quick, of doing
A kindness to a friend,
Do it that very moment,
Don't put it off, don't wait,
What's the use of doing a kindness
If you do it a day too late?

WAYS TO TREAT A PEACH.

To prepare peaches for canning or preserving, or in fact almost any dish, remove the skin by plunging them in a wire basket into boiling water for two minutes, then the skins will come off easily.

Sweet Pickled Peaches.—To seven pounds of peaches allow 3¼ pounds of white sugar, one quart of not too sharp vinegar, two ounces of cloves and two ounces of stick cinnamon. Peel the peaches and insert one or two cloves in each. Boil the sugar and vinegar with the cinnamon for five minutes, then put in the peaches. When the fruit is tender, remove it carefully from the sirup and put it into jars. Boil the sirup until reduced to nearly half and pour over the peaches.

An old-fashioned method of preserving peaches was to fill the jars with the whole fruit, peeled and covered with sugar; bury three feet in the ground below the frost.

Spiced Peaches.—For six pounds of fruit use three pounds of granulated sugar and one pint of vinegar. Into each peach insert two cloves. Put into the sugar and vinegar one ounce of cinnamon, which should be in a cheesecloth bag, and boil. When the mixture is boiling hot, place the peeled fruit in it and cook until tender. Put into jars and seal at once.

Peach Marmalade.—This may be made from the imperfect fruit, using three-fourths the weight of the fruit in sugar and half a pint of water to each pound of sugar. Make a sirup and add the peaches cut in small pieces. Boil until the mixture is thick, for about three-quarters of an hour. Put in jars or tumblers.

Canned Peaches.—Peel and halve the peaches, removing the pits. For four quarts of peaches use three pints of water and a pint of sugar. When the fruit is ready, drop into the boiling sirup and cook gently for ten minutes; seal at once. Peaches canned whole have a richer flavor than those with the pits removed, yet many prefer them so.

It is not enough to believe what you maintain, you must maintain what you believe; and maintain it because you believe it.—Whately.

PERFECT PRESERVES.

A dainty preserve to use with meats in winter or as a sauce for ice cream is:

Preserved Watermelon Rind. — Peel the rind from half a melon, rejecting all the pink. Chop it fine or put it through the meat grinder. Place it in a bowl over night, sprinkling with salt over each layer. In the morning draw off the liquid and freshen with cold water; washing it two or three times. Place in a preserving kettle with an equal measure of sugar and let it cook slowly for three hours.

Fruit Preserve.—Peel and cut into small pieces apples, pears and plums, equal parts; use a pound of sugar for each pound of fruit and cook until of a marmalade consistency. Take from the fire and add a half cupful of blanched and shredded almonds.

Pickled Plums or Pears.—Take nine pounds of fruit and six pounds of sugar, two quarts of vinegar and an ounce of cinnamon. Boil the vinegar and spice together, pour it over the fruit, which has been previously placed in a large crock or bowl, and let it stand for 24 hours. Pour it back over the fruit in the bowl, repeat the process for five mornings, the last time cooking the fruit about 15 minutes. Put into the jars and cover while hot.

Tomato Honey.—Select ripe yellow tomatoes, the small pear-shaped ones are preferred; weigh the tomatoes after scalding and peeling them; cut them in pieces and put into a preserving kettle with the grated yellow rind of one lemon; cook for 20 minutes, press through a fine sieve, then strain. Measure the liquor and to each pint add one pound of sugar and four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Boil a moment and seal.

Tomato Figs.—Select six pounds of perfect pear tomatoes, ripe, smooth and yellow. Weigh three pounds of sugar and sprinkle the sugar in layers over the carefully peeled fruit. Stew very gently until the sugar is absorbed, then lift them carefully to dry on plates in the sun; sprinkle with sugar several times while drying. When perfectly dry pack into jars with a layer of sugar between each layer of figs.

Anyone who is prepared for defeat would be half defeated before he commenced.—Admiral Farragut.

Can anything be so elegant as to have few wants, and to serve them oneself.—Emerson.

FOR THE EPICURE.

One tires of vanilla and lemon for flavoring, and anything new or a variety is always welcomed. For those who do not enjoy almond flavoring alone the combination of one teaspoonful of almond extract to six of lemon is a good combination. When using the mixture, shake well and use the teaspoonful, or a few drops, depending upon the dish.

Maplene is a flavor well liked; so is caramel and coffee flavor. The mocha-caramel flavoring is a combination of the two. It is prepared as follows: Put a cupful of granulated or light brown sugar into an iron frying pan, stir until it begins to melt, then lower the heat and continue cooking until it is a rich brown in color, but be careful not to burn it; then add a half cupful of hot, very strong coffee, stir for a moment until dissolved; when cool, put it in a bottle. It will keep for weeks.

This may be used for any number of dishes. For frosting for cake mix powdered sugar with cream until quite stiff, then add enough of the mocha caramel to color well, and a pinch of salt.

Mocha-Caramel Butter.—Wash the salt from half a cupful of butter, cream it and add one and a quarter cupfuls of confectioner's sugar, then cream again. Beat in one beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of mocha-caramel and one or two tablespoonfuls of strong coffee. To make this, use cold coffee instead of water. Put this butter in a glass jar and set on ice.

Small sponge cakes may be hollowed out and filled with this butter, garnishing the top of each with a candied cherry; put on the lid and frost, if so desired, or serve with fresh fruit, plain. Hot waffles with mocha butter is a delicious combination. There will be any number of ways of using this good flavor.

Any white cooky mixture may be made most tasty by adding a little cooked fruit of dates, prunes or figs on the center of a cooky; place another on top and bake. These are especially well liked by the young folk.

Fried chicken or pressed chicken, boiled tongue, roast beef, are all meats that are well liked for outdoor meals.

HUSBAND OBJECTS TO OPERATION

Wife Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Des Moines, Iowa.—"Four years ago I was very sick and my life was nearly spent. The doctors stated that I would never get well without an operation and that without it I would not live one year. My husband objected to any operation and got me some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and commenced to get better and am now well, am stout and able to do my own housework. I can recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who is sick and run down as a wonderful strength and health restorer. My husband says I would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. BLANCHE JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Before submitting to a surgical operation it is wise to try to build up the female system and cure its derangements with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it has saved many women from surgical operations.

WASTE INVOLVED IN ILLNESS

Serious Matter to Which Far Too Little Attention Has Been Given by the Country.

A spectacular event often attracts public attention, while routine matters of larger magnitude go unoticed. For instance, the whole country was recently acutely conscious of a question of wages amounting to $50,000,000. It was an important question and the sum involved was vast.

But take another question involving wages—the question of the illness of workers. Public health bulletin No. 76 of the public health service of the United States estimates on the basis of inquiries here and abroad that the average industrial worker loses about nine days a year on account of illness. This amounts to a loss to the workers of the country, it is estimated, of $800,000,000 a year. If by better sanitation and safety devices the time could be reduced one-half, there would be a saving of $400,000,000. Yet it is exceedingly difficult for health authorities to arouse interest in the question, simply because it concerns everyday matters that lack the excitement of a threatened tieup of transportation.

MAIL CENSORSHIP PLEAS HEARD BY BRITISH ATTACHE

SIR RICHARD CRAWFORD, IN NEW YORK, TAKES UP CONTROVERSY WITH BANKERS AND EXPORTERS.

OFFICIALS OF U. S. STATE DEPARTMENT IGNORED

Show Great Irritation When Questioned About Conferences According To Word From Washington—Reply To Wilson's Note Mailed.

New York, Sept. 26.—Sir Richard Crawford, commercial attache of the British embassy, is in New York to hear pleas of leading American bankers and exporters for relaxation of the British mail censorship. He arrived from Washington.

Arrangements for the conferences, which will continue for two days, were made by J. P. Morgan, fiscal agent of the Allies, who made a quiet trip to Washington last week and spent most of the day in conferences with the British ambassador and the British commercial attache.

According to word from Washington, state department officials showed great irritation when questioned about the conferences. It was emphatically stated that the state department had not been consulted about the move.

No Statements Made.

During his stay in Washington Mr. Morgan did not call at the state department. No statement was forthcoming from the embassy at Washington indicating whether any promises had been made to Mr. Morgan that the British government will entertain any proposals to lift the censorship restrictions.

It is understood Mr. Morgan and his allied group of bankers will bring the most vigorous pressure to bear on the British government, through its diplomatic representative to relax some of the oppressive features of the censorship. In this the bankers and the exporters who will join them in the effort, will act from self-interest, as they have felt the pinch of the censorship the hardest.

Note Not Received.

The mail note was reported a week ago to have left London by mail. Unofficial forecasts said it refused to meet this government's demands for a change in policy. This note has not reached the United States, British officials said, and it probably will not be here until the conferences here are concluded, so that there will be time for the British government to hear the eleventh hour plea of the bankers and exporters before placing Great Britain's official view before the state department.

REDUCTION IN STATE TAX LEVY ANNOUNCED

New Minnesota Rate Based On Estimated Total Assessed Valuation of $1,560,000,000 In 1916.

St. Paul, Sept. 26.—State Auditor Preus has just announced a reduction of .45 mill in the new state tax levy, equivalent to about $750,000 on the assessed valuation of all the taxable property in the state—a sharing of a huge melon among the people of Minnesota.

Last year the state tax rate was 4.1 mills in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, exclusive of the constant one mill "county school tax," and 4.15 mills elsewhere in the state. The new rates are 3.65 mills in the three cities and 3.7 mills elsewhere.

The .05 mill difference is for teachers' pensions under the new state pension law. It is not paid in the three large cities which operate their own pension funds.

The new state rate is based on an estimated total assessed valuation of $1,560,000,000 of taxable property as against $1,491,964,548 in 1915.

10 CENT BINDER TWINE SEEN

Yucatan Sisal Trust Forces Up Prices of Prison Product.

St. Paul, Sept. 26.—Minnesota farmers will have to pay at least 10 cents a pound for sisal twine for binding next year's crop, according to members of the state board of control, who said that at 8¾ cents the state has sold its twine this year too cheaply. In fact, the state now is unable to buy any twine at all from the "Reguladora," as the Yucatan sisal trust is called, and has been forced to stock up to an unusual extent with the higher priced manilla fiber.

Abandon Hope of Saving Ship.

Portland, Me., Sept. 26.—All hope of saving the steamer Bay State of the Eastern Steamship corporation which struck on the rocks off Cape Elizabeth during a dense fog Saturday morning on her regular trip from Boston to Portland has been abandoned. She is pounding to pieces in the heavy ground swell. Fourteen members of the crew, who remained on the steamer while there was a possibility of it being saved, were taken off on the breeches buoy. All the passengers were safely transferred.

TREVINO "CAUGHT NAPPING BY VILLA" GEN. BELL CLAIMS

COMMANDER DECLARES INFORMATION REGARDING ATTACK ON CHIHUAHUA CITY IS ACCURATE.

BAKER DOES NOT REGARD REPORT AS CONCLUSIVE

Arredondo Asserts Resurrection of Bandit Chief Is Not True—Assault by Combination of Juntas Antagonistic to De Facto Government.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 25.—"I am confident that my information regarding Villa's attack on Chihuahua City is accurate, therefore, I do not see that any further investigation is necessary on my part," was General Bell's comment on being informed that he had been invited by General Trevino to send a special agent to Chihuahua to ascertain the facts.

"The truth is," General Bell continued, "General Trevino is up against a fact that cannot be explained away. He was caught napping by Villa. A soldier has an excuse for getting whipped, but he has no excuse for being caught off his guard. The result is he finds he must make extreme claims to clear his reputation as a soldier.

"As the result of further investigation my account of the Chihuahua City battle, as communicated to my superiors, has been, in my belief, absolutely confirmed. I stand by it and have no desire to carry the matter further."

Report Not Conclusive, Baker Says.

Washington, Sept. 23. — Whether Francisco Villa again has become a factor in the military situation in Northern Mexico remained a question of considerable doubt despite nearly a week's effort by the State and War departments to ascertain what part, if any, the bandit chief took in the attack last Saturday on Chihuahua City.

Secretary Baker let it become known during the day that War department officials do not regard as conclusive the report transmitted by Brigadier-General Bell, saying Villa led the Chihuahua City attack in person.

"The resurrection of Villa is not true," said Ambassador Arredondo. "The attack on Chihuahua City was made by a combination of juntas antagonistic to the de facto government."

The President's speech will mark the opening of his "porch campaign." Several Democratic leaders are planning to be present.

HUNT FOR GIRL'S ASSAILANT

Posses Search Countryside Near Bemidji—Teacher May Recover.

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 25.—With prospects for her recovery greatly improved, Miss Olga Dahl, the rural school teacher of Goodhope township, Itasca county, who was attacked and shot twice late Wednesday near her school, was resting easily following an operation in which two bullets were removed from her head.

Out over the countryside were flickering torches and lanterns, marking the progress of the posse of more than 200 men searching for the young woman's assailant. The report that she probably would recover was greeted with cheers.

TO SOLDIERS OF MINNESOTA

Governor Burnquist Dedicates Monument at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 25.—In memory of the soldiers of Minnesota who died during the war between the states a monument has been dedicated at the National cemetery here. Addresses were delivered by Governor Burnquist of Minnesota and Judge D. M. Greer of this city, a former Confederate soldier.

The exercises were attended by members of Confederate associations and the school children of the city.

Aviators In 56 Fights In Day.

Paris, Sept. 25.—French aviators took part in 56 air battles Saturday, bringing down 10 enemy fliers, it was officially announced. On perhaps no other day of the war has there been such great aerial activity. Flying nearly 100 miles beyond the German border Flight Warrant Officer Baron bombarded the important works at Ludwigshafen in the Palatinate on the Rhine and at Mannheim, across the river from Ludwigshafen. The official report says the bombardment caused a large fire.

FOUND FLAW IN DEFENSE

Ingenious Excuse of Man Who Had Imbibed Too Freely Did Not Satisfy Policeman.

When Police Captain Patrick Costello met a man on the main street of Dobbs Ferry loudly and joyfully disturbing the peace of the historic hamlet, he said: "My friend, you're drunk, and I'll have to run you in."

The stranger drew a tattered Bible from his pocket and, leading the captain to the nearest street lamp, read, with fervor: "First Timothy, five, twenty-three: 'Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.'"

The captain scratched his head and thought. Finally he said: "What were you drinkin'?"

"Well," replied the stranger, "the last one was beer."

"Then," said the captain, "you lose on a technicality, and it's come with me."

So the stranger, who said he was John Hasch of the Bowery, New York, was locked up to await the morning session of the police court.—Cincinnati Times Star.

Critic Shies.

Theodore Dreiser, the novelist, was talking about the public's literary taste.

"The public," he said, "likes trash. Put good stuff before it and it shies like the critic at the 'Players.'

"A poet smiled affectionately on this critic, thrust a ten-cent cigar in his hand and said:

"'Let me show you the proofs of my new volume of poems.'

"'No, no,' said the critic, rising hastily and grabbing up his hat. 'No, no. I don't need proof. Your word is sufficient.'

"And he rushed off without finishing the two inches of beer that still remained in his glass."

Flight of Imagination.

"I wouldn't marry Claude Sniggins if he were the last man in the world," remarked the haughty girl.

"No," replied Miss Cayenne. "If he were the last man in the world, he'd probably be so much in demand that you wouldn't even get a chance to propose to him."

Not Stationary.

Lady—Mary, I should be delighted if I had as much hair as you.

Servant—Well, ma'am, you can borrow it any time you like!

Like Master Like Man.

"No such thing as stuck-uppishness about her," says the loyal servitor, defending his mistress against the criticisms of the acquaintance who is inveighing against class discrimination and the attitude of the wealthy toward the working element.

"Well, but don't she order you around?"

"Sure she does. But, Lord, she bawls me out just the same as what she does her husband. She don't make no difference between me an' him, even."—Judge.

Disgraceful Behavior.

The little girl who had been instructed not to talk in church because it was very rude was very thoughtful after the service, and when questioned she said in a horrified voice:

"Oh, mamma! I think it was just awful for our minister to show off so rudely in church—he talked all the time."

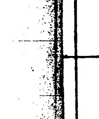
Who is first in bed at your house at night? You will bet it is father.

Never bow to the inevitable before you meet it.

Why That Lame Back?

Morning lameness, sharp twinges when bending, or an all-day backache; each is cause enough to suspect kidney trouble. Get after the cause. Help the kidneys. We Americans go it too hard. We overdo, overeat and neglect our sleep and exercise and so we are fast becoming a nation of kidney sufferers. 72% more deaths than in 1890 is the 1910 census story. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands recommend them.

A Montana Case



"Every Picture Tells a Story."

John S. Woosley, Bozeman, Mont., says: "For years I had kidney complaint with a tired, depressed feeling. My head ached. I had dizzy spells and the kidney secretions were scanty. I was in severe pain and had rheumatic twinges all through my body. I have been practically free from these ailments since I used two or three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Decimal System for England.

According to the British and Colonial Printer and Stationer, there is now a well-organized movement in Great Britain to secure the immdiate adoption in that country of the decimal system of coinage and weights and measures.

The handicap in securing new foreign trade, with nine-tenths of the world on the decimal basis, is the prime argument in the propaganda, and it is pointed out that in the even keener trade competition after the war this added handicap may prove ruinous.

Had Cause for Wrath.

"I am not surprised that it put the man out of temper," said Magistrate Fordham to a woman who applied for process against a man who smashed her window because a phonograph was playing in her house at ten o'clock at night.

"It is a most vexing and troublesome noise," added his worship, "and it is a wonder he did not smash 20 windows."—London Globe.

Explained.

"How do you happen to miss your way so often when you go touring?"

"That's easily explained," replied Mr. Chuggins. "It's due to the kind of car I bought. They give you a joke book with it instead of a road map."

Great Britain Growing In Area.

Great Britain is growing in area. During the last 35 years about 6,640 acres have been lost by coast erosion, while 48,000 acres have been reclaimed from the sea.

Lure of the Rural.

"Can you find servants who will go into the country?"

"Yes, but only when we're living in the city and the picnic season is on."

NO PROTECTIVE MEASURE FROM DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS.

"You couldn't get a protective measure out of a Democratic Congress sectionally organized any more than you could get a revival meeting out of a disorderly house."—From Mr. Hughes' Speech at Chicago.

PREPARE FOR THIS.

When we contemplate industrial and commercial conditions we see that we are living in a fool's paradise. The temporary prosperity to which our opponents point has been created by the abnormal conditions incident to the war. With the end of the war there will be the new conditions determined by a new Europe. Millions of men in the trenches will then return to work. The energies of each of the now belligerent nations highly trained, will then be turned to production."—Charles E. Hughes.

"WORDS, OR DEEDS?"

"If anything in this campaign is real it is that we are now facing the question whether we want words or whether we want deeds; whether we want that which is written and spoken, or whether we want American action in the interests of the American people, worthy of the American name, maintaining the American honor, and buttressing the prosperity of the United States."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

MR. WILSON HAS HAD NO MEXICAN POLICY.

"We cannot let the American spirit fall so low that, lapped in the luxury occasioned by a foreign war, we shall see American lives sacrificed without a determination to prevent it and to make the American name honored and respected wherever our flag flies. The trouble with this administration is this:—I don't think it ever has had a policy in Mexico worthy of the name."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

MR. HUGHES OPPOSED TO FOOLISH GOVERNMENT.

"I have no respect for the idea that because democratic government is a government of the people, by the people and for the people it is a government of the foolish, for the foolish and by the foolish."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

"I don't care, if I am elected President, what becomes of my personal political fortunes. I propose that we shall have no more if I can stop it, of these 'kiss me and I'll kiss you' appropriations in Congress."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

Now that Mr. Hughes knows he has been nominated for president, we may wait patiently for a few days longer to hear what Mr. Wilson has to say about it.

Obituary

On Saturday Sept. 23rd., this community was very much grieved when the news was spred that Mrs. Martin Nelson had passed away to the great beyond. About two weeks ago she was taken sick with cancer of the stomach and was committed to the hospital at T. R. Falls where death occurred early Saturday morning. Mrs. Nelson was born in Wisconsin Jan. 5th. 1868 and was married in the spring of 1910. They have since then made their home in verious places in East Valley and Mud Lake townships. Mrs. Nelson was a very kind and loving woman who was loved by all who knew her.

While here she has made a great number of friends who regret her departure very much. Sincere sympathy is extended to the grief stricken husband, Martin Nelson besides a number of other relatives. May the consolation of all who mourn be, that she has gone to claim a higher and more perfect life on the other shore where there shall be no more sorrow or sufferings.

Funeral services were held from the Synod church at Holt on Monday afternoon, Rev. M. B. Ordahl officiating, and the remains laid to rest in the Holt cemetery.

Peter M. Ringdal, Register.

The only sure way to eradicate sow thistle is by concerted action on the part of every farmer whether he be owner or tenant. Prevent seed forming by cutting all green stems early. Eradication methods are similar to those used for quack grass or Canada thistle, namely, thorough summer tillage and the absolute prevention of any green leaves. This may be done by summer fallow or by the the growing of corn and potatoes. If it is kept in mind that plants get their food through the leaves it is easy to see they must die if no leaves are allowed to grow.

Sale of School Lands

Sale Of School And Other State Lands

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 25, 1916.
State of Minnesota,
State Auditor's Office,

Notice is hereby given that on November 25, 1916, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the office of the County Auditor at Warren, Marshall County, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands, which have reverted to the State by reason of the non-payment of interest.

TERMS of SALE

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price is payable to the County Treasurer at the time of sale. The unpaid balance is payable at any time in whole or in part on or before forty years from the date of sale at an interest rate of four per cent per per annum, due on June 1st of each year; provided that the interest can be paid at any time within the interest year without penalty. In effect, this means that the interest money may be paid any time between June and May thirty-first without penalty.

Appraised value of timber, when so stated, must be paid for in full at the time of sale.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

All mineral rights are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

Lands on which the interest has become delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale, to the actual purchaser. Such lands are listed under the caption, "Delinquent Lands."

No person can purchase more than 320 acres of land as provided by the General Laws 1905; provided, however, that state lands purchased previous to 1905 are not charged against such purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraisers' reports showing quality and kind of soil are on file in this office. List giving legal descriptions of land to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the Immigration Commissioner at St. Paul, and the County Auditor at above address.

J. A. O. PREUS,
State Auditor.

And There Are Others.

School Notes

Quite a number of the older pupils who have been absent during the first part of the term commenced school on Tuesday.

The attendance for the first month of school has been very good.

Miss Cora Hansen visited school on Monday morning. Miss Hansen taught at Holt some time ago and was glad to see the improved schoolrooms.

Miss Esther Werner and Ruth Knutson were visitors at our school on Tuesday afternoon.

There are three pupils enrolled in the Freshmen class, but more are expected to commence.

Tilda Nyberg was taken sick in school on Thursday. The pupils miss her very much.

Minnesota Peat May Prove Very Valuable

"Dried and powdered peat is equal in value for the generation of producer gas to low grade coals like lignite, and about half as valuable for that purpose as the high grade bituminous coals" said Prof. Peter Christianson of the University of Minnesota, in an address before the annual convention of the American peat society recently.

"The great value of Minnesota peat, however, is the ammonia by-product. It has been shown by chemical analysis that the Minnesota peat is higher in ammonia contents than the peat from any other field. The utilization of peat as a fuel, however, has been retarded owing to the large capital required to establish a suitable plant. The time may come, however, when the Minnesota product will be used for fuel and for its chemical constituents."—Ex.

Stevens is advertising in all the county papers and is receiving good support. Malberg only advertises in one paper. Wonder if he dont care for any one else's support?

There is upon the statues of Minnesota a weed law which, if enforced rigidly, would in within two years rid the entire Red River Valley of all noxious weeds. This law makes it a misdemeanor to allow noxious weeds to mature seed and provides for the cutting of such weeds by order of the road overseers and the cost added to the taxes of the property. This law does not bind the owner of land alone but also the tenant of such land. It is needless to say that the law has not been obeyed and in many cases has not been enforced by those who have the authority to enforce it.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Pay By Check

The custom is becoming more general among farmers and others of paying their current bills by check on the local banks. This plan has many advantages over the old way of carrying a pocket full of currency and silver when settlements were made with creditors. It is not only much more convenient, but more satisfactory to all concerned.

A bill paid by a check on the bank is thereafter beyond dispute, as the check constitutes the best receipt that can be had. It is not generally the custom among farmers to ask for a receipted bill when they settle an account, and oftentimes in the past estrangements have arisen between good citizens as a result of disputing over some small account which one man said had been paid and the other man denied. This was generally due to the absence of any method of account keeping and in most cases both parties to the dispute were honest in their belief. All this could be avoided by paying bills by check.

Another and perhaps a greater advantage is the fact that this custom places one in closer touch with the local bankers and gives him a standing as a business man. A man who has even a small balance to his credit in his local bank is in a much better position to ask for a favor when he needs one than a man who has no account at all. The banker recognizes such a man as one with business ideas, with whom he will the more readily enter into negotiations on any matter that may be pending.

There is another feature to this proposition which is considered of importance, and that is the encouragement of local enterprises. If all the people in the community followed the custom of depositing their money in the local bank and then paid their bills by check a showing which the bank is able to make to the world at large is very much better than if this custom were not followed. The best advertisement which any town or community can have before the world at large is prosperous and healthy banks. Any stranger visiting there is quite likely to ask about the deposits which the local banks carry and gauge his estimate of the prosperity of the community thereby. If he finds that the banks are in a profitable and thriving condition he quite likely concludes that the entire community is also prosperous. If he is looking for an investment he is much more favorably impressed than if the banking institutions seemed to be struggling along and eking out a mere existence.

It is a mistake to think that the banker does not like to be bothered with small accounts. He is just like any other business man. He caters to the small depositors as well as to the man who carries a large account. It is the many small depositors that make up a large portion of his gross business.

Trade in Holt and save money.

S. S. Kolden and Alfred Anderson went to the markets Saturday with two cars of cattle.

Backed by Senators Nord and O'Neill it seems that the matter of peat land development is certain to receive consideration by the next state legislature. It is proposed that an experiment farm be established on the peat lands, and there is no question but such an institution would be a wise investment. Both senators are firm believers in the ultimate availability of peat lands for agricultural purposes and have devoted much time to the study of the proposition.

Give Them Good Winter Quarters

The summer and fall selling season for hogs is just about over. Of course, you will keep some of the best stock to make a start next year.

See that the hog house is comfortable for these money-makers during the cold winter months. Good buildings are a short-cut to greater profit whether you raise fancy or ordinary stock.

And don't forget that fall is the ideal season to make a start on any farm building—whether it's a new barn, new corn crib or machine shed. It will pay you to do your repair work, too.

A few cents now saves dollars next year.

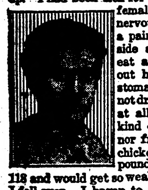
AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. Barlow, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely.

It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Shoes Protect Linemen.

A number of linemen have lost their lives because the shoes they wore were not properly protected from transmitting electric current. A special lineman's shoe has been patented recently which will completely overcome this risk. Its sole is composed of two separate layers of rubber which lessen the possibility of blowholes through which current enough to produce shock might be carried. Tests prove that this new shoe will prevent the passage of a current of at least thirty thousand volts without in any way affecting the wearer.

RUMANIANS CROSS DANUBE; BULGARIA INVADED BY ENEMY

MOVE MAY THREATEN REAR OF TEUTON ARMY IN DOBRUDJA AND FORCE RETIREMENT.

RUSSIANS RENEW DRIVE ON GALICIAN CAPITAL

Vienna Reports Great Battle For Lemberg Is Developing On Wide Front—Austrian Counter-Attacks Repelled—Gains For Czar's Armies Admitted

Berlin, Oct. 3.—Rumanian troops have invaded Bulgaria for the first time since Rumania entered the war. An official statement from the war office announced that a Rumanian column succeeded in crossing the Danube south of Bucharest, gaining a footing in Bulgarian soil. Crossing in force would threaten the rear of the Teutonic army in Dobrudja and force its retirement.

Renew Lemberg Drive.

Vienna, Oct. 3.—Russian troops have renewed their drive toward Lemberg. A great battle is developing along a wide front in Galicia.

The fighting is particularly stubborn along the river Nariauvka, northeast of Halicz, and also on the right bank of the Zlota Lipa river. Austrian counterattacks have been repelled. Gains for the czar's armies are admitted in a statement issued by the war office as follows:

Czar's Gains Admitted.

"Front of Archduke Francis: Fighting in the Carpathians is slackening. Southwest and south of Brezezany the enemy attacked with strong forces the Turkish troops operating between the Zlota Lipa and the Potuory railway station. The Russians gained some meters of ground.

"Front of Prince Leopold: Opposite General Boehm Ermolli's army the enemy attacked our positions north of the road from Brody to Zlochoff, but were completely repulsed. At one spot three and at another seven attacks were shattered. South of the road one regiment. A counterattack is progressing favorably and has regained the greater part of the lost trenches.

PROMPT ACTION ON "LID" CASES ASKED OF COURT

"Indian Country" Problem Involves 17,000 Square Miles of Territory In Minnesota.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Early determination by the supreme court of whether railroads may be required to transport liquor into a large section of Minnesota, in which the government is seeking to prohibit the traffic on the ground that it is "Indian country" is requested in an appeal just placed on file.

The court has been asked to advance for hearing a test case of a Milwaukee brewing company against the government and the Great Northern Railway company, which refused shipments of beer.

The territory involved, formerly the Chippewa Indian reservation embraces 17,000 square miles, an area equal to the four states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Delaware and Connecticut, and has 500,000 white inhabitants. It includes the towns of Brainerd, Grand Rapids, Cohasset and Bemidji.

THREE WOMEN IN DEATH PACT

Found Lifeless in Rocking Chairs in Ohio Town.

Lancaster, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Never willing to be separated in life, three spinsters, two of them sisters, lay together in death in the "old Smetters' mansion." The three women were found dead sitting in rocking chairs in the mansion's living rooms. They are the Misses Alice and Agnes Smetters, 54 and 48 years old, and Miss Mary Stretton, 30, a neighbor and bosom friend.

The viscera of the three women were sent to the state health department at Columbus, where chemical examinations for poison will be made. Authorities were impressed by the theory that the three friends might have entered into a suicide pact, fearing that some agency as yet unknown to their friends might separate them.

Chemistry Student Earns $10,000,000

New York, Oct. 3.—How a poor student of chemistry, who came here from Germany in 1868, attracted the attention of Rockefeller, became chief chemist of the Standard Oil company and massed a fortune of $10,485,823 is disclosed by appraisal of the estate of the late Herman Frasch. Frasch developed a sulphur mine in Louisiana which had passed through the hands of four companies that were unable to make it pay as the sulphur lay 800 feet below the surface. The stock is worth $12,003 a share.

GREEK FLYING CORPS JOINS ALLIED FLEET

Entire Military Division Ready to Battle Teutonic Allies, Athens Dispatches Announce—Bulgarians Claim Success Near Serbian Frontier.

Athens, Oct. 2.—The entire Greek flying corps has joined the Allied fleet.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—Teutonic forces have inflicted a severe defeat on the Roumanian troops that occupied Hermannstadt, former capital of Transylvania, it is officially announced.

By an encircling attack, the Teutons drove the Roumanians southward. Part of the first Roumanian army was annihilated, the remnants fleeing in disorder.

Desperate Fighting on Somme.

London, Oct. 2.—Desperate fighting has been in progress along the northern end of the Somme front where the British recently made important inroads upon German positions south of the Ancre.

London reports heavy counter-attacks by the Germans near the Stuff redoubt and the Hessian trench and declares that a division of the new British army acquitted itself most creditably in beating off the Germans.

Claim Serbs Are Beaten.

Further down the line toward the Somme the French have resumed their attacks, pushing further the wedge into the German lines north of Rancourt. The new French advance, according to Paris, was scored by means of hand grenade operations.

In Macedonia the Bulgarians report a success in the Kaimakcalan region near the Serbian border, where a trench of the main Serbian position was captured after a Serbian attack had been repulsed. No important changes in the situation elsewhere in Macedonia or in Dobrudja are announced.

Petrograd reports that there have been no important happenings either on the Russian front or in the Caucasus.

CAPTURE 92 SQUARE MILES

Allies Gains on Somme Exceed Germans' Verdun Progress.

Grand Headquarters of the French Armies, Oct. 2.—In the first 13 weeks of the Somme offensive the French and British have captured more ground than has been taken by the Germans in more than six months of battling at Verdun.

A survey of the results of the great Allied drive, halted temporarily by a terrific downpour of rain, shows that the Allies have reconquered 285 square kilometers of French territory (about 92 square miles), exceeding by 15 square kilometers, the territory gained by the Germans at Verdun.

WILSON IS CALLED DICTATOR

President Arraigned by Minnesota's Senior Senator.

Sunburg, Minn., Oct. 2.—United States Senator Knute Nelson, sounding the keynote of the Republican state campaign in Minnesota here, criticised the legislation enacted under the present administration and declared that "no president, since the days of Jackson, has so sought to dominate Congress and to subrogate it to his will and to dictate the legislative policy of the country as President Wilson."

General Strike Move Unpopular.

New York, Oct. 2.—Officials of the Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees have begun the distribution of a $55,000 strike benefit fund among the streetcar men here on strike since Sept. 6. Each striker was to receive $5. The fund came from the headquarters of the association and the organizers said a similar amount will be distributed each week. Efforts to organize a general strike in support of the carmen suffered a check when 900 brewery workers returned to work.

Want Warships for Relief Work.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Use of a United States warship to transport American relief supplies to Syrians is sought from the Navy department by Red Cross officials and Secretary S. T. Dutton of the American committee on Armenian and Syrian relief.

Mexican Robbers Get $100,000.

Mexico City, Oct. 2.—The police of Mexico City believe that with the capture recently of Ramen Canteli they have broken up a band of burglars and robbers which has taken loot said to amount to more than $100,000 from the prosperous residence districts.

The band was known as "The Grasping Hand," from the black imprint of a hand which always was left somewhere about the place where they operated. It is believed many persons have not reported their losses for fear of vengeance.

Enrollment of German Universities Shows Increase in Number of Students During War.

War has not made much difference with German universities. On the books of the 22 universities of the German empire there was an enrollment during the last half-year of 53,800 students, against 52,500 in the first winter of the war, and 61,200 in the last half-year before the war.

All students serving in the army have continued their connection with the university, and of the 43,800 carried on the books of the university last winter there were 43,000 in the ranks of the soldiers, or 82 per cent.

Of the total enrollment 4,800 were women and 1,400 were foreigners. The University of Warsaw, reopened after the Germans and Austrians captured the city, has already 1,125 students, men and women, desiring the honor of associating their names with this famous old institution of Poland, which had been suppressed by the Russians.

SAYS PRISON MUST HELP RESTORE MEN

CHAIRMAN OF BOARD OF CONTROL TELLS WHAT STATE DOES FOR PRISONERS.

GOVERNOR OFFERS A REWARD

Seeks Information That Will Lead to Arrest and Conviction of Man Who Attacked Itasca County School Teacher.

St. Paul.

"The prison should be a place of social change. The offender must feel not that the mighty structure of society is against him, but its forces are directed toward helping and restoring him." This was the declaration of Charles E. Vasaly of St. Paul, chairman of the State Board of Control, in an address before the state conference of charities and corrections, in session here.

He outlined some of the things Minnesota is doing for its prisoners as follows:

Factories which have produced 250,000,000 pounds of grain binding twine since their establishment in 1891, at a saving to farmers of $7,500,000 and earnings to prisoners varying from 15 cents a day to $1.50.

Machinery plants which last year manufactured 16,000 machines, including 3,700 binders and 5,000 mowers, and which provide means of learning the trades of molder, blacksmith, painter, machinist and woodworker.

Reward For Assailant's Capture.

Governor Burnquist has offered a reward of $250 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the man who attacked and twice shot Miss Olga Dahl, rural school teacher, near her school in Goodhue township, Itasca county, last Wednesday. This money is available from a special "reward" fund of $2,000, appropriated by the last Legislature. The issuance of the proclamation was the first business to receive the attention of the executive on his return from a trip to Little Rock and Memphis.

While the Governor was having the proclamation prepared the following telegram signed by Cyrus M. King, was received from Deer River.

"All Northern Minnesota rural folk in dread while murderous ravisher of Olga Dahl is at large. We beg you to offer $1,000 reward for his apprehension. Expert sleuths necessary."

Because of the limited fund at his disposal, Governor Burnquist decided to let the reward stand at $250, at least for the present. He did not indicate whether he had any intention of increasing it if renewed efforts failed to cause the capture of Miss Dahl's assailant.

Pouring Rain Halts Guards.

After a week of test drills, maneuvers and Federal inspections, the Minnesota brigade at Llano Grande led by Gen. Resche and his staff, started on a fourteen-mile test hike in the pouring rain. Saturday afternoon, usually a rest period for soldiers, was taken as the most practicable time, and shortly after noon the entire three regiments and the field artillery, equipped completely for a field campaign and carrying sixty rounds of ammunition, left camp. Bad roads, made almost impassable by heavy rains, caused the supply wagons so much trouble that the maneuver was abandoned after the long column had moved about three miles.

Doings of Last Few Days Throughout Minnesota Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

Bemidji.—The jury in the case of Mike Haley, charged with entering state land and cutting timber, disagreed last night and was discharged.

Marshall. — J. O. Thompson, proprietor of a local restaurant, shot himself through the head, following an attempt to kill his wife. Mrs. Thompson was not seriously injured. Thompson's death was instantaneous.

Cedar Mills. — Albert Kruger, a harvest hand, is dead from infantile paralysis after a few days' illness. He had contracted the disease while working in a threshing crew. There is one other case in this vicinity.

St. Paul. — The yield of potatoes in Minnesota this year will be about half a normal crop, according to a statement given out by the state immigration department and based on reports from the principal tuber-growing districts.

Winona.—Thwarted in attempts to take her life, one by poisoning and a second by shooting, Mrs. Godfrey Schultze succeeded in drowning herself in the waters of Crooken Slough, two miles north of Minnesota City, where her body was found.

Le Sueur Center. — Following indictments by the grand jury, Sam Campbell, farm hand, charged with having attacked a 7-year-old girl near New Prague, June 17 last, pleaded guilty before Judge Morrison in district court here and was sentenced to the state prison in Stillwater for life.

St. Paul.—Governor Burnquist has just signed orders suspending Commissioners John Bursack and M. A. Ulvedahl of Koochiching county pending investigation of charges of nonfeasance against them and appointed to the respective vacancies so caused C. P. Ellingson of Northome and Gust Holm of Ericksburg.

Duluth.—Completion of the official count showed that the proposal for an additional 3-mill tax assessment for street improvements was defeated nearly two to one in the special referendum here. The tax increase proposal was the outgrowth of June elections resulting in the voting out of saloons and $170,000 annual revenue.

St. Cloud. — Glenn S. Rogers of St. Cloud spent twelve days in the United States army. An effort is being made to procure a pension for him. Rogers enlisted in the regulars at Chicago and was sent to Jefferson barracks in Missouri. He remained there only twelve days when he was released because he had contracted bronchial pneumonia.

St. Paul.—Joseph T. Mannix, state printer, is out to save the state money. He has written to heads of state departments requesting them to "boil it down" as much as possible in preparing annual or biennial reports this fall. He hints that "expenditure for reports can be reduced if unnecessary verbiage and useless detail are eliminated."

Fergus Falls.—The potato crop in this county is about half as large as it was last year, but will bring in a third more money. Last year the average yield was 200 bushels per acre, and the potatoes sold at from 18 cents to 35 cents during the marketing season. This year the average probably is 100 bushels per acre, but marketing began at $1 per bushel.

Blackduck. — Travel-stained, and showing signs of long exposure, a man who refused to give his name arrived in this place with a rural mail driver and, according to Deputy Sheriff Frank Carson, who placed him under arrest, he answers the description of the assailant of Miss Olga Dahl, the Round Lake school teacher, in every particular. The man has refused to give his name and will give no information regarding himself except to say that he walked nearly all the way from Cass Lake.

Crystal Bay, Minn., Sept. 28.—Sixty days in the county jail is to be the punishment of Harold Chapman, Spring Park, Lake Minnetonka, who confessed that he threw the dead body of his infant child into Lake Minnetonka and did not notify the authorities of the child's death. Chapman was arraigned before Justice Fred White at Crystal Bay late Tuesday. He pleaded guilty to unlawfully burying the child's body and was sentenced. The child's body has not been recovered.

Minneapolis. — Writing from "somewhere in France" to his brother, the Rev. T. W. Graham, pastor of Andrew Presbyterian church, Lieutenant John R. Graham of the Ninety-sixth brigade, British field artillery, sent news that his command, which had been in action on the Somme front during July and had later been put to rest, had been ordered into action at Arras, "which is ever so much quieter than where we were. It will not seem like war at all." That was in August. Mr. Graham has just received news that his brother had died Friday from wounds suffered September 16 at Arras.

St. Paul.—In practically every city and village in the state having a firemen's relief association, the 1909 law relating to investment of funds of such organizations as interpreted by Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith is being violated, State Public Examiner Andrew E. Fritz asserts.

Grand Rapids.—Three suspects held at the Itasca county jail here in connection with the search for the assailant of Miss Olga Dahl, Goodhope township school teacher, were released after Round Lake farmers, who had seen the assailant, had declared none of the trio was the man wanted.

ACT WENT BIG UNTIL ENCORE

Actor's Assisted Exit Is Surrounded by Rather Violent Circumstances.

GETS THE BOSS' GOAT

Saloonkeeper Borrows Twenty-Five Cents to Give Panhandler Who Comes Back Next Day and Demands Remainder of Dollar.

New York.—The hurried battering to and fro of a squeaky swinging door and the gentle thud of an actor en route from the bar to the pavement are sounds not unusual on, in and around Broadway—especially if it is a bad actor. The other day, however, an assisted exit was surrounded by such violent circumstances that a rather large audience gathered.

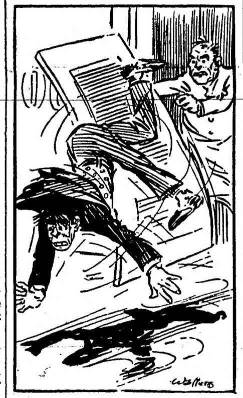
In this case the door was removed entirely, the actor went further, landed harder and bounded higher than usual and the remarks of the sole owner of the premises were nothing short of exquisite in their variety and intensity.

Violence Ensued.

Inquiry within the damp room brought forth no satisfactory explanation. The customers had noticed a well-dressed young man walk over to the owner and say about five words to him. Then the violence which ended with the young man's excursion out into the open began. This being so, there was nothing to do but to ask the boss about the mystery. He was approached as he sat having his shoes shined as if in an effort to begin life anew after a moment of horror. He told all—freely.

"Last night," he said, in a totally unconscious imitation of Lew Fields, "that actor came in here and began acting. He said he had just come back from the West and that he was as flat as a cookie and needed a dollar. I told him I needed a dollar. I told him I hadn't even the sport of going West and that I needed a dollar bad. I'd accept fifty cents even.

"Well, then he began acting. He rolled his eyes and asked if I was going to let him stay in the street and asked me where was my heart and if I had a soul, and, if so, what was the idea.



Landed Harder and Bounded Higher.

Worried the Boss.

"I couldn't get rid of him. Every time I waited on a customer he ran along in front of the bar parallel with me and asked me how I could act that way and if he hadn't been a good fellow when he had it. I never knew him when he had it. Well, anyway, he pleaded, demanded and talked about that dollar until one o'clock in the morning. When I started home he started after me.

"Up at the corner he asked me, throwing his arms out wide, if I realized that there was one above looking down on me and watching what I was going to do about the dollar.

"Well, I can stand just so much. I didn't have a cent in my pocket, but I called to a hackman I know and asked him if he would let me have a quarter. He gave it to me and I gave it to that blockhead and told him that if I ever saw his face again I would knock him from under it. I bid him good-by forever in this life."

The boss paused.

"Well?" was the natural inquiry, "what happened today?"

The boss hissed through his teeth.

"He came in and asked me for the seventy-five cents I owed him."

Aged Pastor Elopes.

Fruitvale, Cal.—Marriage has no terrors for Rev. James Sunderland. After being married four times in church, with a gathering of friends on hand each time to congratulate him at the completion of the ceremonies, he eloped with Miss Mary Ham and was married quietly in Monterey.

Rev. Mr. Sunderland is eighty-two years old and his bride, Miss Mary Ham, is seventy-five years old.

The bride is the sister of his fourth wife. She has been keeping house for him since her sister's death some time ago.

J. B. Alkenbrack
Holt Minn,

For Representative

To the Voters of Marshall County:-

I have served as your Representative in the Legislature one session and am now asking for SECOND term. I am asking this on my record, which contains nothing I desire to conceal.

In the 1915 session I opposed all extravagant appropriations and advocated larger ones than those made in but two cases, viz: for state aid to rural schools, and for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

My re-election would result in your Representative in the 1917 Legislature being given better committee positions and having greater prestige and influence than would be accorded to a new man. With this advantage I would be able to render you better service and be able to secure the passage of any legislation in which you might be specially interested.

The pledges I made you in 1915 have been faithfully kept, as an examination of my record will fully prove.

Soliciting your support and your votes at the election on November 7, 1916, I am,

Respectfully yours,
C. L. STEVENS.

To Clean Copper.

Copper articles that have become discolored can be made to look new again by rubbing them with lemon dipped in salt and afterward rinsing in clear hot water and polishing with a soft cloth.

Bayberry Shrub.

The plant from which the bayberry candle is made is the shrub Myrcia cerifera, a plant which is common in New England, and especially along the coast of Maine. The bayberry shrub is not closely related to the Myrcia acris, or West India bay, from the leaves of which bay rum is obtained by distillation.

Aluminum.

Aluminum cooking utensils are a delight until they turn dark inside—then they are abomination. It is easy, however, to keep them bright. Either wash them in soda and water or boil tomato parings in them; cuttings from rhubarb and the water it was washed in alone will often do the work. So will lemon and table salt.

Impedimenta.

I cannot call riches better than the baggage of virtue; the Roman word is better, impedimenta; for as the baggage is to an army, so is riches to virtue; it cannot be spared nor left behind, but it hindereth the march; yea, and the care of it sometimes loseth or disturbeth the victory; of great riches there is no real use, except it be in the distribution; the rest is but conceit.—Bacon.

The only sure way to eradicate sow thistle is by concerted action on the part of every farmer whether he be owner or tenant. Prevent seed forming by cutting all green stems early. Eradication methods are similar to those used for quack grass or Canada thistle, namely, thorough summer tillage and the absolute prevention of any green leaves. This may be done by summer fallow or by the the growing of corn and potatoes. If it is kept in mind that plants get heir food through the leaves it is easy to see they must die if no leaves are allowed to grow.

Sale of School Lands

Sale Of School And Other State Lands.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 25, 1916
State of Minnesota,
State Auditor's Office,

Notice is hereby given that on November 25, 1916, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the office of the County Auditor at Warren, Marshall County, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the State by reason of the non-payment of interest.

TERMS of SALE

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price is payable to the County Treasurer at the time of sale. The unpaid balance is payable at any time in whole or in part on or before forty years from the date of sale at an interest rate of four per cent per per annum, due on June 1st of each year; provided that the interest can be paid at any time within the interest year without penalty. In effect, this means that the interest money may be paid any time between June and May thirty-first without penalty,

Appraised value of timber, when so stated, must be paid for in full at the time of sale.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

All mineral rights are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

Lands on which the interest has become delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale, to the actual purchaser. Such lands are listed under the caption, "Delinquent Lands."

No person can purchase more than 320 acres of land as provided by the General Laws 1905; provided, however, that state lands purchased previous to 1905 are not charged against such purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraisers' reports showing quality and kind of soil are on file in this office. List giving legal descriptions of land to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the Immigration Commissioner at St. Paul, and the County Auditor at above address.

J. A. O. PREUS,
State Auditor.

The Submarine.

To get a submarine ready for diving water is admitted into the "ballast" tanks. To keep the vessel on an even keel water is taken into the "trimming tanks." By means of these tanks the vessel is made to sink or rise, and to preserve the right position.

Impedimenta.

I cannot call riches better than the baggage of virtue; the Roman word is better, impedimenta; for as the baggage is to an army, so is riches to virtue; it cannot be spared nor left behind, but it hindereth the march; yea, and the care of it sometimes loseth or disturbeth the victory; of great riches there is no real use, except it be in the distribution; the rest is but conceit.—Bacon.

To the Voters of Marshall County

Legislative District;

Having been nominated by the people at the Primary election in June as a non-partisan candidate for Representative for Marshall county, the voters kindly giving me the highest number of votes cast for that office. I do hereby respectfully announce my candidacy for Representative at the General Election to be held Nov., 7, 1916. I have no special promises to make, but I will look after your interests and the interests of this district without fear or favor.

No special interests have ever had any influence over me, and there will be none in the future.

I respectfully ask for your influence and vote at the General Election, Nov. 7th.

Very Sincerely Yours,
P. B. MALBERG.

Ringbo School Notes.

Roy Rude entered school Thursday Oct. 5th.

Hazel Davidson started on her school career again Monday after a weeks illness. We are all glad to have her back.

Miss Jensin Udstrand visited school Monday.

Committees of Order were organized in the school, and the duty of each committe is as follows: To examine the desks, Keep hall and library in order, Dust erasers, Carrying water, Sweeping the room at noon, Wash blackboard, Looking after the waste basket, Keep the drinking cups clean, and Carrying in wood. If each committee does not perform their duties faithfully and well, there are laws in the organization governing the same.

John Engstrom has been hauling out lumber for a hog house.

Don't forget to read the state amendments in this weeks paper.

S. S. Kolden has been hauling lumber out to his farm and Olaus Rodahl is there making some repairs on the buildings.

The Yeoman met last night in Kolden's hall and voted on several new members, besides initiating some.

Messrs A. L. and Arvid Carlson autoed to Warren Tuesday [illegible]

[illegible] from several months sojourn at Hillsboro, N. D.

Mrs. Momberg, of Alvarado, came Wednesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Johnson.

Mrs. John Olberg of Thief Lake and Mrs. Rosten of Maple Lake came Tuesday to visit Mrs. S. S. Kolden for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Chase left yesterday by the auto route for Carroll, Ia.

Nordlum & Peterson, of Middle River, harvested $150.00 worth of potatoes to the acre.

Water has been found in the village well at a depth of 210 feet.

H. J. Olson's crew of men are working on the electric pole line this week.

Christie & Cutten are the new publishers of the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

M. T. Strom brot. us a sample of potatoes one day last week which he raised on his farm. They are big ones and show that potatoes can be raised successfully here.

A. H. Huseth has bought a barber shop in Glentana, Montana, and expects to move his family there next summer.

Mahon & Lucian of Thief River Falls, came Tuesday and have wired several buildings for electric lights. H. J. Olson's men have also wired several buildings here. These two crews could probably wire all the houses in Marshall county by the time the blue prints come for the engine and dynamo.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

For Representative

To the Voters of Marshall County:-

I have served as your Representative in the Legislature one session and am now asking for SECOND term. I am asking this on my record, which contains nothing I desire to conceal.

In the 1915 session I opposed all extravagant appropriations and advocated larger ones than those made in but two cases, viz: for state aid to rural schools, and for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

My re-election would result in your Representative in the 1917 Legislature being given better committee positions and having greater prestige and influence than would be accorded to a new man. With this advantage I would be able to render you better service and be able to secure the passage of any legislation in which you might be specially interested.

The pledges I made you in 1915 have been faithfully kept, as an examination of my record will fully prove.

Soliciting your support and your votes at the election on November 7, 1916, I am,

Respectfully yours,
C. L. STEVENS.

[illegible] Them Good Winter Quarters

The summer and fall selling season for hogs is just about over. Of course, you will keep some of the best stock to make a start next year.

See that the hog house is comfortable for these money-makers during the cold winter months. Good buildings are a short-cut to greater profit whether you raise fancy or ordinary stock.

And don't forget that fall is the ideal season to make a start on any farm building—whether it's a new barn, new corn crib or machine shed. It will pay you to do your repair work, too.

A few cents now saves dollars next year.

WILSON DECLARES BERLIN MUST KEEP PROMISES TO U. S.

MAKES BRIEF STATEMENT TO AMERICAN PEOPLE ON GERMAN SUBMARINE ATTACKS OFF NEW ENGLAND.

INTERNATIONAL LAW NOT VIOLATED, DANIELS SAYS

Secretary Makes Preliminary Report—Officials Express Anxiety That Submarine Might Cause Loss of Lives of Americans.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 10.—"The German government will be held to the complete fulfilment of its promises to the government of the United States," President Wilson said in a statement to the American people, upon the German submarine attacks off New England.

The statement follows:

"The government will of course first inform itself as to all the facts that there may be no mistake or doubt so far as they are concerned and the country may rest assured that the German government will be held to the complete fulfillment of its promises to the government of the United States.

"I have no right to question their willingness to fulfill them.

"WOODROW WILSON."

U-Boats Gave Notice.

The German submarine activities in the steamship lane off Nantucket complied with all rules of international law before acting, Secretary Daniels informed President Wilson in a preliminary report. Daniels was expected to make a formal report later in the day. The President will make no statement until complete evidence regarding the submarines is in his hands.

Daniels reported early advices received show no loss of life as a result of the attacks and the submarines gave full notice of their intention before striking any of the vessels.

Officials Anxious.

Anxiety was expressed by officials here, however, that in an effort to attack more vessels a submarine might cause the loss of American lives or possibly sink an American vessel.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was due to confer with the President during the afternoon for the primary purpose of presenting a letter from the German emperor on Polish relief. It was taken for granted that the President would ask what information the ambassador has regarding the intentions of the submarine.

FARGO GIRL TAKES POISON

Attempts to End Life When Inheritance Is Lost.

Minneapolis, Oct. 10.—Suffering from poison which she took early Monday when told that $10,000 left to her by her parents had been swept away by an investment in mining stock, Miss Hazel Allen of Fargo is a patient at the city hospital. The girl refused to tell the names of her friends or on whose advice she had invested her money.

Days and possibly weeks of mental torture are ahead of the girl, for corrosive sublimate, the poison she took, is uncertain and may cause her death even after she has apparently recovered her health, she was told. She declared this would make no difference.

Two Balloons Come to Grief.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 10.—Two balloons of six which ascended here Saturday in an endurance race have come to grief. The St. Louis No. 1 piloted by William F. Assman of St. Louis, split while sailing at an altitude of 14,000 feet and came to earth near Macon, Mo. Mr. Assman telegraphed that a landing was made without accident. Dr. L. E. Custer, representing the Aero club of Wichita, Kan., reported that the Wichita landed near Coweta, Okla, 25 miles from Muskogee.

U-Boats Demoralize Stock Markets

New York, Oct. 10.—The stock market was demoralized at Monday's opening, standard issues as well as war stocks breaking 5, 10 and even 12 points at the outset on enormous liquidation. The break was attributed to the German submarine activities and their possible consequences. The opening was in a whirl of excitement. United States Steel sold at 109 to 112, off 4 to 7 points, on a sale of 30,000 shares. Baldwin Locomotive was down 9; Crucible, 8, and Marine preferred was down 7 to 11½ points.

Craft Is Man-of-War and Crossed Ocean in 17 Days—Russian Troops Win Victory Over Mackensen—Allies Campaign Against Monastir Developing.

U-BOAT CROSSES ATLANTIC.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 9.—A German submarine has just arrived in the harbor here. This announcement was made by the navy radio state here. The submarine U-53 is from Wilhelmshaven. She crossed the ocean in 17 days. The U-53 is a man-of-war, flies the flag of German navy and has a single gun mounted on her deck.

London, Oct. 9.—A fresh Rumanian expedition is said to have crossed the river Danube into Bulgaria, according to a wireless message from Rome. Field Marshal von Mackensen, the German commander, is said to have sent troops to attack the Rumanian force, but without success.

London, Oct. 9.—Acting in conjunction with the British, French, Russians and Serbians, Italian troops have taken the offensive in the great allied drive in the Balkans. They are attacking in the region of Butkovo, east of the Vardar, according to an official statement from Paris.

On the allied left wing the Serbs have pushed their advance guards forward into Belavoda valley, French troops have occupied German positions.

Allies Nearer Monastir.

The Allies' campaign against Monastir in southern Serbia is developing rapidly from both the south and the east. While allied forces have pressed to within not more than a half dozen miles from Monastir on the south, the Serbians have advanced northwest from Kaimakcalan on the western slopes of the Nidje ridge. Here they are reported by Paris to have reached the valley of the Vela Boda, which empties into the Cerna at a point almost directly east of Monastir and about 16 miles distant from that city.

Slavs Beat Mackesen.

Russian troops have won a victory over Field Marshal von Mackensen's German-Bulgar-Turkish army in Dobrudja, occupying the villages of Karabaka and Besaul and also the heights between, it is officially announced. The enemy counter-attacked but was repulsed with losses. German troops made four consecutive counter-attacks in an effort to recapture ground lost to the Russians on the Ceniuvka and Zlota Lipa rivers in Galicia, says the official statement, but each time the attackers were repulsed with heavy losses.

FIRST GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES WON BY BOSTON

Red Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers Clash Before Crowd of 42,000 Thousand Spectators.

Braves Field, Boston, Oct. 9.—First honors go to Boston. The Red Sox won the first clash of the world series here Saturday, playing before a crowd that filled every niche and cranny of the big field. The score by innings:

Innings—	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Brooklyn ...	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	4	5	10	4
Boston ...	0	0	1	0	1	0	3	1	.	6	8	1

Some 42,000 or more spectators filled every seat in the expansive reaches of the stands and then overflowed into a large space temporarily fenced in for standing spectators in deep right centerfield. Speculators reaped the proverbial harvest and then a little more on grandstand tickets.

ROUMANIAN LOSSES 50,000

Berlin Claims Ill-Trained Troops Now Oppose Teutons.

Berlin, Oct. 9.—The Roumanians have lost 50,000 men in the last two weeks of fighting in Transylvania, where they have suffered two decisive defeats at the hands of Field Marshal von Falkenhayn. Budapest dispatches asserted that some of the crack Roumanian regiments have been entirely wiped out.

Loss of Life in Crash Now Feared.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 9.—Reports of the exact magnitude of the disaster in Hampton Roads in which the steamer City of Norfolk, loaded with excursionists, crashed headlong into the British tramp steamer Hawkhead, were awaited with anxiety here. The Hawkhead sank 15 minutes after the collision. Although preliminary reports received here late indicated no loss of life, fear is felt there may have been loss in transferring the passengers off the City of Norfolk to passing steamers.

MACHINE TO PEEL PEACHES

Industry in California Will Be Revolutionized by Remarkable Invention, Growers Predict.

There has been quietly and secretly installed at the California Peach Growers' Plant No. 9, which is better known as the Fresno Home Packing company's plant, a peeled peach machine which promises to revolutionize the peach industry and make it profitable to market peeled peaches at the low price of 8 or 9 cents a pound.

With the advent of the peeled peach machine, which can put out a perfect peeled peach at less cost than can be done by hand, it is predicted that there will be a big demand for the peeled peaches, and this will form one of the important outlets for the peach industry.

The People Pay.

The people of the United States are paying war prices for a great many articles of everyday use because those articles are not produced at home. In other words, they are having a practical demonstration at so much per of the Democratic free-trade idea. The idea is that we ought to buy where we can buy cheapest. It may have worked in the old days, but it doesn't work now, because all the cheap sources of supply are closed. If the old Republican idea of protecting industry in our own country had been followed consistently for the last ten or fifteen years we should have had factories busy in the production of all these things, and our people would be able to purchase them at reasonable prices. Right now the mistake of abandoning the theory of protection is costing the people of this country more than it costs any European nation to do its part in the war.—Yakima Republic.

Chinese Trade and the War.

United States trade with China increased in 1915, although foreign business men throughout the world suffered a loss of more than $100,000,000 in their exports to that country last year. China has for years been in an unsettled condition, yet the country's foreign trade mounted higher and higher until the European war, when the trade was crippled. Wherever a railroad has been built in China new trade opportunities have sprung up and new markets have been created. On the upper Yangtze river in western China, a rich inland empire in the Chungking consular district, having a population of upward of 75,000,000, no adequate transportation facilities exist, and no railway connection whatever.

EVEN THE PREMIER IS HIT

Only Allowed Six Gallons of Gasoline a Month by New Restrictions.

In England the private motorist is no longer allowed to use gasoline freely. So much is needed for military purposes that the new restrictions are severe. High and low are being treated alike, and it is, perhaps, some consolation to the ordinary motor car owner to know that the prime minister and the speaker of the house of commons are allowed only six gallons of petrol a month. Mr. Lowther, the speaker, cannot dream of motoring, as usual, to Penrith, and Mr. Asquith will be hard put to it to run down to his Berkshire home for a week-end. Mr. Asquith, however, rarely uses his car in town, and can be seen any evening, unescorted and almost unnoticed, strolling from the house back to Downing street.

As for the speaker, one day recently a traveler on the top of a South London tramcar bound for Westminster observed among his fellow-passengers the picturesque figure of Right Hon. J. W. Lowther, immaculately clad in a suit of summer gray, with a white top-hat. Next to him was a carpenter, burdened with the implements of his trade.

State News in Brief

Doings of Last Few Days Throughout Minnesota Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

Bemidji. — The Nymore school district has just been annexed by Bemidji. The village of Nymore will become a part of Bemidji Oct. 17.

Faribault. — "Faribault is far from bankrupt," O. H. Schroeder, president of the Chase State bank, said in discussing reports that the city is in poor financial condition.

Grand Rapids. — Action growing out of the assault on Miss Olga Dahl, Round Lake school teacher, crystalized when the board of county commissioners offered $500 reward for the capture of her assailant with a "dead or alive" clause in the offer.

Duluth. — The shipments of iron ore from the docks at the American Head of the Lakes for the season ending September 30, 1916, shows an increase of 9,535,710 tons over the same period last year, according to reports of the several shipping companies.

St. Paul. — Chisago and Pine counties will receive $45,000 or $50,000 each from the state for the improvement of the Twin Cities-Duluth highway, if the state highway commission acts favorably on the resolution adopted by the Ramsey county board of commissioners.

Hibbing. — State Public Examiner Andrew E. Fritz, Deputy Examiner John Davis and Assistant Attorney General C. Louis Weeks, were in St. Louis county to resume the investigation of alleged irregularities in the municipal affairs of Hibbing, "world's richest village."

St. Paul. — The internal revenue returns in Minnesota for September showed a decrease of $109,172.92, as compared with September of last year, and the custom house returns for the ports of Minneapolis and St. Paul showed a decrease of $1,388.69, according to official figures given out in St. Paul.

Bluffton. — A hearing has been arranged by the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission to be held October 17th, at Bluffton, Ottertail county, on the application of the New York Mills Telephone company for a permit to construct a telephone pole line to that village for local telephone service.

Bemidji. — Asserting approximately 1,000,000 acres of land along Red lake and tributary rivers have been flooded by high water, members of the Bemidji Commercial club have authorized President E. H. Denu to appoint a committee to investigate the situation, with a view to having the lake lowered.

Madelia, Minn.—Theft of an automobile in Minneapolis ended disastrously for two men near Madelia. The stolen car, a seven passenger Buick, skidded and tipped over on making a turn. One of the men was killed and the other, though escaping unhurt, later was arrested at St. James and is being held there for the Minneapolis police.

Washington. — Suits by North and South Dakota against Minnesota to recover $1,250,000 alleged damages and to obtain permanent relief against flooding of areas in the eastern parts of the complaining states by drainage water from the western part of Minnesota through drainage ditches may be settled in the coming term of the United States Supreme Court.

Bemidji. — This city will be granted a loan of $25,000 for the purchase for park purposes of a picturesque tract of virgin pine on the opposite side of Lake Bemidji from the town, provided the project is approved at an election and the citizens are willing to wait the regular turn with other applicants for state loans, the state board of investment has decided.

Wadena. — Speaking before the Northern Minnesota conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. A. L. Phagkynet of Philadelphia urged the church to make provisions for extending its missionary service to immigrants as they enter this country. "It is the quickest and surest way of getting in touch with foreigners," he said, "because they will not seek the church."

St. Paul. — The state began October business with $7,165,322.51 in the treasury—the largest October 1 balance on record. Despite indications that unusually heavy disbursements this month may pull the funds down to $4,000 on November 1, treasury officials said, the state will not be compelled as in former years to go into the market and obtain a short term loan of $2,000,000 or $3,000,000.

Minneapolis. — Minnesota is expected to be the chief potato storehouse of the world before the winter is over, particularly if high prices, with a general shortage in other parts of the country should develop, potato growers and buyers assert. A federal report showing that Minnesota will have 21,300,000 bushels of potatoes caused prices to drop at various Minnesota points, and growers now are getting about 85 cents a bushel, 25 cetns lower than three weeks ago.

St. Paul. — Attorney General Smith will draft a bill calling for the creation of a state conservation department to have charge of all reclamation, drainage and relief work in Minnesota, it was announced at the state capitol, following a visit by M. G. Barnes, consulting engineer, New York.

Northfield. — Increased interest in missionary work in the United States was seen in the unusually large attendance at the annual convention of the Woman's Home Mission Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, Minnesota conference, here.

BOARD TO DIRECT RELIEF PROJECT

CREATION OF STATE CONSERVATION COMMISSION SUGGESTED AT CONFERENCE.

PLAN SEED SURVEY OF STATE

Officials of University Laboratory to Make Probe—Situation in Regard to Wheat, Barley, Rye, Alfalfa, Clover and Timothy to be Investigated.

St. Paul.

Creation of a state conservation commission to take official charge of the state-wide reclamation, drainage and flood relief project undertaken by a committee of the All-Minnesota Development association has been suggested by M. G. Barnes, New York consulting engineer, at a committee conference with Attorney-General Lyndon A. Smith.

Mr. Barnes outlined what he thinks the state ought to do to provide a foundation for a comprehensive, systematic plan of conservation and relief, offering a suggestion for a commission to assume direction of topographical, forestry, agricultural and hydraulic phases of the general project.

Attorney-General Smith consented to sketch a bill embodying the general plan for presentation to the next Legislature. Besides Mr. Smith and Mr. Barnes, who aided in similar projects in New York State, there were present at the conference Chairman A. L. Crocker of the committee, State Representative L. S. Spooner, Dr. F. W. Sardesen of the Federal geological survey of Minnesota and E. V. Willard, acting state drainage engineer.

To Probe Seed Situation.

The state seed laboratory at the university farm is making plans to find out at once about the wheat situation in Minnesota, and to look into conditions of barley, rye, alfalfa, clover and timothy. This investigation is going to be made under the direction of W. L. Oswald, who has charge of the seed laboratory, largely through the teachers in agriculture, which have agricultural departments.

Mr. Oswald has sent to each of these high school agriculturalists a letter asking him to make it his business to send in a sample of each of the grains named from at least half a dozen farms in the vicinity of his school. When the seed is received it will be carefully examined and the results will be tabulated by counties. The tabulation will show almost at a glance the condition of the various grains in every part of the state.

It is possible that an effort will be made to make this grain survey more complete by appealing for grain samples from the officers of the 1,200 farmers' clubs of the state.

* * *

Is Trust Company a Bank?

A. H. Turrittin, state superintendent of banks, has asked Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith for an opinion on the question of whether a commercial trust company is a bank within the meaning given that term in the negotiable instruments act. Minnesota's banking system may be vitally affected by the interpretation placed on this law, Mr. Turrittin said, and the opinion will be awaited with great interest by all bankers in the state. It is expected to be the last and the decisive opinion in a recent series.

* * *

Organize Rifle Teams.

Adjutant General Fred B. Wood has organized state national guard and civilian rifle teams to participate in the national rifle matches October 20 at Black Point, Fla. He requested officers of the Minnesota brigade at Llano Grande, Tex., to select a team there and assume charge of the movement to form a civilian team among members of Minnesota rifle clubs of the National association. The First Minnesota won the regimental championship last year.

* * *

Malaria in Second.

The Second Minnesota infantry regiment, in camp at Llano Grande, Tex., has been hardest hit by the malaria epidemic in the camp, said Captain Arnt G. Andersen of the First Minnesota medical corps, whose resignation from the army has been accepted and who has returned to Minneapolis. At one time 400 men of the Second had the disease, Dr. Andersen reported.

* * *

Battery F Still Part of Guard.

Battery F boys who believed that they were through with the army when they were mustered out recently are due to be keenly disappointed on account of a new ruling of the War department which provides that the university unit in the First Minnesota field artillery retains it identity and is still a part of the state national guard.

* * *

Cadet Commander Relieved.

Orders have been received by Captain Bernard Lentz of the United States army, commandant of the cadets at the University of Minnesota, directing him to report at San Diego, Cal., to take command of his company. Captain Lentz has been at the university two years and had expected to remain for the usual term of four years. Capt. W. F. Rhinow, who commanded Battery F of the First Minnesota field artillery until it was mustered out, will become acting commandant of the university cadets.

HOW LLOYD-GEORGE WORKS

Depends Much on Secretaries and Never Writes a Letter If He Can Help It.

It is said that Lloyd-George, the British war minister, depends very much on his secretaries, and never writes a letter if he can help it. He has a knack of getting the men he wants and of getting a lot of work out of them, and, as would be expected, sees that they are properly rewarded. When he went to the war office Lloyd-George took three of his secretaries with him, Mr. H. J. Creedy, who was Lord Kitchener's secretary, being retained also; J. T. Davies, who has served Mr. Lloyd-George in a very confidential post for some time; Miss F. L. Stephenson, who is probably the first woman to occupy such a post with a responsible statesman, and Mr. W. Sutherland, who is underpaid. Lloyd-George, by the way, has made more than one find among his private secretaries, and, even in face of comment, he has not hesitated to secure their promotion to responsible posts. There is, for instance, Sir W. H. Clark, a former board of trade clerk, who was the present war secretary's "ghost" at the board of trade and the exchequer, who became a member of the council of India, and who, at the age of forty, is a knight, busily engaged in organizing the capture of German trade. Another of Mr. Lloyd-George's former private seretaries is Mr. John Rowland, a brilliant Welshman, who has done good work as Welsh insurance commissioner.

When Work Is Hard

That kidney troubles are so common is due to the strain put upon the kidneys in so many occupations, such as:
Jarring and jolting on railroads, etc.
Cramp and strain as in barbering, moulding, heavy lifting, etc.
Exposure to changes of temperature in iron furnaces, refrigerators, etc.
Dampness as in tanneries, quarries, mines, etc.
Inhaling poisonous fumes in painting, printing and chemical shops.

Harrisburg, Penn.—"When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house."—Mrs. Frank Knobl, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them."—Mrs. F. E. Yost, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 18 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. Clementina Duerring, 34 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

THE EIGHT Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the STATE OF MINNESOTA

Submitted by the Legislature at Its General Session, 1915, Together With a Statement of the PURPOSES AND EFFECTS,

Prepared by Hon. Lyndon A. Smith, Attorney General of Minnesota.

Addressed to Julius A. Schmahl Secretary of State

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, ST. PAUL.

April 7, 1916.

Honorable Julius A. Schmahl,
Secretary of State,
Capitol.

DEAR SIR: Pursuant to your request and in accordance with the provisions of Section 46, Statutes 1913, I herewith hand you statement of the purposes and effect of all amendments to the Constitution proposed by the legislature of 1915 and to be submitted to the electors at the next general election; such statement also shows the reading of the existing sections and the way the same will read if the amendments are adopted.

Yours truly,
LYNDON A. SMITH,
Attorney General.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1.

By Chapter 379, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Two (2) of Article Eight of the Constitution by adding to said Section Two a new paragraph.

Section Two as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 2. SCHOOL AND SWAMP LANDS—SCHOOL FUNDS FROM SALE.—The proceeds of such lands as are or hereafter may be granted by the United States for the use of schools within each township in this state shall remain a perpetual school fund to the state, and not more than one-third of said lands may be sold in two years, one-third in five years, and one-third in ten years; but the lands of the greatest valuation shall be sold first; provided, that no portion of said lands shall be sold otherwise than at public sale. The principal of all funds arising from sales or other disposition of lands or other property, granted or entrusted to this state in each township for educational purposes, shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished; and the income arising from the lease or sale of said school land shall be distributed to the different townships throughout the state, in proportion to the number of scholars in each township, between the ages of five and twenty-one years; and shall be faithfully applied to the specific objects of the original grants or appropriations. Suitable laws shall be enacted by the legislature for the safe investment of the principal of all funds which have heretofore arisen or which may hereafter arise from the sale or other disposition of such lands, or the income from such lands accruing in any way before the sale or disposition thereof in interest-bearing bonds of the United States, or of the State of Minnesota issued after the year 1860, or of such other state as the legislature may by law from time to time direct. All swamp lands now held by the state, or that may hereafter accrue to the state, shall be appraised and sold in the same manner and by the same officers, and the minimum price shall be the same less one-third, as is provided by law for the appraisement and sale of the school lands under the provisions of title one of chapter thirty-eight of the General Statutes. The principal of all funds derived from sales of swamp lands as aforesaid shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished. One-half of the proceeds of said principal shall be appropriated to the common school fund of the state; the remaining one-half shall be appropriated to the educational and charitable institutions of the state in the relative ratio of cost to support said institutions."

The paragraph which it is proposed to add to said Section Two reads as follows:

"A revolving fund of not over two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) may be set apart from the fund derived from the sale of school and swamp lands, to be used in constructing roads, ditches and fire breaks in, through and around unsold school and swamp lands and in clearing such lands, such fund to be replenished as long as needed from the enhanced value realized from the sale of such lands so benefited."

Under Section Two as it now stands the proceeds of the sale of school and swamp lands constitute the principal of a trust fund, the income of which is used for the support of the schools, educational and charitable institutions of the state. Section Two as it now stands provides that the principal of such fund "shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished."

THE EFFECT of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to modify the provision last quoted to the extent of permitting the legislature to set aside not to exceed $250,000 of the principal of the trust fund as a revolving fund to be used for the purposes stated in the amendment proposed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.

By Chapter 380, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Six (6), of Article Eight (8) of the Constitution.

Section Six as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 6. INVESTMENT OF SCHOOL FUNDS — The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town, or village of this state, but no such investment shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable real property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds; nor shall such loans or indebtedness be made at a lower rate of interest than three per cent per annum, nor for a shorter period than five years, nor for a longer period than twenty years, and no change of the town, school district, city, village or of county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of the issuing of such bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds."

If the proposed amendment is adopted it will then read as follows:

"The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state, and in first mortgage loans secured upon improved and cultivated farm lands of this state. But no such investment or loan shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds; nor shall any farm loan, or investment be made when such investment or loan would exceed 30 per cent of the actual cash value of the farm land mortgage to secure said investment; nor shall such investments or loans be made at a lower rate of interest than 3 per cent per annum, nor for a shorter period than five years, nor for a longer period than thirty years, and no change of the town, school district, city, village or of county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of issuing of such bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds."

THE PURPOSE of the amendment is to authorize the investment of the permanent school and university funds in first mortgage loans secured upon improved and cultivated farm lands where the amount of the loans so secured does not exceed 30 per cent of the value of the land mortgaged.

THE EFFECT of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be to permit the legislature to authorize the investment of the permanent school and university funds in farm mortgages as above stated, as well as in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state. Under Section Six as it now reads bonds cannot be purchased unless they mature at least five and not more than twenty years after purchase. If the amendment is adopted, bonds and mortgages may be purchased if they mature not less than five nor more than thirty years after purchase.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3.

By Chapter 381, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Article Nine (9) of the Constitution by adding thereto a new section, which reads as follows:

"Section 17. The legislature is hereby authorized to provide by law for the mining and sale of any iron ore or other minerals which the state owns, in its sovereign capacity, and as trustee for the people of the state, which are situate under the waters or bed of any meandered public lake or river, and for that purpose may provide for the drainage of any such lake or river, or the diversion of the waters thereof to a new bed or channel, provided, however, that the vested riparian rights of private persons or corporations owning land adjoining such lakes shall not be destroyed or damaged without their consent, unless compensation therefor shall be first paid or secured. The principal of all funds arising from the sale of such iron ore, or other minerals, shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished, but the income therefrom shall be used for the construction, improvement and maintenance of the public roads of the state. The principal of such funds shall be loaned or invested in the same manner, by the same officers and upon the same terms as is, or from time to time hereafter may be authorized by the constitution and laws, for the loaning or investment of the permanent school and university funds of the state."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment cannot be more clearly stated than is expressed therein.

THE EFFECT of the amendment, if adopted, would be to confer power on the legislature to provide by law for the mining of iron ore and other minerals, which the state owns in its sovereign capacity and situate under the bed of any meandered public lake or river, subject to the restriction that the rights of riparian owners on any such lake or river, shall not be destroyed or injured without compensation. If the legislature exercises the power, in case it is conferred, it could also provide for the drainage or diversion of the waters of the lake or river with reference to which it so legislates; it could also prescribe by whom such minerals could be mined and the compensation to be paid to the state therefor. The proceeds of the sale of any such minerals would constitute a fund, to be loaned and invested the same as the permanent school and university funds, the income of such fund to be used in the construction, improvement and maintenance of public roads.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4.

By Chapter 382, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed an amendment to Section Two (2) of Article Six of the Constitution.

Said Section 2 now reads as follows:

"Section 2. SUPREME COURT— The supreme court shall consist of one chief justice and two associate justices, but the number of associate justices may be increased to a number not exceeding four, by the legislature, by a two-thirds vote, when it shall be deemed necessary. It shall have original jurisdiction in such remedial cases as may be prescribed by law and appellate jurisdiction in all cases, both in law and equity, but there shall be no trial by jury in said court. It shall hold one or more terms in each year, as the legislature may direct, at the seat of government, and the legislature may provide, by a two-thirds vote, that one term in each year shall be held in each or any judicial district. It shall be the duty of such court to appoint a reporter of its decisions. There shall be chosen, by the qualified electors of the state, one clerk of the supreme court, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; and the judges of the supreme court, or a majority of them, shall have the power to fill any vacancy in the office of clerk of the supreme court until an election can be regularly had."

If the proposed amendment is adopted the section will then read as follows:

"Section 2. The supreme court shall consist of one chief justice and six associate justices. Five shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of at least four shall be necessary to a decision. It shall have original jurisdiction in such remedial cases as may be prescribed by law, and appellate jurisdiction in all cases, both in law and equity, but there shall be no trial by jury in said court. It shall hold one or more terms in each year, as the legislature may direct, at the seat of government, and the legislature may provide, by a two-thirds vote, that one term in each year shall be held in each or any judicial district. It shall be the duty of such court to appoint a reporter of its decisions and a clerk of the supreme court."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: The Supreme Court as now constituted consists of a chief justice and four associate justices. The clerk of said court is now elected. If the amendment is adopted, two associate justices will be added to the court and the clerk will be appointed by the court instead of being elected by the voters.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5.

By Chapter 383, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Eleven (11) of Article Four (4) of the Constitution.

Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 11. APPROVAL OF BILLS BY GOVERNOR — VETO POWER— Every bill which shall have passed the senate and house of representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the state. If he approves he shall sign and deposit it in the office of the secretary of state for preservation, and notify the house where it originated of the fact. But if not, he shall return it with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated; when such objections shall be entered at large on the journal of the same, and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if it be approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by adjournment within that time, prevents its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law. If any bill presented to the governor contains several items of appropriation of money he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects, and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money."

It is proposed to amend that section so that it shall read as follows:

"Section 11. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and house of representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the state. If he approves he shall sign and deposit it in the office of the secretary of state for preservation, and notify the house where it originated of the fact. But if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated; when such objections shall be entered at large on the journal of the same, and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if it be approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature by adjournment within that time, prevent its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law. If any bill presented to the governor contains several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items in whole or in part, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items and parts of items to which he objects, and the part of any appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to in whole or in part shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval in whole or in part from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: Under the Constitution as it now is, the governor may veto any item in an appropriation bill, but he cannot cut down the amount appropriated for any specific purpose. The amendment, if adopted, will give the governor power to reduce the amount of an appropriation for any given purpose, unless upon transmittal to the legislature of a statement of the part of an item of an appropriation bill to which he objects, the two houses, each by a two-thirds vote, approve the item as it was originally passed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 6.

By Chapter 384, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed an amendment of Section Thirteen (13) of Article One (1) of the Constitution.

The section as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 13. PRIVATE PROPERTY FOR PUBLIC USE.—Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use, without just compensation therefor first paid or secured."

If the amendment is adopted the section will read as follows:

"Section 13. Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use, without just compensation therefor first paid or secured, and such private property may be taken, destroyed or damaged for the purpose of private as well as public drainage upon just compensation therefor being first paid or secured."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment is to permit the taking of private lands for the purpose of drainage purposes where the drain or ditch will be of no public benefit, but on the contrary will only benefit the land or lands of the person or persons constructing the drainage ditch.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 7.

By Chapter 385, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section One (1) of Article Four (4) of the Constitution.

Section One as it now stands, reads as follows:

"Section 1. TWO HOUSES — SESSIONS — The legislature shall consist of the senate and house of representatives, which shall meet biennially at the seat of government of the state, at such time as shall be prescribed by law, but no session shall exceed the term of ninety legislative days, and no new bill shall be introduced in either branch except on the written request of the governor, during the last twenty days of such session, except the attention of the legislature shall be called to some important matter of general interest by a special message from the governor."

If the amendment is adopted, the section will then read as follows:

"Sec. 1. TWO HOUSES—SESSIONS. — The legislature shall consist of the senate and house of representatives, which shall meet biennially at the seat of government of the state, at such time as shall be prescribed by law, but no session shall exceed the term of ninety (90) legislative days, and no bill shall be introduced in either branch, except on the written request of the governor, during the last twenty days of such session, except the attention of the legislature shall be called to some important matter of general interest by a special message from the governor; but the people reserve to themselves direct power as follows:

(a) CONSTITUTIONAL INITIATIVE.—When at any time prior to the commencement of any session of the legislature, there shall have been filed with the secretary of state a petition proposing an amendment to the constitution, signed by two per centum of the electors of the state, the secretary of state shall transmit the same to the legislature not later than ten (10) days after the commencement of the session. If the amendment so proposed be not submitted to the electors by the legislature at such session, or if it be submitted in an amended form, then, upon a further petition or petitions, each signed by eight per centum of the electors of the state, filed with the secretary of state within six months after the adjournment of the legislature, the amendment proposed in the first petition, or one or more amended forms thereof, shall be submitted to the electors for their approval or rejection at the next general or special state-wide election occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of any such further petition. Any amendment proposed by initiative petition and to its original or in an amended form, submitted to the electors by the legislature or by a further petition, shall become a part of the constitution, if approved by a majority of the electors voting at such election, or by four-sevenths of the electors voting on the proposed amendment; provided, not less than three-sevenths of the electors voting at said election voted for the proposed amendment. This section shall be construed as a means in addition to Section 1, Article 14, of the state constitution, for amending the same.

(b) STATUTORY INITIATIVE. —When at any time prior to the commencement of any session of the legislature there shall have been filed with the secretary of state, a petition proposing a law, signed by two per centum of the electors of the state, the secretary of state shall transmit the same to the legislature not later than ten (10) days after the commencement of the session. If the law so proposed be not passed by the legislature at such session, or if it be passed in an amended form, then upon a further petition or petitions, each signed by six per centum of the electors of the state, filed with the secretary of state within six months after the adjournment of the legislature, the law proposed in the first petition or one or more amended forms thereof, shall be submitted to the electors at the next general or special state-wide election, occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of any such further petition or petitions, and if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, provided the vote in favor of the proposed law be not less than thirty-three per centum of the total number of votes cast at such election, the same shall become a law and go into effect thirty days after such election, and shall supersede any amended form of such law which may have been passed by the legislature. No law passed by the initiative petition and approved by the electors shall be subject to the veto of the governor. The authority of the people to enact laws, as provided in this subdivision, shall extend only to laws authorized by the provisions of the constitution.

(c) THE REFERENDUM. — If within ninety days after the final adjournment of any session of the legislature, a referendum petition, signed by six per centum of the electors of the state, shall be filed with the secretary of state against any law or any part of a law, passed by the legislature at such session, such law, or such part of a law shall be submitted to the electors at the next general or special state-wide election, occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of said petition. If a majority of the votes cast thereon be in the negative, provided such negative vote be not less than thirty-three per centum of the total number of votes cast at such election, such law or such part of a law shall thereby be repealed. Provided, that if a referendum petition is signed by fifteen per centum of the electors of the state, the law, or part of a law, against which such petition is filed shall be suspended pending the referendum vote thereon. Provided the same shall equal 33 per cent of the votes at such election.

Any law providing for a tax levy or appropriating money for the current expenses of the state government or state institutions, any act of the legislature submitting a constitutional amendment or other question to the electors of the state, or any emergency law necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the governor, and such laws, except emergency laws, shall not be subject to a referendum vote. All other laws shall go into effect ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature. A bill proposing an emergency law shall contain a preamble briefly setting forth the facts constituting the emergency. A separate vote shall be taken upon the preamble of such bill by a call of the yeas and nays, and if the preamble be adopted by a two-thirds vote of all the members of each house, it shall be an emergency law.

(d) GENERAL PROVISIONS.— All petitions provided for in this section shall contain a title indicating the subject and purpose of the proposed law or constitutional amendment, or the law, or part of a law to be referred, and if a change is proposed in an existing constitutional provision or statute, in addition to referring to the same, it shall state the general effect of the proposed change and also the full text of the proposed law or amendment to the constitution, or of the law or part of a law, to be referred. Any initiative or referendum petition may be signed in separate parts but each part shall conform to the provisions herein contained. All petitions shall be signed and verified before a person authorized to administer an oath, and shall be in such form that a person signing a petition thereby states under oath, the date of his signature, his residence, that he is a qualified elector, that he has not previously signed any part of such petition, and that he has signed the petition with knowledge of the contents thereof. To each part of such petition shall be attached the affidavit of the person before whom the same was signed, which affidavit shall contain a statement of the number of signers thereon, that each of the signatures attached to such part was made in the presence of the affiant, that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be, that he believes the persons who have signed such petition to be electors, that they signed such petition with knowledge of the contents thereof, and that each person signed the same on the date stated opposite his name. The circulation of the petition provided for herein, or the prohibition of the circulation thereof, may be regulated by law, and in case the circulation of any petition is prohibited by law, the percentage of signers required on any petition provided for in this section shall be one-half of the percentage specified in subdivisions a, b and c of this section.

The percentage in any case shall be based upon the total number of votes cast for governor at the next preceding election. All petitions provided for in this section shall contain the signature of not less than one-half of the designated percentage of the electors in not less than one-fourth of the counties of the state. In initiating a law or constitutional amendment, electors who have signed the first shall be qualified to sign the second petition.

The sufficiency of all petitions shall be decided by the secretary of state subject to review by the court. If the secretary of state decides that any petition is insufficient, he shall permit a reasonable time for making corrections or for filing additional signatures. In the event of legal proceedings in court to prevent giving effect to any such petition on account of insufficiency, or any other ground, the burden of proof shall be upon the person attacking the petition. No law or amendment to the constitution initiated and approved by the electors as herein provided, shall be held unconstitutional or void on account of the insufficiency of any initiative petition; nor shall the repeal of any law submitted by referendum petition be held invalid for such insufficiency.

All initiative laws and constitutional amendments shall be so submitted to the electors as to permit an affirmative or negative vote upon each measure submitted. If conflicting proposed laws or conflicting proposed amendments to the constitution be approved at the same election, the one receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall prevail as to conflicting provisions.

The style of all legislative measures and amendments to the constitution initiated by the people under this section shall be: "Be it enacted by the People of the State of Minnesota."

The provisions of this section may be enforced by appropriate legislation, but until such legislation has been enacted, this section shall be self executing.

THE PURPOSE AND EFFECT of this amendment, if adopted, will be three-fold.

(a) It will permit the voters to propose amendments to the state constitution, for adoption, without action by the legislature. Under the constitution as it now stands constitutional amendments can be proposed only by the legislature.

(b) So, too, if adopted, the amendment will permit electors to propose laws for enactment and if not enacted by the legislatures, the voters may by sufficient petition, require the question of the enactment of the proposed law to be submitted to the voters. If approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, provided the vote in favor of the proposed law is not less than thirty-three per cent of the total number of votes cast at such election, the same becomes a law with the same force and effect as though passed by the legislature. The governor will have no power to veto a law so passed, but the people cannot so pass any law which is prohibited by the constitution.

(c) So too, if adopted, the amendment will permit the voters by proper petition to require a vote on the question of whether or not any law or part thereof, of certain classes of laws, passed by the legislature shall be repealed. If the petition asking for the referendum is signed by fifteen per cent of the voters of the state, the number of whom is to be determined by the number of votes cast for Governor at the preceding election, the law so referred to the voters will not take effect pending the referendum vote thereon. The vote required to repeal a law passed by the legislature and the classes of laws which cannot be so repealed are specified in Subdivision "C" of the proposed amendment as above printed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 8.

By Chapter 386, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors an amendment of Section 7, Article 6, of the constitution.

The section now reads as follows:

"Section 7. PROBATE COURTS— There shall be established in each organized county in the state a probate court, which shall be a court of record, and be held at such times and places as may be prescribed by law. It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of two years. He shall be a resident of such county at the time of his election, and reside therein during his continuance in office; and his compensation shall be provided by law. He may appoint his own clerk where none has been elected; but the legislature may authorize the election, by the electors of any county, of one clerk or register of probate for such county, whose powers, duties, term of office and compensation shall be prescribed by law. A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction, except as prescribed by this constitution."

The amendment simply proposes to substitute the word "four" for the word "two" so that the sentence prescribing the duration of the term of office will, if the amendment is adopted, read as follows:

"It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: The amendment, if adopted will make the term of office of the Judge of Probate four years instead of two.

Visited by the Catacombs.

"Did I understand you to say you were in Europe?" he asked of the man who was talking to a drummer across the aisle.

"Yes, sir."

"Were you in Rome?"

"I was there for a month, sir."

"Ah, I am glad to have met you. I wanted to ask about Rome. You visited the catacombs, of course?"

"Didn't have to. They visited me."

"How do you mean?"

"Why, I never stirred out of the hotel that they weren't striking me for alms. Never saw such an infernal set in all my born days."

"Don't you mean the lazzaroni?"

"Of course. The catacombs and the lazzaroni are the same thing, only 'catacombs' is the Italian of it and the other is the English. If you haven't been over I'd advise you to go—if you can raise the dudads. You don't know how much a trip abroad will broaden and liberalize your mind."

And the other sank back and hid himself in a corner, and he did not get over looking pale for the next 20 miles.

Real Academic Dignity.

Max Muller tells a story of one of Dr. Strachan Davidson's predecessors as master of Balliol. "Once, when returning from a solitary walk, Doctor Jenkins, whose regard for his own dignity was very great, slipped and fell. Two undergraduates, seeing the accident, ran to assist him, and were just laying hands on him to lift him up when he descried a master of arts coming. 'Stop!' he cried, 'I see a master of arts coming down the street,' and he dismissed the undergraduates with many thanks, and was helped on his legs by the M. A."—London Chronicle.

The Clever Wasp.

Wasps appear to be well-nigh as industrious as ants or bees. One authority has declared that the cardinal doctrine of the wasp is: "If any wasp will not work, neither shall he eat."

Division of labor is clearly seen in the wasp's nest. Some of the workers seem to be specially employed as foragers and soldiers, others appear to be told off as nurses and guardians, while yet others are engaged as paper makers and masons.

Sale Of School And Other State Lands

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 25, 1916
State of Minnesota,
State Auditor's Office,

Notice is hereby given that on November 25, 1916, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the office of the County Auditor at Warren, Marshall County, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the State by reason [illegible]

TERMS OF SALE

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price is payable to the County Treasurer at the time of sale. The unpaid balance is payable at any time in whole or in part on or before forty years from the date of sale at an interest rate of four per cent per per annum, due on June 1st of each year; provided that the interest can be paid at any time within the interest year without penalty. In effect, this means that the interest money may be paid any time between June and May thirty-first without penalty.

Appraised value of timber, when so stated, must be paid for in full at the time of sale.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

All mineral rights are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

Lands on which the interest has become delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale, to the actual purchaser. Such lands are listed under the caption, "Delinquent Lands."

No person can purchase more than 320 acres of land as provided by the General Laws 1905; provided, however, that state lands purchased previous to 1905 are not charged against such purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraisers' reports showing quality and kind of soil are on file in this office. List giving legal descriptions of land to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the Immigration Commissioner at St. Paul, and the County Auditor at above address.

J. A. O. PREUS,
State Auditor.

Soldier Boy Returns

Jesse Sorum returned home Wednesday from the Mexican border, where had been serving in the Federal army. Six from his regiment, of N. Dak. National Guards, were discharged. When they left Mercedes, Texas, last week Thursday, the thermometer stood at 106. That is some different than here.

Jesse is glad to get home and says he does'nt like army life.

Miss Christine Saastad went to T. R. Falls Friday for a short visit.

W. DeBoer, of Fisher, was a business caller in town the first of the week.

Mrs. Johnson, of Erskine, visited Mrs. Albert Bennes a couple of days last week.

Willie Bakke commenced working in the Holt State Bank, one day last week.

Misses Gunhild and Olava Sollom came over from Viking and spent Sunday at home.

Rev. McMartin will preach here at eight o'clock next Monday evening. All invited.

Railroad carpenters made some repairs, the past week, on the depot and water tank.

Hjalmer Johnson has been hauling out lumber for a small house which he will build on his place.

K. T. Knutson returned last week Thursday from a weeks visit with his daughters in Gary, Norman Co.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hagelie and family, of Crookston, were Sunday visitors at the pleasant home of Mrs. J. L. Nelson.

The Misses Selma Dovre and Lydia Bjerk have been clerking in R. Reierson's store for several days during their closing out sale.

We pay freight on 100 lb. or over, [illegible] copper. Rags [illegible] to $1.50 a 100 lb. Thief River Hide & Fur Co. T. R. F.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, of Olender, California, visited a few days this week at the home of the latters sister, Mrs. K. O. Flakne, and family.

H. M. Olson returned Wednesday from Milton, N. D., where he has been working for a few months. He reports snow there Tuesday and the threshing not quite done.

Carpenters have been working at the Red Lake Falls elevator for several days, putting in a shipping scale and making some repairs inside and outside of the building.

C. L. Stevens was over from Warren, Saturday. Mr. Stevens has done good work in the state legislature, has had only one term, and is deserving of re-election. Remember this when you mark your ballot on Nov. 7th.

John A. Thompson will sell three good work horses, 1 imported Stallion, 8 head of cattle, nearly new farm machinery, oats and nearly new household goods, at public auction at 11 o'clock A. M., Saturday Oct. 28. Three miles west and one mile north of Holt.

W. Malberg was here Friday and Saturday interviewing the voters of Holt and vicinity. Perhaps he was trying to explain to them just why he told Co. Com. Fladeland Holt had enough roads and that we did'nt need the road and bridge across Thief River between Holt and Grygla. We hav'ent that bridge yet and the voters will remember that on election day.

A Small Blaze

A straw pile north of the livery barn caught fire Saturday afternoon and but for prompt work on the part of the people it would undoubtedly have proven a very disastrous fire for our village. The well in the barn furnished lots of water and it was freely used to good advantage.

The carpenters have the frame up for Mrs. Sven Johnson's new house.

The big engine and force pump for the village finally arrived here Wednesday.

Albert Bjerk returned home Friday from Hillsboro, where he had employment the past season.

Mesdames D. B. Bakke and Fred Lufkin, of T. R. Falls, were Sunday visitors at the Docken home.

It is being reported the Crookston Land Office has rejected the applications of the Mud Lake squatters.

Julius Olson came down from Strathcona, Saturday for a short visited with relatives and friends.

Reierson is closing out his stock of Duck Coats at $4.50, 4.75, and 5.00. Donit forget his closing out sale.

Hallowe'en party and basket social at the school house Tuesday evening Oct. 31th. Proceeds, benefit of the school.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kolden, Tuesday, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Martin Strom, in T. R. Falls

Ida Kjelgren went to Thief River Falls, Saturday, to visit Tillie Nyberg at the hospital. Tillie is getting along fine and expects to return home soon.

H. M. Johnson, P. L. Anderson, Ole Backlund, Ludwig Gullickson, Albert Knutson and Clarance Dockson went to Middle River Saturday [illegible] they report as being a splendid entertainment.

For Representative

To the Voters of Marshall County:-

I have served as your Representative in the Legislature one session and am now asking for SECOND term. I am asking this on my record, which contains nothing I desire to conceal.

In the 1915 session I opposed all extravagant appropriations and advocated larger ones than those made in but two cases, viz: for state aid to rural schools, and for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

My re-election would result in your Representative in the 1917 Legislature being given better committee positions and having greater prestige and influence than would be accorded to a new man. With this advantage I would be able to render you better service and be able to secure the passage of any legislation in which you might be specially interested.

The pledges I made you in 1915 have been faithfully kept, as an examination of my record will fully prove.

Soliciting your support and your votes at the election on November 7, 1916, I am,

Respectfully yours,
C. L. STEVENS.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

THREE ROADS MAY BE ONE FOR RATES

R. R. AND WAREHOUSE COMMISSION BEGINS HEARINGS ON ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

HEALTH RULES ARE ADOPTED

State Board Passes Regulations to Prevent Blindness of Infants and Disposes of Other Matters—To Ask No New Laws of Legislature.

St. Paul.

The state railroad and warehouse commission has begun hearings on an order to the Northern Pacific, Minnesota & International, and Big Forks & International Railway companies to show cause why they should not be treated as one line for rate making purposes following the supreme court decision that the North Western & Omaha roads should be so regarded.

The answer of the companies is that the roads are independently owned and that further reduction of rates, under those established under the Cassman distant tariff law, would be confiscatory.

The Backus-Brooks company and E. W. Backus, the latter as an individual and also a trustee, intervening, claim to own 30 per cent of the Minnesota & International road, and maintain that line is managed, operated and owned independently of the other companies.

* * *

To Check Infant Blindness.

The state board of health has just passed regulations, which have the effect of law, to prevent blindness among infants and to protect the city water supply in St. Paul, modified those relating to transportation of the dead, and disposed of numerous minor matters.

The regulation to prevent blindness among infants requires physicians or others in attendance at births to "treat the eyes of every new born babe with a one per cent solution of silver nitrate." Midwives are required to call a licensed physician when inflammation develops in both eyes of the infant under their care.

The policy of the board in the next Legislature will be simply to carry on its work and it will introduce little or no new legislation, it was announced.

The subject has been one of some speculation following the organization of various agencies to formulate new bills relating to public health in the state.

"With these various organizations at work," said Dr. H. M. Bracken, executive officer, "the board did not feel that much activity is demanded from it although we expect to be consulted on the subjects as they claim attention from the legislators."

* * *

Food Quality Improves.

Sixteen years' fight by the Minnesota Dairy and Food Commission against the use of injurious preservatives and other adulteratives has affected a marked improvement in the wholesomeness of food products sold in Minnesota, according to Julius Hortvet, state chemist. Only one of thirty samples of tomato catsup, for example, he said, was found illegal, while more than 50 per cent of the samples were "outside the law" in other years. Salicylic acid, sulphates and coal tar dye have entirely disappeared since the state began allowing a harmless amount of preservatives, the chemist said.

* * *

State Aids Stammerers.

C. G. Schulz, state commissioner of education, has notified George F. Womrath, business superintendent of schools, that the state aid for special work for stammerers, deaf children and special classes conducted in the Minneapolis schools will this year amount to $12,451.65. This is apportioned $10,285; for the work with deaf children $1,300. Miss May E. Byrne has supervised the schools.

Projects For Sanitoria Safe.

Delays in pending projects for three new county tuberculosis sanitoria, threatened, according to reports at the capitol, by a new clash between the state board of health and the state tuberculosis advisory commission like that during the last legislature, were avoided under an agreement reached at a conference of interested state officials.

* * *

To Ask Explosives Law.

The use of explosives in agriculture and other peaceful pursuits has increased so rapidly in recent years, Robert W. Hargadine, state fire marshal, said that he plans to recommend to the next Legislature the passage of a law establishing safety zones around places where dynamite and other explosives are stored in Minnesota.

* * *

Plague Probe Ordered.

Special investigation of the handling of an outbreak of infantile paralysis at Brainerd last August has been ordered by the state board of health. Dr. A. J. Chesley of the division of preventable diseases, said sudden deaths of five or six children were reported in that city about the time of the reported outbreak, that it was stated no attention was paid to quarantine regulations and that there were indications of the existence of cases other than those located later by board experts.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Red Wing. — More than 100 cities and villages were represented at the fourth annual convention of the League of Minnesota Municipalities, at Red Wing. The organization has a membership of 121 municipalities.

St. Paul. — Special state aid of $27,219.67 to schools in eight Minnesota cities maintaining classes for deaf and sub-normal pupils is apportioned according to a report from S. A. Challman, inspector, to C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of instruction.

Northfield. — Charles J. Hunt of St. Paul sounded the keynote of Congregationalism here in the moderator's address before the sixty-first annual state conference of the denomination at the opening meeting of a two days' program.

St. Paul. — Property loss of $617,358 resulted from 251 fires in Minnesota during September, Robert W. Hargadine, state fire marshal, announces. In the corresponding month last year 208 fires caused $317,662 loss, he added.

Bemidji. — Nymore, a suburb, was annexed to Bemidji and a $75,000 gas franchise granted to the Public Improvement company of Minneapolis at a meeting of the city council. With the incorporation, Bemidji has a population exceeding 8,000.

St. Paul. — Only a "general demand from over the state" for laws to permit the Minnesota guardsmen on the border to vote Nov. 7, Governor J. A. A. Burnquist said, will result in a call for an extra session of the legislature. "Such a demand doesn't exist at this time, in my opinion," said the governor.

Winona. — Through the use of large pumps, the steamer Frontenac has been floated and towed to Fountain City, under the direction of W. D. Wisherd of the Mississippi Excursion Boat agency. The Frontenac, 18 months ago, struck the lower railway bridge in Winona. She sank after being partly beached.

Minneapolis. — George H. Reif, superintendent of schools for Ramsey county, in an address before the Minnesota Public Health association, in session at the Radisson hotel, Minneapolis, advocated legislation covering the medical examination of school children and providing for county nurses in rural communities.

Brainerd. — L. H. Slocum, who was removed as auditor of Koochiching county, following irregularities found in the books of his office, cannot be compelled to testify before M. J. Brown, special commissioner appointed by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist to investigate the county finances, Judge W. S. McClenahan has ruled.

Wabasso. — Minnesota state banks number 1,290 with the opening of the Farmers' State Bank of Wabasso, which has just been chartered by A. H. Turrittin, state superintendent of banks. It begins with $15,000 capital and $3,000 surplus. C. L. Burley and M. J. Burley, both of Wabasso, are president and cashier respectively.

Northfield. — A unanimous indorsement was given the plan for co-operation between the Baptists and Congregationalists of Minnesota in the support of Carleton college here and Pillsbury academy, Owatonna, and St. Paul was chosen as the 1917 meeting place at the business session of the Minnesota Congregational conference here.

Brainerd.—Each of the twelve counties interested in the Minnesota Scenic highway will take fifty memberships, according to plans adopted by the directors of the association behind the enterprise at a meeting here. The territory includes Hennepin and Ramsey counties. Membership buttons are being sold at $1 each to furnish financial support.

Brainerd. — It was a motion picture play that brought light here. For weeks the city had been in darkness because the general fund was overdrawn and the city owed the water and light board $13,000. The Brainerd Amusement company staged a benefit movie performance to raise money to buy enough street light for a month or more. The event was a thorough success.

St. Paul. — Radical changes in the organization of Minnesota's state government have just been proposed by Representative L. C. Spooner of Morris to members of the state efficiency and economy commission, meeting at the state capitol. The program has been the subject of conferences, and it was said that most of the changes suggested by Mr. Spooner were likely to be approved.

Crookston. — Resolutions asking that the legislatures of Minnesota, North and South Dakota appropriate a fund for a topographical survey of the Red river valley, and also appoint a commission to eradicate noxious weeds, were passed by more than 300 representative business and professional men of northwestern Minnesota, North and South Dakota, in session here to discuss grain and flood control of the Red river valley.

Boy River. — Two children, one and two years old, were burned to death, and their mother, Mrs. Charles Robbins, suffered severe injuries in her attempt to rescue them, when the Robbins farm home three miles east of here, was entirely destroyed by fire.

Northfield. — Mrs. M. W. Skinner, who gave to Carleton college the new Skinner Memorial chapel dedicated as the opening ceremony in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the school was announced by President D. J. Cowling as the donor of the pipe organ in the chapel, at a cost of $17,000.

SEPARATES FROM WITCHMAD WIFE

Mr. Gable Didn't Mind Charms and Things, but He Feared for His Safety.

SALT BETWEEN SHEETS

Shouts at Night and Knife Stab in Pillow Broke His Nerve, So He Put the Case Up to Divorce Master.

Reading, Pa.—Still a believer in "hexerei," the German term for witchcraft in this part of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Laura Gable of this city has just learned that charms and incantations may be more successful in keeping away witches than in keeping a husband.

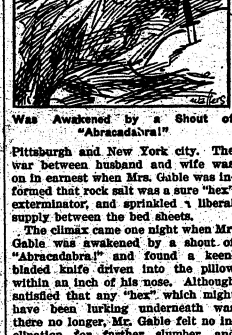
John K. Hahn, master in divorce, has recommended a decree to Joseph H. Gable, whose life appears to have been anything but monotonous because of his wife's weird superstitions. Mr. Hahn decided that Mrs. Gable's campaign to prevent a threatened drive by the witches was not productive of household harmony. His recommendation is equivalent to a decree.

Charms for Protection.

Mr. Gable testified he did not mind so much when Mrs. Gable marked a double cross on the door to keep away witches and wore a charm around her neck and papers with prayers and incantations in her hair for the purpose of keeping the evil one where he belonged.

He remonstrated mildly when, instead of preparing food for the table, Mrs. Gable used the top of the kitchen stove to make strange brews in a caldron, while he took his three meals a day more or less uncomplainingly from the pantry shelf. There was coolness but no open hostilities when Mr. Gable, returning late one night, stumbled over his cane and the family collection of umbrellas arranged in the form of a pantagram just inside the front door.

Patience No Virtue.



Was Awakened by a Shout of "Abracadabra!"

Patience ceased to be a virtue with Mr. Gable when Mrs. Gable's fear of "hexes" led her to use the family purse to visit "hexerei" specialists in Pittsburgh and New York city. The war between husband and wife was on in earnest when Mrs. Gable was informed that rock salt was a sure "hex" exterminator, and sprinkled a liberal supply between the bed sheets.

The climax came one night when Mr. Gable was awakened by a shout of "Abracadabra!" and found a keen-bladed knife driven into the pillow within an inch of his nose. Although satisfied that any "hex" which might have been lurking underneath was there no longer, Mr. Gable felt no inclination for further slumber, and passed the rest of the night in the attitude of a sentinel fearing a surprise attack from the enemy's first-line trench.

The action for divorce followed. After what he had been through, Mr. Gable said he would have no fear in meeting the maddest "hex" that ever rode a broomstick face to face.

HUSBAND WORE THE SKIRTS

Now He Is in Jail in Lewistown, Pa., Charged With Masquerading.

Lewistown, Pa.—James Burnell is serving 30 days in jail because he preferred to wear his wife's skirts while enjoying a day in Burnham park. Burnell has been a leading figure in masquerades near Lewistown for several years and decided to spend a day among the ladies as one of their number. When he withdrew to an isolated spot to change his wearing apparel he was arrested by an officer and escorted to jail.

Sheriff Van Zandt, who admires an "old-fashioned" mother, took Burnell as he appeared and confined him for a night and a day in the women's apartments in the jail. Then the prisoner broke down, confessed his crime and felt better after his wife had called and taken her best clothes back to their home.

Uncle Sam's Chemists.

Despite the monumental work of such government experts as Doctor Rittmann, the discoverer of a new gasoline process; Dr. Harvey Wiley of pure-food fame, and the whole corps engaged in fertilizer experiments, public opinion will not give credit for any good thing to Uncle Sam's chemists. After making a low-cost record for producing smokeless powder at Picatinny arsenal and producing "dunnite" —our famous secret "high explosive 'D'"—the workers in explosives have succeeded in producing a flashless powder. The great heat developed in smokeless powder detonations causes flying particles to become incandescent, producing a flash, but this new explosive produces only a pear-shaped iridescent flow at the muzzle, invisible at two miles. At night, a mask as high as a mounted man (technically known as "mounted defilade") will conceal the glow; the "defilade" required at night for our present explosive is not exactly known, but artillery officers have been known to declare, pessimistically, that a mile would be none too high.

Last of Fine Exposition.

An event which was not without its regrettable aspects was the recent wreckage of the beautiful buildings and monuments of the exposition at San Francisco, which were erected only about two years ago. Despite any desire to preserve them that admirers may have had, the temporary character of the buildings made their demolition advisable. Many of the fine monumental structures, such as the "Arch of the Rising Sun," surmounted by a group entitled "The Nations of the East," were thrown to the ground by exploding charges of dynamite under them.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

ROUMANIAN FORCE LOSES 2 DIVISIONS GERMANS ASSERT

BRITISH LOSE CAPTURED GROUND; FRENCH ATTACK

Allied Efforts Unsuccessful on West Front—Strong Assaults Made by Russians in Volhynia—Venizelos Government Recognized by Allies.

London, Oct. 17.—The Entente Allies have formally recognized the provisional government of Greece in the island of Crete set up by former Premier Venizelos.

Berlin, Oct. 17.—"The Rumanian second army in its retreat in Transylvania has lost approximately two divisions," says the Overseas news agency. "The Rumanian first army and the larger part of the second army virtually have been annihilated.

Completely Disorganized.

When the successful attack was made on the first army at Hermannstadt by the Austro-German troops, the Rumanians planned to send the second army to its assistance. This plan was learned from reports of aviators which were found. The second army advanced too far to the west and was forced to retreat in haste. Its retreat became a panicky flight. On Oct. 13 isolated detachments still were being rounded up. Captured officers say the army was completely disorganized. It would have been completely annihilated if Rumanian forces had not been hurried in through the Torzburg er and Predeal passes.

Lost Direction.

"The Rumanian leaders lost their surety of direction. Brigades and regiments, in desperation, were moved hastily forward and back on railroads and even on carts. Only pitiful fragments of the army could be rescued from Transylvania.

"Transylvania today is clear of the Rumanians except for small sections near the border. At the same time, the Rumanians' hopes of obtaining assistance from the people of Transylvania have been frustrated. The entire Transylvanian population and the better Rumanian element feel they have been delivered from a nightmare, as the Rumanians have been expelled after a short reign of terror."

British, French and Slavs Attack.

British troops attacked the German positions northeast of Guendecourt, three miles south of Bapaume, and penetrated the German first line, but the ground was recaptured, says the official statement issued by the German army headquarters staff.

French troops made an attack on the German positions west of the town of Sailly-Saillisel, the statement adds. The attackers were driven back south of the village.

Strong attacks were made by the Russians in Volhynia east of Lutsk. Monday's announcement says these assaults broke down with severe losses for the Russians.

MILK IS CALLED CARRIER OF CHILD PLAGUE GERM

Scientists Declare Microbes of Infantile Paralysis Found in the Intestines Enter Through Mouth.

Baltimore, Oct. 17.—Dr. Horace T. Burrows, pathologist at Johns Hopkins hospital, has found the infantile paralysis germ discovered nine years ago by Dr. Simon Flexner of Rockefeller institute.

Dr. Burrows and his assistants, under the direction of Professor William H. Welch, have been making autopsies upon every victim of the disease since July in a careful microscopic search.

It has been found that the germs occur only in the colon. The investigations prove that 100 per cent are infected in this big intestine. It is only possible for the germs to enter the big intestine by way of the mouth in food and drink.

This discovery demonstrates for the first time clearly that raw food, the milk and water fed babies, contains the germ of infantile paralysis.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA PROTEST RAILWAY GRANT TO U. S. FIRM

OBJECT TO CONTRACTS FOR RAILROAD AND CANAL CONSTRUCTION IN CHINA BASED ON SIXTY MILLION DOLLAR LOAN.

NO DIPLOMATIC ISSUE TO INVOLVE UNITED STATES

Private Organization Secured Job Without Communication with State Department—Entitled to Aid if Rights Are Violated — No Change in Plans Expected.

Peking, Oct. 16.—Japan and Russia have entered protests against concessions for railway and canal construction in China which have been granted to Americans.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Negotiations for American railway construction in China were concluded a fortnight ago and called for a $60,000,000 loan by the American International corporation and the construction, as soon as possible, of 1,500 miles of railway through the richest section of China by the Siems-Carey company of St. Paul.

An optional contract for the construction of an additional 1,500 miles of railway later was contained in the agreement.

The Japanese and Russian protest against the Chinese contract with the American International corporation for railroad building have not been officially reported to the state department, but officials expressed deep interest and expected to hear from Minister Reinsch at Peking.

No Diplomatic Issue.

At present, however, there seems to be no diplomatic issue to involve this government. The American International corporation as a private American organization secured the contract, through a loan to China entirely on its own account and without communication with the state department.

As an American corporation, however, it will be entitled to the good offices of the government in case it becomes evident that its rights are being actually violated or in case it makes a direct appeal to the state department for aid.

Urged Appointment of American.

The loan was to be secured by the property in the road itself and not by concessions or government guarantees. The Chinese government agent urged the appointment of an American engineer who later was to act as the chief engineer of the road. George A. Kyle, a Great Northern railway engineer, was appointed recently and confirmed by China for the position. The appointment of Americans as auditor and traffic manager also was agreed upon.

It was planned to construct the lines through territory so as to avoid interfering with any agreements covering railway construction existing between China and foreign governments or financial groups. It was believed a year would elapse before the location of the lines would be determined.

Falkenhayn's Attempted Invasion of Roumania Is Failure, London Hears —Austrians Lose 28,000 Men.

London, Oct. 16.—General von Falkenhayn's attempted invasion of Rumania through the Red Tower pass on the eastern border has been thrown back several miles into Transylvania.

Bucharest dispatches reported that General von Falkenhayn's advance had been checked everywhere along the southern Transylvania frontier. On the eastern frontier, the Germans have been stopped on the Rumanian northern wing and thrown back at some points by strong counterattacks. Elsewhere the Rumanian resistance is stiffening.

The Austrians have lost 28,000 men in the last two days of fighting on the Carso plateau, said a wireless dispatch from Rome. The battle continues with undiminished violence.

FRENCH CRUISER IS SUNK.

Berlin, Oct. 16.—The French cruiser Rigel, built as a submarine destroyer, was sunk in the Mediterranean Oct. 2, by two torpedoes fired by a German submarine, it is officially announced here. German submarines, Oct. 4, the admiralty statement adds, sank the French auxiliary cruiser Gallia. Of the Serbian and French troops on board, bound for Saloniki, 1,000 were drowned.

American Flyer in France Hurt.

Paris, Oct. 16.—Norman Prince of Boston, sergeant major in the Franco-American aviation corps, who was decorated for distinguished services last week, has been wounded. Both Prince's legs are broken, but his condition is reported satisfactory. Prince is a Harvard graduate, who gave up a law practice in Chicago to volunteer for service with the Allies. He was decorated in October, 1915, for destroying a German warplane. His machine was shot down in an aerial battle over Verdun last June.

New Kite Balloon.

A military kite balloon, observed by thousands of persons, landed near Washington Court House, O., after a trip from Akron, O., a distance of about 120 miles. The balloon was piloted by C. H. Roth and C. A. Wollen of Akron, and made the trip in three hours and 45 minutes.

The balloon was shaped like a large cigar, but carried no motive power. It was guided by means of planes, and the trip was made for the purpose of testing the steering, elevation and lowering apparatus.

The pilots said that it was the first time that such a trip in a balloon so equipped had been attempted in this country, and that the idea is a new and undeveloped one in Europe. They said that the fast time and perfect control proved the value of the craft.

The balloon was shot at over a farm in Green county, but ballast was thrown overboard, and the machine rose out of range.

Farmers Amazed at City Squirrels.

No other one thing so generally attracted the attention of the farmers from distant parts of the state while they were in Columbus attending the state fair as the squirrels they saw in the parks, lawns and even leaping from tree to tree in the streets. To see squirrels careless of the presence of people, and even soliciting food from them, seemed a strange condition.—Columbus (O.) Dispatch.

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the STATE OF MINNESOTA

Submitted by the Legislature at Its General Session, 1915, Together With a Statement of the

PURPOSES AND EFFECTS,

Prepared by Hon. Lyndon A. Smith, Attorney General of Minnesota.

Addressed to Julius A. Schmahl Secretary of State

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, ST. PAUL.

April 7, 1916.

Honorable Julius A. Schmahl,
Secretary of State,
Capitol.

DEAR SIR: Pursuant to your request and in accordance with the provisions of Section 46, Statutes 1913, I herewith hand you statement of the purposes and effect of all amendments to the Constitution proposed by the legislature of 1915 and to be submitted to the electors at the next general election; such statement also shows the reading of the existing sections and the way the same will read if the amendments are adopted.

Yours truly,
LYNDON A. SMITH,
Attorney General.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1.

By Chapter 379, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Two (2) of Article Eight of the Constitution, by adding to said Section Two a new paragraph.

Section Two as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 2. SCHOOL AND SWAMP LANDS—SCHOOL FUNDS FROM SALE [illegible] the proceeds of such lands as are or hereafter may be granted by the United States for the use of schools within each township in this state shall remain a perpetual school fund to the state, and not more than one-third [illegible] be sold in two years, and one-third in five years, and one-third in ten years; but the lands of the greatest valuation shall be sold first; provided, that no portion of said lands shall be sold otherwise than at public sale. The principal of all funds arising from sales or other disposition of lands or other property, granted or entrusted to this state in each township for educational purposes, shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished; and the income arising from the lease or sale of said school land shall be distributed to the different townships throughout the state, in proportion to the number of scholars in each township, between the ages of five and twenty-one years; and shall be faithfully applied to the specific objects of the original grants or appropriations. Suitable laws shall be enacted by the legislature for the safe investment of the principal of all funds which have heretofore arisen or which may hereafter arise from the sale or other disposition of such lands, or the income from such lands accruing in any way before the sale or disposition thereof in interest-bearing bonds of the United States, or of the State of Minnesota issued after the year 1860, or of such other state as the legislature may by law from time to time direct. All swamp lands now held by the state, or that may hereafter accrue to the state, shall be appraised and sold in the same manner and by the same officers, and the minimum price shall be the same less one-third, as is provided by law for the appraisement and sale of the school lands under the provisions of title one of chapter thirty-eight of the General Statutes. The principal of all funds derived from sales of swamp lands as aforesaid shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished. One-half of the proceeds of said principal shall be appropriated to the common school fund of the state; the remaining one-half shall be appropriated to the educational and charitable institutions of the state in the relative ratio of cost to support said institutions."

The paragraph which it is proposed to add to said Section Two reads as follows:

"A revolving fund of not over two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) may be set apart from the fund derived from the sale of school and swamp lands, to be used in constructing roads, ditches and fire breaks in, through and around unsold school and swamp lands and in clearing such lands, such fund to be replenished as long as needed from the enhanced value realized from the sale of such lands so benefited."

Under Section Two as it now stands the proceeds of the sale of school and swamp lands constitute the principal of a trust fund, the income of which is used for the support of the schools, educational and charitable institutions of the state. Section Two as it now stands provides that the principal of such fund "shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished."

THE EFFECT of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to modify the provision last quoted to the extent of permitting the legislature to set aside not to exceed $250,000 of the principal of the trust fund as a revolving fund to be used for the purposes stated in the amendment proposed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.

By Chapter 380, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Six (6), of Article Eight (8) of the Constitution.

Section Six as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 6. INVESTMENT OF SCHOOL FUNDS — The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state, but no such investment shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable real property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds; nor shall such loans or indebtedness be made at a lower rate of interest than three per cent per annum, nor for a shorter period than five years, nor for a longer period than twenty years, and no change of the town, school district, city, village or of county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of the issuing of such bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds."

If the proposed amendment is adopted it will then read as follows:

"The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state, and in first mortgage loans secured upon improved and cultivated farm lands of this state. But no such investment or loan shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds; nor shall any farm loan, or investment be made when such investment or loan would exceed 30 per cent of the actual cash value of the farm land mortgage to secure said investment; nor shall such investments or loans be made at a lower rate of interest than 3 per cent per annum, nor for a shorter period than five years, nor for a longer period than thirty years, and no change of the town, school district, city, village or of county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of issuing of such bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds."

THE PURPOSE of the amendment is to authorize the investment of the permanent school and university funds in first mortgage loans secured upon improved and cultivated farm lands where the amount of the loans so secured does not exceed 30 per cent of the value of the land mortgaged.

THE EFFECT of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be to permit the legislature to authorize the investment of the permanent school and university funds in farm mortgages as above stated, as well as in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state. Under Section Six as it now reads bonds cannot be purchased unless they mature at least five and not more than twenty years after purchase. If the amendment is adopted, bonds and mortgages may be purchased if they mature not less than five nor more than thirty years after purchase.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3.

By Chapter 381, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Article Nine (9) of the Constitution by adding thereto a new section, which reads as follows:

"Section 17. The legislature is hereby authorized to provide by law for the mining and sale of any iron ore or other minerals which the state owns, in its sovereign capacity, and as trustee for the people of the state, which are situate under the waters or bed of any meandered public lake or river, and for that purpose may provide for the drainage of any such lake or river, or the diversion of the waters thereof to a new bed or channel, provided, however, that the vested riparian rights of private persons or corporations owning land adjoining such lakes shall not be destroyed or damaged without their consent, unless compensation therefor shall be first paid or secured. The principal of all funds arising from the sale of such iron ore, or other minerals, shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished, but the income therefrom shall be used for the construction, improvement and maintenance of the public roads of the state. The principal of such funds shall be loaned or invested in the same manner, by the same officers and upon the same terms as is, or from time to time hereafter may be authorized by the constitution and laws, for the loaning or investment of the permanent school and university funds of the state."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment cannot be more clearly stated than is expressed therein.

THE EFFECT of the amendment, if adopted, would be to confer power on the legislature to provide by law for the mining of iron ore and other minerals, which the state owns in its sovereign capacity and situate under the bed of any meandered public lake or river, subject to the restriction that the rights of riparian owners on any such lake or river, shall not be destroyed or injured without compensation. If the legislature exercises the power, in case it is conferred, it could also provide for the drainage or diversion of the waters of the lake or river with reference to which it so legislates; it could also prescribe by whom such minerals could be mined and the compensation to be paid to the state therefor. The proceeds of the sale of any such minerals would constitute a fund to be loaned and invested the same as the permanent school and university funds, the income of such fund to be used in the construction, improvement and maintenance of public roads.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4.

By Chapter 382, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed an amendment to Section Two (2) of Article Six of the Constitution.

Said Section 2 now reads as follows:

"Section 2. SUPREME COURT—The supreme court shall consist of one chief justice and two associate justices, but the number of associate justices may be increased to a number not exceeding four, by the legislature, by a two-thirds vote, when it shall be deemed necessary. It shall have original jurisdiction in such remedial cases as may be prescribed by law and appellate jurisdiction in all cases, both in law and equity, but there shall be no trial by jury in said court. It shall hold one or more terms in each year, as the legislature may direct, at the seat of government, and the legislature may provide, by a two-thirds vote, that one term in each year shall be held in each or any judicial district. It shall be the duty of such court to appoint a reporter of its decisions. There shall be chosen, by the qualified electors of the state, one clerk of the supreme court, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; and the judges of the supreme court, or a majority of them, shall have the power to fill any vacancy in the office of clerk of the supreme court until an election can be regularly had."

If the proposed amendment is adopted the section will then read as follows:

"Section 2. The supreme court shall consist of one chief justice and six associate justices. Five shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of at least four shall be necessary to a decision. It shall have original jurisdiction in such remedial cases as may be prescribed by law, and appellate jurisdiction in all cases both in law and equity, but there shall be no trial by jury in said court. It shall hold one or more terms in each year, as the legislature may direct, at the seat of government, and the legislature may provide, by a two-thirds vote, that one term in each year shall be held in each or any judicial district. It shall be the duty of such court to appoint a reporter of its decisions and a clerk of the supreme court."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: The Supreme Court as now constituted consists of a chief justice and four associate justices. The clerk of said court is now elected. If the amendment is adopted, two associate justices will be added to the court and the clerk will be appointed by the court instead of being elected by the voters.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5.

By Chapter 383, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Eleven (11) of Article Four (4) of the Constitution.

Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 11. APPROVAL OF BILLS BY GOVERNOR — VETO POWER—Every bill which shall have passed the senate and house of representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the state. If he approves he shall sign and deposit it in the office of the secretary of state for preservation, and notify the house where it originated of the fact. But if not, he shall return it with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated; when such objections shall be entered at large on the journal of the same, and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if it be approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by adjournment within that time, prevents its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law. If any bill presented to the governor contains several items of appropriation of money he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects, and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money."

It is proposed to amend that section so that it shall read as follows:

"Section 11. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and house of representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the state. If he approves he shall sign and deposit it in the office of the secretary of state for preservation, and notify the house where it originated of the fact. But if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated; when such objections shall be entered at large on the journal of the same, and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if it be approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature by adjournment within that time, prevent its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law. If any bill presented to the governor contains several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items in whole or in part, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items and parts of items to which he objects, and the part of any appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to in whole or in part shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house the same shall be a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval in whole or in part from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: Under the Constitution as it now is, the governor may veto any item in an appropriation bill, but he cannot cut down the amount appropriated for any specific purpose. The amendment, if adopted, will give the governor power to reduce the amount of an appropriation for any given purpose, unless upon transmittal to the legislature of a statement of the part of an item of an appropriation bill to which he objects, the two houses, each by a two-thirds vote, approve the item as it was originally passed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 6.

By Chapter 384, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed an amendment of Section Thirteen (13) of Article One (1) of the Constitution.

The section as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 13. PRIVATE PROPERTY FOR PUBLIC USE — Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use, without just compensation therefor first paid or secured."

If the amendment is adopted the section will read as follows:

"Section 13. Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use, without just compensation therefor first paid or secured, and such private property may be taken, destroyed or damaged for the purpose of private as well as public drainage upon just compensation therefor being first paid or secured."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment is to permit the taking of private lands for the purpose of drainage purposes where the drain or ditch will be of no public benefit, but on the contrary will only benefit the land or lands of the person or persons constructing the drainage ditch.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 7.

By Chapter 385, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section One (1) of Article Four (4) of the Constitution.

Section One as it now stands, reads as follows:

"Section 1. TWO HOUSES — SESSIONS — The legislature shall consist of the senate and house of representatives, which shall meet biennially at the seat of government of the state, at such time as shall be prescribed by law, but no session shall exceed the term of ninety legislative days, and no new bill shall be introduced in either branch, except on the written request of the governor, during the last twenty days of such session, except the attention of the legislature shall be called to some important matter of general interest by a special message from the governor."

If the amendment is adopted, the section will then read as follows:

Sec. 1. TWO HOUSES—SESSIONS. — The legislature shall consist of the senate and house of representatives, which shall meet biennially at the seat of government of the state, at such time as shall be prescribed by law, but no session shall exceed the term of ninety (90) legislative days, and no bill shall be introduced in either branch, except on the written request of the governor, during the last twenty days of such session, except the attention of the legislature shall be called to some important matter of general interest by a special message from the governor; but the people reserve to themselves direct power as follows:

(a) CONSTITUTIONAL INITIATIVE.—When at any time prior to the commencement of any session of the legislature, there shall have been filed with the secretary of state a petition proposing an amendment to the constitution, signed by two per centum of the electors of the state, the secretary of state shall transmit the same to the legislature not later than ten (10) days after the commencement of the session. If the amendment so proposed be not submitted to the electors by the legislature at such session, or if it be submitted in an amended form, then upon a further petition or petitions, each signed by eight per centum of the electors of the state, filed with the secretary of state within six months after the adjournment of the legislature, the amendment proposed in the first petition, or one or more amended forms thereof, shall be submitted to the electors for their approval or rejection at the next general or special state-wide election occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of any such further petition. Any amendment proposed by initiative petition and its original or in an amended form, submitted to the electors by the legislature or by a further petition, shall become a part of the constitution, if approved by a majority of the electors voting at such election, or by four-sevenths of the electors voting on the proposed amendment; provided, not less than three-sevenths of the electors voting at said election voted for the proposed amendment. This section shall be construed as a means in addition to Section 1, Article 14, of the state constitution, for amending the same.

(b) STATUTORY INITIATIVE.—When at any time prior to the commencement of any session of the legislature there shall have been filed with the secretary of state, a petition proposing a law, signed by two per centum of the electors of the state, the secretary of state shall transmit the same to the legislature not later than ten (10) days after the commencement of the session. If the law so proposed be not passed by the legislature at such session, or if it be passed in an amended form, then upon a further petition or petitions, each signed by six per centum of the electors of the state, filed with the secretary of state within six months after the adjournment of the legislature, the law proposed in the first petition or one or more amended forms thereof, shall be submitted to the electors at the next general or special state-wide election, occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of any such further petition or petitions, and if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, provided the vote in favor of the proposed law be not less than thirty-three per centum of the total number of votes cast at such election, the same shall become a law and go into effect thirty days after such election, and shall supersede any amended form of such law which may have been passed by the legislature. No law passed by the initiative petition and approved by the electors shall be subject to the veto of the governor. The authority of the people to enact laws, as provided in this subdivision, shall extend only to laws authorized by the provisions of the constitution.

(c) THE REFERENDUM. — If within ninety days after the final adjournment of any session of the legislature, a referendum petition, signed by six per centum of the electors of the state, shall be filed with the secretary of state against any law or any part of a law, passed by the legislature at such session, such law, or such part of a law shall be submitted to the electors at the next general or special state-wide election, occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of said petition. If a majority of the votes cast thereon be in the negative, provided such negative vote be not less than thirty-three per centum of the total number of votes cast at such election, such law or such part of a law shall thereby be repealed. Provided, that if a referendum petition is signed by fifteen per centum of the electors of the state, the law, or part of a law, against which such petition is filed shall be suspended pending the referendum vote thereon. Provided the same shall equal 33 per cent of the votes at such election.

Any law providing for a tax levy or appropriating money for the current expenses of the state government or state institutions, any act of the legislature submitting a constitutional amendment or other question to the electors of the state, or any emergency law necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the governor, and such laws, except emergency laws, shall not be subject to a referendum vote. All other laws shall go into effect ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature. A bill proposing an emergency law shall contain a preamble briefly setting forth the facts constituting the emergency. A separate vote shall be taken upon the preamble of such bill by a call of the yeas and nays, and if the preamble be adopted by a two-thirds vote of all the members of each house, it shall be an emergency law.

(d) GENERAL PROVISIONS.—All petitions provided for in this section shall contain a title indicating the subject and purpose of the proposed law or constitutional amendment, or the law, or part of a law to be referred, and if a change is proposed in an existing constitutional provision or statute, in addition to referring to the same, it shall state the general effect of the proposed change and also the full text of the proposed law or amendment to the constitution, or of the law or part of a law, to be referred. Any initiative or referendum petition may be signed in separate parts but each part shall conform to the provisions herein contained. All petitions shall be signed and verified before a person authorized to administer an oath, and shall be in such form that a person signing a petition thereby states under oath, the date of his signature, his residence, that he is a qualified elector, that he has not previously signed any part of such petition, and that he has signed the petition with knowledge of the contents thereof. To each part of such petition shall be attached the affidavit of the person before whom the same was signed, which affidavit shall contain a statement of the number of signers thereon, that each of the signatures attached to such part was made in the presence of the affiant, that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be, that he believes the persons who have signed such petition to be electors, that they signed such petition with knowledge of the contents thereof, and that each person signed the same on the date stated opposite his name. The circulation of the petition provided for herein, or the prohibition of the circulation thereof, may be regulated by law, and in case the circulation of any petition is prohibited by law, the percentage of signers required on any petition provided for in this section shall be one-half of the percentage specified in subdivisions a, b and c of this section.

The percentage in any case shall be based upon the total number of votes cast for governor at the next preceding election. All petitions provided for in this section shall contain the signature of not less than one-half of the designated percentage of the electors in not less than one-fourth of the counties of the state. In initiating a law or constitutional amendment, electors who have signed the first shall be qualified to sign the second petition.

The sufficiency of all petitions shall be decided by the secretary of state subject to review by the court. If the secretary of state decides that any petition is insufficient, he shall permit a reasonable time for making corrections or for filing additional signatures. In the event of legal proceedings in court to prevent giving effect to any such petition on account of insufficiency, or any other ground, the burden of proof shall be upon the person attacking the petition. No law or amendment to the constitution initiated and approved by the electors as herein provided, shall be held unconstitutional or void on account of the insufficiency of any initiative petition; nor shall the repeal of any law submitted by referendum petition be held invalid for such insufficiency.

All initiative laws and constitutional amendments shall be so submitted to the electors as to permit an affirmative or negative vote upon each measure submitted. If conflicting proposed laws or conflicting proposed amendments to the constitution be approved at the same election, the one receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall prevail as to conflicting provisions.

The style of all legislative measures and amendments to the constitution initiated by the people under this section shall be: "Be it enacted by the People of the State of Minnesota."

The provisions of this section may be enforced by appropriate legislation, but until such legislation has been enacted, this section shall be self executing.

THE PURPOSE AND EFFECT of this amendment, if adopted, will be three-fold.

(a) It will permit the voters to propose amendments to the state constitution, for adoption, without action by the legislature. Under the constitution as it now stands constitutional amendments can be proposed only by the legislature.

(b) So, too, if adopted, the amendment will permit electors to propose laws for enactment and if not enacted by the legislatures, the voters may by sufficient petition, require the question of the enactment of the proposed law, to be submitted to the voters. If approved by a majority of the electors voting, thereon, provided the vote in favor of the proposed law is not less than thirty-three per cent of the total number of votes cast at such election, the same becomes a law with the same force and effect as though passed by the legislature. The governor will have no power to veto a law so passed, but the people cannot so pass any law which is prohibited by the constitution.

(c) So too, if adopted, the amendment will permit the voters by proper petition to require a vote on the question of whether or not any law or part thereof, of certain classes of laws, passed by the legislature shall be repealed. If the petition asking for the referendum is signed by fifteen per cent of the voters of the state, the number of whom is to be determined by the number of votes cast for Governor at the preceding election, the law so referred to the voters will not take effect pending the referendum vote thereon. The vote required to repeal a law passed by the legislature and the classes of laws which cannot be so repealed are specified in Subdivision "C" of the proposed amendment as above printed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 8.

By Chapter 386, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors an amendment of Section 7, Article 6, of the constitution.

The section now reads as follows:

"Section 7. PROBATE COURTS—There shall be established in each organized county in the state a probate court, which shall be a court of record, and be held at such times and places as may be prescribed by law. It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of two years. He shall be a resident of such county at the time of his election, and reside therein during his continuance in office; and his compensation shall be provided by law. He may appoint his own clerk where none has been elected; but the legislature may authorize the election, by the electors of any county, of one clerk of register of probate for such county, whose powers, duties, term of office and compensation shall be prescribed by law. A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction, except as prescribed by this constitution."

The amendment simply proposes to substitute the word "four" for the word "two" so that the sentence, [illegible] duration [illegible] judge will, if the amendment is adopted, read as follows:

"It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: The amendment, if adopted will make the term of office of the Judge of Probate four years instead of two.

Visited by the Catacombs.

"Did I understand you to say you were in Europe?" he asked of the man who was talking to a drummer across the aisle.

"Yes, sir."

"Were you in Rome?"

"I was there for a month, sir."

"Ah, I am glad to have met you. I wanted to ask about Rome. You visited the catacombs, of course?"

"Didn't have to. They visited me."

"How do you mean?"

"Why, I never stirred out of the hotel that they weren't striking me for alms. Never saw such an infernal set in all my born days."

"Don't you mean the lazzaroni?"

"Of course. The catacombs and the lazzaroni are the same thing, only 'catacombs' is the Italian of it and the other is the English. If you haven't been over I'd advise you to go—if you can raise the dudads. You don't know how much a trip abroad will broaden and liberalize your mind."

And the other sank back and hid himself in a corner, and he did not get over looking pale for the next 30 miles.

Real Academic Dignity.

Max Muller tells a story of one of Dr. Strachan Davidson's predecessors as master of Balliol. "Once, when returning from a solitary walk, Doctor Jenkins, whose regard for his own dignity was very great, slipped and fell. Two undergraduates, seeing the accident, ran to assist him, and were just laying hands on him to lift him up when he descried a master of arts coming. 'Stop!' he cried. 'I see a master of arts coming down the street,' and he dismissed the undergraduates with many thanks, and was helped on his legs by the M. A."—London Chronicle.

The Clever Wasp.

Wasps appear to be well-nigh as industrious as ants or bees. One authority has declared that the cardinal doctrine of the wasp is: "If any wasp will not work, neither shall he eat."

Division of labor is clearly seen in the wasp's nest. Some of the workers seem to be specially employed as foragers and soldiers, others appear to be told off as nurses and guardians, while yet others are engaged as paper makers and masons.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

Geo. Anderson came up from Climax Friday for a short visit at home. He reported there were several thousand bushel of potatoes yet to be dug on the farm where he was working, and that they had already dug 21000 bu., the most of which were stored.

George is enthusiastic about growing potatoes and expects to plant 200 bu. next spring.

For Representative

To the Voters of Marshall County:-

I have served as your Representative in the Legislature one session and am now asking for SECOND term. I am asking this on my record, which contains nothing I desire to conceal.

In the 1915 session I opposed all extravagant appropriations and advocated larger ones than those made in but two cases, viz: for state aid to rural schools, and for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

My re-election would result in your Representative in the 1917 Legislature being given better committee positions and having greater prestige and influence than would be accorded to a new man. With this advantage I would be able to render you better service and be able to secure the passage of any legislation in which you might be specially interested.

The pledges I made you in 1915 have been faithfully kept, as an examination of my records will fully prove.

Soliciting your support and your votes at the election on November 7, 1916, I am,

Respectfully yours,
C. L. STEVENS.

BULGARS WREST BLACK SEA PORT FROM ROUMANIA; DEFENDERS FLEE

MACKENSEN'S AUSTRO-GERMAN-BULGAR-TURK ARMY OCCUPIES CONSTANZA—ALLIES SUFFER DISASTROUS ROUT.

TEUTONS ASSERT VICTORY IS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Declare Capture Offsets All Gains Made by Allies Since Somme Offensive Began—City Was Useful as Entrance for Allied Troops and Ammunition.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—Constanza, Roumania's greatest seaport, has fallen before Field Marshal von Mackensen's army, it has just been officially announced. Capture of the city is hailed by German military men as of more importance than all the gains made by the Allies since the Somme offensive began.

Official dispatches from the German and Bulgarian war office indicate that the Russo-Roumanians have suffered a disastrous rout.

Allies Demoralized.

Smashing northward along the Black sea coast, Von Mackensen's Austro-German-Bulgar-Turk army occupied first the Roumanian port of Tuzla and then swept onward through strongly fortified Roumanian lines of defense, marching 12 miles to Constanza in a little more than two days. The rapidity of the Teutonic advance is accepted as an indication that the Russians and Roumanians became demoralized and made an extremely disordered retreat.

Berlin Not Surprised.

An official statement from Sofia earlier in the day, reporting the capture of a village six miles south of Constanza, prepared Berlin for news of a great victory. No surprise was manifested here when it was announced that Von Mackensen had pushed on through the ruins of the Old Trojan's wall and had occupied Constanza itself.

The 35-mile Constanza-Cernavoda railway, leading across the Danube, is the carrier over which Roumania has derived a large quantity of her supplies. The Teutonic right wing is now astride that railway at Constanza, while Mackensen's center and left wing are swinging forward to capture the remainder of the road. Von Mackensen is aiming principally at Cernovoda and the great bridge over the Danube.

Is Railroad Terminus.

Troops of the Teutonic powers have crossed the railway line running between the Black sea port of Constanza and the river Danube at a point to the east of Murfattar, the official announcement says.

Constanza was one of the principal objectives of Field Marshal von Mackensen in his campaign in Dobrudja. It is of particular importance by reason of the fact that it is the eastern terminus of the only railroad between the Black sea and the Danube. Thence the railroad runs westward into old Roumania.

Entrance for Troops.

Constanza has been notably useful in offering a seaport and railway entrance for Russian troops and ammunition sent to the aid of Roumania. Its capture cuts off the most convenient water route for Roumanian replenishment, especially in munitions, of which the Roumanians have been reported badly in need. Possession of the entire line would give the Germanic force the easiest road to interior Roumania from the southwest over the Tchernavoda bridge.

FARMERS REALIZE DREAM; WHEAT PRICE REACHES $2

Several Cars of No. 1 Durum Sold for Record Price in Cash Market—Chicago Prices Soaring.

Minneapolis, Oct. 24.—Two-dollar wheat, for years the dream of the farmer, became a reality in Minneapolis for the first time in Chamber of Commerce history, when several cars of No. 1 durum wheat were sold in the cash market at that figure.

Other premium varieties of wheat fetched record prices in the cash market, while in the pit December wheat soared to $1.86⅝, also the highest price in the local market's history.

Chicago wheat prices also reached their highest level of the present rise. In Chicago, however, prices were still below that paid for May wheat in the Leither "corner" of 1898.

Suits Against Capitalists Argued.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Argument has been begun before the supreme court on the suits of James Sim and Thomas P. Alder of New York against William Edenborn, capitalist, to recover subscriptions of nearly $110,000 they gave Edenborn in his promotion of the $2,500,000 Sheffield Coal & Iron company in 1902. The corporation later became insolvent. Edenborn, a former associate of John W. Gates, organized the American Steel & Wire company and was connected with interests in St. Louis.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Owatonna. — Two prisoners sawed their way to freedom from the Steele county jail, took an automobile owned by County Superintendent of Schools James Mort, and escaped.

Minneapolis. — A boom for the establishment of a state normal school in the St. Anthony Park district was started at a meeting of the St. Anthony Park North Improvement association.

Minneapolis. — Indorsement of the serum-only method of treatment for hog cholera, as distinguished from the serum-virus method, is made in the current issue of the University Farm Bulletin.

Stillwater. — Double funeral services were held here for Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Chatterton, pioneer residents of Stillwater, whose deaths occurred within six and a half hours of the other. Each was 84 years old.

Albert Lea. — Ernest Hanson, son of Fred Hanson of Clarks Grove, was killed almost instantly near here when the motorcycle on which he was riding collided head-on with an automobile driven by Severe Olson of this city.

Stillwater.—High school boys served as judges at the Stillwater Horse and Cattle show. Heretofore state university students have acted in this capacity. The entries included many animals that have won prizes at the state fair.

Brainerd. — Pending the arrival of "Fisherman John" of Stillwater, five rivermen of Brainerd and Outing have been enlisted in the search for the body of Selwyn P. Coffrain a Brainerd business man, who was drowned in Lake George Oct. 15 while duck hunting.

Brainerd.—District schools in Dukeman and Neutral have been closed following an infantile paralysis investigation conducted in Crow Wing county by Dr. R. A. Beise of this city, at the solicitation of the farmers in Garrison and Maple Grove townships. Quarantine regulations have been established.

Pipestone. — The sun appeared in the role of a firebug in Pipestone and but for the prompt discovery of a fire which started in the window of a large jewelry store, a heavy loss would have resulted. Lying in the window, with numerous valuable pieces of jewelry, was a pair of spectacles, which reflected the rays of the sun onto the plush.

Grand Rapids. — Olga Dahl, who was assaulted and shot September 21, has recovered sufficiently to travel by automobile. She has made her first visit to her parents at Warba since receiving her injuries, and was driven to Deer River, where she is staying at the home of Mrs. Marian Taylor, the nurse who has been in charge of the case.

Minneapolis. — Mallard ducks have been placed on the open market here for the first time since Hennepin county pioneer days. The ducks were placed on sale at two downtown stores. They were raised on C. D. Velie's game breeding farm at Maxwell's bay, Lake Minnetonka. They are absolutely the first "legal mallards" ever placed on the open market.

Minneapolis. — The state campaign for the adoption of Amendment No. 1, intended to improve state lands and make them more salable, is in full swing. It has been decided that it will be better for the campaigners to divide the territory and campaign individually, because in that way they can cover much more territory than one party could cover in an automobile.

St. Paul. — Frederick T. Price, convicted wife murderer, has made his last fight for liberty before members of the Minnesota supreme court, asking for a new trial on the grounds of errors at his trial, and alleging misconduct on the part of George W. Armstrong, assistant county attorney, who prosecuted him. After arguments by Price's attorney and by Mr. Armstrong, the court took the case under advisement.

Duluth. — Henry Johnson, age 36, formerly of Ray, Minn., has been arrested in a Duluth saloon as a suspect in the criminal shooting of Miss Olga Dahl, Itasca county school teacher. Questioned by Chief of Police McKercher, Johnson said he came here from Skibo, and that he had been in Round Lake "a long time ago." Johnson has served a 10 months' term in a Canadian prison for an unnatural crime and has also been an inmate of the Fergus Falls asylum for the insane.

Minneapolis.—The University of Minnesota is to become, in effect, a second West Point. It has been named as one of the sixteen of the leading universities and colleges of the United States authorized to train reserve officers along lines laid down in the army reorganization law. President Vincent was appointed one of a committee to work but a curriculum adapted to the various institutions, and to the government's requirements, and to arrange other details for beginning instruction.

Mankato. — That highest self-realization as the aim of education is the basis for the new state course of study for elementary schools was pointed out here by Miss Theda Gildemeister, supervisor of training in Winona normal school, in an address at the Southern Minnesota Teachers' convention.

Duluth. — The validity of the Duluth wheelage tax ordinance is sustained on all points raised in an appeal decided by the State Supreme court. The appeal was taken by James D. Park against the City of Duluth and others to test the ordinance after it had been upheld by the lower court.

BOARD OF PARDONS COMMUTES TERMS

DENIES THREE PARDON APPLICATIONS AND TAKES OTHER CASES UNDER ADVISEMENT.

TO TRY 'ABSENT VOTERS' LAW'

Traveling Salesmen and Others May May Cast Ballots Anywhere in Minnesota on Election Day, Under Statute—Must Have Certificate.

St. Paul.

The board of pardons has commuted the sentences of three prisoners at Stillwater, denied three pardon applications and has taken the remaining eight cases heard under advisement until November 9, to which date the board adjourned. Fred Wagner, Jr., "lifer"; Christ I. Lucken and Earl Scrafield, serving indeterminate sentences, were voted commutations.

Denials were voted on the petitions of Mike Lah, Petro Bacani and Jim Francisetti, a trio serving reformatory sentences for assault.

The pardon pleas of "Kid" Scully, sentenced at Minneapolis in March, and that of Harry T. Robinson, under 20 years' sentence for burglary of the Shubert theater in St. Paul, were among those taken under advisement.

Vincent Wood is in the state prison for life because he tried to play a practical joke on his best friends, his attorney told the pardon board in an appeal for a pardon of sentence commutation for his client.

Wood, whose practical joke cost a man's life, went to prison for the rest of his day's with his lips sealed on a story that might have won him acquittal, said his attorney.

* * *

Absentees to Vote.

Traveling salesmen and others expecting to be absent from home on election day are preparing in many cases to cast their votes for president and for state officers under the "absent voters' law." The law does not cover absence from the state, but a voter anywhere in Minnesota on election day can cast his ballot if he has prepared for the contingency.

Sections 468 to 471 of the revised statutes, provide a method for an absent voter to cast his vote for president, for a state officer "voted for by the voters throughout the state as a whole" or on any constitutional amendment.

First, he must go on a registration day, which will be Oct. 28, before the judges of his home precinct and get a certificate from them, saying that he is a resident and legal voter of that precinct. On election day he is to present the certificate at the precinct where he desires to vote. Two "qualified resident voters" are to identify him as the man named in the certificate. He then is to be given a state ballot. After he has marked it and handed it to the judges, they are to place it in an envelope and send it by registered mail to the auditors of the voter's home county. It is to be opened and counted by the county canvassing board.

* * *

Citizens' Camp at Fort.

Fort Snelling has been designated as a military training camp for business men similar to the camp at Plattsburg, N. Y. Major-General Barry commanding the Central department of the army, authorized the maintenance of two such camps of 30 days each during August and September, 1917, at Fort Snelling, civic workers announced.

All of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin and Montana will be asked to co-operate in making this camp a success. Fully 1,000 men will be necessary to make the camp a success, but the general interest in the eastern training camps, shown by business and professional men, warrants the belief that at least 1,500 will train at Fort Snelling next year."

* * *

Soldiers Plan Carnival.

Minnesota soldiers in camp at Llano Grande, Texas, will have an outdoor sports carnival of their own. They expext to be denied the pleasure of participating in the St. Paul Outdoor affair to take place early next month. They will be aided by the home folk in supplying some of the articles necessary for the carnival for a letter from Rev. L. R. S. Ferguson, chaplain of the First Field artillery, met with a prompt response.

Hearing on Adjustments.

The State Tax Commission has held hearings looking toward adjustments of assessments of mineral lands in Minnesota. Representatives of about fifteen mining companies and other owners of mineral properties appeared, a small number in comparison to those in past years.

Cavalry Troop for "U."

A cavalry troop may be established at the University of Minnesota during the next college year, according to Major George W. Moses, new commandant of the cadet corps and instructor in military science. "Three branches of instruction in colleges are provided in the new army law and next year we expect to see the infantry, artillery and cavalry all at the university," said the commandant. Three more regular army officers will be sent to the university to give instruction, he said.

CHINESE LAND IS SEIZED BY FRENCH ARMY AT TIEN TSIN

SQUARE MILE OF TERRITORY OCCUPIED BY CONSUL WITH ASSISTANCE OF TROOPS—ORIENTALS THREATEN VIOLENCE.

GREAT BATTLES RAGE IN BALKANS; BRITISH GAIN

Serbians Make Notable Headway in Campaign Against Monastir—Rains on Somme Front and Heavy Snows in Carpathians Impede Infantry Actions—Bulgars Repulsed.

Peking, Oct. 23.—A square mile of territory adjoining the French concession at Tien Tsin has been forcibly seized by the French consul, with the assistance of troops.

The Chinese police were arrested and Frenchmen substituted for them.

Replying to a protest from the Chinese foreign office, the French legation at Peking replied that it assumed responsibility for any violence that might result from the action.

Violence Threatened.

The district occupied by the French is thickly populated and the Chinese are threatening violence, as they have stubbornly resisted for many years annexation to the French concession.

In its protest to the French legation the foreign office gave warning that it would not be responsible if violence resulted.

The Chinese press is violently assailing the action of the French, declaring that it "surpasses Japanese tactics and is actual warfare against defenseless China."

Two Big Battles in Balkans.

London, Oct. 23.—Two great battles are raging in the Balkans, while rainy weather on the Somme front and heavy snows in the Carpathians have impeded infantry actions in two main theaters of war.

Notable headway is being made by the Serbians on the Macedonian front in their campaign for Monastir, according to the current reports from Allied sources.

Paris announced further gains against the Bulgarians in the bend of the Cerna, southeast of Monastir, where the Serbians have pushed well to the north of the river following their recent passage at Brod.

Serbs Menace Monastir.

The official account says that the Serbians have thrust back the Bulgarians and captured several villages.

Unofficial advices also report the Serbians, assisted by French troops, attacking in the Kenali region to the west, along the Florina-Monastir railway.

Kenali is less than 10 miles from Monastir. The Bulgarian position here is declared by Allied military commentators to be virtually outflanked by the Serbian capture of Velyselo, in the Cerna sector, six miles northeast of Kenali.

ALLIES NOW CONTROL SITUATION AT ATHENS

French Admiral Appointed Chief Inspector by Greek Minister of Interior—Directs Activities of Police.

London, Oct. p3.—Vice Admiral Dufournet, commanding the Allied fleet in Greek waters, has assumed complete control of the situation at Athens and has taken drastic steps to prevent further rioting.

The Greek police and gendarmerie now perform their duties under the eye of the French commander, who approves all police orders. No police officer can be dismissed nor transferred without his sanction.

The vice admiral received these powers through an appointment from the Greek ministry of the interior to be "chief inspector." He is empowered to appoint inspectors with similar powers in other Greek cities.

Warships Aid Grounded Steamer.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Admiral Pond is proceeding at full speed aboard the gunboat Prairie to aid the steamer Seward, aground off Cape Haitien, the Navy department announces. Admiral Pond also has ordered the tug Pontiac to aid the Seward. No word has reached the Navy department as to the vessel's state except the bare information that she is aground.

Episcopalians Select Detroit.

St. Louis, Oct. 23.—Detroit has been selected as the conference city of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America in 1919. The house of bishops selected Detroit and the house of deputies concurred in the selection without a fight.

One Killed in Fight for Jewels.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Chicago police are searching for three masked bandits who shot and killed Louis Lichtenstein, a newspaper advertising solicitor, after failing to obtain a bag of jewels for which they invaded a garage at the home of the victim and his brother-in-law, Emil Noel, a jeweler. Lichtenstein and Noel had just reached their home and were putting up their automobile when the attack was made. Noel had a package containing diamonds and other jewels, which he managed to hide.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy."—Mrs. Wm. Green, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Willie Meant Rabid.

Wee Willie was greatly excited.

"Mamma," he cried, "you know Jones' pup?"

Is Work Too Hard?

Many kinds of work wear out the kidneys, and kidney trouble makes any kind of work hard. It brings morning lameness, backache, headache, nervousness, rheumatism and urinary troubles. If your work is confining, strains the back, or exposes you to extreme heat or cold or damp, it's well to keep the kidneys active. Doan's Kidney Pills are reliable and safe. Thousands recommend them.

A North Dakota Case

Sidney Goodnow, machinist, 208 W. Eleventh St., Devils Lake, N. D., says: "Three years ago I was suffering from my back. It was lame and weak and ached most all the time. My kidneys were weak and disordered, too. The first few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief and as I continued using them, they removed the trouble. I have found this medicine to be just as represented."

THE KITCHEN CABINET

A very sublime and grand thing is truth, in its way though, like other sublime and grand things, such as thunderstorms, and that we're not always over and above glad to see it.—Dickens.

PALATABLE FOODS.

A nice, rich, steamed brown bread with raisins may be served with a rich pudding sauce, making an excellent dessert, and no one need be the wiser as to its being a makeshift in an emergency. If no raisins are steamed in the bread a few may be steamed and sprinkled over each slice with a few chopped nuts.

Savory Beans.—A pint of kidney beans boiled until tender with a piece of salt pork or bacon, when done, will have a rich sauce. Add more water if necessary; add a fried onion and some chopped parsley to the beans. Season to taste and when serving add a tablespoonful each of oil and vinegar to further season them.

Roquefort Cheese Dressing.—Mix together half a teaspoonful of salt, a quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper, six tablespoonfuls of olive oil, and when well mixed add three tablespoonfuls of vinegar or lemon juice. Beat all together until an emulsion is formed. Add to this an eighth of a pound of Roquefort cheese, crushed fine, and a little chopped pimento or tabasco sauce.

Boiled Fresh Tongue Sardellan Sauce.—Cook a fresh tongue in simmering water for three hours until it is tender. Skim it and cut in quarter-inch slices, arrange on a platter and pour over it the following sauce: Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter and add two tablespoonfuls of flour; mix and cook, then add gradually two cupfuls of the liquor in which the tongue was boiled, six anchovies, cut fine, let boil a minute, season with salt and pepper and pour over the tongue.

Blitzkuchen.—Cream a cupful of butter, add a cupful of powdered sugar, add the grated rind of half a lemon, sift two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a teaspoonful of salt and two cupfuls of flour together; add three-quarters of a cupful of milk, alternating with the flour, and the yolks of four eggs; beat well, fold in the whites and bake in a shallow pan; brush the top with egg, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and finely chopped almonds. Bake 20 minutes.

Among men who have any sound and sterling qualities there is nothing so contagious as pure openness of heart.

Speak with tact. Without it, better not to speak at all.

FOR BREAKFAST.

There are several things which enter into the right kind of a breakfast: first, the individual to be served, age, state of health, occupation, season and climate, as well as the supplies to be obtained.

The old standbys of bacon, toast, coffee, preceded by some sort of fruit is the breakfast of the average person. It is the meal which most housewives complain about the oftenest, being hard to give variety.

Grapes are one of the fruits most enjoyed in the fall and are a most wholesome fruit; apples, pears and peaches all have a wholesome acid, very beneficial to the digestion.

Plain boiled rice makes a welcome breakfast cereal; omelets of various kinds give a change from the every-day shell-cooked, poached or fried egg. A most appetizing method of serving eggs is to drop them into individual ramekins, cover with cream, dot with bits of butter and season with salt and pepper; place in the oven in a dish of hot water and bake until the eggs are set.

Where fresh mackerel is obtained, no more tasty dish can be offered than broiled mackerel or the fish backed in cream. Place it in a dripping pan with a little water, skin side down, and place in the hot oven; when the water has evaporated pour over the fish a cupful of good cream; heat through and serve, adding the seasonings at the last, not to curdle the cream, although that need not entirely spoil the dish, but it does detract from its appearance.

Chops, liver and bacon, sausages of various kinds, are all meats used for breakfast. Only a small portion should be served, as it is much better for the health to eat meat but once a day and that at the heavy meal, or dinner.

Hot breads are liked for breakfast, and griddle cakes the year round never seem to lose their popularity. For the Sunday breakfast it is wise to have an entire change. As it is a meal of more leisure than every-day breakfasts, it may be a little more elaborate.

A fruit that is subacid is best to serve in the morning; a cereal with cream is given, though the practice of serving acid fruits and cereals with cream is quite general.

The next best thing to understanding the whole of any subject, is to be aware of that part of it we do not understand.—Whately.

A drop of ink may make a million think.

APPETIZING DISHES.

Very pretty and useful little receptacles for holding ices may be made by using the sweet wafers held together at the ends with frosting to make boxlike dishes; fill with cream and serve.

Fig Preserve.—Wash ripe figs in soda water and drop the figs into boiling hot sirup, using six pounds of sugar to eight pounds of fruit; cook until the figs become clear, a half hour or longer. Flavor with a branch of lemon verbena, leaves of rose geranium and a small box of crystallized ginger. Seal with paraffin in small jars.

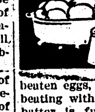
Delicious Muffins.—Beat well the yolks of two eggs. Into this stir one pint of flour in which three teaspoonfuls of baking powder have been mixed; then stir in gradually, one pint of water and the beaten whites of three eggs, and a pinch of salt. Bake in hot, well greased muffin pans 20 minutes.

Oyster Salad.—Heat a quart of small oysters until they are plump, then pour off the liquor, add the juice of a lemon and place on ice until well chilled. Before serving mix them with finely cut celery, a half cupful of nuts or more and a cupful of mayonnaise dressing; garnish with beets, tiny cucumbers or pimentos cut in fancy shapes.

Escaloped Eggs.—If the price of eggs keeps on going up this dish may be one we will enjoy looking at and hoping for when eggs are reasonable. Cook hard six eggs, by dropping them into three quarts of boiling water; cover closely, allow to stand near the heat, but not on it, for a half hour. Then remove them, lay in cold water, and take off the shells. Make a white sauce of a quarter of a cupful each of butter and flour cooked together; then add a pint of milk, cook until smooth and add one chopped green pepper and salt and pepper to season. Slice the eggs and put them into a buttered dish, a layer of white sauce and a layer of eggs; sprinkle with grated cheese, finish with a layer of white sauce and a thick covering of buttered crumbs. Bake until brown in a hot oven.

A college education is not a scheme to enable a man to live without work. Its purpose is to help him to work to advantage, to make every stroke count.—David Starr Jordan.

FOR THE HOME TABLE.



When serving a roast of beef the yorkshire pudding or muffins will help out with the meat if it seems to be too small a roast for the number served.

Yorkshire Muffins.—Stir into two cupfuls of sifted flour a pinch of salt, three well-beaten eggs, and two cupfuls of milk, beating with an egg beater until the butter is full of bubbles. Half an hour before the roast is to be served, pour out a little of the drippings into a shallow pan containing hot-greased muffin rings and fill with the batter. Serve nicely browned as a border to the roast.

Royal Bouillon.—Take two and a half pounds of lean beef, finely chopped, cover with two quarts of water, allowing it to stand an hour, then bring to the simmering point and cook three hours, removing any scum that may arise. Now add one small onion, a carrot, one bay leaf, two cloves, four peppercorns, and two stalks of minced celery; simmer until the vegetables are tender. Strain into an earthenware bowl and let it cool. When ready to serve remove any fat, clear by stirring in the white of an egg, boil up, strain and serve at once.

Fish Pudding, Russian.—Take one and a half to two pounds of fresh mackerel, one and a half tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of cracker crumbs, three cupfuls of milk, six eggs, one grated onion, six peppercorns, and one tablespoonful of sour cream. Cut the fish lengthwise, wash it, take out the bones, removing the skin. Chop the meat fine, with half a tablespoonful of butter, put into a bowl the yolks of the eggs, with the salt needed, onion, peppercorns, cracker crumbs, a tablespoonful of butter and the sour cream. Beat well, add the fish, stir in the beaten whites and put into a buttered baking dish; cover and cook slowly for two hours. Serve with caper sauce.

Caper Sauce.—Cook together a tablespoonful each of butter and flour, add pepper, a cupful of milk, salt and two tablespoonfuls of capers. Cook slowly and serve hot.

Almond cakes may be prepared the same way, using six egg whites, a pound of sugar and a pound of almonds finely sliced.

ELOPES WITH HIS SON'S SWEETHEART

Steady Business Man Quits Wife and Children for Stenographer.

TWO HOMES SORROW

Girl's Telegram Shows She Could Not Resist Mature Admirer—Her Betrothed Away With His State Regiment.

Boston, Mass.—Charles H. Gretter, forty-five years old, treasurer of the Louis E. Merry company, bakers, with a fine residence in Malden and a summer home in North Weymouth, has eloped with the sweetheart of his nineteen-year-old son, Leslie, who has been with the Massachusetts militia at El Paso, Tex.

The broken-hearted mother of Mr. Gretter's three children admitted that fact at the Gretter home. She was corroborated by the father of Mildred Merrill, twenty-two years old, a stenographer, who sacrificed her soldier sweetheart and her home to elope with a man old enough to be her father.

Crushed by the weight of a double sorrow—his mother having committed suicide two weeks ago—Fred Merrill of Eastman road, Somerville, quoted from a yellow slip of paper:

"I fought him for six years.

"MILDRED."

It was a telegram he received last Sunday from Worcester, in which his daughter told of her step.

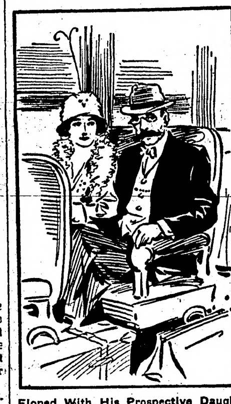
Employed in His Office.

Where she and her forty-five-year-old companion may be now is not known either to Mr. Merrill or Mrs. Gretter.

"I want my husband home again in spite of everything," said Mrs. Gretter.

"All I want is my little daughter back again," said Mr. Merrill.

Miss Merrill was employed as a stenographer for several years in Mr. Gretter's office, and the two were openly fond of each other's society, but no one thought that Mr. Gretter's liking was anything more than admiration of his supposedly prospective daughter-in-law.



Eloped With His Prospective Daughter-in-Law.

The fact that Mr. Gretter frequently took Miss Merrill riding in his touring automobile was known to both families, and was never given a thought. Nor was it considered strange that Miss Merrill should constantly be lauding the qualities of her employer.

Gretter Family Prostrated.

Mrs. Gretter and her two daughters, both in their teens, are prostrated. But Mrs. Gretter has not a single bitter word to say, either of her husband or of his companion.

"I hope the girl is restored to her father," she said, "and as for my husband, I want him to come back again. Not here, though; not here. What is there left for him here? He has lost every friend, or will lose them, when the affair becomes known. Oh, how could he? How could he?'

STOPPED HIS WIFE'S TONGUE

Husband Used "Dumbcane" Because He Tired of Her Chatter—Later Paid Hospital Bill Cheerfully.

St. Louis, Mo.—Mr. and Mrs. John Kearne were inspecting a botanical garden here when the gardener pointed to a plant and called it "dumbcane."

Kearne's curiosity was aroused and he asked, "Why the dumb?" The gardener replied that if a leaf is placed on the tongue it renders the person speechless. Some time later Kearne approached his wife smilingly.

"Shut your eyes and open your mouth. I've something good for you," he said, and his wife obeyed. At the city hospital Mrs. Kearne recovered her speech and she told on Kearne. He confessed. Likewise he footed the hospital bill.

"I didn't have faith in what that gardener said, but sometimes my wife talks too much and I thought I'd try it," he explained.

WHY STRIVE TO KILL TIME?

If Annihilation Were Possible, the World Would Remain Just Exactly as It Is Today.

There are so many gentle proverbs devoted to the praise of Time, that it is wonderful to think how, in our day, that comely Titan has come to be regarded by the most of us as our worst enemy.

We are forever scheming how to forereach him, to get the better of him, even—in the extravagant phrase of the speed-at-any-price maniacs—to annihilate him.

Those, to be sure, fail to see how the consummation of their ideal would leave them exactly at the point from which they started.

Even the forty minutes girdle round about the earth, if achieved, would soon exhaust the excursive potentialities of existence; and, unless science is prepared to deal triumphantly with the problem of penetrating and breathing atmosphereless space, one fails to see what the world would gain through a perfected system of aeroplanes but the taedium vitae in its final and quite incurable form.

Oldtime Musical Watch.

An extraordinary timepiece has come into the possession of a jeweler living in Chillicothe, O., who is said to have got it on a recent visit to London. It is a watch of the antique class, made in Paris 125 years ago at a time when musical watches were much in vogue among the well-to-do classes. It is a fine specimen of the handmade article, and besides playing beautiful melodies strikes the hours and quarters. The dial is noteworthy on account of its rare and exquisite enamel work on beautifully chased gold. It is looked upon as a curio of great value.

Contradictory Methods.

GOOD WORD FOR DANDELION

Americans Could Save Money by Systematic Cultivation of Yellow-Flowered Plant.

It is astonishing to most of us to learn, from an authoritative source, that our annual supply of dandelion roots comes chiefly from Germany, Austria and France. By the way, who started the notion that this highly decorative yellow-flowered plant should be banished where the owner makes a pretext of a well-kept lawn?

Well, dandelions were made before lawns, and, luckily, they persist in flourishing. The leaves supply us with early "greens," and the roots with something renowned medicinally as "good for the liver." But why should our truck gardeners stand idly by while the makers of drugs import tons of dandelion roots every year from Europe?

For the same reason, very likely, that American sugar-beet growers buy —or did, before the war—their seed from thrifty and enterprising German and French farmers. For the same reason that we have been sending good money to Europe for many another necessity that we might have produced ourselves without waiting for a world war to cut off the supply.

Just what the reason is it might be hard to say. Probably a part of it is something we overlook when we boast of our national characteristics—sheer laziness.—Providence Journal.

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the STATE OF MINNESOTA

Submitted by the Legislature at Its General Session, 1915, Together With a Statement of the

PURPOSES AND EFFECTS,

Prepared by Hon. Lyndon A. Smith, Attorney General of Minnesota.

Addressed to Julius A. Schmahl Secretary of State

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, ST. PAUL.

April 7, 1916.

Honorable Julius A. Schmahl,
Secretary of State,
Capitol.

DEAR SIR: Pursuant to your request and in accordance with the provisions of Section 46, Statutes 1913, I herewith hand you statement of the purposes and effect of all amendments to the Constitution proposed by the legislature of 1915 and to be submitted to the electors at the next general election; such statement also shows the reading of the existing sections and the way the same will read if the amendments are adopted.

Yours truly,
LYNDON A. SMITH,
Attorney General.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1.

By Chapter 379, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Two (2) of Article Eight of the Constitution by adding to said Section Two a new paragraph.

Section Two as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 2. SCHOOL AND SWAMP LANDS—SCHOOL FUNDS FROM SALE OF—The proceeds of such lands as are or hereafter may be granted by the United States for the use of schools within each township in this state shall remain a perpetual school fund to the state; and not more than one-third of said lands may be sold in two years, one-third in five years, and one-third in ten years; but the lands of the greatest valuation shall be sold first: Provided, that no portion of said lands shall be sold otherwise than at public sale. The principal of all funds arising from sales or other disposition of lands or other property, granted or intrusted to this state in each township for educational purposes, shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished; and the income arising from the lease or sale of said school land shall be distributed to the different townships throughout the state, in proportion to the number of scholars in each township, between the ages of five and twenty-one years; and shall be faithfully applied to the specific objects of the original grants or appropriations. Suitable laws shall be enacted by the legislature for the safe investment of the principal of all funds which have heretofore arisen or which may hereafter arise from the sale or other disposition of such lands, or the income from such lands accruing in any way before the sale or disposition thereof in interest-bearing bonds of the United States, or of the State of Minnesota issued after the year 1860, or of such other state as the legislature may by law from time to time direct. All swamp lands now held by the state, or that may hereafter accrue to the state, shall be appraised and sold in the same manner and by the same officers, and the minimum price shall be the same less one-third, as is provided by law for the appraisement and sale of the school lands under the provisions of title one of chapter thirty-eight of the General Statutes. The principal of all funds derived from sales of swamp lands as aforesaid shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished. One-half of the proceeds of said principal shall be appropriated to the common school fund of the state; the remaining one-half shall be appropriated to the educational and charitable institutions of the state in the relative ratio of cost to support said institutions."

The paragraph which it is proposed to add to said Section Two reads as follows:

"A revolving fund of not over two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) may be set apart from the fund derived from the sale of school and swamp lands, to be used in constructing roads, ditches and fire breaks in, through and around unsold school and swamp lands and in clearing such lands, such fund to be replenished as long as needed from the enhanced value realized from the sale of such lands so benefited."

Under Section Two as it now stands the proceeds of the sale of school and swamp lands constitute the principal of a trust fund, the income of which is used for the support of the schools, educational and charitable institutions of the state. Section Two as it now stands provides that the principal of such fund "shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished."

THE EFFECT of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to modify the provision last quoted to the extent of permitting the legislature to set aside not to exceed $250,000 of the principal of the trust fund as a revolving fund to be used for the purposes stated in the amendment proposed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.

By Chapter 380, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Six (6), of Article Eight (8) of the Constitution.

Section Six as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 6. INVESTMENT OF SCHOOL FUNDS — The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state, but no such investment shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable real property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds, nor shall such loan or indebtedness be made at a lower rate of interest than three per cent per annum, nor for a shorter period than five years, nor for a longer period than twenty years, and no change of the town, school district, city, village or of county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of the issuing of such bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds."

If the proposed amendment is adopted it will then read as follows:

"The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state, and in first mortgage loans secured upon improved and cultivated farm lands of this state. But no such investment or loan shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds; nor shall any farm loan, or investment be made when such investment or loan would exceed 30 per cent of the actual cash value of the farm land mortgage to secure said investment; nor shall such investments or loans be made at a lower rate of interest than 3 per cent per annum nor for a shorter period than five years, nor for a longer period than thirty years, and no change of the town, school district, city, village or of county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of issuing of such bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds."

THE PURPOSE of the amendment is to authorize the investment of the permanent school and university funds in first mortgage loans secured upon improved and cultivated farm lands where the amount of the loans so secured does not exceed 30 per cent of the value of the land mortgaged.

THE EFFECT of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be to permit the legislature to authorize the investment of the permanent school and university funds in farm mortgages as above stated, as well as in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state. Under Section Six as it now reads bonds cannot be purchased unless they mature at least five and not more than twenty years after purchase. If the amendment is adopted, bonds and mortgages may be purchased if they mature not less than five nor more than thirty years after purchase.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3.

By Chapter 381, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Article Nine (9) of the Constitution by adding thereto a new section, which reads as follows:

"Section 17. The legislature is hereby authorized to provide by law for the mining and sale of any iron ore, or other minerals which the state owns, in its sovereign capacity, and as trustee for the people of the state, which are situate under the waters or bed of any meandered public lake or river, and for that purpose may provide for the drainage of any such lake or river, or the diversion of the waters thereof to a new bed or channel, provided, however, that the vested riparian rights of private persons or corporations owning land adjoining such lakes shall not be destroyed or damaged without their consent, unless compensation therefor shall be first paid or secured. The principal of all funds arising from the sale of such iron ore, or other minerals, shall forever be preserved inviolate and undiminished, but the income therefrom shall be used for the construction, improvement and maintenance of the public roads of the state. The principal of such funds shall be loaned or invested in the same manner, by the same officers, and upon the same terms as is, or from time to time hereafter may be authorized by the constitution and laws, for the loaning or investment of the permanent school and university funds of the state."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment cannot be more clearly stated than is expressed therein.

THE EFFECT of the amendment, if adopted, would be to confer power on the legislature to provide by law for the mining of iron ore and other minerals, which the state owns in its sovereign capacity and situate under the bed of any meandered public lake or river, subject to the restriction that the rights of riparian owners on any such lake or river, shall not be destroyed or injured without compensation. If the legislature exercises the power, in case it is conferred, it could also provide for the drainage or diversion of the waters of the lake or river with reference to which it so legislates; it could also prescribe by whom such minerals could be mined and the compensation to be paid to the state therefor. The proceeds of the sale of any such minerals would constitute a fund to be loaned and invested the same as the permanent school and university funds, the income of such fund to be used in the construction, improvement and maintenance of public roads.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4.

By Chapter 382, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed an amendment to Section Two (2) of Article Six of the Constitution.

Said Section 2 now reads as follows:

"Section 2. SUPREME COURT— The supreme court shall consist of one chief justice and two associate justices, but the number of associate justices may be increased to a number not exceeding four, by the legislature, by a two-thirds vote, when it shall be deemed necessary. It shall have original jurisdiction in such remedial cases as may be prescribed by law and appellate jurisdiction in all cases, both in law and equity, but there shall be no trial by jury in said court. It shall hold one or more terms in each year, as the legislature may direct, at the seat of government, and the legislature may provide, by a two-thirds vote, that one term in each year shall be held in each or any judicial district. It shall be the duty of such court to appoint a reporter of its decisions. There shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state, one clerk of the supreme court, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; and the judges of the supreme court, or a majority of them, shall have the power to fill any vacancy in the office of clerk of the supreme court until an election can be regularly had."

If the proposed amendment is adopted the section will then read as follows:

"Section 2. The supreme court shall consist of one chief justice and six associate justices. Five shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of at least four shall be necessary to a decision. It shall have original jurisdiction in such remedial cases as may be prescribed by law, and appellate jurisdiction in all cases, both in law and equity, but there shall be no trial by jury in said court. It shall hold one or more terms in each year, as the legislature may direct, at the seat of government, and the legislature may provide, by a two-thirds vote, that one term in each year shall be held in each or any judicial district. It shall be the duty of such court to appoint a reporter of its decisions and a clerk of the supreme court."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: The Supreme Court as now constituted consists of a chief justice and four associate justices. The clerk of said court is now elected. If the amendment is adopted, two associate justices will be added to the court and the clerk will be appointed by the court instead of being elected by the voters.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5.

By Chapter 383, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors, an amendment of Section Eleven (11) of Article Four (4) of the Constitution.

Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 11. APPROVAL OF BILLS BY GOVERNOR — VETO POWER— Every bill which shall have passed the senate and house of representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the state. If he approves he shall sign and deposit it in the office of the secretary of state for preservation, and notify the house where it originated of the fact. But if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated; when such objections shall be entered at large on the journal of the same, and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if it be approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by adjournment within that time, prevents its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state, within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law. If any bill presented to the governor contains several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects, and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money."

It is proposed to amend that section so that it shall read as follows:

"Section 11. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and house of representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the state. If he approves he shall sign and deposit it in the office of the secretary of state for preservation, and notify the house where it originated of the fact. But if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated; when such objections shall be entered at large on the journal of the same, and the house shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if it be approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature by adjournment within that time, prevent its return; in which case it shall not be a law. The governor may approve, sign and file in the office of the secretary of state within three days after the adjournment of the legislature, any act passed during the last three days of the session, and the same shall become a law. If any bill presented to the governor contains several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items in whole or in part, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items and parts of items to which he objects, and the part of any appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to in whole or in part shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house the same shall be a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval in whole or in part from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: Under the Constitution as it now is, the governor may veto any item in an appropriation bill, but he cannot cut down the amount appropriated for any specific purpose. The amendment, if adopted, will give the governor power to reduce the amount of an appropriation for any given purpose, unless upon transmittal to the legislature of a statement of the part of an item of an appropriation bill to which he objects, the two houses, each by a two-thirds vote, approve the item as it was originally passed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 6.

By Chapter 384, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed an amendment of Section Thirteen (13) of Article One (1) of the Constitution.

The section as it now stands reads as follows:

"Section 13. PRIVATE PROPERTY FOR PUBLIC USE. — Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use, without just compensation therefor first paid or secured."

If the amendment is adopted the section will read as follows:

"Section 13. Private property shall not be taken, destroyed or damaged for public use, without just compensation therefor first paid or secured, and such private property may be taken, destroyed or damaged for the purpose of private as well as public drainage upon just compensation therefor being first paid or secured."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment is to permit the taking of private lands for the purpose of drainage purposes where the drain or ditch will be of no public benefit, but on the contrary will only benefit the land or lands of the person or persons constructing the drainage ditch.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 7.

By Chapter 385, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors an amendment of Section One (1) of Article Four (4) of the Constitution.

Section One as it now stands, reads as follows:

"Section 1. TWO HOUSES — SESSIONS — The legislature shall consist of the senate and house of representatives, which shall meet biennially at the seat of government of the state, at such time as shall be prescribed by law, but no session shall exceed the term of ninety legislative days, and no new bill shall be introduced in either branch except on the written request of the governor during the last twenty days of such session, except the attention of the legislature shall be called to some important matter of general interest by a special message from the governor."

If the amendment is adopted, the section will then read as follows:

"Sec. 1. TWO HOUSES—SESSIONS — The legislature shall consist of the senate and house of representatives, which shall meet biennially at the seat of government of the state, at such time as shall be prescribed by law, but no session shall exceed the term of ninety (90) legislative days, and no bill shall be introduced in either branch except on the written request of the governor during the last twenty days of such session, except the attention of the legislature shall be called to some important matter of general interest by a special message from the governor; but the people reserve to themselves direct power as follows:

(a) CONSTITUTIONAL INITIATIVE.—When at any time prior to the commencement of any session of the legislature, there shall have been filed with the secretary of state a petition proposing an amendment to the constitution, signed by two per centum of the electors of the state, the secretary of state shall transmit the same to the legislature not later than ten (10) days after the commencement of the session. If the amendment so proposed be not submitted to the electors by the legislature at such session, or if it be submitted in an amended form, then, upon a further petition or petitions, each signed by eight per centum of the electors of the state, filed with the secretary of state within six months after the adjournment of the legislature, the amendment proposed in the first petition, or one or more amended forms thereof, shall be submitted to the electors for their approval or rejection at the next general or special state-wide election occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of any such further petition. Any amendment proposed by initiative petition and, in its original or in an amended form, submitted to the electors by the legislature or by a further petition, shall become a part of the constitution, if approved by a majority of the electors voting at such election, or by four-sevenths of the electors voting on the proposed amendment; provided, not less than three-sevenths of the electors voting at said election voted for the proposed amendment. This section shall be construed as a means in addition to Section 1, Article 14, of the state constitution, for amending the same.

(b) STATUTORY INITIATIVE.—When at any time prior to the commencement of any session of the legislature there shall have been filed with the secretary of state, a petition proposing a law, signed by two per centum of the electors of the state, the secretary of state shall transmit the same to the legislature not later than ten (10) days after the commencement of the session. If the law so proposed be not passed by the legislature at such session, or if it be passed in an amended form, then upon a further petition or petitions, each signed by six per centum of the electors of the state, filed with the secretary of state within six months after the adjournment of the legislature, the law proposed in the first petition or one or more amended forms thereof, shall be submitted to the electors at the next general or special state-wide election, occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of any such further petition or petitions, and if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, provided the vote in favor of the proposed law be not less than thirty-three per centum of the total number of votes cast at such election, the same shall become a law and go into effect thirty days after such election, and shall supersede any amended form of such law which may have been passed by the legislature. No law passed by the initiative petition and approved by the electors shall be subject to the veto of the governor. The authority of the people to enact laws, as provided in this subdivision, shall extend only to laws authorized by the provisions of the constitution.

(c) THE REFERENDUM. — If within ninety days after the final adjournment of any session of the legislature, a referendum petition, signed by six per centum of the electors of the state, shall be filed with the secretary of state against any law or any part of a law, passed by the legislature at such session, such law, or such part of a law shall be submitted to the electors at the next general or special state-wide election, occurring not less than ninety days after the filing of said petition. If a majority of the votes cast thereon be in the negative, provided such negative vote be not less than thirty-three per centum of the total number of votes cast at such election, such law or such part of a law shall thereby be repealed. Provided, that if a referendum petition is signed by fifteen per centum of the electors of the state, the law, or part of a law, against which such petition is filed shall be suspended pending the referendum vote thereon. Provided the same shall equal 33 per cent of the votes at such election.

Any law providing for a tax levy or appropriating money for the current expenses of the state government or state institutions, any act of the legislature submitting a constitutional amendment or other question to the electors of the state, or any emergency law necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the governor, and such laws, except emergency laws, shall not be subject to a referendum vote. All other laws shall go into effect ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature. A bill proposing an emergency law shall contain a preamble briefly setting forth the facts constituting the emergency. A separate vote shall be taken upon the preamble of such bill by a call of the yeas and nays, and if the preamble be adopted by a two-thirds vote of all the members of each house, it shall be an emergency law.

(d) GENERAL PROVISIONS.— All petitions provided for in this section shall contain a title indicating the subject and purpose of the proposed law or constitutional amendment, or the law, or part of a law to be referred, and if a change is proposed in an existing constitutional provision or statute, in addition to referring to the same, it shall state the general effect of the proposed change and also the full text of the proposed law or amendment to the constitution, or of the law or part of a law, to be referred. Any initiative or referendum petition may be signed in separate parts but each part shall conform to the provisions herein contained. All petitions shall be signed and verified before a person authorized to administer an oath, and shall be in such form that a person signing a petition thereby states under oath, the date of his signature, his residence, that he is a qualified elector, that he has not previously signed any part of such petition, and that he has signed the petition with knowledge of the contents thereof. To each part of such petition shall be attached the affidavit of the person before whom the same was signed, which affidavit shall contain a statement of the number of signers thereon, that each of the signatures attached to such part was made in the presence of the affiant, that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be, that he believes the persons who have signed such petition to be electors, that they signed such petition with knowledge of the contents thereof, and that each person signed the same on the date stated opposite his name. The circulation of the petition provided for herein, or the prohibition of the circulation thereof, may be regulated by law, and in case the circulation of any petition is prohibited by law, the percentage of signers required on any petition provided for in this section shall be one-half of the percentage specified in subdivisions a, b and c of this section.

The percentage in any case shall be based upon the total number of votes cast for governor at the next preceding election. All petitions provided for in this section shall contain the signature of not less than one-half of the designated percentage of the electors in not less than one-fourth of the counties of the state. In initiating a law or constitutional amendment, electors who have signed the first shall be qualified to sign the second petition.

The sufficiency of all petitions shall be decided by the secretary of state subject to review by the court. If the secretary of state decides that any petition is insufficient, he shall permit a reasonable time for making corrections or for filing additional signatures. In the event of legal proceedings in court to prevent giving effect to any such petition on account of insufficiency, or any other ground, the burden of proof shall be upon the person attacking the petition. No law or amendment to the constitution initiated and approved by the electors as herein provided, shall be held unconstitutional or void on account of the insufficiency of any initiative petition; nor shall the repeal of any law submitted by referendum petition be held invalid for such insufficiency.

All initiative laws and constitutional amendments shall be so submitted to the electors as to permit an affirmative or negative vote upon each measure submitted. If conflicting proposed laws or conflicting proposed amendments to the constitution be approved at the same election, the one receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall prevail as to conflicting provisions.

The style of all legislative measures and amendments to the constitution initiated by the people under this section shall be: "Be it enacted by the People of the State of Minnesota."

The provisions of this section may be enforced by appropriate legislation, but until such legislation has been enacted, this section shall be self executing.

THE PURPOSE AND EFFECT of this amendment, if adopted, will be three-fold.

(a) It will permit the voters to propose amendments to the state constitution, for adoption, without action by the legislature. Under the constitution as it now stands constitutional amendments can be proposed only by the legislature.

(b) So, too, if adopted, the amendment will permit electors to propose laws for enactment and if not enacted by the legislature, the voters may by sufficient petition, require the question of the enactment of the proposed law to be submitted to the voters. If approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, provided the vote in favor of the proposed law is not less than thirty-three per cent of the total number of votes cast at such election, the same becomes a law with the same force and effect as though passed by the legislature. The governor will have no power to veto a law so passed, but the people cannot so pass any law which is prohibited by the constitution.

(c) So too, if adopted, the amendment will permit the voters by proper petition to require a vote on the question of whether or not any law or part thereof, of certain classes of laws, passed by the legislature shall be repealed. If the petition asking for the referendum is signed by fifteen per cent of the voters of the state, the number of whom is to be determined by the number of votes cast for Governor at the preceding election, the law so referred to the voters will not take effect pending the referendum vote thereon. The vote required to repeal a law passed by the legislature and the classes of laws which cannot be so repealed are specified in Subdivision "C" of the proposed amendment as above printed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 8.

By Chapter 386, Laws 1915, the legislature proposed for adoption by the electors an amendment of Section 7, Article 6, of the constitution.

The section now reads as follows:

"Section 7. PROBATE COURTS.— There shall be established in each organized county in the state a probate court, which shall be a court of record, and be held at such times and places as may be prescribed by law. It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of t[illegible]. He shall be a resident of [illegible] at the time of his election and reside therein during his con[illegible] in office; and his compensation shall be provided by law. He [illegible] his own clerk where none has been elected; but the legislature may authorize the election, by the electors of any county, of one clerk or register of probate for such county, whose powers, duties, term of office and compensation shall be prescribed by law. A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction, except as prescribed by this constitution."

The amendment simply proposes to substitute the word "four" for the word "two" so that the sentence prescribing the duration of the term of office will, if the amendment is adopted, read as follows:

"It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: The amendment, if adopted will make the term of office of the Judge of Probate four years instead of two.

Visited by the Catacombs.

"Did I understand you to say you were in Europe?" he asked of the man who was talking to a drummer across the aisle.

"Yes, sir."

"Were you in Rome?"

"I was there for a month, sir."

"Ah, I am glad to have met you. I wanted to ask about Rome. You visited the catacombs, of course?"

"Didn't have to. They visited me."

"How do you mean?"

"Why, I never stirred out of the hotel that they weren't striking me for alms. Never saw such an infernal set in all my born days."

"Don't you mean the lazzaroni?"

"Of course. The catacombs and the lazzaroni are the same thing, only 'catacombs' is the Italian of it and the other is the English. If you haven't been over I'd advise you to go—if you can raise the dudads. You don't know how much a trip abroad will broaden and liberalize your mind."

And the other sank back and hid himself in a corner, and he did not get over looking pale for the next 30 miles.

Real Academic Dignity.

Max Muller tells a story of one of Dr. Strachan Davidson's predecessors as master of Balliol. "Once, when returning from a solitary walk, Doctor Jenkins, whose regard for his own dignity was very great, slipped and fell. Two undergraduates, seeing the accident, ran to assist him, and were just laying hands on him to lift him up when he descried a master of arts coming. 'Stop!' he cried. 'I see a master of arts coming down the street,' and he dismissed the undergraduates with many thanks, and was helped on his legs by the M. A."—London Chronicle.

The Clever Wasp.

Wasps appear to be well-nigh as industrious as ants or bees. One authority has declared that the cardinal doctrine of the wasp is: "If any wasp will not work, neither shall he eat."

Division of labor is clearly seen in the wasp's nest. Some of the workers seem to be specially employed as foragers and soldiers, others appear to be told off as nurses and guardians, while yet others are engaged as paper makers and masons.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

For Representative

To the Voters of Marshall County:-

I have served as your Representative in the Legislature one session and am now asking for SECOND term. I am asking this on my record, which contains nothing I desire to conceal.

In the 1915 session I opposed all extravagant appropriations and advocated larger ones than those made in but two cases, viz: for state aid to rural schools, and for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

My re-election would result in your Representative in the 1917 Legislature being given better committee positions and having greater prestige and influence than would be accorded to a new man. With this advantage I would be able to render you better service and be able to secure the passage of any legislation in which you might be specially interested.

The pledges I made you in [illegible] have been faithfully kept, as an examination of my record will fully [illegible].

Soliciting your support and your votes at the election on November 7, 1916, I am,

Respectfully yours,
C. L. STEVENS.

The state legislature met Saturday in special session and passed a law allowing the soldiers absent from the state, to vote next Tuesday. A commission will go to the border to secure the votes.

Some farmers say it is too much work to take care of cows, but T. O. Dovre don't say that. His cream check for July was $55.67, for Aug. $68.55 and for Sept. $62.88. Mr. Dovre is'nt robbing his soil by keeping cows, but on the other hand his farm is improving every year. The farmer who depends on small grains alone will loose out in any country.

The soil requires rotation of crops in order to produce what it should.

2,000,000 acres of state land will be improved and placed on the market if the first amendment carries. The permanent school fund will receive the money from the sale of the newly improved land. Vote for amendment No. One. All northern Minnesota is interested in this.

To the Voters of Marshall County Legislative District:

Having been nominated by the people at the Primary election in June as a non-partisan candidate for Representative for Marshall county, the voters kindly giving me the highest number of votes cast for that office. I do hereby respectfully announce my candidacy for Representative at the General Election to be held Nov., 7, 1916. I have no special promises to make, but I will look after your interests and the interests of this district without fear or favor.

No special interests have ever had any influence over me, and there will be none in the future.

I respectfully ask for your influence and vote at the General Election, Nov. 7th.

Very Sincerely Yours,
P. B. MALBERG.

PROTECTION, OUR BULWARK

Forget Not the Dire Conditions Which Depressed This Country Under the Democratic Free Trade Tariff Prior to the War—They Will Return to Plague and Hunger You Unless the Republicans Are Restored to Power.

"When we contemplate industrial and commercial conditions," says Mr. Hughes, "we see that we are living in a fool's paradise." This is the condition to which the administration and its supporters have deliberately closed their eyes. When the war cloud broke over Europe, this country was experiencing the most serious depression it had known since 1893, when the Democratic party and its policies were in full control of the United States.

Suddenly there came from over the sea a demand for munitions of war, clothing, food, supplies, everything needed by vast armies and by countries whose sons were taken from the field and the workshop, never to return.

As a result our exports and the balance of trade in our favor have reached figures far surpassing any ever before known. Temporarily, especially in the East, there is no lack of work at high wages, for Europe must pay whatever price America asks. No thoughtful person would imagine that this condition is anything like real prosperity. How false it is, we in Oregon, who have the clearer vision, because not clouded by the smoke from munitions factories, have fully felt and fully appreciated.

What the Republican candidate for president says about it the Democrats know to be true:

"Our opponents promised to reduce the cost of living. This they have failed to do, but did reduce the opportunities of making a living. Let us not forget the conditions that existed in this country under the new tariff prior to the war. Production had decreased; business was languishing; new enterprises were not undertaken; instead of expansion there was curtailment and our streets were filled with the unemployed."

The suspension of these conditions is not nation wide [illegible] depends upon the duration of the war. Those who [illegible] deed, living in a fool's [illegible] land [illegible]

Yo-Ho Freckle-Face

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of carpol, extra strong, from your druggist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds this month have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more carpol is sold in these months. Be sure to ask for the extra strong, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.—Carpol Laboratories, Boston, Mass., Sta. M. Mail orders filled.

Bavarian Colony in Greece.

In Greece there is at least one tiny German oasis as a set-off to the kaiser's 30,000 Greek guests now being fed in Bavaria. A few miles north of Athens is a village with a churchyard upon whose tombstone German names alone appear. The village has been the home for 80 years of a colony of Bavarians brought to Greece by King Otho. The villagers have the fair hair and the blue eyes of Bavaria, and although very few now speak their grandmothers' tongue, service is performed in the old church according to the Roman ritual.

AMERICAN LIVES MAY BE LOST ON TORPEDOED BOAT; SHIP NOT WARNED

STEAMER MARINA DESTROYED BY SUBMARINE WITH POSSIBLE LOSS OF LIVES—ONLY 34 OF CREW LANDED.

LIFEBOATS ARE SHELLED, CHARGE OF SURVIVORS

Fired Upon By Submarine Attacking Steamer Rowanmore According to Affidavits Given Consul Frost—Horsetenders on Marina May not be Entitled to Immunity.

London, Oct. 31.—The steamer Marina of Glasgow has been sunk by a submarine with a possible loss of 70 lives. A number of Americans were among the Marina's crew.

A report to the American embassy here from Wesley Frost, American consul at Queenstown, said the Marina was sunk by shell fire without warning. Mr. Frost, however, added that this information was "provisional."

Twenty Are Missing.

Of the vessel's crew of 104 only 34 have been landed at Crookhaven, Ireland. Reports of tahe destruction of four othert ships have reached London in the past 24 hours. These were the Danish steamer Sif, the Russian three-master Ingersoll, the Norwegian bark Regina and the Greek steamer Angheliki.

The Marina, which has been engaged in trans-Atlantic service, was a vessel of 5,204 tons gross, built in 1900. She was last reported as having arrived at Glasgow on October 10 after having sailed from Newport News on September 21.

Say Lifeboats Were Shelled.

Mr. Frost now is procuring affidavits from survivors.

A report on the sinking on October 26 of the British steamship Rowanmore also was made to the American embassy today by Mr. Frost. Seven Americans, including five Filipinos, were on board the Rowanmore. Several of them have given Mr. Frost affidavits stating that a submarine shelled lifeboats while they were being lowered and after they were clear of the ship.

State Department Informed.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Dispatches to the State department say the Marina had a mixed crew of British and Americans and that she was sunk by gunfire without warning.

Consul Frost at Queenstown specified that the information he transmitted was "provisional." Investigation will be made at once of the status of the Marina and the nature of the attack to determine whether any of Germany's pledges to the United States have been violated.

May Have Been Transport.

The report on the destruction of the Marina refers to the ship as a "British horse transport." If it turns out that she was in fact in the transport service of the British government it may be found that the mixed crew of British and American horse tenders could claim none of the immunity against attack without warning that attaches to a merchant ship.

Summary of Frost's Dispatch.

The State department issued this summary of Consul Frost's dispatch:

"The British horse transport Marina, with a mixed crew of British and Americans, was reported sunk without warning by German submarine gunfire at 3 p. m. October 28, 100 miles west of Cape Clear, in an official report received at the State department from Consul Frost at Queenstown. Thirty-four of the crew of 194 have been landed at Crookhoven, while 70 others—presumably those in boats 1 and 3—are missing. Consul Frost says his information so far is purely 'provisional.'"

VILLA TAKES SANTA ROSALIA

Occupy Town With Little Bloodshed—Garrison Flees.

El Paso, Oct. 31.—The town of Santa Rosalia, about 80 miles south of Chihuahua City, is in the hands of Villista bandits while the main force of Villistas on three trains is moving southward toward Jiminez and Parral, according to reports made to United States department agents and to mining company representatives here. The occupation of the town took place with little bloodshed. As the Villistas approached Santa Rosalia a part of the garrison fled.

Women's Missionary Societies Elect.

Ladysmith, Wis., Oct. 31.—The third annual convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary societies of the Methodist Episcopal church came to a close with the election of the following officers: President, Mrs. C. J. Duer, New Richmond; vice president, Mrs. E. R. Webster, Ladysmith; recording secretary, Mrs. M. H. Morrill, Superior; corresponding secretary, Miss Josephine E. Toal, New Richmond; treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Kundert, Rice Lake. The 1917 convention will be held in Spooner or New Richmond.

RUSSIANS ATTACK ON EAST FRONT TO RELIEVE RUMANIA

RENEW DRIVE ON AUSTRO-GERMAN POSITIONS NEAR LUTSK IN VOLHYNIA—BERLIN REPORTS ENEMY REPULSED.

ALLIES REOCCUPY TOWN; BULGARS TAKE HIRSOVA

Win Victory On Moldavian Frontier, Bucharest Says—Teutons Pursuing Russo-Rumanians—Capture City 40 Miles Northwest of Constanza-Cernovoda Line.

Petrograd, Oct. 30.—Slav and Teutonic armies are engaged along the entire battlefront in Russia, with reconnaissances and hot exchanges of rifle and artillery fire, the petrograd war department announces.

Bucharest, Oct. 30.—Rumanian troops on the Moldavian frontier have won a victory over the Austro-German forces, the war office announced late Saturday. In the Trotus valley the recaptured Piscul from the vicinity which the Teutonic troops are fleeing in disorder, the official statement declares.

Russians Start New Drive.

Berlin, Oct. 30 (By Wireless to Sayville.—Renewing their drive against the Austro-German lines on the eastern front, the Russians have launched attacks on the Teutons' positions west of Lutsk in Volhynia, the war office announces.

After two days of artillery preparation, heavy Russian infantry forces were thrown forward to the attack in the vicinity of Zaturze. The assault, according to the official statement, failed completely, with heavy losses for the Russians.

To Relieve Roumania.

The new Russian onslaught apparently has been launched in an effort to relieve the pressure in Rumania.

Teutonic troops have won a victory in the Dorna Watra region, near the junction point of the frontiers of Bukowina, Transylvania and Rumania, according to the war office announcement.

Austro-Hungarian forces captured several heights from the Russians at the point of the bayonet and took more than 500 prisoners.

On the northern frontier of Rumania, Austro-German forces captured from the Rumanians a height in the region south of Kronstadt and extended their advance into the Partzuga valley.

Bulgars Take Town.

Continuing their six day retreat in Dobrudja, the Russo-Rumanians are showing signs of demoralization under Mackensen's swift pursuit, the German war office declared

The pursuing armies have brought in 500 enemy stragglers, cut off from the main Russo-Rumanian column, several munition columns and quantities of baggage. The defeated forces are offering little resistance and apparently retreating in haste.

Bulgarian troops have occupied the Danube town of Hirsova, 40 miles northwest of the Cernovoda-Constanza line in their pursuit of the Russo-Rumanians, it was officially announced at Sofia.

GREAT BRITAIN REPLIES TO BLACKLIST PROTEST

Believed to Reiterate Contention for Right to Boycott But Offers Relief in Some Cases.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Great Britain's note in reply to American representations against the commercial blacklist has just been received at the State department. It is understood to reiterate the contention for the right to blacklist but offers methods of relief to Americans in certain circumstances.

The British note is in reply to the American note of July 28 which denounced the blacklists as an "arbitrary interference with neutral trade" and "inconsistent with that true justice, sincere amity and impartial fairness which should characterize the dealings of friendly governments with one another."

The names of some American firms already have been taken from the blacklist and the note is understood to offer means of removing others.

Bandits Isolate Santa Rosalia.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 30.—The important railway town of Santa Rosalia, about 80 miles south of Chihuahua City, has been cut off from communication with the south by Villistas.

December Wheat Takes Another Jump.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—December wheat jumped to $1.88 at the opening of the market Saturday, a rise of 1⅝c. May wheat was up 1⅝c also, being quoted at $1.86. The figure for December wheat is the record on the Chicago grain market since the $2 mark reached during the Civil war.

New York, Oct. 30.—Utah Copper furnished the excitement of early trading on the stock exchange, jumping 2⅞ to $1.08¼, following a 4½-point advance. The new quotation is a high record.

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

Nerves All On Edge?

Just as nerve wear is a cause of kidney weakness, so is kidney trouble a cause of nervousness. Anyone who has backache, nervousness, "blues," headaches, dizzy spells, urinary ills and a tired, worn feeling, would do well to try Doan's Kidney Pills. This safe, reliable remedy is recommended by thousands who have had relief from just such troubles.

A North Dakota Case

Mrs. Eva May Franklin, 1320 Front St., Fargo, N. D., says: "My kidneys troubled me and my back ached intensely. I had headaches, tired easily and was weak. The action of my kidneys was irregular, too. Doan's Kidney Pills not only strengthened my kidneys and cured the backache, but made me feel much stronger. I haven't had a sign of kidney trouble since."

What's Doing in Minnesota

Princeton.—Guy Ewing, superintendent of the Mille Lacs county schools, died in the family home here.

Thief River Falls.—The charred body of Charles Westby has been found in the ruins of a small shack here, which was destroyed by fire.

Duluth.—The prospect of a coal shortage in the Northwest is getting more pronounced, coal men say. No longer do they expect the supply to fill out the demands of the winter.

St. Paul.—Wild ducks are flying south and are reported unusually plentiful in practically all sections of the state, Commissioner Carlos Avery of the state game and fish department, says.

Grand Rapids.—The women's club of Grand Rapids, which will entertain the women's clubs at the Eighth Minnesota district at their next annual convention, has selected May 2 as the date.

Minneapolis.—Lieutenant Prescott of the First Minnesota, in charge of the recruiting detail which has obtained more than 200 recruits in this district, has been ordered to rejoin his regiment at Llano Grande, Tex.

Minneapolis.—Two-dollar wheat, for years the dream of the farmer, became a reality in Minneapolis for the first time in Chamber of Commerce history, when several cars of No. 1 durum wheat were sold in the cash market at that figure.

Minneapolis.—Seven thousand members and friends of the congregation passed through the portals of the Hennepin Avenue Methodist church, in the various services that accompanied the dedication of the finest Methodist Episcopal temple in the world.

Duluth.—On order of United States Commissioner Arch L. Le Rue, $1,000 bail was paid by an attorney for Private E. B. Connell, who failed to appear to answer a charge of violating the neutrality laws of the United States in the alleged securing of recruits in the United States for the British army.

Crookston.—At a special election Crookston has voted to adopt the charter amendment authorizing an increase in the tax levy from 8 to 15 mills for the general funds of the municipality. At two previous elections within a year the amendment failed to gain the required 60 per cent of all votes cast.

St. Paul.—Echoes of the clash in the last legislature between officers of the State Board of Health and State Tuberculosis Advisory commission were heard in a joint conference of the commission revising Minnesota health laws and the public health committee of the state efficiency and economy commission.

Duluth.—Two thousand one hundred recruits for the regular army from Minnesota will have to be obtained by the recruiting forces next year under the new orders just received, which set the ratio for recruiting at one man from every 1,000 population. Orders advise the officers to "comb all rural sections"; also to get the aid of postmasters.

Duluth.—Charles G. Bryant, chairman of the Duluth Board of Grain Appeals, killed himself in his offices in the Board of Trade building by firing a revolver bullet into his temple. The motive for the suicide is unknown, but is believed by friends to have been prompted by business worries as well as by the fact that he failed to gain a reappointment to the board.

St. Paul.—Minnesota towns and schools waiting to borrow 4 per cent money from the state with which to build schools and make other public improvements are in a fair way to having their wants filled at the next meeting of the state board of investment. Announcements have been made at the capitol that $538,000 is now available to state trust funds.

Owatonna.—Plans for a new $56,000 high school at Owatonna have been submitted for the approval of C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, by Guy B. Bennett of the Owatonna board of education. Mr. Schulz said the site for the new building is one of the best in the state for size and location, in his opinion, and that Owatonna is handling the project well.

St. Paul.—Punishment of parents who let their young sons and daughters loiter on the streets, as a method of overcoming a great amount of crime, was advocated by Mrs. T. B. Wells, for more than thirty-five years identified with charities and correction in Minneapolis, before the commission recodifying state laws relating to children, which met at the Capitol.

St. Paul.—Apportionment of $142,000 that Minnesota is to receive in the first annual installment of federal good roads aid will be undertaken at a meeting of the State Highway commission the latter part of this week, George W. Cooley, highway engineer, has announced. The main requirement for aid designation is that the county shall provide funds to cover half the cost of the improvement, the remainder to be federal aid.

Would Stop Wheat Exports.

Mangum, Okla., Oct. 28.—Allan T. Benson, Socialist nominee for the presidency, told an audience here if he were president he would use the navy to blockade American ports to prevent the further exportation of wheat.

"We produced only 615,000,000 bushels of wheat this year," he said, "while we need 630,000,000 bushels, and 400,000,000 bushels of this year's crop has already been sold by exporters."

He quoted bulletins of the department of agriculture recommending potatoes to be used to make flour.

FARM SCHOOL BOYS PAY OWN EXPENSES

EVERY ONE OF FOUR HUNDRED STUDENTS SELF-SUPPORTING PROF. MAYNE ANNOUNCES.

SEEKS TO END CAR SHORTAGE

Chairman Mills of Rail Commission Blames Failure to Return Cars From East and South for Present Condition in Minnesota.

St. Paul.

Every one of the 400 boy students in the school of agriculture of the University of Minnesota is self-supporting, Professor D. D. Mayne, principal, announced after completing registration figures for the fall semester. "I did not find a single boy in the school who is a financial burden to his family," Professor Mayne said, in commenting on his roll of ambitious farm boy students.

"The majority of them work on farms during the summer months and many of them save more than enough money to pay their expenses for the six months of school."

Most of the boys are compelled to support themselves, and because of this, come to school to get the most out of it, the principal said. The average age of the boy entering is 19 years, and this factor of maturity enables them to earn good wages during the summer. Since nearly all of them work on farms, the opportunity for spending their earnings is minimized. Besides this, their vacation season comes when the highest wages of the year are paid on the farm.

★ ★ ★

Would End Car Shortage.

Blaming the existing car shortage that is tying up the movement of farm products in the Northwest to failure of Eastern and Southern roads to return cars owned by Northwestern roads, Chairman Ira B. Mills of the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission has demanded in a letter to Chairman B. H. Meyer of the Interstate Commerce Commission that that body issue an order to correct the cause of the evil.

Calling attention to the shortage of cars needed to move Minnesota farm products, particularly potatoes, Chairman Mills says that last December he took the matter up with the Interstate Commerce Commission and an interchange of refrigerator cars was suggested, but that does not meet the situation now, he asserts.

"It is impossible now to get foreign cars, either refrigerators or others, to move any farm products from this state either east or south," Chairman Mills complained.

★ ★ ★

To Educate Prisoners.

Early reorganization of the educational systems in Minnesota penal institutions, with special regard to substituting day for night classes and establishing vocational courses in the state reformatory, was predicted by Chairman C. J. Swendsen and C. E. Vasaly of the State Board of Control on their return from a meeting of the American Prison congress and visits to correctional institutions in the East.

"Minnesota's prison and reformatory are models, except as to their educational facilities," said Chairman Swendsen. "Eastern states have no institutions to compare with the new Stillwater prison, and this state is a leader in other respects. Our big need now is for an indurtrial building at the state reformatory, where building and other mechanical trades may be taught the prisoner. There should also be a gymnasium at that institution."

★ ★ ★

Securities Are Renewed.

State Treasurer Gooding, in his campaign to renew and bring up to date securities for state funds, has just presented new bonds filed by thirty-four state depositaries which were approved by the state board of depositors at a special meeting. Mr. Gooding began the campaign upon finding that some of the surety bonds had not been renewed for several years.

★ ★ ★

Need Instructor for Battery.

The formation of a cadet field artillery unit at the University of Minnesota is dependent on the possibility of finding a United States army artillery officer as instructor, Major George W. Moses, new commandant at the University, said after conferring with President George E. Vincent.

★ ★ ★

Plans Tour for Students.

An inspection trip through northern Minnesota agricultural districts, for University of Minnesota students is the plan of Prof. Dana D. Durand, head of the agricultural economics department at the University and former director of the United States census.

★ ★ ★

Fund for Militia Only $375.

Because Minnesota state troops were on the Mexican border serving their country at the time of the fall inspection, the state will get nothing but stationery money from the federal militia apportionment. The total will be $375, according to Washington dispatches. The militia apportionment of $4,000,000 under two bills is allotted to the states according to the number of men enlisted at the time of inspection. Minnesota had no men that were not under the government call Sept. 15, hence no money was sent.

Easy Way to Reduce Flesh

Drink Hot Water and Take Tassco

Heve'nt you often wished for a medicne to reduce your flesh? Something that does not require dieting or calisthenics? Well right here you have it in 5-grain tassc tablets, that you may secure of any good druggist. They are pleasant to take, perfectly harmless and cause no restrictions of habit or eating and reduce the flesh, little by little, until you are down to the number of pounds you wish to weigh. Too much flesh is undesirable, as most quite stout people will readily admit, and it detracts from one's good appearance; makes one clumsy and short of breath.

There is'nt any reason why anyone should be too stout, when there's this much-tried, perfectly satisfactory remedy at any good druggists. Tassco tablets, (don't forget the name) are recommended by physicians and are guaranteed to be perfectly harmless. Refuse substitutes, if you can't come to our store, we will mail tassco to you.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Yo-Ho Freckle-Face

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of carpol, extra strong, from your druggist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds this month have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more carpol is sold in these months. Be sure to ask for the extra strong, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.—Carpol Laboratories, Boston, Mass., Sta. M. Mail orders filled.

Easy Way to Reduce Flesh

Drink Hot Water and Take Tassco

Heve'nt you often wished for a medicne to reduce your flesh? Something that does not require dieting or calisthenics? Well right here you have it in 5-grain tassc tablets, that you may secure of any good druggist. They are pleasant to take, perfectly harmless and cause no restrictions of habit or eating and reduce the flesh, little by little, until you are down to the number of pounds you wish to weigh. Too much flesh is undesirable, as most quite stout people will readily admit, and it detracts from one's good appearance; makes one clumsy and short of breath.

There is'nt any reason why anyone should be too stout, when there's this much-tried, perfectly satisfactory remedy at any good druggists. Tassco tablets, (don't forget the name) are recommended by physicians and are guaranteed to be perfectly harmless. Refuse substitutes, if you can't come to our store, we will mail tassco to you.

16,000,000 VOTERS OF COUNTRY NAME PRESIDENT TODAY

WILL CAST THEIR VOTES BEFORE NIGHTFALL FOR ELECTORS OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF UNITED STATES.

MANY 'DOUBTFUL' STATES; WOMEN'S VOTES PUZZLING

Thirty-five United States Senators to Be Elected By Popular Vote—Four Hundred Thirty-five Representatives and Thirty-six Governors Are To Be Chosen Today.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Sixteen million Americans will have cast their votes before nightfall today for electors of a president and vice president of the United States.

The total popular vote of all candidates four years ago was 15,036,542. With the growth of the nation, the naturalization of aliens resident here in 1912 and the spread of woman suffrage, the number of ballots cast is quite certain to reach 16,000,000, and may go much higher.

The citizens will choose 531 members of the electoral college, those ornamental officials who will solemnly meet some time hence and confirm a result everyone will know by midnight tonight. The number of electoral votes necessary for a choice is 266.

Many "Doubtful" States.

It is easy to find those on either side who will tell you to a dot just how each state will go. But as the detailed predictions of Republicans and Democrats are distressingly out of harmony, the best one who would rid himself of party feeling can say is that the following states are in doubt and should be watched tonight for an indication of how the final result is going:

Indiana, 15 electoral votes; Illinois, 29; New York, 45; Ohio, 24; California, 13; Nebraska, 8; Wyoming, 3; New Jersey, 14; West Virginia, 8; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Maryland, 8; Kentucky, 13; Missouri, 18; Wisconsin, 13; Michigan, 15; Colorado, 6; New Mexico, 3; Arizona, 3; Washington, 7. Total of electoral votes in doubtful states—255.

In this table are put all the states called doubtful by either side. Some of those listed are very doubtful, others only moderately so, and a few scarcely at all. It will be noticed that the total of doubtful electoral votes, 255, is more than half of the whole number to be chosen.

In 1912 Wilson had 435 electoral votes, Roosevelt 88 and Taft 8. But Wilson's total popular vote—6,293,019—was 1,311,444 less than Taft and Roosevelt's combined and 2,450,504 less than that of all other presidential candidates combined.

Senators and Representatives.

Thirty-five United States senators will be elected today by popular vote, as follows:

Arizona, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Indiana (2), Maine (2), Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Four hundred and thirty-five members of the house of representatives will be chosen, as follows:

Alabama, 10; Arizona, 1; Arkansas, 7; California, 11; Colorado, 4; Connecticut, 5; Delaware, 1; Florida, 4; Georgia, 12; Idaho, 2; Illinois, 27; Indiana, 13; Iowa, 11; Kansas, 8; Kentucky, 11; Louisiana, 8; Maine, 4; Maryland, 6; Massachusetts, 16; Michigan, 13; Minnesota, 10; Mississippi, 8; Missouri, 16; Montana, 2; Nebraska, 6; Nevada, 1; New Hampshire, 2; New Jersey, 12; New Mexico, 1; New York, 43; North Carolina, 10; North Dakota, 3; Ohio, 22; Oklahoma, 8; Oregon, 3; Pennsylvania, 36; Rhode Island, 3; South Carolina, 7; South Dakota, 3; Tennessee, 10; Texas, 18; Utah, 2; Vermont, 2; Virginia, 10; Washington, 5; West Virginia, 6; Wisconsin, 11; Wyoming, 1.

Hawaii and Alaska will each elect a delegates to congress.

The following states will elect governors:

Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kausas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

South Dakota, West Virginia and Iowa hold referendums on woman suffrage today. California, Missouri, Montana, Utah, Nebraska and South Dakota vote on proposals to introduce prohibition.

Women are running for congress in Montana and California and for a host of minor offices in suffrage states.

ALLIED WARSHIPS WAIT FOR ATTACK ON DEUTSCHLAND

BRITISH AND FRENCH CRUISERS LYING OFF NEW ENGLAND COAST TO DESTROY GERMAN UNDERSEA FREIGHTER.

ARMORED SUBMARINE TO ACT AS DIVER'S CONVOY

Captain Koenig Expects U-57 to Appear Off Coast at Any Moment—Valuable Cargo Is Discharged at New London—German Sailors In Trouble.

New London, Conn., Nov. 6.—That British and French cruisers are lying in wait off the New England coast with the object of destroying the German undersea freighter Deutschland when she puts to sea, is the statement which was given out from reliable sources here.

No confirmation was obtainable and Commander Yates Stirling of the United States submarine base in the Thames river, placed little credence in the reports. He was of the opinion that the tender Bushnell and four United States submarines maneuvering off Block island and adjacent waters had been mistaken for the foreign warships.

U-Boat Captain Not Worried.

The Deutschland skipper was not worried last night by the rumors. He said he would not be surprised if the armored submarine U-57, reported to have left Bremen three days after he did to act as a convoy to the Deutschland, would appear off the coast any moment. Captain Koenig said he considered that protection enough against the allied cruisers, if any should attempt to attack him. The U-57 is the sister ship of the U-53, which recently sank five vessels off the New England coast.

Cargo Is Discharged.

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding company announced that the Deutschland's cargo was discharged at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Great care was exercised to prevent outsiders from seeing the work. Nothing has been made public concerning the Deutschland's manifest.

The citizen's committee which was arranging a complimentary banquet to the Deutschland's crew next Wednesday, announced that a gold watch, suitably inscribed, will be presented to Captain Koenig.

Sailors in Stabbing Affray.

Unless they succeed in rounding up two men said to be sailors from the German subsea freighter Deutschland, involved in a stabbing affray, the local police probably will demand that Captain Koenig turn them over.

According to the authorities, one of the sailors forced his attentions on a girl in a restaurant and when a waiter interposed the latter was stabbed in the arm with a pocket knife.

ARMED CITIZENS FIGHT BATTLE WITH YEGGMEN

Awakened by Explosion in Randolph, Minn., State Bank In Time to Prevent Looting—Bandits Escape.

Randolph, Minn., Nov. 6.—Awakened by an explosion, a dozen men, armed with shot guns and rifles, raced to the Randolph State bank at Randolph, 30 miles south of St. Paul, at 2 A. M. A running battle with three armed yeggmen who had blown the vault door from the bank followed. The bank's money is intact, the bandits not having time to pry open the money compartment in the vault.

Escape Toward Cities.

The posse, led by Charles Eno, village marshal, and Pete Orcutt, his deputy, followed the bandits to the edge of the village. About 20 shots were exchanged. The bandits leaped into a waiting automobile and escaped, driving furiously toward the Twin Cities.

GERMANY EXPRESSES REGRET

Airship Cruised Over Dutch Territory, Reuter Dispatch Says.

London, Nov. 6.—The German government has expressed regret for the action of a German airship in cruising over Dutch territory October 22, says a Reuter dispatch from the Hague.

$350,000 Raised for Armenians.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Red Cross headquarters estimates that nearly $350,000 has been raised so far for relief of Syrian and Armenian war sufferers as a result of contributions received on Oct. 21 and 22, designated as special relief days.

American Flyers Sent to Somme.

Grand Headquarters, French Armies, Nov. 6.—Following a month's hard fighting at Verdun, the American aviation squadron attached to the French army has been transferred to the Somme front, now the center of the greatest aerial activity. The American flyers, after several days' of comparative quiet on the Verdun front, took part in the reconnaissances that preceded the French victory at Verdun. They aided General Nivelle in the bold dash that won back Fort Douaumont and Fort Vaux.

Davis' Hard Hit.

The late Richard Harding Davis, bluff and hearty, detested a snob, and whenever a snob's head popped up he took a whack at it.

A guest at one of his dinners at Crossroads farm, his estate near New York, made a snobbish remark about a son of the Revolution who had married a chorus girl of great beauty and talent.

Mr. Davis glared at his guest. His ruddy face grew redder. Then he said:

"You, my boy, are one of those chaps who think the social scale is life's only reliable weighing machine!"—New York Globe.

TOLD HER STORY IN FULL

Impossible to Stop Colored Woman Once She Had Begun to Relate Tale of Trouble.

Adequate proof of the traditional volubility of women was given in a justice of the peace court the other day. A colored woman was on trial on a charge of provoking assault. After listening impatiently to the testimony of another witness, she took the stand and, turning to Justice Kiefer, drawled:

"Now, looky here, judge, let me tell you all the way this here thing happened."

Then began an actual flow of speech. Nothing could stop her. Justice Kiefer pounded and the deputies shouted, but to no avail. On and on she talked—about everything—pausing only to emphasize her remarks in a more forcible manner. At the end of 15 minutes she ceased. Her breath was exhausted. In the doorway was an astonished group of on-lookers from surrounding offices.

"We thought you had installed a phonograph, squire," one of them said, —Indianapolis News.

Generous Offer.

"Time and again I've given you a lift in my motor car."

"Well, I'll tell you what I'll do to help you out. You estimate the number of times you have taken me to town in your car and I'll pay you ten cents for each ride, which is twice the fare charged by a jitney bus."

CAPTAIN GOT NEW TROUSERS

Incident That Has More Than a Touch of Comedy Occurred on the Isonzo Front.

How near tragedy and comedy are in the happenings along the battle line is shown by this incident of the fighting on the Isonzo river front.

A Caproni fighting aeroplane that had gone from the Italian side was hit by the antiaircraft guns and fell within the Austrian lines. The pilot was killed, the observer was somewhat scratched, but otherwise unhurt. His trousers, however, were ripped "from A to Z."

Captain Amegliano, the captured flyer, was inconsolable, and to an Austrian officer who sympathized with him he said:

"My poor comrade will be buried and I cannot even pay him my last respects—not in this gear."

"I" that is all," remarked the Austrian, "we'll soon mend that." And, after obtaining permission, he went up in his Fokker machine and threw a letter into the Italian line, acquainting them with the fact, and requesting "a pair of new trousers for Captain Amegliano."

Sure enough, an hour or so later there was an Italian machine high in the air, and a package dropped that contained a laurel wreath for the dead and a pair of trousers for the living.

Easy to Understand.

Daughter—Mamma, what is a stepmother?

Mother—Suppose I died and your father married another woman that woman would be your stepmother.

The child paused for a moment, and then exclaimed:

"Oh, I see, mamma! You step out and she steps in!"

A man never knows how foolish he can look until he attends a five-o'clock tea.

GOT HEMLOCK SEED CHEAP

Englishman's Shrewd Scheme for Procuring Drug That Commanded Good Price on Market.

Mr. Pickwick's valet and all-around servant, Samuel Weller, whose limited acquaintance with physicians and apothecaries did not hamper his festive imagination in the relation of medical novelties which were heard with wonder and amazement by Mr. Pickwick and his friends, should have had in his repertoire the following from the London Garden: Every autumn a man used to bring to a wholesale drug house in London a quantity of hemlock seed which he sold at half the market price. The curiosity of a member of the house at last becoming aroused he asked the man how he could afford to sell the drug so cheaply. After being promised that nothing would be done to interfere with his business he described his method. Every spring he filled his pockets with the seed and went out into the country. Wherever he saw a good wide hedgerow he sowed the seed broadcast. Then he went his way and worried no more over his crop until the fall, when he revisited the scene of his labors. He would then call the farmer's attention to the "weeds" in his hedge, offering to cut them down for a shilling a hedge, an offer which the farmer gladly accepted. Thus was the ground furnished free and he was paid to cut the harvest.

More Watchful Waiting.

A quiet but sorrowful motorist sat one afternoon by the side of a car that was drawn up near the pavement. A man in another car, who had passed the disconsolate one that morning, slowed up on coming level with him again and inquired:

"How long have you been here?"

"Several hours."

"Can't you find out what is the matter? Inlet valve all right?"

The other smiled. "That's all right," he said.

"Trouble with the spark plug?"

"Think not."

"How are the batteries?"

"All right."

"Got plenty of spirit?"

"Yes, plenty."

"Your tires look all right. What is wrong?"

"Oh," replied the waiting motorist, "there's nothing wrong with the car. But ever since ten o'clock my wife's been in that house. She came to see her sister's first baby."

Loud Enough.

"What on earth will I do? Here's my automobile horn on the blink and won't make a sound!"

"That's all right. Ethel here has on her new sports skirt."

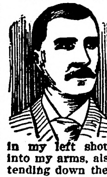
If you bet $13 and lose it's unlucky.

To Live Long!

A recipe given by a famous physician for long life was: "Keep the kidneys in good order! Try to eliminate through the skin and intestines the poisons that otherwise clog the kidneys. Avoid eating meat as much as possible; avoid too much salt, alcohol, tea. Drink plenty of water."

For those past middle life, for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, as backache, scalding "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "rusty" joints, stiffness, get Anuric at the drug store. This is a wonderful eliminator of uric acid and was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. If your druggist does not keep it send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for trial package and you will know that it is many times more potent than lithia and that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.

NEWS OF ST. PAUL



St. Paul, Minn.—"I just want to say that Anuric has done for me what many other remedies have utterly failed to do. For over thirty years I suffered with rheumatic pains. At times I would have them in my back, then they would start in my left shoulder and run down into my arms, also in my left side, extending down the limb to my ankle. I can't begin to tell how much I suffered during this time. A short time ago I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anuric. I have only taken one bottle of the tablets and today have not a pain or an ache—thanks to Anuric. I cannot say enough in its praise."—MR. JOHN EVENSON, 1069 Greenbrier Ave.—Adv.

State News in Brief

Doings of Last Few Days Throughout Minnesota Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

Bemidji.—R. F. Bell, formerly agent of the Great Northern railway at Deer River, has been arraigned before United States Commissioner Hiram A. Simons, on a charge of stealing a mail bag at Deer River Oct. 19.

Brainerd. — Marion Cunningham of Crosby has sued N. C. Anderson for $5,334.70 damages—alleging the latter drove his automobile into the plaintiff's motorcycle while speeding on the wrong side of the Crosby-Deerwood highway.

Rush City. — A resolution indorsing Curtis M. Johnson, Rush City, to succeed W. W. Sivright, Hutchinson, as a director of the Minnesota State Agricultural society has been adopted by the Minnesota Implement Dealers' association.

Brainerd. — Brainerd residents once more are "feeling" their way through unlighted streets at night. The fund raised by a local amusement company through a benefit performance, to keep the lights on downtown, has been exhausted.

Donnelly. — Donnelly's business district has been virtually destroyed by fire, damage estimated at $300,000 resulting before apparatus and firemen from Morris and Herman, rushed here in automobiles, halted the spread of the flames.

Minneapolis.—Assignment of Methodist bishops to 60 annual conference sessions ranging between November of this year and August, 1917, were made by the board of bishops in semi-annual session at Hennepin Avenue Methodist church.

Duluth.—It was said at the St. Louis county courthouse that indictments against village officials and others at Hibbing for alleged malfeasance in the conduct of the affairs of the village probably would be sought from the November grand jury.

Duluth.—Northern Indians, schooled in woodcraft, through the signs of stream and forest see a kindly softened winter and their labors thus are lessened. They will not put forth any great efforts to have their squaws build warm wigwams, they say.

St. Paul. — Physical examinations as a requisite to all Minnesota marriages, except where ten days' advance announcement is given, formed a recommendation from the committee on defectives to the commission revising state laws relating to children.

Thief River Falls.—To the end that Pennington county may receive a part of the Federal road aid amounting to $142,000 in Minnesota the coming year, a meeting of the executive, good roads and Jefferson highway committees of the Commercial club was held at the clubrooms to consider the matter.

Anoka. — After lying for years in a vacant building here with its whereabouts unknown, the sword of Captain J. S. Cady, A company, First Minnesota volunteers, who was killed in 1863 during an Indian uprising near Paynesville, has been found and presented to the local G. A. R. post, which bears Captain Cady's name.

St. Paul. — An army of 481,653 pupils and 17,792 teachers are employed in 9,250 schools in Minnesota, according to a survey of the state system of public instructions made public by C. G. Schulz, superintendent of education. The same department a year ago reported 466,060 pupils under 17,138 teachers in 9,254 schools.

Duluth. — Eleven million more tons of iron ore have been shipped from the docks of the five companies at the American head of the lakes during the season up to November 1 than during the corresponding period last year. Up to November 1 last year 29,345,174 tons were shipped, while during the same period of 1916, 40,608,767 tons have gone forward.

Minneapolis — The University students and alumni are co-operating in an effort to make the annual Home-Coming of the university one of the big events of the year. The date of the Home-Coming is Saturday, November 18, when the Minnesota-Wisconsin football game will be played. The prospect of a victory for Minnesota is proving a strong drawing card.

Washington, D. C.—Attorney General Smith of Minnesota has asked the supreme court for leave to file suit to test title to land in the Itasca state park at the headwaters of the Mississippi. The government, the court was told, contemplates giving a patent for timber land worth $75,000 within the park reservation to the Immigration Land company of Minnesota.

Washington, D. C.—Growth of the country's banking resources since passage of the Federal reserve act is put at $6,500,000,000, in a statement issued today by the comptroller of the treasury. The increase in resources of the western states has been phenomenal. Minnesota stands third in this increase with 40 per cent greater resources than at the time the act went into effect.

St. Paul. — Dean L. D. Coffman and Prof. F. E. Spalding of the College of Education of the University of Minnesota, have been appointed members of the national committee of the Carnegie Foundation, to standardize courses in the state normal schools of the United States.

Cloquet. — Indians on the Fond du Lac reservation are receiving their annuity payment of $19.50, the interest on tribal funds. At this time one-quarter of the Minnesota Chippewa fund, amounting to $130.60 per capita, is also being distributed, making a total of $150.10 per capita.

DAYS SCHOOLS AT PRISONS PLANNED

BOARD OF CONTROL CONTEMPLATES ASKING LEGISLATURE TO PROVIDE FOR BUILDINGS.

EDUCATORS MEET IN ST. PAUL

Hear Discussions on Militarism, Suffrage and Motherhood—Addition of Two Years of College Work to High School Course in State Urged.

St. Paul.

Establishment of day schools at the state prison and the state refomatory is contempdated by the Board of Control just as soon as the legislature makes provision for them. Board members said they were considering a recommendation to the coming legislature, providing for erection of school buildings in connection with each institution, each building to be a model for the purpose to be served.

Night schools are now conducted at both prison and reformatory, but the courses are admitted to be of the traditional type. Little effort has been made to emphasize educational opportunities for inmates as paramount to other activities that engage them.

C. J. Swendsen and C. E. Vasaly, members of the board, recently returned from a tour of inspection of penal institutions of the Eastern states with special reference to the kind of schools maintained for inmates. They came back confirmed in their belief that Minnesota was ready to give to its prison population the schooling it did not get before entering prison. They were particularly impressed by the opportunities for emphasizing vocational education.

State Teachers Gather.

Militarism was denounced, woman suffrage advocated and motherhood declared the most overworked of the professions, by speakers before the Minnesota Educational association in St. Paul.

Dr. Yamoi Kin, head of the Woman's Medical school, Pie-Yang, China, flayed militarism. She said the height of barbarism was the settlement of difficulties by force. Charles Zeublin of Boston, sociologist, said that principles of government and the duties of citizens could not be well taught to children when the majority of their teachers were treated like slaves in that they were denied the franchise. William Wirt, superintendent of the Gary, Ind., schools, put in the good word for mother.

Carrol G. Pearse, president of the Milwaukee Normal school, said at a department of secondary education that the adding of two years of college work to the high school course would not only prevent crowding in the university, but would aid the student by giving him the benefit of home influences in his early youth.

I. C. C. Declines To Aid.

The car shortage situation in Minneapolis and the Northwest will not be clearedup by the Interstate Commerce commission. Ira B. Mills, chairman of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission, recently issued a statement blaming the Eastern and Southern roads for the car shortage here and appealed to the federal body for aid. He has received word from E. H. Meyer, chairman of the I. C. C., that the matter is one over which the commission has no control.

On Educators' Conveyances.

That the cost of keeping up "old Dobbin or the flivver or other conveyance used by county superintendents in making their rounds of rural schools should be borne by the county was a contention by Superintendent N. A. Thorson of Polk county before the conference of county school superintendents. His sentiments were vigorously applauded by the gathering, which filled the Senate chamber at the Capitol.

Battery "F" Mustered Out.

Battery F, the State University's contingent in the First Minnesota field artillery, which returned from the Mexican border more than a month ago, has been mustered out of the state service. Captain W. H. Rhinow, acting on authority from the adjutant-general's office, read the list of 171 men and declared them mustered out. Honerable discharge papers will be furnished the men later.

Favors Pure Milk Laws.

Pure milk regulations enacted by the Legislature to have state-wide effect and place Minnesota in the front rank among other states were advocated by Commissioner J. J. Farrell of the state dairy and food department at a hearing before the commission recently appointed to propose revision of Minnesota laws relating to public health.

Young Girls Poor Teachers.

Seventeen-year-old-girls are all right in their place, but they are as a rule ill suited to teach in the rural schools of Minnesota. This was the concensus of opinion expressed by county superintendents at a public conference with C. G. Schulz, superintendent of education. Nearly every county of the state was represented. Girls of that age lack the mature judgment and training necessary for instructors, speakers declared. W. E. Boerger of Stearns county favored an amendment to the statutes.

Credit.

A rich nabob, ambitious to be known as a good fellow, gave a feast which cost a thousand sequins a plate.

"What wicked, wanton waste!" exclaimed the world.

Another nabob, thirsting for glory, went to war.

"The brutal, bloody butcher," the world protested.

A third nabob, desiring only to do what was right, bestowed his riches in alms.

"He makes paupers!" sniffed the world.

The recording angel hesitated, but after some thought he dipped his pen and wrote, to the credit of each of the nabobs:

"He kept his money in circulation."

Surely an Antique.

"Now here," said the second-hand dealer, "is a rare bargain in an antique phonograph, which—"

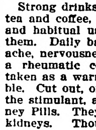
"Whoever heard of a phonograph classed as antique furniture?" broke in the scornful customer.

"Well, believe it or not," returned the dealer, "but the man I bought it from had had it so long it was all paid for."—Kansas City Star.

Strong Drinks Irritate

Strong drinks like beer, whiskey, tea and coffee, irritate the kidneys and habitual use tends to weaken them. Daily backache, with headache, nervousness, dizzy spells and a rheumatic condition should be taken as a warning of kidney trouble. Cut out, or at least moderate, the stimulant, and use Doan's Kidney Pills. They are fine for weak kidneys. Thousands recommend them.

A Minnesota Case



"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Fred Kandler, East Grand Forks, Minn., says: "I had a dull pain through my kidneys and my back got so weak I couldn't lift. At times, I was obliged to give up work. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and deposited sediment. Finally, I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. The backache and other ailments gradually left and in a few weeks, I was restored to good health."

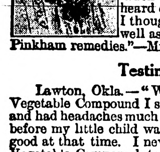
Health for Sick Women

For Forty Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Been Woman's Most Reliable Medicine —Here is More Proof.

To women who are suffering from some form of woman's special ills, and have a constant fear of breaking down, the three following letters ought to bring hope:—

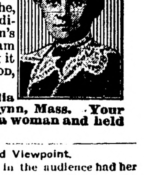


North Crandon, Wis.—"When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and it was hard for me to keep about and do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had a displacement and ulcers, and would have to have an operation. This frightened me so much that I did not know what to do. Having heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would give it a trial and it made me as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. MAYME ASBACH, North Crandon, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.

Lawton, Okla.—"When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I tired easily and had headaches much of the time and was irregular. I took it again before my little child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good at that time. I never fail to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ailing women because it has done so much for me."—Mrs. A. L. McCASLAND, 509 Have St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.



Roxbury, Mass.—"I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down pains, backache, and sluggish liver. I tried several kinds of medicine; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has cured me and I am pleased to be in my usual good health by using it and highly recommend it."—Mrs. B. M. OSGOOD, 1 Haynes Park, Roxbury, Mass.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Nature's Great Hoodoo Temple.

In the Hoodoo basin of western Wyoming are curious formations which resemble Punch and Judy heads, grim savages, simpering old maids, monkeys, rabbits, birds and animals in every grotesque and exaggerated shape imaginable, and in every possible position. There are 50 different shapes of heads; over 40 different animal and human faces have been counted. The rock out of which the hoodoos have been carved by Dame Nature is what is known as volcanic breccia.—Popular Science Monthly.

Vivid Past.

Husband (telling of accident) And as I thought I was drowning my past life came before me in one vivid flash.

Wife—William, you never told me before that you had that kind of a past.

We always feel sorry for the 200-pound girl who tries to act cute.

Odd Viewpoint.

One woman in the audience had her own ideas about Julian Eltinge, the famous impersonator of feminine types.

"Wouldn't it be great fun to be married to a man like that?" she said to her husband.

"You mean because he is good looking?"

"No, you are good looking enough to suit me."

"Then what do you mean?"

"Think what a novelty it would be to be able to dress in the Paris gowns your own husband wears to work."—Youngstown Telegram.

Sure Proof.

"How did you know the play would be a howling success?"

"Because we tried it on the dog."

If a man lives as he should, the world will not be very much better by his getting out of it.

FRAZIER ELECTED GOVERNOR BY BIG MARGIN OF VOTES

Entire State Ticket Endorsed by the Nonpartisan League Wins in a Walk.

M'CUMBER BEATS BURKE

Present Incumbent Returned to United States Senate by About 8,000 Majority—Frazier Runs Five to One Ahead of Democratic Opponent.

Fargo, Nov. 8.—Lynn J. Frazier, Nonpartisan League candidate and running on the republican ticket, was elected governor of North Dakota at Tuesday's election. With him the entire ticket put up by the Nonpartisan League went through to victory, including Casey for state treasurer, the only democrat endorsed by the league. The Nonpartisan League candidates for the state supreme court were also elected.

LYNN J. FRAZIER

While definite figures are unobtainable at this time owing to the slowness in counting the vote, enough returns have been received to show that if the same proportion continues in the entire state Frazier ran at least five to one ahead of his only opponent, McArthur, democratic candidate. It can safely be said that this same margin will apply to the whole ticket.

The league claims the election of its entire legislative ticket with possibly a few exceptions in isolated cases.

Returns from the country districts are slow in coming in and it will probably be several days before a complete detailed count can be given.

McCumber Elected Senator.

Porter J. McCumber defeated John Burke for United States senator. The indications are that his majority will reach 8,000 at least. In some parts of the state Burke gave his opponent a close race but the handicap under which he ran was too great to overcome and the incumbent was an easy winner.

Helgeson, Young and Norton, present congressmen, were re-elected, all by decisive majorities.

Judge Pollock Defeated.

Judge Charles Pollock, judge of the district court for Cass, Traill and Steele counties for the past twenty-two years, was defeated for re-election by A. T. Cole, whose majority will be about 1,500.

MICHIGAN GOES DRY

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—Democratic leaders shortly before midnight Tuesday practically conceded that Hughes would carry Michigan. Returns from 350 precincts or about one-tenth of the state gave Hughes 32,048 and Wilson 27,022. Hughes' plurality had been growing consistently since the first returns were received. The amendment for state-wide prohibition with 244 precincts in 43 counties had a majority of more than 12,000. The amendment providing for home rule which the anti-prohibition forces supported was being beaten by a constantly growing majority.

Albert Sleeper, republican candidate for governor, increased his lead to 4,390.

NEBRASKA VOTES FOR PROHIBITION

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 8.—Scattering returns of the state and incomplete returns from Omaha indicate the prohibitory amendment carried in the state by a small majority.

Wilmington, Dela., Nov. 8.—Returns at 1:45 a. m. make Delaware very close on both the national and state tickets with the democrats claiming victory. Out of 117 districts 100 gave Hughes 10,092, [illegible]

WISCONSIN GIVES LEAD TO HUGHES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 8.—Returns for president from 840 precincts out of 2,250 in the state give Wilson 75,274, Hughes [illegible].

[illegible] 701 precincts Williams, democrat, 44,153; Phillips, republican, [illegible]

United States senator, 465 precincts, [illegible] 12,496; LaFollette, [illegible] 33,509.

STEWART REELECTED MONTANA GOVERNOR

Wilson Carries State by a Two to One Vote—Drys Win.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 8.—Returns received up to an early hour this morning indicate that Wilson has carried the state by a two-to-one vote, and that Samuel V. Stewart, democratic incumbent, has been reelected governor over Frank Edwards, republican, by a safe majority.

The first returns from the state on the presidential candidates came from the Brown's quarry precinct, which gave Wilson 46 and Hughes 22, and this proportion was maintained on later returns from different parts of the state.

SAMUEL V. STEWART

Looks Like Drys Win

While no definite figures are at hand at this time returns so far received on the vote for statewide prohibition gives every assurance that the state has gone dry by a safe margin.

Drys Claim South Dakota

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 8.—Leaders in the fight for prohibition in South Dakota claim that the "dry" amendment has been adopted by a large majority. Present returns show that the vote on the suffrage amendment is very close.

BURNQUIST IS ELECTED GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA

Early Returns Give Lead to President.

St. Paul, Nov. 8.—J. A. A. Burnquist, republican, was reelected governor of Minnesota Tuesday by a decisive plurality, returns now indicate. Ninety-seven precincts, principally in Duluth and Minneapolis, gave Wilson 13,654; Hughes 12,026. Duluth's complete vote was: Wilson, 6,685; Hughes, 6,089.

The vote in 201 of the 3,024 precincts in the state show Wilson 30,349, Hughes 25,433.

Most of these returns were from the three largest cities of the state, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, and republican leaders expressed confidence that complete returns from the rural districts would turn the tide to Hughes, while democratic spokesmen maintained that the present ratio, which would give Wilson a plurality of [illegible] would be maintained.

Available returns showed Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, republican candidate for United States senator, leading his democratic opponent, Daniel W. Lawler, also of St. Paul, and Kellogg's supporters claimed his election by a decisive majority.

Minnesota's delegation in the lower house of congress will consist of eight republicans, one democrat and one progressive. Thomas D. Schall, progressive, was re-elected in the Tenth district, and Carl V. Vandick, democrat, was again chosen in the Fourth. The republican congressmen are: Anderson, Ellsworth, Davis, Lundeen, Knutson, Volstead, Miller and Steenerson. All but Lundeen and Knutsen were re-elected.

SOUTH DAKOTA VOTES REPUBLICAN

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 8.—More than one-tenth of the precincts in the state indicate Hughes has carried South Dakota by 15,000. The prohibition amendment was adopted by 20,000 and the suffrage amendment by 10,000.

COLORADO GIVES WILSON 15,000

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 8.—Wilson has carried Colorado by a plurality of at least 15,000 votes.

Julius C. Gunter, democrat, for governor, is leading Governor Carlson, republican.

HUGHES LEADING WILSON IN KANSAS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—Hughes took the lead from Wilson in Kansas when 527 precincts of the 2,171 in the state had been reported, the total showing Wilson 78,166 and Hughes 79,551. The count was 64 of the 105 counties.

BISMARCK REPUBLICAN

BISMARCK, Nov. 8.—City gives Hughes 538; Wilson 531; McCumber is leading Burke.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Easy Way to Reduce Flesh

Drink Hot Water and Take Tassco

Heve'nt you often wished for a medicine to reduce your flesh? Something that does not require dieting or calisthenics? Well right here you have it in 5-grain tassco tablets, that you may secure of any good druggist. They are pleasant to take, perfectly harmless and cause no restrictions of habit or eating and reduce the flesh, little by little, until you are down to the number of pounds you wish to weigh. Too much flesh is undesirable, as most quite stout people will readily admit and it detracts from one's good appearance; makes one clumsy and short of breath.

There is'nt any reason why anyone should be too stout, when there's this much-tried, perfectly satisfactory remedy at any good druggists. Tassco tablets, (don't forget the name) are recommended by physicians and are guaranteed to be perfectly harmless. Refuse substitutes, if you can't come to our store, we will mail tassco to you.

Sale Of School And Other State Lands

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 25, 1916

State of Minnesota,
State Auditor's Office,

Notice is hereby given that on November 20, 1916, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the office of the County Auditor at Warren, Marshall County, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the State by reason of the non-payment of interest.

TERMS OF SALE

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price is payable to the County Treasurer at the time of sale. The unpaid balance is payable at any time in whole or in part on or before forty years from the date of sale at an interest rate of four per cent per annum, due on June 1st of each year; provided that the interest can be paid at any time within the interest year without penalty. In effect, this means that the interest money may be paid any time between June and May thirty-[illegible] without penalty.

Appraised value of timber, when so stated, must be paid for in full at the time of sale.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

All mineral [illegible] are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

Lands on which the interest has become delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the [illegible] of sale, or before resale, to the actual purchaser. Such lands are listed under the caption, "Delinquent Lands."

No person can purchase more than 320 acres of land as provided by the General Laws 1905; provided, however, that state lands purchased previous to 1905 are not chargeable against such purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraisers' reports [illegible] quality and kind of soil are on [illegible] this office. List giving legal descriptions of land to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor [illegible] the Immigration Commissioner at St. Paul, and the County Auditor at above address.

J. A. O. PREUS,
State Auditor.

Optimistic Thought.

Resolutions taken without thought bring disasters without remedy.

The Real Thing.

"An aim in life is the only [illegible] worth the finding," says Stevenson, "and it is not to be found in [illegible] lands, but in the heart itself."

And There Are Others.

WILSON AND MARSHALL WILL SERVE FOUR YEARS MORE

~~PRESIDENT WINS~~ RE-ELECTION BY SLIGHT MARGIN

ONLY BAREST POSSIBILITY REMAINS THAT RECOUNTS AND POSSIBLE COURT CONTESTS WILL CHANGE SITUATION.

HUGHES CANNOT WIN IF GIVEN MINNESOTA'S VOTE

G. O. P. National Committee Makes Preparations to Begin Legal Proceedings for Recounts in States Where Results Are Close—Democrats on Alert.

New York, Nov. 11.—America has chosen Woodrow Wilson president and Thomas R. Marshall vice president for four years more.

There is only the barest possibility that recounts and possible court contests predicted by unyielding Republicans will change the situation.

California was the pivotal state. Its 13 electoral votes, finally added to the Wilson column, gave him a total of 272, more than the necessary majority of 266 in the electoral college. To this may be added New Hampshire.

Apparently it is no longer a question of victory for Wilson, but a question of how large will be his electoral college lead.

Hughes Issues No Statement.

With the democrats over the nation planning to celebrate victory, the republican national committee still declines to concede Wilson's election.

Lawrence Green, secretary to Charles E. Hughes, said in response to questions by newspaper men that Mr. Hughes would not send congratulations to President Wilson today.

"Not yet," said Mr. Green.

Mr. Hughes himself declined to make any comment upon the election results. He arose about 8 a. m. and after reading the news went for an automobile ride. He apparently was in cheerful spirits.

Election Not Conceded.

Chairman W. B. Willcox, refusing to concede the election of President Wilson, said in a formal statement issued after a conference with other republican campaign managers that the result still depends on the vote of a few close states and that their returns thus far announced are in most states unofficial and may be changed by the official counts.

"The result still depends upon the votes in a few close states," Mr. Willcox's statement read. "It must be borne in mind that the returns thus far announced in most states are unofficial and may be changed by the official count required by the laws of those states. Twice during the unofficial competition yesterday in California mistakes in additions were announced from that state substantially changing figures previously given. It is common experience that the result of the official count almost always varies from the returns first announced.

May Demand Recount.

"Where the vote is as close as that reported in several states it may be that material changes will result from the official count. We owe it to the country to take all necessary steps to see that an exact, honest count of the votes is made. When the current seemed to be running against Mr. Wilson on Wednesday the democratic managers announced their intention to demand a recount in every close state.

"All we desire is to make sure that the vote is counted as cast."

Mr. Willcox added verbally that it was superhumanly impossible for the preliminary count to conform exactly with the official count.

NUMBER 13 LUCKY FOR WILSON, NOT HUGHES

Washington, Nov. 11.—Superstitiously inclined, saw another instance of President Wilson's belief in his good luck in the "hoodoo number 13."

Apparently Mr. Wilson won the presidency with California's 13 votes.

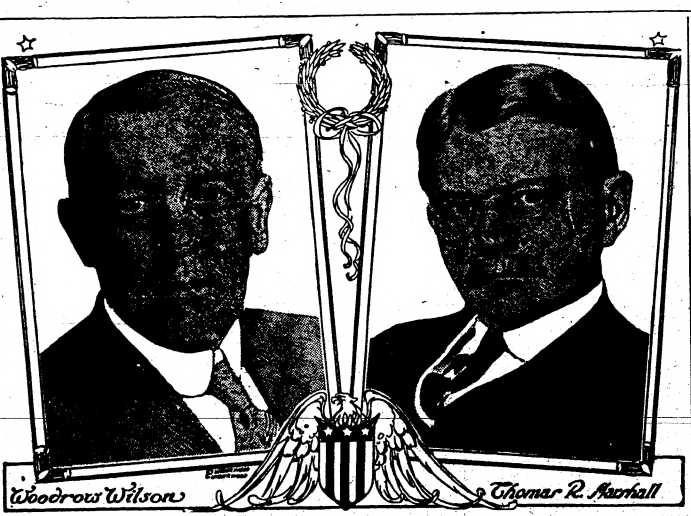
Mr. Hughes, his opponent, voted ballot No. 13 Tuesday.

To Enlarge Patrol Squadron.

Newport, Nov. 8.—Enlargement and improvement of the volunteer scout patrol squadron is under consideration by a board of naval officers which began sessions here. The board is headed by Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight.

Train Hits Jitney; Four Dead.

Camden, N. J., Nov. 8.—Three men and a woman were killed by a Pennsylvania railroad train which struck a jitney bus in which they were riding at Freeman station, near here.



HALF OF NATION NOW "DRY"

TWENTY-FOUR STATES IN PROHIBITION COLUMN.

Michigan, Montana, Nebraska and South Dakota New "Dry" States—Beer Amendments Fail.

NEW DRY STATES—Michigan, Montana, Nebraska and South Dakota—4.

STATES ALREADY DRY—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, and West Virginia.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The Methodist board of temperance here has just announced that Michigan, South Dakota, Nebraska and Montana have voted dry. Counting Utah, there are 24 states, or half the union, now in the dry column. Local option laws in several states add to the saloonless territory.

The wet majority in Missouri has apparently been cut by 125,000 votes. Most of the beer amendments and repeals offered in dry states seem to have been defeated and Idaho, which has statutory prohibition, has enacted a prohibitional constitutional amendment by probably two to one.

HUGHES HAS PLURALITY OF 250 IN MINNESOTA

Three Additions to Election Returns Increase Lead of Republican by Two Votes.

St. Paul, Nov. 13.—Three additions to election returns throughout the state, received Sunday, raised the Minnesota plurality of Charles Evans Hughes by two votes, making his lead 250. The total figures now stand, Wilson 178,569 and Hughes 178,819.

The changes came from Cass county, which reported a revised and complete total of 1,260 for Wilson and 982 for Hughes; from Faribault county with corrected totals of Wilson 1,115 and Hughes 2,120, and from the soldiers of Fairmont county, members of Company E, Second Minnesota infantry, who cast 21 votes for Wilson and 11 for Hughes.

WILSON LEADS HUGHES BY 3,278 VOTES IN CALIFORNIA

Official Count Started, But Result Is Not Expected to Change Results Materially.

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—With 17 isolated precincts still to hear from, Wilson leads Hughes by 3,278 votes in the presidential race. The vote now stands Wilson, 466,106; Hughes, 462,828. The missing votes, it is generally believed, will not materially change President Wilson's majority.

The official count of California's vote was begun today. Steps have been taken not only to expedite the enumeration, but to insure its accuracy. Both the Democratic and Republican state central committees have engaged checkers and attorneys to scrutinize the count of each tally sheet.

Iowa Elects Harding Governor.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 9—Republicans swept Iowa practically clean, turning in pluralities of 60,000 for Hughes, 120,000 for W. L. Harding for governor, electing the entire state ticket and reelecting the 10 Republican congressmen. T. J. Steele, Democratic congressman from the 11th district, ran a close race for re-election. Havener, Republican for attorney-general, led his ticket. Harding's overwhelming defeat of E. T. Meredith, Democrat, was the outstanding feature of the election.

WILSON'S POPULAR VOTE IS 8,563,927

New York, Nov. 13.—The total popular vote received in each of the states by President Wilson and Charles E. Hughes, but based on incomplete reports and estimated, indicated that the President received 403,312 more votes than Mr. Hughes. The table follows:

States—	Wilson.	Hughes

CAN "SHE" BE CONGRESSMAN? "HE" ONLY IN CONSTITUTION

Chicago, Nov. 13.—"No person shall be a representative * * * who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which HE shall be chosen."

The capitals are gratuitous, but the quotation is from the constitution of the United States and it concerns quite profoundly the prospects of Miss Jeannette Rankin, congresswoman-elect from Montana. The question is:

Can "SHE" be a congressman?

Students of laws and constitutions and things like that are shaking their heads dubiously. The pronoun in the constitution is undeniably masculine and the congress "Man" elect is just as undeniably "Miss." As a matter of grammar SHE cannot be HE. But as a matter of law—?

And politics?

Shelled in Neutral Waters, Claim.

Berlin, Nov. 11 — Reports from Christiania say that a Russian torpedoboat destroyer shelled on November 2 a German submarine while the Russian vessel was between two and a half and three miles from the Norwegian town of Homoen near Vardoe and while the submarine was from three to four miles distant from the Norwegian coast. The Norwegian government, according to the dispatch, has instructed the Norwegian minister at Petrograd to protest against this new alleged violation of neutrality.

"LET US FORGET IT"—WILSON

NATION IS NOW UNITED, PRESIDENT DECLARES.

Executive Issues No Statement Regarding Election While Visiting Daughter in Massachusetts.

Williamstown, Mass., Nov. 13.—In a speech here before several thousand persons who came from nearby towns to congratulate him on his re-election, President Wilson said:

"I want to say that now the campaign is over we must think of only one thing and that is not of parties, but of the interest of the great country we all love. Let us forget all our differences and unite for common service. Only in that way can we work for the great nation that has given us liberty and peace.

Politics Merely Ideas.

"Politics," he continued, "is after all a means of getting something done; of putting forward ideas. It is a fight, but the man who does not love the fight has no red blood in his veins."

The President's second speech of the day here was delivered before a crowd of men from North Adams, Pittsfield, and other towns, who came here by automobile, trolley and railroad trains and marched to the home of Francis B. Sayre, the President's son-in-law, where Mr. Wilson is staying. The delegation surrounded the house and cheered until the President appeared on the porch.

Mr. Wilson, after thanking the crowd for "this generous outpouring," said he had to come to Williamstown to avoid making public speeches.

"You will forgive me if I do not discuss public affairs," he added.

During the day the President was in communication with Democratic national headquarters regarding the progress of the counting of the ballots in the election. He made no statement, however. As the delegation began leaving, a man called out: "Three cheers for Baby Sayre," and they were given.

"Wet Majority 124,000 in Missouri.

St. Louis, Nov. 11.—Returns from more than half the precincts of the state gave a majority of more than 124,000 against prohibition. The majority against the proposed amendment in St. Louis was 127,000. The majority for prohibition in the 1,353 precincts outside of St. Louis reported about 1,250. If that ratio holds in the remaining precincts outside St. Louis the majority of the state outside this city for prohibition will approximate 6,000.

REPUBLICANS TO HAVE 217 VOTES IN LOWER HOUSE

LATEST RETURNS INDICATE SMALL PLURALITY OVER DEMOCRATS—CONTESTS MAY CHANGE LINE-UP.

MANN, PRESENT MINORITY LEADER, OUT FOR SPEAKER

New Senate Will Be Democratic by Safe Working Margin—Leaders to Rush Legislative Program Before Sixty-fourth Congress Ends.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Republicans will have 217 votes in the next Congress, according to the latest returns available.

This is an increase of one in the total Republican membership previously reported. The change is based on reports from the sixth New Jersey district showing the election of John H. Ramsey, Republican, by a plurality of about 1,500 over Robert Heath, Democrat.

Democrats Have 212 Votes.

It does not take into account a probable contest in the tenth North Carolina district; the third New Jersey district where Thomas J. Scully, Democrat, claims to have been elected by a plurality of 14 votes or the eleventh Iowa or third Louisiana districts where the pluralities are so small that recounts are considered possible.

The election of Mr. Ramsey from New Jersey and the consequent loss of one Democrat from that state leaves the Democratic membership of the House at 212, as indicated by returns thus far received. All other parties have elected six members. According to present figures, the Republicans fall one short of the 218 votes necessary for a working majority.

No Certain Working Majority.

On the face of the unofficial returns the political division of the House is so close that an effective and certain working majority does not exist. In view of the situation it is regarded by Democratic leaders as improbable that President Wilson will call an extra session of the new Congress next spring. In that case the organization fight will not come until the regular session in December, 1917, which will mean maneuvering for more than a year in the contest for speakership.

As matters stand today, the candidate of the Republicans for speaker will be James R. Mann, present minority leader. Speaker Clark generally is regarded as the Democratic choice to succeed himself. Already, however, there are rumblings of uncertainties because of the close political division.

Clark May Not Run.

Some interesting and lively party conferences on both sides before any organization tickets are finally launched, is assured. As the Democrats apparently will be in the minority, some friends of Champ Clark are not certain he will be a candidate to succeed himself. Unless he can be elected speaker they prefer that he abandon the race and become a candidate for minority leader, the post he held for many years before the Democratic ascendency in 1912. Such a development might precipitate a lively contest within the Democratic ranks with Claude Kitchin, the present majority leader, and Speaker Clark as rival candidates for the minority leadership.

Soldier Vote May Change Figures.

The congressional result in New Mexico is doubtful, the chances now favoring the Democrats. In Pennsylvania there are two districts and possibly three where the soldier vote, when counted, may change the results. In two of these Republicans, and in one a Democrat, have been elected by small majorities on the face of the returns thus far reported. In the Tenth North Carolina district, Britt, a Republican, is claiming the election over Weaver, Democrat, by 13 majority.

Whatever happens, Republicans cannot control legislation in the next Congress because the new senate will be Democratic by a safe working majority of 12. In this situation little partisan legislation can be looked for during the first part of the new Wilson administration. Because of this administration leaders will exert every possible effort to complete the Democratic legislative program before March 4 next, when the Sixty-fourth Congress will end.

Wilson Wins Washington by 11,000.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 11.—Although about 250 precincts of Washington have not reported, they are mostly small and remote and will not change the result already announced. Some of them have only a dozen votes. The majority for President Wilson probably will not go much above 11,000. Governor E. Lister, Democrat, who was re-elected, will have about the same majority as President Wilson. Miles Poindexter, Republican candidate for senator, appears to have carried nearly every county in the state.

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill.—"While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital."—Mrs. E. Sheldon, 5667 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Drinking of Water

(BY V. M. PIERCE, M. D.)

The general conclusions of the latest Medical Scientists proves that drinking plenty of pure water both between meals and with one's meals is beneficial to health. It has now been proven by means of the X-rays and actual tests upon many healthy young men that the drinking of large amounts of water with meals is often beneficial. Therefore if you want to keep healthy drink plenty of pure water (not ice water), both with your meals and between meals. If you ever suffer from backache, lumbago, rheumatism, or any of the symptoms of kidney trouble—such as deep colored urine, sediment in urine, getting out of bed at night frequently and other troublesome effects, take a little Anuric before meals. These Anuric Tablets can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Prizes Awarded to Western Canada for Wheat, Oats, Barley, Alfalfa and Grasses

The winnings of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses, the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle fed and fattened on the grasses of that country. A recent shipment of cattle to Chicago topped the market in that city for quality and price.

Western Canada produced in 1915 one-third as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer. In Western Canada you will find good markets, splendid schools, exceptional social conditions, perfect climate and other great attractions. There is no war tax on land and no conscription.

MACKENSEN LOSES THIRD OF FORCES; FLEES DOBRUDJA

RUSSIANS CROSS DANUBE AT TWO POINTS AND SLAV FLEET RENEWS BOMBARDMENT OF CONSTANZA.

TEUTON DEMORALIZED BY DISEASE AND REVERSES

Fighting About Cernavoda for Possession of Danube Bridge Reaches Most Critical Stage—Falkenhayn's Drive in Transylvania May Weaken Allies' Thrust in Roumania.

London, Nov. 14.—British troops in their new offensive north of the Ancre river have advanced to a maximum depth of one mile, capturing from the Germans the towns of Beaumont-Hamel and Saint Pierre Division, according to the correspondent of Reuter's Telegram company at British headquarters.

Fighting is still going on between the German and British troops around the town of Serre, about two miles north of Beaumont-Hamel. Two thousand prisoners already have been taken by the British.

Russians Cross Danube.

London, Nov. 14.—The Russians have crossed the Danube into Dobrudja at two points south of Cernavoda and the Russian fleet has renewed the bombardment of Constanza, according to Petrograd advices received by wireless by way of Rome.

Field Marshal von Mackensen is reported continuing his retreat with demoralized forces, and with one-third of his effectives lost.

Teuton Retreat Disastrous.

The ravages of disease and military reverses sustained are declared in the Petrograd advices to have seriously affected the morale of Von Mackensen's army, while the reinforcements he requested to make good his losses are said not to have been provided. His retreat, therefore, is being conducted under disastrous conditions.

At some points Germans and Austrians are attacking fiercely, but according to advices at all the capitals the largest successes are being won by the arms of the Allies.

Battle at Critical Stage.

The fighting about Cernavoda for possession of the great Danube span that forms the longest bridge in Europe and where for days the Russian right wing is reported from Petrograd to have partly succeeded in turning Mackensen's left flank, apparently has reached its most critical stage.

Since the dispatches which told of Cernavoda in flames and of Constanza, where the Austro-German-Bulgarian extreme right has had its base on the Black sea, fired, only meager details have reached here regarding the Dobrudja clash.

Would Weaken Mackensen.

Military experts believe the result at Cernavoda will depend partly on the 50-mile forward dash of Russo-Roumanians against General Falkenhayn's armies in Transylvania far below the Bukowina border, where defensive movements have been succeeded by a sledgehammer offensive.

Any measurable successes in this region, the experts believe, must weaken the Cernavoda-Constanza front of Mackensen.

GREAT ACTOR ON HIS DIGNITY

Richard Mansfield's Rebuke to Subordinate Who Spoke Lightly of Theatrical Production.

With reference to fine discrimination in the use of the well-known English language, it is possible to overdo the thing.

Diving into the trunk of recollections for the suitable illustration to adorn this remark and point the moral, we find it in Richard Mansfield's occupancy of the Garrick theater in New York days of hilarity on that stage.

To Mansfield this theater was a temple. He tolerated no lightly spoken references to it. One day, when an attache reported, Mansfield gave instructions and started for his dressing room.

"I'll see you after the show," said the business lieutenant in parting.

"'After the show?'" repeated the actor-manager, with dignity. "Are we acrobats?"

"After the performance," replied his associate, humbly.

"'The performance!'" exclaimed Mansfield. "Are we ants?"

"I'm very sorry," mumbled the crushed manager; "I'll see you after the play, sir."

"I shall be pleased to see you then," answered Mansfield.

"Kidded" the Inspectors.

The other day two sanitary inspectors were making a round of the cottages in a certain English village. During their visit they came to one where lived three adults. On being admitted, after waiting about ten minutes, one of the inspectors said, angrily:

"How many persons are there in this house?"

"There are five," answered the man of the house.

"Five!" exclaimed the inspector, "there'll have to be two less in it."

"So there will when you two get out," was the sarcastic reply.

GAVE HIS WIFE A SURPRISE

Indiana Man, Dressed for Festive Occasion, Was Taken by Spouse for Bold Burglar.

A member of the degree team of the Columbus lodge of Eagles was getting himself ready to go to Greensburg, where the Columbus team was to give the work to a class of candidates, relates the Indianapolis News. Each member of the Columbus team was to wear a dress suit. This member did not have any evening clothes, so he borrowed an outfit, including a boiled shirt, high collar and white tie. He got home rather late and found his wife in bed, asleep. He wished to try the thing on to see just how he looked. So, after dint of much nervous expenditure, he had everything in shape and rather admired himself in the mirror. He felt it was a shame for his wife to miss the great sight, so he went into the bedroom, shook her gently and waited for her to awaken. The woman opened her eyes and looked into the face of a strange man attired in fashionable evening clothes. She gave one scream and ducked under the cover.

"Go away, go away," she begged the supposed gentleman burglar, "we haven't any money."

"Nobody knows that any better than I do," her husband retorted, "but that's no reason why you should carry on like this."

Then she recognized his voice, came from under the covers and admired him to his heart's content.

ALL ILLS CURED BY WALKING

That Is the Belief of New York Professor, Who Covers 500 Miles a Month.

Prof. Charles Gray Shaw, head of the department of philosophy of New York university, who has just completed a walk from Philadelphia to New York, ninety miles, in a little less than 24 hours, recommends walking as a panacea for all ills, mental and physical, a New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch writes. During the last three months he has walked, altogether, 1,600 miles, an average of more than 500 miles a month. A little journey of 35 or 40 miles a day he considers a mere nothing, a trot around the block. And for regaining mental poise, calming distraught nerves, exterminating worry, there is nothing, take it from the professor, equal to a good long walk. He belongs to the peripatetic school of philosophy. "Walking is the most valuable exercise in the world," he said. "Also it is the cheapest. It is one of the best ways I know of cheating the doctor and the undertaker. Walking, in the first place, draws the blood from the head to the feet. Then, when one walks, there are so many delightful trivial things to cajole one's attention away from oneself; the color and shape of the clouds, the flowers and the horizon, the amusing and transitory companions of the road. And women ought to walk more, too. Their complexions and figures would improve if they did. Most people take too short steps and walk from the knee. The further up the body the swing comes, the less strain."

How True.

"What in your opinion is the most startling transformation?"

"When a note becomes due."

Can't Loose Hair

Twenty Years from Today a Baldheaded Man will be an Unusual Sight

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press. He said: If the new hair grower, Mildredina Hair Remedy, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within 8 years.

When Mildredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years frim now a bald will be a rarity.

There is only one way to cure dandruff, and that is to kill the germs. There is only one hair preparation that will kill the germs and that is Mildredina Hair Remedy. This unusual hair restorer with its record of thousands of cures will grow hair on any head where there is any life left; it will cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching of the scalp in three weeks or money back. It is the most pleasant and invigorating tonic, is not not sticky nor greasy and is used extensively by ladies of refinement who desire to have and to keep their hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant. Fifty cents for a large bottle of druggists everywhere. Mail orders filled by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.

CUT THIS OUT

FREE to show how quickly Mildredina Hair Remedy acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this Coupon to American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass., with their name and address and ten cents in silver to pay postage.

Dance Saturday night in the M. W. A. hall.

Rev. Parish will hold services here next Monday evening.

Guy Harrison moved his household goods to Warread, Tuesday.

Several farmers are busy hauling in flax straw, which is bringing a good price.

Mrs. Carl Christoferson went to St Hilaire Saturday for a few days visit with relatives.

Otto Larson left Monday for Reynolds N. D., where he expects to spend the winter.

Jno. Lein of Grafton N. D. autoed over here Sunday for a short visit at the Gunheim home.

NOTICE. S. S. Kolden will now pay $4.00 per ton for loose Flax Straw delivered at Holt.

Axel Nelson and Lewis Wegge were business visitors in T. R. Falls last Thursday and Friday.

S. S. Kolden wants to buy all the flax straw he can get, if well stacked and hauled to town when dry and weather is good.

Angell's 3 piece orchestra will furnish the music for the dance to be given in the Woodman hall on Saturday evening of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sollem drove up from T. R. Falls Sunday and spent a few days visiting his mother, Mrs. T. Sollom and family.

Don't burn your flax straw. Sell it to S. S. Kolden, local agent of the Kroehler Manufacturing Company of Naperville, Ill., and get your cash for it.

Don't fail to come to the basket social to be held in Sunnyside School, District 59, Saturday Dec. 2nd.

Martha Heng and Matilda [illegible],
Teachers.

A big crowd attended the show Friday night and all seemed well pleased with the second entertainment given here by the [illegible] company. All speak highly of the first one, also.

Ed. Horien and Hjalmer Peterson were Middle River business visitors Monday. We understand Mr. Horien while there filed on a claim of 488 acres that is only 12 miles from Baudette.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Mines in Warfare.

A land mine in warfare consists of a charge of high explosive buried in the ground, and arranged so as to explode when the enemy's troops are over it. Mines are also used in siege warfare, tunnels being driven under the enemy's fortifications and enormous quantities of high explosive placed in them.

Sale Of School And Other State Lands

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 25, 1916

State of Minnesota,
State Auditor's Office,

Notice is hereby given that on November 25, 1916, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the office of the County Auditor at Warren, Marshall County, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the State by reason of the non-payment of interest.

TERMS OF SALE

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price is payable to the County Treasurer at the time of sale. The unpaid balance is payable at any [illegible] forty years from the date of sale at an interest rate of four per cent per per annum, due on June 1st of each year; provided that the interest can be paid at any time within the interest year without penalty. In effect, this means that the interest money may be paid any time between June and May thirty-first without penalty.

Appraised value of timber, when so stated, must be paid for in full at the time of sale.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

All mineral rights are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

Lands on which the interest has become delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale, to the actual purchaser. Such lands are listed under the caption, "Delinquent Lands."

No person can purchase more than 320 acres of land as provided by the General Laws 1905; provided, however, that state lands purchased previous to 1905 are not charged against such purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraisers' reports showing quality and kind of soil are on file in this office. List giving legal descriptions of land to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the Immigration Commissioner at St. Paul, and the County Auditor at above address.

J. A. O. PREUS,
State Auditor.

BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE URGED

COMMISSION REVISING LAWS MAY FAVOR AMPLIFICATION OF CONTROL BOARD'S POWERS.

NORMAL SCHOOL BODY DOOMED

Measures Recommended and Ordered Drawn by Economy Commission for Next Legislature Would Divorce Grain Inspection From Rail Body.

St. Paul.

Amplification of the powers of the state board of control, with provision for creation of a bureau of child welfare in charge of a director, was the recommendation offered by Charles E. Vasaly to the commission revising Minnesota laws relating to children.

The commission's work has reached a point where the form of state guardianship of children to be recommended must be decided upon, members agreed, and this brought Mr. Vasaly's suggestion, which was left for further discussion.

The commission then took up the recommendations of the committee on delinquent children, with an understanding that they will be definitely adopted only when presented to the governor for transmission to the next legislature.

★ ★ ★

Normal Board Doomed.

Measures for the next Minnesota legislature to divorce the state grain inspection from the railroad and warehouse commission, to create one state board of education to replace the normal and various other state school boards, and to extend the newly established budget system to various state departments, institutions and boards, have been recommended and ordered drawn by the state efficiency and economy commission.

While the commission was adopting a plan to wipe out of existence the state normal school board, that body was meeting in an adjoining room to make up the normal school budget for the next legislature.

Separation of the grain inspection from the railroad and warehouse commission was a subject at previous meetings and its discussion was brief.

★ ★ ★

State Schools Spend More.

Budget estimates for the next biennial period submitted to the state normal school board meeting at the state capitol, according to C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, show a slight increase over 1916-17 appropriations. Eight per cent increase in the item for support, he added, is typical and is due to a proposal to add new members to normal school faculties and increased salaries of present instructors. Dr. H. M. Bracken, executive officer of the state board of health, suggested to the board that a permanent record be made of all water mains and sewer systems serving state normal schools.

Present at the meeting were: Directors S. H. Somson, Winona; C. L. Atwood, St. Cloud; J. C. Wise, Mankato; Leslie Walter, Moorhead; J. L. Washburn, Duluth; E. J. Jones, Morris; and A. P. White, Bemidji; and presidents G. E. Maxwell, Winona; J. C. Brown, St. Cloud; C. N. Cooper, Mankato; F. A. Wolz, Moorhead; and E. W. Bohannon of Duluth.

Buttermakers to Ask Laws.

A state law requiring the pasteurization of all cream used in buttermaking, the abolition of a flat rate for cream whether good, bad, or indifferent, and payment according to grade, were among the subjects discussed at the convention of the National Creamery Buttermakers' association in Minneapolis. Nearly 1,200 buttermakers from all parts of the United States attended the convention, which was in session for three days.

The address of welcome was made by Charles M. Andrist, secretary of Governor Burnquist, W. J. Stephanson responding. The president's address was delivered by J. J. Farrell of St. Paul.

The fancy prices butter has reached also yielded a favorite subject of conversation. Buttermakers are unanimous in blaming the rise on the export demand. They see no prospect of lower prices, rather a certainty of further rise.

★ ★ ★

Wants Investment Bureau.

State Treasurer A. C. Gooding has urged creation of a bureau of investment as a safeguard to state trust funds which now total more than $25,000,000, at a meeting of the state efficiency and economy commission at the state capitol. Mr. Gooding pointed out that school and other trust funds will increase with the continued development of Minnesota and urged that the investment of these moneys be placed on a sound business basis, in a permanent administrative department.

★ ★ ★

To Probe Car Shortage.

The state railroad and warehouse commission will begin an inquiry at once into the car shortage that is seriously affecting Minneapolis. Commissioner C. E. Elmquist, following a conference of the commissioners with shippers said, in making the announcement of the investigation, that the situation is becoming worse daily. The embargo that was put on export shipments by the eastern roads is beginning to have effect to check sales. It is also affecting the milling and linseed oil industries.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Mankota—Lieut. John Aitkin, a veteran of the British and United States armies and an old Indian fighter, is dead at his home in this city from heart disease.

Minneapolis, Minnesota—Confronted by a coal famine as result of the car shortage, Cokato, Annandale, Kimball Prairie and other towns, whose storage bins are empty, have appealed to Minneapolis for help.

St. Paul. — The state supreme court has heard arguments in the appeal of the Great Northern road from the judgment of the Norman county district court affirming the order of the State Railroad and Warehouse commission directing the erection of a new station at Ada.

St. Paul. — Practically complete returns on the election in Minnesota show that Julius A. Schmahl, Secretary of State,, as candidate for re-election, led the entire Republican state ticket. He received 24,083 more votes than any other candidate for state office, and will enter upon his sixth term in January, 1917.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The Third Minnesota infantry has been ordered home from the Mexican border. The Third Minnesota is stationed at Llano Grande. Colonel Eva is in command. Its companies include units from Duluth, Anoka, Zumbrota, Eveleth, Princeton, Crookston, Stillwater, Red Wing, Hibbing and Rochester.

St. Paul. — Thomas H. Canfield of Lake Park has accepted the position tendered him as secretary of the Minnesota State Fair, to succeed John C. Simpson, who resigned to accept a $12,000 position with a New England development company. Mr. Canfield has rented his large stock farm and sold his stock and machinery.

St. Paul. —Increased appropriations amounting to $625,790 over those for the current year will be asked of the next legislature by the state normal school board whose proposed budget has just been announced. The last legislature appropriated $787,310 for the five schools and the program for the next few years calls for $1,413,100.

St. Paul.—Already famed for its beneficences to its free public school, Minnesota has just set a new high record by apportioning nearly $2,000,000 of special state aid. The warrant for the total to be disbursed next week is the largest ever issued by the state. Practically all high, graded, consolidated and rural schools in the state share in the grand total of $1,942,215.

St. Paul, Minn.—William Sindell, a bank robber, was shot and instantly killed while he was attempting to hold up the Security State bank, 111 Concord street, St. Paul, for the second time in a year. He was slain in a gun fight with Detective William R. Oliver, who had been concealed in the bank ever since Sindell robbed it March 8, in a daring single-handed daylight hold-up.

Mankato.—A tragedy was narrowly averted on the Schutte farm, two miles west of Mapleton, when Miss Rose Schutte escaped death in an attack by a bull while she was driving cattle into the yard. She was thrown down by the bull, several of her ribs and her collar bone were broken and she suffered severe bruises. Each time she tried to crawl away the angry beast pushed her over, and she finally escaped by lying still until the animal, believing her dead had gone away.

Mankato.—The remains of Thomas Kelly of this city, a member of Company H, Second regiment, Minnesota National guard, whose death occurred during the past week on the Mexican border as a result of injuries sustained while bathing, will be taken to Zumbro Falls for burial. Kelly was 20 years old. He was born at Hammond, Minn., and was a son of James Kelly, now of Zumbro Falls. One brother lives in this city and three brothers and three sisters are with the parents at Zumbro Falls.

Duluth—Up to November 1 coal shipments from Duluth were 22,900 tons more than receipts during the present navigation season. Last year the reverse was the case, the receipts being 463,100 more than the shipments up to November 1 coal stocks on the Duluth Superior docks are 5,863,050 tons. Last year at this time the stocks were 6,600,750. Unless coal receipts increase during the present month, which is expected, coal users in the Northwest will face the winter 1,000,000 tons short.

St. Paul.—The state board of investment is again receiving applications for loans from schools, municipalities and counties. At a meeting it rescinded its previous resolution to the effect that no more applications would be received before January 1. This followed an announcement that $100,000 of stumpage sales revenue will be received within a month and fill all applications now on file, including those by counties to finance ditch projects. Disbursements on all other pending applications were ordered.

New Ulm. — "That's gratitude," said William Johnke, deputy sheriff, when he was released from the county jail late at night after discharging his pistol five times in order to attract attention. "That's gratitude," he said again. "Two prisoners asked me into the cell to fix a water top," Johnke said. "They took my keys and locked me in. Then they went away."

Ely. — Misled by a compass deflected by iron deposits, Horace E. Jackson, Chicago grain broker, wandered deeper into Minnesota woods north of here and was lost five days. Searchers found him exhausted.

BABIES MIXED BY HOSPITAL NURSE

One Mother Learns "Dead" Child Is Cured, Other Finds "Cured" Child Dead.

JOY TURNS TO GRIEF

Mistake Brings Happiness to One Home and Sorrow to Another—Dead Baby Sent in Sealed Coffin to Wrong Home.

Yonkers, N. Y.—As a result of a mistake in the records of the Contagious Diseases hospital here, one mother recently learned that her child, whom she believed she had buried, was alive and well, and another mother, called to the hospital to claim her baby as cured, found that her child was dead.

Michael Napis went to work the other morning humming a Russian melody, for a card which the priest had translated for him had lifted the shadow that had hung over his home for weeks. It said that his little girl, eighteen months old, whom a white-jacketed man had taken away in an ambulance despite his wife's protests, had recovered from infantile paralysis.

In obedience to the summons, Mrs. Napis was to call at the hospital and when Michael returned that evening there would be one more smile to welcome him.

Clutching the card, Mrs. Napis took her seat on the edge of a bench in the office of the hospital. When her turn came she thrust the bit of pasteboard at the trim, efficient-looking nurse who questioned her.

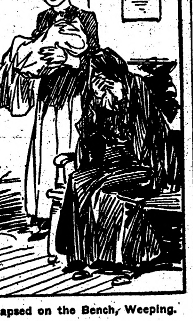
Not Her Baby.

A few more tense minutes, and the nurse returned, carrying a baby. Smiling at the rapture in the mother's face, she laid the child in her arms, drawing down the blanket a trifle.

Mrs. Napis, turning to hide her emotion from the people who had kept her baby so long, bent her head over the nestling burden. Then she wheeled suddenly, suspicion glowing in her features. Torrential Slavic sentences burst from her lips. She thrust the baby back into the arms of the nurse and collapsed on the bench, weeping.

An interpreter was called. He explained that Mrs. Napis said the child was not hers; that she wanted her own baby.

There was considerable delay. Mrs. Napis sat silent on the edge of the bench, rocking back and forth. Another woman entered. She was in mourning, and it was plain to see that she, too, was a Russian. Mrs. Napis paid no heed.



Collapsed on the Bench, Weeping.

With dulled eyes she saw the child that she had refused placed in the arms of the woman in black. She saw the grief-stricken face go blank for a moment and then kindle with joy.

Baby She Sought Was Dead.

Then the interpreter was called again. Sitting beside Mrs. Napis, he told her that her little girl was dead. It had succumbed two weeks ago, and through some error had been sent in a sealed coffin to the home of Mrs. John Valkoff, whose daughter Rose, eighteen months old, was also in the paralysis ward.

"It was a mistake," the interpreter repeated. "Your child died and they thought it was Rose Valkoff."

Mrs. Napis arose slowly and, without a glance at the happy woman in black, the smiling baby or the efficient-looking nurse, she walked from the room. She muttered something as she walked.

"What does she say?" asked the nurse, who feared the shock might have unbalanced the woman.

"She says, 'What shall I tell Michael?'" replied the interpreter.

"I DON'T SUFFER ANY MORE"

"Feel Like a New Person," says Mrs. Hamilton.

New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month."—Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St.

Meat Eaters' Backache

Meat lovers are apt to have backaches and rheumatic attacks. Unless you do heavy work and get lots of fresh air, don't eat too much meat. It's rich in nitrogen and helps to form uric acid—a solid poison that irritates the nerves, damages the kidneys and often causes dropsy, gravel and urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills help weak kidneys to throw off uric acid. Thousands recommend them.

A North Dakota Case

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Ole Carlson, Hillsboro, N. D., says: "Four or five years ago I was troubled by weak kidneys. My back ached terribly and it was hard for me to do my work. I heard of the good Doan's Kidney Pills were doing others and finally used them myself. Four boxes cured me and the cure has proven permanent."

COULD TRUST HIS MEMORY

Mr. Wanamaker Able to Turn at Once to Any Book on His Miles of Shelves.

A couple of weeks ago John Wanamaker did something which he said he had not done before in his 55 years' experience as a merchant. He opened his store on Sunday. That will interest you even less than something else which Mr. Wanamaker did that afternoon and which was told me by one of the dozen persons who were present, writes "Girard" in the Philadelphia Public Ledger. There had been a dinner for a party of distinguished Japanese visitors, and Mr. Wanamaker volunteered to show the oriental gentlemen the inside of his store.

Before departing from the big granite building Mr. Wanamaker said to the chief guest:

"Baron, there is a book here I wish you to have."

Naming another book, Mr. Wanamaker walked to another case and got it. Then he proceeded to present to each gentleman present a volume or two, in each instance naming what he intended to give before he went to a bookshelf to get it. Which feat of memory caused my informant to remark when he related the incident to me:

"I have seen John Wanamaker do a great many extraordinary things in 40 years, but his ability to pick here and there a book out of many thousands amazed me the most."

Paradoxical Effect.

"They say the habit of motoring produces a fixed, set expression."

"Yes; it seems strange, doesn't it, that an auto face shouldn't be also a mobile one?"

MORE THAN SHE COULD STAND

Mrs. De Graw, After Short Interview With Maggie, Is Again Advertising for a Maid.

Mrs. De Graw is minus a maid again. It happened this way:

"Maggie, I think you had better wash the windows today, before we put up the new white curtains."

"I don't wash no windows for nobody, mum. I don't wash my own windows at hum, and I certainly won't wash yours."

"But washing windows is just as much a part of housework as washing floors, Maggie."

"I don't wash no floors, either."

The door bell rang. Maggie stood still.

"Why don't you go to the door, Maggie?"

"Go to the door yourself. You look better than I do."

"Maggie, do as your told."

"Not when I ain't dressed up, mum. And while we're talkin' frank, let me tell you that I don't like the way this house is managed. Not a bit!"

"Then, my dear young woman, you trot up stairs and pack your trunk, and get out of here as fast as you can. I didn't hire you to be the lady of the house."

(Exit Maggie in a great rage.)

Mrs. De Graw's "help wanted" ad appears in another column.—Newark News.

FEDERAL PROBE OF RAIL PROBLEMS IS BEGUN AT CAPITAL

PRESIDENT CONFERS WITH ADAMSON ON ENACTMENT OF PENDING LEGISLATION COMPLIMENTING RECENT ACT.

BROTHERHOOD CHIEF'S VISIT THE WHITE HOUSE

Expected to Discuss Plans Briefly with Wilson—Inquiry Is Designed to Furnish Congress with Information—Financiers and Labor Leaders to Make Views Known.

Washington, Nov. 21.—With the opening of the investigation of railroad conditions by the Newlands congressional joint committee, and a conference between President Wilson and Representative William C. Adamson on the enactment of the pending legislation complementing the Adamson act, the greatest economic problems of recent years are brought to the fore.

To Report January 8.

At frequent sessions during the next six weeks the Newlands committee expects to receive the views of railway officials, financiers, labor leaders, shippers, heads of express, telephone and telegraph companies and other students of transportation problems. The committee is to report Jan. 8.

While it was insisted they came only to "pay their respects," the heads of the four great railway brotherhoods made an engagement at the White House to confer with President Wilson. It was expected that the eight hour day fight and probably the plans for co-operation of the brotherhoods with the American Federation of Labor would be discussed, if only briefly.

Information for Congress.

The investigation by the congressional joint committee is designed to furnish congress with information upon which to determine whether there shall be a radical readjustment and extension of government supervision of railroads and of their relations with their employees.

When the inquiry is concluded it will be up to congress to pass judgment on these major proposals:

Government ownership of all railroads.

Federal incorporation of interstate carriers.

Extension of government supervision to the exclusion of state control.

Extension of federal supervision to include all phases of operation.

Regulation of wages as well as rates.

Issuance of railroad securities.

Oppose Compulsory Probes.

The railway brotherhoods are preparing to employ every ounce of their political influence in congress to defeat particularly the bill providing for compulsory investigation of wage disputes modeled on the Canadian act.

They do not want to be hampered by anything akin to compulsory arbitration in gaining their ends as they did last September. President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has proclaimed that the Adamson law will go into effect, "injunction or no injunction."

TREVINO RETURNS FROM ILL-FATED EXPEDITION

Carranza Leader Pressing All Able-Bodied Men Into Service—Attack on Chihuahua Now Feared.

El Paso, Nov 21.—From the passengers of a refugee train reaching Jaurez, U. S. government agents obtained information of the return of General Trevino to Chihuahua City after marching his army out to open a campaign against Villa.

The train brought 300 frightened natives, many of them women, to the border. Trevino is impressing all able-bodied men into his army, the natives said, and the civil population of Chihuahua City is momentarily expecting a bandit attack upon the city.

THIRD LEAVES BORDER DEC. 2

Regiment's Departure Delayed by Maneuvers.

Llano Grande Tex.—Because of maneuvers in which the Minnesota brigade is engaged between Brownsville and Camp Llano Grande, Texas, it is not probable that the Third Minnesota Infantry will leave the border before December 2, according to dispatches received from San Antonio.

The dates for the departure of other regiments affected by the War department's order of last week have been announced by General Funston. All save the Minnesota unit and the Third Indiana will leave this week.

W. C. T. U. Elects Officers Today.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—The general subject of W. C. T. U. and government was discussed from all sides at the annual convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance union here. Under the general topic "legislation and its needs," "prison reform," "suffrage campaigns" and other like subjects taken up were in detail. The speakers told of how various branches were working or better government along the lines in which they were interested. The annual election of officers will take place today.

ALLIES CONTINUE MONASTIR DRIVE DESPITE FLOODS

SERBIANS CAPTURE 800 METERS OF TRENCHES FROM TEUTON DEFENDERS EAST OF CERNA —TAKE HEIGHT 1,212.

BRITISH RENEW ATTACK IN WEST, HAIG REPORTS

Anglo-French Push Back German Lines Near Beaucourt—Heavy Enemy Shelling Continues—Roumanians Make Progress on Transylvanian Front.

Paris, Nov. 20.—The Allied advance toward Monastir continues. The latest French official statement credited the Serbian troops in this theater of the war with capturing 800 meters of trenches east of the Cerna from the Teuton defenders and the taking of height 1,212, northwest of Ivan, with bloody losses to the Bulgarians and Germans.

Advance Despite Floods.

The advance about Monastir is being made despite heavy floods, it was stated. The statement also detailed an easy repulse by hand grenades of a strong enemy detachment which attempted to reach French trenches at Biaches. Six German airplanes were brought down in air fights.

Claim Allies Are Beaten.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—Attacks of allied forces on the plains south of monastir, on the Macedonian front, were defeated with heavy losses it is announced officially. A height position near Chegel captured by the Serbians on Nov. 15 was retaken by German troops.

Efforts of Rumanians to hurl back the German troops in Rumania, northeast of Campulung were defeated, the war office announced, with heavy losses to the attackers. The Germans and Austrians made further gains in the Alt and Jiul valleys.

Roumanians Gain.

Bucharest, Nov. 20.—The Rumanians have made considerable progress on the Transylvanian front in the region of Pragoslavele, the war office announces.

French troops made a strong attack on the Somme front near Sailly-Saillisel. The war office announces that the assault broke down under the German fire.

Heavy Fighting in West.

London, Nov. 20.—Further British advances northeast of Beaumont-Hamel and northward of Beaucourt are reported by General Sir Douglas Haig. The British commander-in-chief reported a continuation of the heavy enemy shelling directed against Beaumont, Hamel and Hebuterne. To the north of Ypres he detailed a successful raid by his forces of a German redoubt, wherein a number of prisoners and a machine gun were captured.

SON OF U. S. ARMY HEAD SLAIN IN MEXICO, RUMOR

Gen. Scott's Son May Be Victim of Massacre at Parral—All Foreigners Killed, Report.

El Paso, Nov. 20.—United States government agents here have received a report that all foreigners remaining in Parral, exclusive of five who were known to have left for Culican, had been killed by the Villa bandits.

Those reported to have been killed included at least six Americans, all of the German residents of Parral, numbering approximately eight, together with their families, all of the Chinese, Arabs and Hebrews.

Among the Americans killed is said to have been William Scott, son of Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army.

SLIDES IN PANAMA ARE DESCRIBED BY GOETHALS

Governor in Annual Report to Secretary of War Devotes Much Space to Troubles Encountered in Culebra.

Washington, Nov. 20.—In his annual report to the secretary of war, made public today, General Goethals, governor of the Panama canal, discusses at considerable length and not without some warmth of expression the slides in the Culebra cut region that have repeatedly blocked the waterway and tells what has been done to overcome them. In concluding that part of his report he says:

As predicted at the time the great Culebra movement occurred, the slides will be overcome finally and for all time, notwithstanding the calamity howlers and in spite of the disastrous predictions of the 'know-it-alls.'"

Deutschland Ready But Must Wait.

New London, Conn., Nov. 20.—The German super-submarine Deutschland, in spite of its collision with the tug T. A. Scott, Jr., could again attempt her voyage back to Germany at once. She was only slightly damaged and it will not be necessary to take her into drydock. When she will prepare to leave will not be discussed by Captain Koenig nor members of his crew. The Deutschland must remain in port until United States authorities have completed an investigation into the accident.

With Sorrow.

An example of the genially naive is the following, clipped from an exchange:

"It is with sorrow that we announce an accident to Mrs. John Whitman, wife of the well-known grocer, who sells three pounds and a half of sugar for a quarter. While he was chasing her around the yard in fun the other evening she stepped on an old tomato can and severely lacerated her foot. Should blood poisoning set in and she be removed from our midst the Banner will turn its column rules as a tribute to her."

Lesson Had Sunk In.

The hygiene instructor in the public schools had made his talk sufficiently impressive in respect to the catastrophic consequences of leaving the abenoids alone. When he had finished, the teacher ordered the class to write a paper on the subject. This was one:

"Tommy had adenoids and was a very stupid and slow boy, at home, at work, and at school. His mother and father said, 'What is the matter?' The doctor cut his adenoids out. Tommy later became president of the United States."

The More Effective Way.

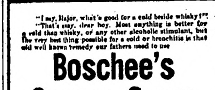
The sign, "Boy Wanted," is more frequent, in windows and in advertisement columns, than it was a year ago. Between improved economic conditions and laws enforcing school attendance, it has come to pass, iin the United States, that few lads who want work need go unemployed. On the other hand, never were school and colleges so crowded, and administrators so put to it to find room for pupils of high school and college age. In this way, far more effectively than by specific statutory enactment, is child labor being reduced.—Christian Science Monitor.

Settler for Father.

A young English officer, lately home from the front, scored off his father, one of those who take the gloomiest views of the war from its inception to its probable end. At dinner the elder's usual gloomy diatribe against the existing conditions was interrupted and ended thus: "Oh, we all know about you, father—one foot in the grave and another on a banana skin, as usual."

Carried Boy on Cot Fifteen Miles.

When a physician at Red Oak Top, Va., found that Robert Anderson, nine years old, had appendicitis, 20 men volunteered to carry the boy on his cot 15 miles to a hospital, where he received an operation. The men took their turns at the cot.



"I say, Major, what's good for a cold beside whisky?"

Kidney Disorder

(BY DR. V. M. PIERCE.)

The most simple methods are usually the most effective ones when treating any disorder of the human system. The mere drinking a cup of hot water each morning, plenty of pure water all day, and a little Anuric before every meal has been found the most effective means of overcoming kidney trouble. Death would occur if the kidneys did not work day and night in separating poisons and uric acid from the blood.

The danger signals are backache, depressions, pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints or gout.

Since it is such a simple matter to step into your favorite drug store and obtain Anuric, anyone who earnestly desires to regain health and new life will waste no time in beginning this treatment.

DAKOTA WOMEN SHOULD TAKE THIS ADVICE

Fargo, N. Dak.—"When I was a girl, I would suffer with severe backaches and pains in my side. My mother gave me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for this and it so completely cured me that I have never suffered or been distressed in this way since. I have also taken the 'Golden Medical Discovery' as a blood tonic, which proved to be very beneficial as well.

"My mother always used Dr. Pierce's medicines and was greatly benefited by their use. I am glad to recommend them."—MRS. DICK CARR, 1330 1st Ave. S.—Adv.

Can't Loose Hair

Twenty Years from Today a Baldheaded Man will be an Unusual Sight

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press. He said: If the new hair grower, Mildredina Hair Remedy, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within 8 years.

When Mildredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years frim now a bald will be a rarity.

There is only one way to cure dandruff, and that is to kill the germs. There is only one hair preparation that will kill the germs and that is Mildredina Hair Remedy. This unusual hair restorer with its record of thousands of cures will grow hair on any head where there is any life left; it will cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching of the scalp in three weeks or money back. It is the most pleasant and invigorating tonic, is not not sticky nor greasy and is used extensively by ladies of refinement who desire to have and to keep their hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant. Fifty cents for a large bottle of druggists everywhere. Mail orders filled by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.

How a Wise Farmer Saves His Machinery

Here it is—a good, up-to-date machine shed on an Iowa farm. It's evident this farmer realizes that rust destroys machinery exposed to the weather. Machines well cared for and kept in a shed when not in use, will last much longer than when left in the open.

We have sold a great deal of material for building machine sheds and other farm buildings. Naturally, we have learned some things that may be profitable for you to know. You are very welcome to this information. This is just a part of our helpful, free service to customers. Come in and let us help you save your machinery from rust.

Attempted Bank Robbery.

One night last week, about nine o'clock, B. Docken was called to the door of the bank by a loud and rapid knock. Mr. Docken raised the curtain to see who was there, when a man stepped in front of the door, pointed a revolver at him and demanded that he "open up," but instead he jerked the curtain down and made for the back of the bank in double quick time. A traveling man was running the typewriter, in the back room of the bank, but knew nothing of the attempted hold-up until Mr. Docken told him. About this time two men who had been at the council meeting went past the bank and probably frightened the would be robber away as nothing was seen of him afterwards. He is described by Mr. Docken as being a square built man of medium height and wore a slouch hat and a gray coat. As he had a white handkerchief tied over his face, it is impossible to describe his features.

Potatoes are selling here for $1.00 a bushel, but will be much higher in the spring. Perhaps the selling next year will be only 25 cents or even less, but the farmer who is wise enough to raise a few acres of potatoes is getting his ground in good condition for a crop of small grain.

Then too potatoes make good feed for stock but care should be taken to cut them before feeding to cattle. If horses are fed potatoes once a week they will not be troubled with worms.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Cure fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The Submarine.

To get a submarine ready for diving water is admitted into the "ballast" tanks. To keep the vessel on an even keel water is taken into the "trimming tanks." By means of these tanks the vessel is made to sink or rise, and to preserve the right position.

Yo-Ho Freckle-Face

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of carpol, extra strong, from your druggist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds this month have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more carpol is sold in these months. Be sure to ask for the extra strong, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.—Carpol Laboratories, Boston, Mass., Sta. M. Mail orders filled.

Hearing on Ditch No. 26.

From forty to fifty farmers from the townships of Holt, New Solum and Excel attended the hearing in Warren last Friday on ditch No. 26. Newfolden township was represented by forty farmers and a large number were there from Marsh Grove.

The officials seemed surprised at such a strong protest against the ditch and finally they offered to give up digging the ditch, if $2,500.00 cash was raised by 2:30 that afternoon, to pay the expenses incured so far. Afterward they became a little more lenient and in the meantime the amount will be raised if everyone interested will help with their share and stop the ditch.

The farmers held a meeting and appointed Charles Johnson, of Newfolden, chairman, and the different townships agreed to try and raise the following amounts: Newfolden $1000, Holt $600, New Solum $300, Marsh Grove $500 and Excel $100.

Easy Way to Reduce Flesh

Drink Hot Water and Take Tassco

Have'nt you often wished for a medicine to reduce your flesh? Something that does not require dieting or calisthenics? Well right here you have it in 5-grain tassco tablets, that you may secure of any good druggist. They are pleasant to take, perfectly harmless and entail no restrictions of habit or eating and reduce the flesh, little by little, until you are down to the number of pounds you wish to weigh. Too much flesh is undesirable, as most quite stout people will readily admit and it detracts from one's good appearance, makes one clumsy and short of breath.

There is not any reason why anyone should be too stout, when there's this much-talked, perfectly satisfactory remedy at any good druggists. Tassco tablets, (don't forget the name) are recommended by physicians and are guaranteed to be perfectly harmless. Refuse substitutes, if you can't come to our store, we will mail tassco to you.

* * *

Berlin reports that troops of the Central powers have captured the town of Cralova from the Rumanians. Cralova lies on the main line about 120 miles west of Bucharest. Before the war it had a population of 50,000 and was an important Rumanian trading point. Its possession by the central powers cuts the railway communications of the Rumanian armies holding the Orsova region to the west.

* * *

The British admiralty officially announced that the White Star liner Britannic has been sunk in the Aegean sea with a loss of about fifty lives. Whether the disaster was caused by a mine or torpedo is unknown. The Britannic was being used as a hospital ship and had nearly 1,000 sick and wounded soldiers aboard. It was considered the largest steamship afloat, having a displacement of 48,158 tons.

Public demand for pennies, nickels and dimes is so much greater than the supply that superintendents and officials of San Francisco, Denver, Philadelphia mints and the New York assay office are at a loss how to meet the situation. All the mints are running behind, although working night and day.

* * *

Charles E. Hughes, republican candidate for president in the recent election, sent a telegram of congratulation to President Wilson on his reelection. The message was sent from Lakewood, N. J., and declared the closeness of the vote was responsible for the delay in extending regards. Mr. Hughes wished the president a successful administration.

* * *

The Adamson eight-hour law was held unconstitutional by Judge Wm. C. Hook in United States district court at Kansas City. The judge directed the receivers of the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf railroad, who brought the action in the case to enjoin the law from going into effect, to assist the government in expediting the case to the supreme court of the United States for final decision.

* * *

The recent election brought the most sweeping victories for the antisaloon cause in the history of the movement. Four states, containing a population of 5,400,165 and area of 326,112 square miles, went from wet to dry. Of the 2,543 counties in the United States, 2,047 were dry, either by statute or local option, before the election November 7, when 191 more counties were added, leaving only 355 wet counties in the entire nation.

MEXICAN TROUBLE.

Because Carranza officials feared they might be disloyal, scores of former Villa soldiers who have been serving as customs guards in Juarez since the Villa garrison joined the Carranza army, were ordered to the Juarez customs house and disarmed by the artillery.

* * *

Twenty-five Chinese were massacreed by Villa bandits near Santa Rosalia, Mexico, a few days ago, according to an American who arrived at Laredo, Tex., from Durango. Amputation of the ears of prisoners by Villa, this American says, is a common happening.

DE FACTO FORCES GO TO CHIHUAHUA TO AID IN DEFENSE

REINFORCEMENTS RUSHED TO TREVINO—U. S. AGENTS AT EL PASO LEARN BATTLE HAS ENTERED FIFTH DAY.

BRIDGES BURNED, ARMY MAKES FORCEE MARCH

General Maycotte With 3,500 Carranza Troops Hurrying North of Santa Rosalia to Relieve Garrison—Villistas Headed Toward American Border.

El Paso, Nov. 28.—That the attempted storming of Chihuahua City by an army of 4,000 Villistas, under personal command of Villa, was still in progress early Monday, was the declaration of United States department agents here. They base their statements upon the action of the Mexican de facto government authorities in sending every Carranzista soldier available in Northern Mexico to the relief of the besieged city. This is the fifth day of the battle for possession of Chihuahua City, the key to Northern Mexico.

Gonzales Rushes Aid.

Juarez, Mexico, Nov. 28.—Although no inkling of the fate of Jacinto Trevino and Carranzista defenders of Chihuahua City had reached here. General Gonzales, commander of the Mexican de facto garrison here, is hurrying every available soldier in the entire state of Chihuahua northward by rail to the relief of the state capital. From Santa Buena Ventura the garrison of 150 Carranzistas is being withdrawn, together with garrisons at Namiquipa, Casa Grandes and Guzman, numbering about 100 each. These reinforcements are being rushed north on the Mexican-Northwestern railway to Juarez, where they will be transferred to the Mexican Central and started south.

Burned Bridges Cause Delay.

Gonzales announced that General Maycotte, with 3,500 de facto troops, is making a forced march north of Santa Rosalia to aid the beleaguered garrison. Because every bridge south of Chihuahua City has been burned, Gonzales declares it will take several days for Maycotte's forces to reach that city.

A band of Villistas, under the Murga brothers, were at Bachineva two days ago and are now headed for the border, according to a report made to Gonzales.

STOCKYARDS IN CHICAGO PUT EMBARGO ON CATTLE

Alarm Over Possibility of New Outbreak of Hoof and Mouth Disease Reflected in Orders.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Alarm over possibility of a new outbreak of the disastrous hoof and mouth disease has spread and is reflected in quarantine orders.

The Union stock yards here have declared an embargo against all cattle, horses, sheep and swine originating in Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. A train load of livestock was held up at Clinton, Ia., for examination.

Dr. O. E. Dyson, state veterinarian of Illinois, issued orders in the stock yards of Chicago and East St. Louis forbidding the shipment of any livestock except for immediate slaughter.

THIRTY-FIFTH VICTIM IS KILLED BY BLACK HAND

Grocer Latest to Pay Penalty—Detectives Arrest 250 In Effort to Check "Death Corner."

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Joseph Diovardi, grocer in Little Italy, lies dead, the thirty-fifth victim this year of the sawed-off shotgun of the Black Hand.

In a desperate effort to check the deadly work of "death corner" assassins, 120 detectives arrested 250 suspicious characters from whom they took dozens of revolvers, knives, black jacks and many rounds of ammunition.

Indentifications are difficult because the terror-stricken Italians merely shrug their shoulders, fearing that information from them will mean death.

Colorado Declares Embargo.

Denver, Col., Nov. 28.—An embargo against shipment of cattle, sheep or swine into Colorado has been placed against Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, "until the nature of the disease among cattle reported there" has been determined, Charles G. Lamb, state veterinarian, announced.

Battleship Goes to Aid Steamer.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 28.—The Norwegian steamer Nels Nielsen is in distress 250 miles west of Seattle, according to advices which have been received by the United States Naval radio station here. Wireless advices were that the vessel had lost its propeller and was attempting to return to an American port. The U. S. Battleship South Dakota and other vessels in the Pacific are going to the location given by the Nielsen. The Nielsen sailed from Seattle Nov. 20 for Vladivostok, carrying a cargo of munitions.

WAR IS DECLARED AGAINST BULGARIA BY GREEK REBELS

FORMAL DECLARATION OF HOSTILITIES MADE BY GOVERNMENT HEADED BY FORMER PREMIER VENIZELOS.

ULTIMATUM TO GREECE IS DELIVERED BY ALLIES

Requires Delivery of Greek Arms, Recently Demanded—Resignation of Cabinet Seen—Teutons Cross Alt and Score Two Victories—Capture Several Small Towns.

Athens, Nov. 27.—The Entente Allies have delivered an ultimatum to Greece requiring delivery of Greek arms, which was demanded recently. The ultimatum, while allowing only a short period in which the arms now in Athens are to be surrendered, declares willingness to grant a longer time for delivery of war materials in Thessaly and Macedonia.

Unless the demand is complied with measures will be taken calculated to induce compliance, progressing in severity if the delay increases. The resignation of the cabinet is considered imminent.

Declare War On Bulgaria.

Athens, Nov. 27.—The Greek provisional government, headed by former Premier Venizelos, has formally declared war against Bulgaria. Venizelos established a revolutionary or "provisional" government of Greece on the island of Crete several weeks ago.

Clashed With King.

The former premier first clashed with King Constantine because of Venizelos' vigorous pro-Ally war views and his insistence that Greece cast its lot against Germany. At the Greek elections, Venizelos apparently obtained support in this position from the people, but he failed to move the Greek monarch to any change in his attitude of neutrality. The establishment of a Venizelos party and, finally of a Venizelos government followed.

Two Victories for Teutons.

Berlin, Nov. 27 (By Wireless to Sayville).—Two signal victories have crowned the arms of the Teutonic troops squeezing the triple jaws of their vise closer about Bucharest.

Pushing eastward after their capture of Cralova and the conquest of Little Wallachia, General von Falkenhayn's forces have broken Rumanian resistance in the valley of the lower Alt and apparently already have turned this supposedly strong line of defense across western Rumania, to which the Rumanians had retreated.

Force Crossing of River.

Austro-German troops have forced the crossing of the Alt. Several towns in Rumania, south of the Alt pass, have been captured.

Concurrently, Field Marshal von Mackensen, operating the second jaw of the vise, has forced a passage of the Danube near Zimnitza, giving him a footing on Rumanian soil 25 miles in the rear of the Danube end of the Alt line, which touches the river near Turnu Magurele. The landing at Zimnitza also placed von Mackensen but 70 miles from Bucharest, to the northeast.

LAUNCH UPSET BY RIVER STEAMER; ONE DROWNED

Small Boat Carrying Fifty Sailors Swept Under Stern Wheel—Stem Clipped Off.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—A launch carrying 50 sailors to the naval supply ship Glacier was overturned here by the river steamer Apache, backing out from her berth. One man is known to have been drowned. It was said a roll call would be necessary to determine how many, if any others, were lost.

The launch, putting off crowded with men returning from shore leave, was swept by the tide under the stern wheel of the Apache. The big steel paddle blade sheared off the stem of the launch which sank like a stone.

A fleet of small boats was rushed to the scene and began picking up men. The United States cruiser South Dakota at anchor a mile away rushed her launches to the rescue and picked up the first body.

New Super-Zeppelin Wrecked.

London, Nov. 27.—The wrecking of a super-Zeppelin in a storm of Tuesday is reported by travelers reaching Amsterdam from Munich, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. They report there was only one survivor of the crew of 28.

Ready to Take Case to High Court.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The department of justice is ready to take to the supreme court the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf suit to test the constitutionality of the Adamson act. Transcript in the case decided against the government by Federal Judge Hook at Kansas City was expected to reach the department Saturday and will be filed at once with the supreme court. Counsel for the government and the railroads agreed to make a test case of that suit and both sides will request early argument.

What's Doing in Minnesota

Winona. — Henry Steen, representative from this district, will introduce a bill in the Legislature to provide payment for Minnesota soldiers on the Mexican border.

Austin. — Theodore Christianson of Dawson was endorsed as speaker of Minnesota's lower house at the coming legislature at a conference here of representatives of the First district.

Virginia. — Helmer Johnson, aged 9, was seriously injured here and five boy companions received less serious injuries when a blasting powder cap, thrown into a bonfire around which the lads were playing, exploded.

Sauk Rapids. — Governor Burnquist has announced the first of a number of appointments he will make before the end of the year. J. E. Bonner of Sauk Center was named special municipal judge in that city.

St. Peter. — Deep inroads are being made into the poultry population of Nicollet county by chicken thieves, who have been operating the past two months. It is believed an organized gang is at work. The farmers of one township have offered a reward of $200.

Crookston.—The Northwestern Minnesota Educational association held a three days' session here. The opening address of the convention was on "The School in Education," by Dean Joseph Kennedy, North Dakota university. "Education As Preparedness" was the topic of a lecture by A. C. Prosser, Minneapolis.

Holdingford. — Hard work and regular habits are preached as the gospel of longevity by Mrs. Katherine Conpton, 102 years old, of this village. Mrs. Compton was born in Virginia in 1814. She married at the age of 16 and her oldest child is now 84. The baby of the family is 52. Mrs. Conpton is still able to do needlework.

St. Paul. — Dr. I. J. Murphy, executive secretary of the Minnesota Public Health association, which is acting as state agent for the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals, reported that the sale of seals in Minnesota this year will be considerably larger than they were in 1915, judging from the first orders received from the larger communities.

Minneapolis. — The University of Minnesota has defeated to some extent the high cost of living. With prices on all commodities increased approximately 30 per cent over those of 1915, Controller G. H. Hayes said that the maintenance cost of the university for the fiscal year ending July 31, 1916, was approximately only 11 per cent higher than for the same period last year.

St. Paul. — The state free employment agencies in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth filled 5,202 jobs at an average cost of 16½ cents during the last fiscal year, according to figures made public by W. F. Houk, state labor commissioner. Maintenance costs of the agencies were $441.92 a month in Minneapolis, $180.21 in St. Paul and $227.32 in Duluth. Men were given 3,229 places and women 1,937, the statement shows.

Fairmont. — The Minnesota Crop Improvement association will hold its annual meeting in Fairmont February 13-15. C. L. Blanchar of Fairmont, president of the association, says the meeting should be unusually well attended because of the success of Martin county in growing good crops. The county is said to produce more corn and oats than any other county in the state and also to have the greatest number of champion corn breeders.

St. Paul. — The state department of labor in its biennial report shows that the application of the workmen's compensation law providing for 50 per cent of the wage loss to injured workmen who are disabled for two weeks or more, resulted in the payment of about 37.5 per cent of the wage loss. There were about 19,000 accidents which caused disabilities lasting less than two weeks. The total compensation paid in the 12,768 cases closed by June 30 was $983,418.06.

Bemidji.—The seventh annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development league will be held in Bemidji, Minn., December 7 and 8. The sessions will be given over to a Good Roads meeting and a number of prominent speakers have been engaged. Among them are Senators R. C. Dunn of Princeton and John H. Baldwin of Frasee. Senator Baldwin will speak on "Prison Labor on Public Highways." He is sent to Bemidji by the office of public roads at Washington.

Duluth. — Twenty prominent citizens of Hibbing are said by county officials to be among those indicted by the grand jury. That body returned 30 secret true bills in district court. The names of the indicted persons were temporarily kept secret. According to officials, the jury has been devoting much time to investigation of Hibbing matters and has taken an enormous amount of testimony, hearing many witnesses in connection with the charges of alleged "extravagance and graft."

Mankato. — Drs. Arnold Schwyzer and Archibald MacLaren of St. Paul will be speakers on the opening program of the two days' annual meeting of the Southern Minnesota Medical association, to be held in this city December 4 and 5, according to a program announced here.

St. Paul. — Adoption by Minnesota of the New York plan of state public health administration has been recommended by J. T. Geroulđ, librarian at the University of Minnesota, to the commission named by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist to make a proposed revision of laws relating to public health.

ASKS OPINIONS ON STATE AID POLICY

MINNESOTA SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION SENDS CIRCULAR LETTER TO SCHOOL HEADS.

"U" REGENTS TO ASK MILLIONS

To Present Budget of $4,000,000 to Legislature—Board Determines on Retrenchment to Include Economy In Every Department of University.

St. Paul.

Questions as to the policy regarding state aid to school to be advocated by school authorities before the next legislature are asked in a letter mailed to superintendents and directors by C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education.

Mr. Schulz cites that there has been a shortage in the state aid for each of the last two years as appropriated by the legislature. The failure of the lawmakers to appropriate up to the full amount for high, graded, rural and consolidated schools and for special departments in all these is explained by Mr. Schulz as due to a desire to restrict the tax rate. The amount available for state aid the last two years was $3,825,000, as against $4,778,718 necessary, if the full amounts earned by the schools had been paid.

The state superintendent asks school officers to advise legislators in their districts as to their own attitude toward the questions.

The move follows the recent distribution of $1,942,000 of state aid which, although representing the largest single disbursement in the history of state business, was only 70 per cent of the total intended.

"It is of the utmost importance that we should have a stable, progressive and expanding public school policy in Minnesota," Superintendent Schulz states in a circular.

Millions For University.

With a budget estimate of nearly $4,000,000 to present to the Legislature, the University of Minnesota Board of Regents has determined on a retrenchment policy which will include strict economy in every department, and restriction of enrollment wherever possible rather than to increase the teaching staff.

More than a score of requests and petitions for new buildings, increased equipment, increased salaries and enlargement of teaching staffs were heard by the board, but only a few of them received encouragement.

Among the expenditures the board looked on favorably, however, are:

Erection of a $200,000 hospital for contagious diseases, to provide more patients for clinical study.

Establishment of a separate department of public health, requiring an initial expenditure of $9,000.

Creation of an associate professorship of railroad transportation.

Provisions for giving women vocational training in lines other than teaching.

Enlargement of the industrial work of the college of chemistry to meet the new demands brought about by the war.

Additions to the university library and the engineering research laboratory.

Governor Names Delegates.

Governor Burnquist has just appointed twenty-four Minnesota delegates to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress on December 6 to 8 at Washington. The list of delegates contains these names:

St. Paul—P. T. Glidden, Paul Doty, C. J. McConville, J. W. Cooper, A. J. Krank, George Lambert and H. T. Quinlan.

Minneapolis—W. F. Decker, J. C. Andrews, J. L. Record, Charles D. Gould, Theodore Wold, F. G. Winston, R. W. Chadbourn and S. C. Woodhull.

Delegates named from other Minnesota cities are: W. Hayes Laird, Winona; James K. Grondahl, Red Wing; W. C. Masterman, Stillwater; E. C. Anthony, Hastings; J. E. Reynolds, Mankato; Mille, Bunnell and A. C. Weiss, Duluth; A. H. Reed, Glencoe, and J. M. Elder, Brainerd.

Seed Wheat Shortage Seen.

The farmer who is forced to buy seed wheat this winter will feel the effects of the prevailing high prices of farm products. Though milling wheat is bringing close to $2 a bushel, the man whose own product is too poor for seed purposes will have to pay as high as $3 or even higher in getting a supply elsewhere. The corn crop, late in starting, rounded under favorable weather and there is no seed corn problems, according to Mr. Bull.

To Check Baby Blindness.

A regulation directed against baby blindness recently adopted by the state board of health has been signed by Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith and will have the effect of a state law. It requires all physicians or other of newborn children with one per cent port to health authorities any signs of.

Place Car Shortage Blame.

Car shortage conditions, as complained of especially in the West and Southwest, are blamed in a great measure to the seaports by C. E. Elmquist and O. P. B. Jacobson, state railroad and warehouse commissioners, who have just returned from an Eastern trip on which they investigated the situation. The commissioners went East primarily to attend the meeting of the National Association of held November 14 to 17, inclusive, at Washington, D. C.

Getting Old Too Fast?

Late in life the body shows signs of wear and often the kidneys weaken first. The back is lame, bent and achy, and the kidney action distressing. This makes people feel older than they are. Don't wait for dropsy, gravel, hardening of the arteries or Bright's disease. Use a mild kidney stimulant. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands of elderly folks recommend them.

A North Dakota Case

Mrs. W. M. Lemmay, 1001 N. Fifth St., Grand Forks, N. Dak., says: "My back began to pain and was very lame. When I tried to get up after sitting, I had to place my hands on my back for support. Mornings when I first got up, I could hardly endure the pain. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and after I had taken three boxes, the trouble entirely left me."

Muffling Children's Cries.

"Teach your child to take his hairbrush or old slipper spankings without tears and without crying," is the advice of Dr. Benjamin P. Croft of Indianapolis.

"Children should be taught first of all to control their emotions, to tolerate pain without outward sign and to suppress as much as possible the tendency toward that condition which ordinarily is termed nervousness, but in reality is mere force of habit," Doctor Croft says.

Winter Fatalities to Babies.

Although there is a general impression that summer is the only time that babies are sick, statistics show that the toll from respiratory diseases in the winter is nearly as great as that from intestinal diseases in the summer.

Bodily Housekeeping

(BY V. M. PIERCE, M. D.)

The subject of drinking water with meals has been misunderstood.

In recent years investigation by means of X-rays, the observations of scientists such as Cannon, Grutzner, Pavlov, Fowler, Hawk, prove that an abundance of water taken during digestion is necessary in good bodily housekeeping.

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times, pain in the back or back of the neck, take a little Anuric before meals. This can be found at any good drug store. Therefore my advice to young or old is, always drink plenty of pure water. And for long life, occasionally take tablets of Anuric three or four times a day.

Anuric acts—much more quickly than lithia. Many find that it dissolves uric acid as water does sugar.

HOUSE, MONUMENT TO HIS OLD LOVE

Prepared for Bride It Stood Vacant for More Than Forty Years.

REVEALED BY ACCIDENT

Death of Two Men In Old Mansion Reveals Faithlessness of Woman Who Fled With Owner's Brother on Wedding Day.

London. — An accident recently brought to light a house of mystery in the heart of fashionable London. Two workmen, making structural repairs on a residence near the home of J. Pierpont Morgan's London home, fell with riven rafters and were dashed to death.

At the coroner's inquest the contractor declared the whole house was dangerous with dry-rot.

"Since 1871," he said, "not a nail has been driven within its walls, and no one has entered the living rooms except the caretaker."

"Summon the owner," commanded the coroner.

"He is dead, sir," was the reply. "The house recently changed hands at an executor's sale."

"Then call the caretaker."

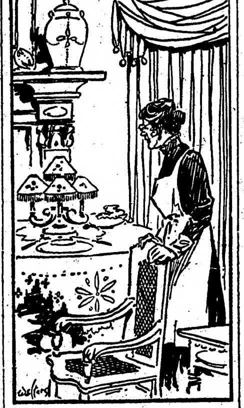
She came at once—a little, genteel, elderly woman who had lived a great part of her life in the shadows of the house of mystery.

Bride Changed Her Mind.

"The owner was W. C. Nation, a rich man, lord of the manor of Rockbeare," testified the little, old woman. "Five-and-forty years ago, when I was but a girl, Mr. Nation bought the property, contemplating marriage.

"Mosaic workers came from Italy and art decorators from Paris to prepare the home for his chosen bride. My mother was engaged as housekeeper, with orders to choose her maids. The butler came and hired his men. Everything was ready, even to bridal bouquets in the chambers—but there was no wedding. On her marriage morning the bride eloped with her fiance's brother. London knew her no more.

"What Mr. Nation thought, no one ever learned. Mother received orders to dismiss the servants and live on as caretaker. Nothing was to be altered. The table set for the wedding breakfast remained undisturbed. No chair or ornament ever was removed from the reception rooms, even the beds were never stripped. For 20 years mother and I waited for the arrival of our employer. Then we knew he could not bear to enter the house again.



Nothing Was to Be Altered.

Guarded "Proud Man's Secret."

"One day, 15 years ago, an elderly, delicate lady in widow's weeds, sat in the park opposite for hours, staring sadly at our shaded windows. Mother thought she looked like the bride's portrait in the large drawing room. But she went away, and we never saw her again.

"After mother died I lived on alone, guarding a proud man's secret. I had only to keep silent. If the world was ever curious, it soon forgot. Seldom, if ever, did anyone ask a question about the emptiness of the old house. Many's the time mother said to me, 'Dear, dear, this is a thoughtless world and selfish. How little the best of, people trouble themselves about their next neighbors!'"

College Men in War.

Possibly more than any other war ever waged, the present European struggle has drawn into its vortex men of education, men of mental attainments and students. In the very nature of this war it could not be otherwise. With the possible exception of Russia there is not a nation engaged but has had to draw deeply upon its human reserve sources. It is doubtful if there is a family in France, Germany or Great Britain that does not have a representative somewhere among the fighters. What a toll this war has taken of the intellect of England is indicated by a report of Doctor Burrows, principal of King's college. From this it appears that regular men students of English birth have fallen from 800 in the year previous to the war to about 100 now. The college has contributed 512 officers to the army and navy. And the work of the college itself, especially the scientific part of it, is directed largely along lines incidental to the war.

Quail an Industrious Bird.

In a plea for the bobwhite, W. L. Nelson, assistant secretary of the board of agriculture, states that they eat at least 85 kinds of weed seed. For meat he chooses among 57 kinds of beetles, 27 kinds of bugs, 9 kinds of grasshoppers, 13 kinds of caterpillars and a variety of ants, flies and wasps. One bobwhite has been known to eat as many as 5,000 plant lice in two hours, and he is fond of boll weevils, cinch bugs, cabbage worms, cucumber beetles, squash bugs, army worms and Hessian flies.

And yet there are farmers who are willing to have all the bobwhites on their farms killed. Shooting the hired man would be more logical, remarks the St. Louis Republic. The hired man demands wages, while the bobwhite works for nothing.

We hear a great deal these days about the efficiency of employees, and it is well worth while to turn our attention to the efficiency of the engineer and the employer of labor as well. Some Bill for Jam, This.

When we think or read of the vast expenses of the present war our minds naturally turn to munitions, airplanes, submarines, equipments and items of a similar warlike nature, but the English army account for the last financial year opens another vista. Does not this suggest a possibility that this item might advantageously appear on our domestic menu with greater frequency?
